THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE CHURCH REGARDING BEVERAGE ALCOHOL

LESSON TEXT—I Corinthians 5:9-13; Titus 2:1-8.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are the salt of the earth.—Matthew 5:13.

The church has a grave responsibility regarding alcoholic beverages, but in recent years it has largely failed to meet it with intelligence and enthusiasm. Let us never forget that the first business of the Christian and of the church is to preach the gospel, winning men to Christ. It is not our calling to attempt by social or economic methods to right the wrongs of this world. Nor is ours a "social gospel" with the emphasis on "social." But have we forgotten that it is a gospel with serious social implications and responsibilities?

The man, and the church, who follows Christ should be vitally concerned about every influence in American life which is destructive to character, and right at the top of that list stands alcohol. To meet this gigantic (and growing) problem effectively the church must be

I. Separated From Sin (I Cor. 5:9, 10).

A church living in careless worldliness has no testimony against the sin round about it. In fact, its influence is definitely on the wrong side. The Christian is to be in the world, but not of it. He must live with the sinners, but he must never by word or deed, or even by his presence in the wrong place, seem to condone their sin nor fellowship with them in it.

Here we have one of the horrible weaknesses of our day. Men and women who profess to follow Christ (whether they really do, only He can judge) indulge in a social glass of wine, or sip a cocktail "for the sake of courtesy," or attend gatherings which are obviously non-Christian or anti-Christian. If there is to be effective dealing with any problem—with the liquor problem—we must have separated Christian living.

II. Cleansed of Wicked Persons (I Cor. 5:11-13).

Even a "man that is called a brother" (v. 11) may not be one at all, but may be a "wicked person" (v. 13). We are not able to judge any man's spiritual experience. His relationship to God is a matter between him and God, but if, in his life, he shows himself persistently to be on the side of wickedness, it is the duty of the church to have him "put away from among" them (v. 13).

We can only judge a man by his actions, but we are required to do that for the sake of the purity of the church and the effectiveness of its teaching. This is not to be done in self-righteousness, but in humility and with the constant effort to restore such a one (Gal. 6:1). But it should be done. We are woefully weak in the matter of church discipline, and it shows in the inability of the church to do valiant service for God and country.

III. Intelligent in Doctrine (Titus 2:1-8; esp. 1, 7, 8).

To be informed is to be wise, able to plan properly, balanced in judgment and action, useful and effective. Fundamentally every problem of life finds its solution in a proper knowledge of the doctrines of the Christian faith. It is of great importance that we have information about the liquor traffic, about the dreadful results of the use of alcohol, etc. Helpful material on such subjects is available, and the sources are known to ministers and Christian workers. However, we must hold and use this information in relation to Christian truth if it is to be fully useful. A temperance worker without Christ in his own life and in his labors against liquor is weak, lacking the real solution and the dynamics to proclaim it effectively.

IV. Consistent in Life (Titus 2: 1-8, esp. 2, 5, 7).

It is what we are that speaks so loudly that folk do not pay any attention to what we say. This passage clearly states the fact that both young and old, both men and women—yes, even the preacher (v. 7)—are to present before the world the undeniable teaching of a consistent Christian life.

Read the exhortations of these verses again with great care and apply them first to your own life, and then to your own church. What great Christian graces we have here! Note that again and again there is the admonition to temperance. No user of intoxicants can be sober, temperate, discreet, chaste, sound in faith, and so on.

The writer of these notes is convinced that the only consistent position for the Christian (individually or in the church) to take regarding alcoholic beverages is that of total abstinence for himself and the legal elimination of temptation from others.

SUGGEST SOWING EMERGENCY CROPS TO PRODUCE FEED

To help provide stock feed in sections affected by drouth, crops men at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics sugggst sowing soybeans, cowpeas, millet and sudan grass.

Soybeans are given first choice as a hay crop, because of their high yield, quality and feeding value. They should be sowed by July 15. Cowpeas also make good hay and are especially valuable for sowing after July 1 on rather poor soil.

Sudan grass is considered the best crop to sow after the middle of July.

It is further suggested that farmers in August or early September sow barley, rye or rye grass with crimson clover and winter vetch for fall and winter pasture. Sufficient acreages should be sowed to alfalfa, clover and grass in August to replace the stands of young grasses and clovers that have died.

Because of the possibility that drouth has killed much of the lespedeza in some areas, it is considered desirable that plans be made to save everything on the farm that can be used for roughage, and to produce emergency hay and pasture crops wherever possible. This includes the harvesting of all surplus growth on pastures, and wild grass and the like, that may be on the farm. This material may be made into hay or it may be put into the silo, and will make reasonably good roughage, even though over-ripe.

F. F. A. NEWS

The group was entertained thruout the evening by Edwin Ross and Pat Barlow who furnished music. There were approximately 80 present.

Fish was served at 9:00 o'clock, and more music was played by the Barlows. A jig dance was demonstrated by William Burns and Jess Barnes.

The july meeting was held following the meal, with a small amount of business being brought before the club.

Members who will attend camp are: Bill Burns, Joe Hogan, Edwin Burns, Gay Burns and Mr. Huey, our advisor.

CANNING INVENTORY

"With all America defense-minded, home canning is taking on new importance this year," says a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. It has been pointed out by Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the home economics bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture, that "millions of quarts of good food stored away in home pantires are important to both family and national preparedness."

Attention should be be given to getting canning equipment in A-1 condition, and keeping it that way. The following suggestions are given:

"First, if canning non-acid vegetables, you'll need a steam-pressure canner in tip-top condition. Only in such a canner is it possible to get temperatures above boiling. Higher than boiling temperatures are necessary to kill the organisms that cause spoilage in practically all vegetables except tomatoes.

"Steam-pressure canners need to be re-checked each year to see that the pressure gage registers correctly. This gage can be taken off and sent to the factory where it was made, for the manufacturers to check, if necessary.

"The best way to can acid foods fruits and tomatoes is to use a water-bath canner for processing. See that all parts of this are assembled. All that is needed is a wash boller, a bucket, or a similar vessel that has a tight-fitting lid, and a rack for the bottom. This canner needs to be high enough to permit covering the cans or jars with 1 to 2 inches of water.

"As for containers, take stock of the supply of glass jars or tin cans. Buy new rubber rings for glass jars. Good rings will stretch to twice their length. Discard any jars or caps that show cracks, chips, or dents. Throw away porcelain-lined metal lids if the lining is the least bit loose. Tighten loose wire clamps on lightning-type jars by bending the wire down in the middle on top, and inward at the sides.

"If using tin cans, be sure to have the right kind of tin for the kind of food to be canned. You'll need C-enamel lined cans for corn, lima beans, kidney beans, and succotash. C-enamel cans have a dull finish and are light gold color. You will need the deeper gold, brighter R-enamel for beets, all kinds of berries, cherries, cranberries, plums, pumpkins, and squash. Plain tin is satisfactory for all other fruits and vegetables."

POULTRY COURSE ATRACTS 131

The 17th annual poultry short course, held recently at the Kentucky State College of Agriculture and Home Economics at Lexington, attracted 131 farm men and women and hatcherymen from 44 Kentucky counties and four other states, according to W. M. Insko, Jr., head of the university poultry section. At the conclusion of the course, 25 persons took the examination to obtain certificates in pullorum control and blood testing. At the opening session, Insko stressed the part Kentucky's poultry can play in national defense, urging that farmers use this time of government stabalization of prices for poultry products to improve equipment or get better equipment. No wholesale expansion is desirable, however he stressed. Speakers included Melvin Buster, poultry coordinator for the United States Department of Agriculture; R. B. Jones, Montgomery, Ala., head of the poultry division of the Department of Agriculture; R. B. Jones, Montgomery, Ala., head the Department of Agriculture and Industries; Adam Siler, Henderson, Ky., hatcheryman, and C. W. Sulier, Lexington.

SHEEP PROVE WORTH ON EDMONSON FARMS

A few years ago sheep were considered a "side-line" on most Edmonson county farms. For the most part they were fed on the ground, farmers refusing to spend money for equipment.

In three years the numbers of sheep in the county have trebled, and George Kurtz, the county agent, expects further increases this season. Modern equipment is going in, and the farmers are beginning to drench, dip and creep feed. Through the assistance of the Farm Security Administration, a dipping vat was built in Sunfish community, to serve all sheep raisers in the community.

Forty-seven first-quality lambs were exhibited at the second annual lamb show in Edmonson county. Cliff Wills, a farmer, won the grand championship, and received a registered ram donated by Teater Bros., Garrard county. Willie Earl Wilson had the best lamb in the 4-H club division and Leroy Sanders the winner in the Future Farmers of America section. The lambs sold for an average of $12.50 a cwt.

LEFT-OVERS

Use left-over potatoes, mashed, by rolling them into croquettes of mined onion, chopped celery and beaten egg. Flour and fry in deep fat . . . Use left-over ham by cutting the ham into small cube shapes, then add chopped green peppers and chopped celery. Mix together with a bit of mayonnaise and serve this on lettuce. Serve hard-boiled eggs with this salad. . . . Roll left-over pie crust out thin cut into squares and sprinkle them with sugar and cinnamon. Bake these until crisp. They are delicious.

With radios gone quiz conscious, what the laymen want is an intelligence rest.

WITH THE

Cincinnati Reds

Cincinnati—The Reds return to their home base Tuesday to start a long home stand that probably will definitely determine whether the club can stage a drive that will put them back in the running for the 1941 National League pennant.

Opposing them Tuesday will be none other than the Brooklyn Dodgers, arch enemies of the Reds, who feel they are the ones to succeed the Reds atop the league's standings. There is no love lost between the two clubs, so the Reds have a dual purpose in going after these Brooklyn boys. They want revenge, and they also must defeat the team that is their toughest obstacle of the season.

The opener of the Brooklyn series will be a ladies' day, and it will be followed by a night game Wednesday against this same Flatbush Flock. The night contest will be preceded by the customary fireworks display and musical performances.

After the Dodgers will come the Phillies, who are scheduled at Crosley Field next Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, with a twin bill on the docket for Sunday. Monday, July 28, will be an off day, whereupon the New York Giants will be in for a ladies' day game Tuesday, July 29, a night game Wednesday, July 30, and a series' closing afternoon event on Thursday, July 31st.

The National League's newest mound sensation, Elmer Riddle, winner of his first ten games is certain to see service for the Reds in the Brooklyn series. Elmer is the talk of the country today. He has what it takes, good stuff, good control, fielding ability, and above all, a good head. His ability to think has been one of his strongest aids in his sudden rush to stardom.

SPECIALIST URGES SUMMER CARE OF NEWLY-SET SHRUBS

A shrub, like a baby, requires extra care durings its first year, according to N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist for the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. After that year, the shrub can fend for itself somewhat, but for the summer care of "newly-set" shrubs (those set last fall or this spring) he makes the following suggestions:

All newly set shrubs should have the soil cultivated at least 2 to 3 inches deep in a circle around each plant. This circle should be about 2 feet in diameter, keeping all of the grass and weeds out of this circle. The grass and weeds use moisture and plant food that is urgently needed by the newly-set shrubs.

Do not feed or fertilizer newly-set plants. To do so often overstimulates these plants so that the top is not able to absorb and use all of the plant food brought up by the roots. Newly-set shrubs should not be fed until they have one entire year of growth in their new location.

The shrubs undoubtedly were pruned when they were set; however, often these plants will develop three or four new shoots that grow rapidly, giving the plant an awkward appearance. By heading back these new shoots now it is possible to encourage development of side branches which means a denser, better shaped plant. This will apply especially to Spireas, Forsythia, Mock Orange and Weigelia. By carefully pruning these plants in this way they can be developed in a short time into very attractive specimens.

Do not expect newly-set shrubs to produce much bloom their second year; in fact, it is better to let the plants grow and develop well for two to three years and then let them produce bloom.

Newly-set shrubs should be watered enough during the first summer, especially July, August and early September.

CARELESSNESS WASTES EGGS NEEDED FOR FOOD

Losing two billion eggs yearly through preventable spoilage is as serious as the sinking of a food ship, points out a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. This figure is an estimate given with reference to the loss of the nation as a whole—virtually all resulting from careless handling.

At a time when egg production must be increased by at least 5 percent as a national defense aid, every care should be taken to keep eggs fresh. One egg-packing plant recently reported to the United States Department of Agriculture that in a two-month's period, its candlers had thrown away a thousand dollars worth of eggs.

Careful studies have shown that eggs are "good" when laid, but the germ in fertile eggs may start developing at any temperature above 68 degrees. Infertile eggs, for which cooling also is important, may be produced by getting rid of the roosters as soon as eggs for hatching are no longer needed.

As an egg when laid is at the body temperature of the hen—at least 104 degrees—it should in warm weather be cooled almost at once. The recommended temperature for cooling both fertile and infertile eggs is between 45 and 55 degrees. This means that eggs should be gathered at least three times a day in the summertime. Eggs should be cooled and held until marketed in the coolest practical place on the farm—in cellars, caves, ice houses, ect.

Dairymen expressed renewed interest in improved dairy equipment, breeding and management problems. Splendid dairy herds were visited on the tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wilson were hosts at the noon hour to those attending. Good sandwiches, cake and tea were served to all. Dairy Herd Improvement Association records, association breeding problems good pastures and equipment were seen at the farms of Jesse Wilson, Verona; R. B. Huey and Son, Burlington; and Robert Youell, Limaburg. George Harris, dairy specialist and Harold Crigler, were principal speakers on the afternoon program.

Specialist Will Present Farm Analysis

Roy Proctor, farm account specialist of the College of Agriculture, will present to 23 farmers keeping complete farm account records a business analysis on their past year's business, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The business analysis is not an individual recommendation but a statistical comparison of each farm enterprise with enterprises on similar farms as to net cash income of the past year. The farmer is able through this analysis to find the weak spots in raising the net income and thereby to strengthen his farm operations.

USING FAT

You can use fat that has been already used before for deep frying over and over again if you will clear it up first. Do this by adding several slices of raw potatoes and heat it slowly until the potatoes are light brown in color. Put the fat through a fine strainer or a cloth dipped in warm water and stretched over the bowl. This will remove the sediment. Keep fat covered and store in the refrigerator.

This Week In Defense

President Roosevelt informed Congress he had ordered a Navy force to Iceland to "forestall any pincers movement . . . by Germany against the Western Hemisphere." He said German occupation of that country would threaten the North American continent, shipping in the North Atlantic, and the flow of munitions to Britain. The President said the Navy had been ordered to take "all necessary steps" to insure safety of communications "in the approaches between Iceland and the United States, as well as on the seas between the U. S. and all other strategic outposts."

The President later told his press conference that whether Iceland lies outside the Western Hemisphere is an academic question. He said there are points outside the commonly accepted Hemisphere limits which are of importance to U. S. defense, and that in occupying Iceland he acted to forestall a hostile move which strategists considered logical or likely.

Selective Service

Selective Service Headquarters announced that 21-year-olds who registered July 1 will be given draft numbers so they will be called in proportion to previous registrants rather than ahead of or after older men. Order numbers will be determined by national lottery on July 17.

Headquarters advised local boards to defer men who have volunteered for civilian or military duty with Canadian or British forces. The House passed legislation to permit deferment of all men who were 28 on July 1.

Alien Education

The President allocated $14,000,000 of WPA funds for a program to educate 1,000,000 aliens in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. More than 11,000 teachers on WPA rolls will conduct classes for aliens who wish to become citizens.

Registered Civilian Organizations

WPA announced that more than 200,000 national, State and local civilian organizations with 50,000,000 members will be catalogued within the next 6 days to determine the parts the organizations and individuals can play in home defense so the Office of Civilian Defense can find qualified persons for new programs. All except purely social clubs will be indexed.

Civilian Supply

OPM conservation officials announced that "our purchases, our habits, our daily lives, perhaps even our styles, will be controlled by the requirements of national defense." Some of the changes facing the public, according to OPM: No corks in bottle tops; beverages in bottles rather than cans; silk used in parachutes will make silk stockings more scarce; women will have fewer permanent waves, cosmetics, and facial creams; it will not be patriotic to buy two automobiles; farmers will choose from 300 instead of 1,400 types of plows; chrome, copper, aluminum and woods such as mahogany will probably not be available to the furniture industry, and many designs will be eliminated.

Buy Coal Now

The Federal Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel appealed to the nation to buy coal now so it can be moved from the mines before growing defense production burdens the country's transportation system. There is an ample supply of the coal, the Counsel said but by September 15 shortages in some places may develop unless coal is stored for the winter before then.

Prices

Price Administrator Henderson announced that price ceilings on rubber tires and other rubber products will be deferred for several months to allow the industry time to work out price problems voluntarily. He announced, however, that ceiling prices will be placed within a few days on cottonseed oil and certain grades of West coast lumber used by the Government. Mr. Henderson also stated that recent action to check rises in high prices does not mean the OPACS expects to freeze livestock or meat prices.

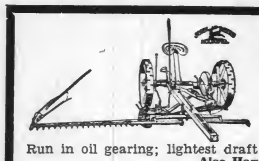
Army

The President asked Congress for an additional $4,700,000,000 for the Army, most of it for purchase of heavy guns, $400,000,000 for clothing and other equipment, $200,000,000 for the Air Force and $350,000,000 for the Signal Corps, and $1,000,000 for horses.

The War Department announced formation of a completely motorized, and heavily armed experimental division, strengthened with thanks, with 50 percent more fire power than a present armored division although with 14,000 instead of 15,550 men. The department also announced that to bolster anti-tank defenses, anti-tank specialists will be assigned to every Army large unit to work out methods of defeating armored force attacks.

OPM announced that during June 1,476 military planes were delivered to the Army, Navy and Great Britain—142 more than the previous month and a new record. The War Department announced contracts of nearly $200,000,000 for new airplane manufacturing facilities and ordered all Air Corps Reserve Officers except those in key civilian positions to active duty by August 1. The Army Air Force established its own Air Staff to form Air Force plans and decide on equipment and other matters without the approval of the General Staff as heretofore.

Navy



The President asked Congress for $1,625,000,00 in appropriations and contract authority for the Navy for additional ordnane, yard equipment, planes, and repairs, including $400,000,000 for defense installations on naval and private ships—anti-mine equipment, armor, etc., but, the President emphasized, not for guns to arm merchant ships.

Rear Admiral Robinson, Chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships, announced the Navy shipbuilding program is proceeding so rapidly that "every single combat ship is ahead of schedule." He said the problem of labor supply has been solved and the rate of expansion is limited chiefly by the ability to obtain materials.

Ships

The President asked Congress for $1,698,000,000 for the U. S. Maritime Commission, including $698,000,000 in cash for new ships and $1,296,000,000 in contract authorizations.

The U. S. Maritime Commission announced a saving of more than 500,000 tons of steel in the building of 705 commission-designed ships by construction methods not known in the first World War. The Commission said the greatest single weight saving measure was the introduction of welding to replace riveting so that entire ships are now built without single rivet.

Columbia Federal Savings And Loan Ass'n. Of Cov.
A Local Institution—Federally Chartered and Insured

The Columbia Federal Savings and Loan Association of Covington, was founded and built up on the security of city and suburban homes and the honest and ability of its directors who are all well-known local business men. They are located in Covington at 407 Pike St. The phone number is Hemlock 8146.

The Columbia Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n., of Covington is of direct value to our own and surrounding communities for the following five reasons

Because: It provides a means by which working people can "save themselves into a home." The steadiness of purpose displayed by regular investors in savings and loan associations is apparent in one's work.

Because: It is the greatest instrumentality that the human mind has devised to aid men and women to secure homes of their own, or to remodel and repair them.

Because: It is based on homes that are occupied by the owners. The occupants of such houses can be depended upon to preserve and protect them.

Because: All money saved with such an institution is used to assist other worthy people to build or acquire homes of their own. Each home built provides employment for workers, potential customers for merchants, increases the taxable wealth and helps the community to prosper and grow.

Because: The return on savings in such an institution is much better than is obtainable in any other class of investments where safety is assured, and the safety of your savings are insured by an instrumentality of the federal government on all accounts up to and including $5000.00.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Roland Young, who plays comedy lead in Universal's "The Flame of New Orleans" almost never sees his own pictures.

He isn't any theatrical captain-who-hates-the-sea; he likes moving pictures. But he does have an aversion to crowds, so unless he is invited to a private showing of a picture he's likely to miss it.

He has never seen any of the "Topper" pictures, in which he became famous.

INSECT BITES

For stings from bees, wasps, gnats, and spiders as well as mosquito bites, apply ammonia immediately for relief. Afterwards rub the bite with oil or a solution of strong salt water. Camphor is also good for insect stings and bites and one subscriber says plain baking soda dissolved in warm water is what they use at her house.

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT
9th and Madison Covington

Your radio and newspapers are constantly stressing the importance of National Defense and the necessity for a better National Health.

Increased employment, and in the rush to re-arm the Democracy, overtime work is the rule rather than the exception.

You, who are going back to work after being idle for some time, will find that the tissue and muscles of the feet and limbs have possibly grown flabby from lack of exercise. The strain of long hours on your feet, and probably on hard surface will have a telling effect on your whole body. Footwear that may have been adequate in part time work or complete idleness, fail completely to support the bones of the feet in their normal posture and balance under the abnormal and more difficult working conditions. Unusual tiredness, pains in the limbs and back, tired, burning feet are nature's warning to you that your feet need attention.

Delay in protecting your feet against ultimate collapse and more serious foot difficulties, is courting long "layoffs" and loss of income. Your problem is protection.

Don't take any chances, keep your feet normal, health and strong.—Adv.

Herbert Snyder Makes Announcement To Boone County Voters

"I have been informed that a report is being circulated in the county to the effect that if I am elected Sheriff, Grover Ransom will not be my deputy.

"This report is purely political propaganda, and if I am elected Sheriff, Grover Ransom will be my deputy for the next four years. 1t-c

"HERBERT SNYDER."

Open Letter To The Voters Of Boone County

"During my canvass as a candidate for County Judge I have found that political propaganda has been circulated against me as follows: 'That if elected Judge I would permit the sale of intoxicating liquors on Sundays.' I brand this as utterly false and challenge any who makes this statement to face me and repeat the same.

"Boone County has always been a good moral County and as a teacher in the County I endeavored to uphold those morals and if elected Judge will continue to do the same.

"Signed, A. M. Yealey."

NUTRITION IS DISCUSSED

BY TWENTY-SIX REPRESENTATIVES OF VARIOUS ORGANIZATIONS IN BURLINGTON COMMUNITY.

Twenty-six representatives of the many civic and community organizations met at the courthouse Monday night to discuss plans and elect officers for the nutrition program which is being sponsored in connection with our National Defense program, now in full swing.

"Live at Home and Conserve What We Have" was the topic of several talks given by Mrs. J. C. Layne, H. R. Forkner. County Agent, C. G. Kelly, Clerk of the Draft Board, Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent, and Mark Cook, AAA representative. All these discussions were centered around a drive to educate rural folk to "Live at Home" and to conserve and save all possible food stuffs in order that more commercially packed foods may be shipped to foreign markets and also reduce home expenses in view of the rising prices in all that we buy.

The officers for the program were, Mrs. C. D. Benson, president; Geraldine Yelton, secretary and Courtney Kelly, treasurer. Chairmen of the various committees were: Garden, D. H. Norris; Home Canning, Mrs. Vernon Pope; School Lunches, Mrs. W. L. McBee; Publicity, Mrs. R. C. Garrison; and Exhibits, Mrs. Herbert Snyder.

Many rural folks have been wondering what their part in National Defense would be, and it was made clear at this meeting that it was the duty of everyone to raise as much of what we eat as possible, and to learn to eat the proper foods. Improper diet is given as cause for Boone County having almost 50 percent rejections in the boys that have been called for army service.

Your part in National Defense is "Live at Home, Raise What You Eat."

Aluminum Show At Gayety Theater

The Erlanger-Elsmere Fire Departments in cooperation with the Gayety Theater are presenting an aluminum show at the Gayety Theater on Tuesday night, July 29.

The admission for this show will be one piece of aluminum that will be used for National Defense. The theater building is being donated by the management and the show sponsored by the two fire departments.

The attraction on this night will be a double feature program "Free and Easy" plus "Dead Men Tell."

This is entirely a patriotic affair and deserves your support and cooperation. Your attendance will be appreciated.

LOCAL NINE DOWNS RIVAL

IN GREAT FORM IN SEMIPRO CONTEST SUNDAY, AS BIG BONE JOINS LEAGUE—HEBRON BIG BONE WIN SATURDAY.

A sparkling ninth inning drive, which netted them two runs, gave the Boone County All-Stars a brilliant 3-2 triumph over the strong Wiedemann team at the local park Sunday. After scoring a run in the opening frame, the local semipros were held scoreless until the last half of the ninth, when the first three men up hit safely. Sebree opened the final period with a looping double and romped home on a scorching line drive to center by Hebe Deck, to knot the score. A sharp liner to right-center by Shinkle scored Deck with the winning run for Manager Bob Eades' boys.

Elmo Steffen, making his debut with the local, struck out 17 opposing batsmen and held the Wiedemanns scoreless until the closing frame, when they pushed two runs across, to go out in front for the first time in the game. Arnzen, the opposing hurler, stopped 12 All-Stars at the plate. Sebree led the local team at bat with two doubles while Kirkpatrick and Deck registered a double each and Shinkle two bingles. Only one error was committed in the game, a harmless one, when an All-Star player failed to recover the ball in time to throw out an opposing player.

The All-Stars will meet the Ft. Thomas Florists at the local park in the first round of the elimination series, in which a team will be eliminated from further play upon losing three contests.

The Big Bone team became a member of the Campbell County Semipro League Sunday, replacing the Chelsea Club which withdrew, and won its first tilt by outslugging the Goodrich Tires nine 11-8 at the winner's park, behind the pitching of Afterkirk. The Big Bone team will also have a home game Sunday.

Scoring one run in the first and three in the second inning, Hebron went on to win over Burlington 6-3 at the local grounds Saturday. Allowing but seven hits, Kirkpatrick, hurler for the local nine, failed to stop the opposing team, though errors behind his efforts accounted for two of the opponent's tallies. Goodridge held the home team to nine base knocks and scoreless until the fifth frame, when two runs were scored against him.

Big Bone turned back CCC 14-3 in a one-sided slugging contest at Big Bone, with Carroll on the hill for the winner and Cox pitching for the Walton boys. The game was featured by several extra-base hits which accounted for a number of runs. Several miscues also produced tallies.

The Petersburg team was idle Saturday, due to Belleview's withdrawing from the league on account of several of their players being unavailable for further play and until further provision is made one team will be without a league contest each week.

For games Saturday, CCC travels to Petersburg, Big Bone to Hebron, with Burlington being without a scheduled contest.

131 MATS, RUGS ARE DISPLAYED

AT SHOWS HELD IN SIX DIFFERENT CENTERS OF COUNTY —MANY OF RUGS HAD ORIGINAL DESIGNS.

Mats and rugs, displaying every type of rug making, were shown last week by Boone County Homemakers at six different centers. Seventy-five rugs and fifty-nine mats made up the six displays located in Burlington, Florence and Walton.

Miss Vivian Curnutt, Home Improvement Specialist, University of Kentucky, visited each display window on Thursday and arranged the rugs and mats according to designs and color. She was accompanied on the trip in the county by Mrs. Rod Hughes, County Rug Chairman; Mrs. John L. Vest and Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Many of the rugs had original designs cut by the Homemaker out of paper before being traced on the material. Only four of the rugs had been made out of new material. The others were made of old cotton, silk and wool scraps and burlap sacks. In most rugs and mats the materials had been dyed, thus making for pleasing color schemes. Rugs displayed were made by the following processes: Hooking, weaving, crocheting, knitting and braiding.

The members and townspeople who have made this project a success deserve much praise and the support of the entire county. This organization does not limit its service to Hebron alone, as they answer callings throughout this section of the county, and have displayed splendid ability in extinguishing and controlling fires throughout this section.

Farm School Project To Begin At Hebron In Near Future

Stakes were driven last week for the erection of the new farm shop to be erected at the Hebron school, in connection with their vocational agriculture training now being offered by this school.

Work on this project is expected to get underway at once, and the building is expected to be ready for use by September. All work is to be done by youths interested in the training, and under the supervision of James R. Huey, instructor.

Much interest has been shown in the Farm Shop project in Hebron, and a more complete training will be available this year, after the new building has been completed.

MORE TOLERANT

They can say we are more intelligent about wars than during the First World War—and they are right. If they add that we are more tolerant and less emotional now than at the time of the First World War—they are especially right. There are many readers in Boone County who were too young to know of our hysteria and persecutions, who weren't old enough to remember that sauerkraut was called "liberty cabbage" and that hamburgers were named "liberty steaks." Some folks frowned on a dachund dog, others on the study of German, and many persecuted citizens of German origin because they came from a country in disfavor with the U. S. There were a lot of things we did, most of them we regretted later, but emotionalism swept away our good judgment and reason and so we permitted hatred of a principle to color our concept of a people. Never again will we let this happen to us and so far we have taken the proper stand in situation today. We are smarter and far wiser in respect to wars, if you can use the word respect in relation to war! One of the faults at the bottom of this conflict today is racial hatered, of Germany hating the Jew, of Germany against the Catholic, the Russian, the Englishman. Because there is a thief in the Methodist congregation that gathers on Sunday mornings, you do not feel that all Methodists who sit in the congregation on Sunday mornings are thieves! So in the matter of Germans, we do not hurl abuse and insinuations at them, those citizens of America who have been most loyal, who have added to our name in culture and progress, who have proven their love for America many times. They have the same feeling as do we, that the principle of the present war is wrong and they share with us the belief that the majority of Germans are fighting because they must, that they aren't necessarily convinced that the principle is right. We are glad that we are more tolerant of others, that we are kinder in our beliefs and that we are smarter regarding wars!

GET YOURS NOW!

Citizens of Boone County are advised to take advantage of the present opportunity to buy coal and get it into their supply bins now, while production can be handled in advance of the urgent need later on when cold weather hits us. The consumer can get his today and be prepared for a possible shortage during the winter time when the nation's requirements will be so heavy. With the long strike in the coal fields recently and our increase in coal consumption due to industrial activity we can understand that this summer should not be the usual slack season for the coal dealer. If you have room for storage and if your dealer can offer you a reasonable summer discount, buy your next winter's supply now. It is one bit of hoarding that won't be objected to by your government.

WHAT FOODS ARE NEEDED?

If Americans were eating all the food they need, the country would consume 70 per cent more butter and 20 per cent more milk, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard told the 1000 delegates attending the National Nutrition Conference for Defense at Washington in May.

"We not only have the resources to produce all our people need for better nutrition," Secretary Wickard said, "we also have the methods. Whenever the Nation summons the will to do the job, agriculture can meet the new demands."

As part of the program to see that nutrition foods reach those who need them most, the Secretary pointed out that surplus foods furnished by the Department of Agriculture are now providing free lunches for about 5,000,000 school children. The stamp plan is being expanded to reach 5,000,000 people by summer, while the program to distribute low cost milk to poor families is being expanded.

Tuberculosis among children and adolescents has become a problem in Chile.

THE HOLY SPIRIT INSPIRES NEW TESTAMENT LETTERS

LESSON TEXT—Galatians 1:11, 12; I Thessalonians 2:13; II Timothy 3:14-17; II Peter 3:14-16; Jude 3.

GOLDEN TEXT—All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness.—II Timothy 3:16.

Letters are usually interesting, frequently very important, and always revealing as to the character and interests of the writer. That is generally true of ordinary daily mail, but how very true it is of the letters of Scripture, the epistles of Peter, Paul, Jude, and John. For in them "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" (II Pet. 1:21).

I. The Gospel (Gal. 1:11, 12; I Thess. 2:13).

The good news (for that is the meaning of "gospel") of salvation by grace through faith in Jesus Christ as Saviour has from the very beginning of its proclamation been subject to attack. Men are not content to receive God's way of salvation, but want to add something to it, adjust its requirements to meet new situations, to tinker and twist.

1. A Divine Revelation (Gal. 1: 11, 12).

Paul was not presenting something which he or some other man had "worked up," but a message that he had "prayed down." Paul was only delivering that which he had received from God (see I Cor. 15:1-4). He was careful that it should not be confused with or by the teachings of men, so he "conferred not with flesh and blood" (see Gal. 1:15, 16).

We too are privileged to proclaim a divine revelation which has come to us in the inspired Word of God. How delightfully sweet and tremendously powerful is the message which we may thus bring forth. It has no human frailty and weakness, no human error, and no misleading philosophies. It does not need to be revised every year or two. It is God's eternal message of redemption.

2. A Message of Salvation (I Thess. 2:13).

It works in those who believe. Yes, it does—blessed be the name of God! God's Book says so, and the experience of hundreds of thousands of men and women over a period of almost 2,000 years agrees.

Note, however, that to work, the message must not only be "received," but also "accepted" as the Word of God. The message of the Bible may be received as a matter of fact, but for salvation it must be accepted and believed as a matter of faith.

II. The Bible (II Tim. 3:14-17; II Pet. 3:14-16).

Near the end of a life given in utter sacrifice to God's cause, Paul is ready to be used of the Holy Spirit to speak concerning the written Word.

1. It Is God-Inspired (II Tim. 3: 14-17).

Be sure to read this passage in the Authorized Version. The Revised has taken liberties with this verse which the finest scholarship does not countenance. It properly reads, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine (teaching), for reproof, for correction, for instruction," etc. Other books may claim some kind or measure of human inspiration—this Book is inspired of God. If there were space, proof of the truth of that statement could easily be given. It is available for all who want to believe it.

2. It Is Not to Be Wrested (II Pet. 3:14-16).

If permitted to do so, God's Word will bring peace of heart, make a man spotless and blameless (v. 14). But its salvation (v. 15) is not for those who ignorantly, or because of their ignorance, or because they are not steadfast in their lives, wrest its truth. Let us receive the Word with gladness, not twist it or distort its meaning to our own destruction.

III. The Faith (Jude 3).

1. It Was "Delivered Once for All."

It is a final revelation from God. There is no other gospel, and there never will be another. What assurance that gives us both in believing it and proclaiming it! But the world hates this gospel, and attacks on it are to be expected. Therefore

2. It Is to Be Earnestly Contended For.

No matter how peaceable we may be, how loving and tenderhearted, if and when attack is made upon the Lordship of Christ, when men make light of sin, and so seem to minimize the vital importance of holiness of life—then, however unpleasant contention and controversy may be to us, it is time we cast our self-regard aside and contend earnestly for the faith once for all delivered to the saints." (J. D. Jones).

PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT

Poor posture may be directly caused by defective reasons, eyestrain, impaired hearing, or bone defects which may occur in children during adolescence. Thrusting the head forward to see better may be associated with nearsightedness. Cocking the head toward a speaker may indicate loss of hearing, or bone defects which may indicate loss of hearing in one ear. Marked "round shoulders" may be a sign of some disease of the bones of the spine. All children should have competent and thorough physical examination, including tests of sight and hearing, before entering school, and at regular intervals thereafter.

If the mind and the body are healthy, the will is after all, the directing factor in maintaining good posture or correcting bad posture. The feet play a very important part in body balance, as they support the entire weight of the body both in standing and in moving and holding it upright against the downward pull of gravity. The feet being the foundation of the body are very important in regard to good posture and without proper fitted shoes, weakness will develop in the muscles causing the bones of the feet to sag and throwing the whole body out of posture. You cannot have good health and unhappy feet.—Adv.

Cincinnati Reds

Cincinnati—The Reds may make their hay while the sun shines on their own ball yard. They're scheduled for 22 games at Crosley Field for their longest home stand of the season, and this should provide them an opportunity to determine definitely if they can get back in the middle of the fight for the National League pennant.

On their stay at home, continuous except for two days at Chicago, August 9 and 10, the Reds have three Sunday twin bills, and were booked for three night games, the first of which was played in Cincinnati Wednesday night against Brooklyn. The first of the doubleheaders is listed Sunday, when the Phillies oppose the Reds, while next Sunday the Boston Braves will be the bargain bill opponent. A third twin event is scheduled at Crosley Field Sunday, August 17, when the Reds meet the Chicago Cubs.

Next Wednesday the New York Giants will meet the Reds in a night game that will be preceded by the regular pre-game festivities. Featured band will be the Celina High School group, from Celina, Ohio. This outfit is recognized as one of the best in this part of the country. A mammoth fireworks display also is on the schedule. This night game against the Giants will be the sixth of the season at Crosley Field. The seventh is scheduled for Wednesday, August 13, when the fierce fighting St. Louis Cardinals enter the Reds' bailiwick.

It's going to be hard for the Reds to climb back into the center of the pennant fight, but a few breaks will help them do it. They played the best ball in the circuit in June. A bit of acceleration on that record will be just what the doctor ordered for them.

Tickets for all of the Red's games for the remainder of the season are now on sale at the Reds' downtown ticket office, at 307 Vine Street. Mail orders receive prompt attention. Following is the complete home schedule until August 17:

Friday, July 25, with Philadelphia
Saturday, July 26, with Philadelphia.
Sunday, July 27, with Philadelphia (Doubleheader).
Tuesday, July 29, with New York.
Wednesday, July 30, with New York (Night Game).
Thursday, July 31, with New York.
Friday, August 1, with Boston.
Saturday, Aug. 2, with Boston.
Sunday, Aug. 3, with Boston (Doubleheader.
Monday, Aug. 4, with Pittsburgh.
Tuesday, Aug. 5, with Pittsburgh
Wednesday, Aug. 6, with St. Louis
Thursday, Aug. 7, with St. Louis.
Wednesday, Aug. 13, with St. Louis (Night Game).
Friday, Aug. 15, with Chicago.
Saturday, Aug. 16, with Chicago.
Sunday, August 17, with Chicago (Doubleheader).

$5,300,000 Taxes Paid by Railroads in Kentucky in 1940

Railroads operating in Kentucky paid a total of more than $5,300,000 in taxes to the State, counties, cities and towns last year. Of this amount, at least $2,645,000 went into School Funds; approximately $960,000 went to build and maintain county roads and city streets, and the remaining $1,695,000 went into General Funds.

IN THIS COUNTY ALONE IN 1940 RAILROAD TAXES* TOTALED $22,281.82

Thus the railroads paid a generous share of all the money required to conduct State, county and local business. This includes public education, streets and highways, public health work, police and fire protection, mental and tuberculosis hospitals, penal institutions, public charity, administration, and all the other services that you and other citizens require of your State and local governments.

You can readily see by these figures that every section of our Commonwealth shares in the prosperity and earnings of Kentucky railroads. So it is to your interest, as a progressive citizen and taxpayer—

1. TO OPPOSE unfair national or state subsidies to competing forms of transportation.

2. TO SUPPORT fair and reasonable measures to put all other carriers for hire under regulations similar to those prescribed for railroads—which bear so large a part of the general tax burden and carry over their own roadways the bulk of the transportation load in peace and in war.

* The railroads also paid to the STATE taxes on all their property located in this county. A large part of these State taxes is spent in the counties for schools and other State services.

The club held its annual tour on the 17th. Due to the large enrollment only members in two communities were visited this year. FIFTEEN-YEAR FARM ANALYSIS

IS COMPLETE—DAIRYING HAS EXCEEDED OTHER SOURCES OF INCOME DURING THIS PERIOD.

Boone, Kenton, Campbell County farmers cooperating in the College of Agriculture Farm Account project work have completed fifteen years of farm account record keeping, according to Roy E. Proctor, farm management specialist, College of Agriculture. Dairying during this period has exceeded all other sources of income. The income per cow during this period has varied from $193.00 per cow in 1928 to $57.00 per cow in 1932 to $115.00 per cow in 1940.

Twenty Boone County farmers are keeping complete farm account records in 1941. They are Wilton Stephens, Wm. H. Moore, Sterling Dickey, Sterling Rouse, G. E. Coleman, T. H. Easton, Henry Siekman, B. C. Stephens, L. H. Congleton, L. R. Vice, Cam White, Leroy McNeeley, LeRoy Ryle, Grant Maddox, John Grimes, Albert Parker, Sam Sleet, T. B. Roberts and Wm. Ryle, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Fifteen of these farmers kept complete farm account records in 1940 and were included in the list of 44 farmers in the Northern Kentucky business analysis.

The business analysis shows the following points:

1. The most efficient farmer made $2,418.00 after 5 percent on investment and all farm expenses were deducted. The lowest income farmer lost $2,794.00 after interest and all expenses were deducted.

2. Net income of the dairy farmers average $913.00; and specialty farms $867.00 and general farms $671.00. Value of farm products used in the home was $466.00 per farm; $559.00 by specialty farms and $414.00 for general farms.

The summary of the farm business analysis shows the following important points for profitable farming the past year.

1 Produce the type of feed for which the land is well adapted.

2. Keep the livestock that will best use this feed and at the same time make good use of available labor.

3. Intensive farming usually offers a premium close to a large city.

4. Crops which are very perishable, or bulky and perishable livestock products should receive first consileration.

5. It is good ecenomy to produce the bulky feed and pastures, however, expenses for some commercial feeds in this area are necessary.

Farmers interested in cooperating in the 1942 farm account project next year should contact the County Agent's office previous to next January 1st, the starting date for the project.

BEING THAT YOU ARE NEITHER HOT NOR COLD I SPEW THEE OUT OF MY MOUTH

Politics is one of the most important parts of our system of government. It is the process of selecting and electing the officials who are to represent "We, The People" for an agreed numbers of years. Laws are merely a memorandum of what the people want and the legislators are no better or no worse than the individuals, that is, the voters will permit. You hear that politics is filthy and corrupt, that being so, why don't we roll up our sleeves and clean it up? In the power of suffrage, that is, the right to vote, we have the ways and means at hand. Plato said, many hundreds of years ago, that intelligent people not taking part in their government paid the penalty by being governed by meaner men than themselves.

Each Frenchman in that rich and powerful empire of France not so long ago went his own separate, selfish way, interested only in his own insignificant loves and quarrels, accepting the favors and blandishments of the politicians and now he is in chains. If Germany, in her great need, had pulled her belt a little tighter and waited a little longer and not listened to the voice of the temper she would not be suffering the hell that she is now, and the worse one that is to come after the war. Centralization of government has been gradually taking place over a period of years. Our county officers are officials in name only. Our county tax commissioner is only the clerk of the equalization board which gets its orders from Frankfort. Our fiscal court cannot spend a cent unless it is approved in Frankfort. Why? Because he may through favoritism overspend his budget and put the county in debt. Are the heads of the State Government any less human? The difference is, the county judge has no power to tax, he cannot make up his over-expenditures while the State Government, with absolute control of the State Legislature, can make up their deficits at once by levying more taxes. Actually, at the last session, a tax was placed on the acounts on the books of the small business man.

What is it that the administration has against Paul Sidebottom? Paul is one of the last of the Mohicans, one of the small businessmen who are and have been the backbone of this system of business and government known as a democracy. He was a good Senator and represented his people well. He voted for everything that would provote the welfare of his people (the small business man and the farmer) and against everything that would infringe upon their liberties.

We still have the greatest country in the world and Kentucky is one of the brightest stars in its crown. Let's profit by the mistakes of others and maintain our liberty by exercising the right of suffrage against anything that remotely resembles dictatorship. The only thing the dictators will not tolerate is difference of opinion. Yet difference of opinion is the essence of democracy. Eternal viligance is the price we must pay. Politics, in that word, are both liberty and slaverty. It's up to you which it shall be.

Vote for Paul Sidebottom who represents the people and not the politicians.

FARMERS, MERCHANTS AND PROFESSIONS

The fight for good legistlation, and good government is your fight as well as mine. I need volunteer workers from Boone County in the election to oppose the dictators at Frankfort, who by force and collusion "pressure system," would elect only their "chosen ones" to office throughout the State.

RECORDER 1 YEAR $1.50

BURLEY GROUP SEEKS EXTENSION

OF CHARTER—VOTING CARDS HAVE BEEN MAILED TOBACCO GROWERS—20-YEAR EXTENSION SOUGHT.

The campaign of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association to obtain a 20-year extension of its charter will be headed by R. H. Gilbert of Shelbyville, it was announced Saturday by the Operating Committee of the Association at Lexington.

Assisting Mr. Gilbert will be Headley Shouse of Fayette County and W. C. Clay, Sr., of Montgomery County. Their work will be done under the supervision of the Board of Directors of the Association and the Operating Committee, which is composed of President Dawson Chambers, Vice President John W. Jones and Secretary-Treasurer, Frank C. Taylor.

All members of the Association, which includes those who delivered tobacco to the Association last year and during the years from 1921 through 1926, have been mailed cards on which they may vote for the extension. In a letter to the members, Mr. Taylor pointed out that these votes are solely on the question of extending the charter for another 20-year period, and are in no way connected with a marketing contract, or the warehouse properties owned by the District Warehousing Corporations, or the stock which members sold in these corporations.

The Committee stated that it is the plan of the Association to conduct a stabilization operation similar to that of last season beginning with the first day of the burley market on the 1941 crop. Advances on the 1941 crop will be made at the rate of 85 per cent of parity priceinstead of 75 per cent as was made on the 1940 crop. Present parity price for burley tobacco is $21.80 per cwt. Eighty-five per cent advance would mean about $18.53 per cwt., if an average of grades are delivered.

It was pointed out by the committee that loans from the Government to growers of tobacco could only be made through an Association owned by all who participate as members, and not to individual growers; thus making it necessary to get a renewal of the charter so that the Association can operate for the next twenty years. Any burley tobacco grower who is not satisfied with the price offered for his tobacco on the auction market may offer it to the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association and receive 85 percent of parity price for an immediate payment. The Government takes the risk by practically assuring the tobacco growers a price of 85 percent of parity by making a non-recourse loan to the Association of this amount. It should be understood that the Commodity Credit Corporation does not purchase the tobacco it simply makes a loan to the grower through the Association and retains a lien on the tobacco for funds advanced. In the event the tobacco can be sold to the manufacturer at a price in excess of the loan, plus carrying charges, such excess will be paid to the grower as an additional payment on a grade basis.

All tobacco received by the Association must be graded by the Government graders. It is understood that plans are being made to government grade all burley markets for the coming season.

A charter for 20 years was granted the Association in 1922 when it was incorporated. This charter expires January 11, 1942. If the price stabilization operations of the Association are to continue for the protection of the 1941 crop as well as crops for future years. it is necessary to get a renewal of the charter. The campaign under way is to inform those growers who delivered tobacco to the Association from the 1940 crop or from any crop during the years of 1921 thru 1926, the importance of signing their voting cards which were mailed to them about two months ago. These voting cards should be mailed in to the Association's address in Lexington as soon as possible. Those who have misplaced their cards or did not receive a voting card, may secure them at the county agent's office in the various burley producing counties. After signing these voting cards they may be left at the county agent's office where these cards will be collected.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that burley growers have everything to gain and nothing to lose by sending in their votes to recharter the Association does not obligate him in any way whatever. In fact, he can vote to extend the life of his cooperative for twenty years and then not deliver any part of a crop of tobacco to it. In order for the charter to be renewed, a favorable vote must be received from the majority of its living members. One of the problems in the drive is to find out the total number of living members and to have them vote. If the burley members would return these voting cards promptly with the information requested on deceased members, the problem before the Association would be greatly simplified.

A series of Argentina Meat Shows are being held in Argentina.

PLENTY OF CORN FOR FEED

In announcing the plan to expand acreages of forage crops to offset drouth, the Secretary of Agriculture pointed out that we have plenty of feed grains for livestock.

We are fortunate in having the great Ever-Normal Granary reserves needed for increased production of livestock products, he said.

More than 10 million bushels of Ever-Normal Granary corn have been moved from the Middle West to the East for the use of livestock feeders. Kentucky farmers have been notified of corn available in Chicago, and St. Louis elevators and on farms in Illinois.

POOL MEMBERS SHOULD VOTE

H. R. FORKNER, COUNTY AGENT SAYS—SHOULD HAVE ONE STRONG TOBACCO MARKETING POOL.

All members of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association commonly called the "Old Pool" should vote on the question of amending the Articles of Incorporation for an additional twenty years Charter, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Reports from the Association indicate that only very few Boone County farmers have voted to date.

Farmers generally agree that we should have one strong tobacco marketing pool. Recently the new pool and the old pool combined their interests and it was agreed to continue under the name of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association with an election to be held soon after the Charter vote was completed.

All members of the Association were recently mailed cards to cast their vote in favor of extending the Charter for an additional 20 years. Forty-one percent or fifty percent plus one member's vote is necessary before the Charter can be renewed.

Those farmers who have not already voted on this question should do so immediately. It will soon be tobacco marketing season. The Association must be completed to handle the government loan. The government loan on an average crop is 85 percent of $21.80 or parity price for tobacco which amounts to an average of $18.53 per hundred pounds.

Send your signed card in now. If you have lost or misplaced your card, call at the County Agent's office for another one. Help have the association ready to operate when the market opens.

OPEN CLASSES IN FOUR-H FAIR

INCLUDE BENCH SHOWS, PONY SHOW, FLOWERS, QUILTS AND VEGETABLES — PLANS BEING MADE FOR RECORD FAIR.

Bench shows for fox hounds and bird dogs, a pony show, flowers, quilts and vegetables will be featured for the first time in the ninth annual 4-H and Utopia Club free fair and county picnic that will be held at Burlington on Saturday, August 23rd, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Plans are to make the fair this year the biggest and best on record. Four hundred and seventeen 4-H Club members, 73 adult leaders, 65 Utopia Club members and scores of friends and special committeemen will donate freely of their time and ability to make the county's biggest one day "Round up" of friends from far and wide, a success.

Cooperators in the program are hoping that at some near future date a permanent fair and picnic site open to all the organizations and people of the county can be secured. Such a site would serve a great purpose in bringing people together in worthwhile county and other out of door gatherings. Such gatherings tend to develop greater understanding and community and county pride. Let's all lend our support to this movement.

LOCAL SEMIPRO TEAM TRIUMPHS

OVER SEASON'S RUNNER-UP IN SERIES CONTEST SUNDAY, AS BIG BONE LOSES—HEBRON DEFEATS BIG BONE SAT.

A powerful slugging attack, which included 4 doubles and two triples, gave the Boone County All-Stars an impressive 6-4 victory over the Fort Thomas Florist team at the local park Sunday in the first round of the elimination play of the Campbell County Semipro League. It took the local semipros just two innings to blast the pitching record, of 40 consecutive scoreless innings, of Alex Hess, the Florists' ace hurler, as successive singles by Sebree and Hebe Deck were crowned by a double by Henry Deck in the second frame. Hess lasted four innings.

In addition to turning in a fine pitching performance Elmo Steffen, fire-ball mound artist for the local team, also led his team at bat, with a triple, a double, and a walk in four trips to the plate, driving in three runs. He struck out nine while giving up a like number of base knocks. Hebe Deck collected the longest base hit of the game when he slammed out a triple which would have been good for the circuit had he not failed to touch home plate as he ran past it and fell into the screen, to be thrown out before he could recover the base. Mahan and Kirkpatrick also collected extra-base blows, as the home boys hammered their opponent's pitchers for a total of 12 hits.

The All-Stars meet another strong team in their next game, when the Wiedemann nine invade the local park in the second round of the elimination series.

By being held to six hits, Big Bone lost its game in the semipro league Sunday to the Wiedemanns at the Big Bone park, as Ryle and Afterkirk, hurlers for Big Bone were unable to stop the visiting team. Pleezing Foods team will journey to Big Bone for a game Sunday.

In the only contest played Saturday in the county league, Hebron nosed out Big Bone 5-4 in a nip and tuck contest at the park of the winner. The teams went into the closing period of the last frame with the score knotted at 4-all, and it was not until after two were out that Hebron scored the winning tally, as when a runner on third base scored as an infielder fumbled a hit ball. Base hits were scarce, as Walton pitched for Hebron and C. Black for Big Bone.

For contests Saturday, Burlington travels to Big Bone and Hebron to Petersburg.

POND BUILDING PROGRAM STARTS

IN BOONE COUNTY—FIRST PROJECT IS STARTED ON GEORGE BAKER FARM NEAR BEAVER, MONDAY.

Grover Robertson, pond building specialist, began work on the farm of Geo. Baker of near Beaver on Monday of this week, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Mr. Baker is having a large lake constructed. The lake, when completed, will be developed into a commercial fishing site and if successful will be one of the largest and deepest lakes in the county.

Mr. Robertson has secured contracts for pond construction from a number of Boone County farmers. He uses modern pond building equipment that enables him to build ponds at a minimum cost. He invites the public to see his construction work. He will contract his work by the hour or by the job. Notes will be taken where farmers do not have ready cash.

Water is one of the first essentials to successful livestock management. Good water is just as important as good feed. Farmers desiring pond construction should contact Mr. Robertson direct. Names left at the County Agent's office will be turned over to him for personal contact.

The County Agent's office will serve as a contact agency but takes no part in any contract between the pond builder and the farmer. The actual construction work is entirely by private trade between the two interested parties.

FORMER BOONE COUNTIAN CALLED

AT AGE OF 76 AT HIS HOME IN BAKERSFIELD, CALIF. — WAS WELL KNOWN IN BOONE COUNTY.

Relatives here received word Saturday afternoon of the death of J. H. Walton, of Bakersfield, Calif. He had been suffering from heart trouble for the last few years, but his condition only became serious the first of this year. Death came peaceably to him at home in Bakersfield, Saturday, July 26th at 11 a. m. As this is written relatives say that they believe he will be buried there.

Josiah H. Walton was born November 12, 1865, the eldest son of seven children of George H. and Harriet VanNess Walton. Four of these children preceded him in death, Mrs. Fannie Fish, Mrs. Anna Belle Brady. Mrs. Susie Ryle and Mrs. Ida Wilson, while two, Mrs. Emma Ward, of Marietta, Ohio, and a brother G. H. Walton, of Bakersfield, Calif., survive.

He united with the Baptist Church upon reaching manhood, and was always a faithful layman, having served as Deacon of the East Bend Baptist Church for many years.

He enjoyed health there until early this year when he began a steady decline until death took him on the morning of July 26th, with his wife and two of his sons at his side.

He was widely and well known in this county where he was always considered a man of his word, and as an active churchman he remained true to his faith until the last.

Besides those mentioned above he leaves six grandchildren and a host of nephews and nieces to mourn his passing.

Rev. C. Earl Fisher, of Bakersfield. Calif., will conduct the last services.

HUGE REA SHOW TO VISIT AREA

SEPTEMBER 8 AND 9—WILL DISPLAY LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN ELECTRIC FARMING.

The big two-day REA Farm Electric Equipment Show is coming to this area September 8and 9. Arrangements were completed this week by the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative, which is sponsoring the show. Working with REA and the Department of Agriculture, the 2550 members of the electric system are bringing the show here so that they and their neighbors may see the latest developments in electric farming.

The REA traveling exhibit carries two huge tents, smaller tents, trailers and truckloads of electric farm and home equipment. It has visited more than 375 rural electric system in 24 states in the largest wide scale demonstration of this type ever undertaken. The Kentucky Extension Service and manufacturers of farm equipment, plumbing, home appliances and lighting fixtures, are cooperating with REA and local rural electric systems in bringing this caravan of equipment here. It is free and all farm families are invited.

Farm machinery powered by electric motors from one-quarter up to 7½ horsepower will be demonstrated by D. W. Teare, show manager and agricultural engineer, and L. C. Hindley of REA and representatives of the Extension Service. Much of the equipment has been designed for automatic operation and is smaller and costs less than equipment using other types of power. Many low-cost home-made pieces of equipment are featured.

Home equipment demonstrations will be of special interest to farm women. Now, labor-lightening home appliances will be put thru their paces by the show home economist, assisted by Victoria Harris, REA regional home economist, and home economists of the Extension Service.

Chester Roland, Manager of the local rural electric system is in charge of general arrangements for the show. Extension Agents of Owen, and nearby counties are helping organize the program, fitting it to local needs.

"Now that we know this big show is coming to our system," said Mr. Roland, "we want to extend an invitation to all our farm friends and neighbors to attend the show. It is free and they will be welcome, whether they are using electricity or not."

CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE

BY CHRISTIAN CHURCHES OF BOONE COUNTY—MANY INTERESTING SPEAKERS WILL BE HEARD.

The annual Convention of the Christian Churches of Boone County will be held on August 31, 1941 at the High School auditorium in Burlington. The tentative program is as follows:

Dr. George V. Moore is Professor of Practical Theology in the College of the Bible at Transylvania College, Lexington. His long record of academic and Christian activity well befit him to address the Convention along its theme of "Forwarding the Church Through Trained Leadership."

It is the desire of all the ministers of the Christian Churches of Boone County that all members consider this meeting their regular worship service for the day as it affords an opportunity to attend Sunday School, partake of communion and enjoy a wonderful sermon, with the Convention program to look forward to.

While this is primarily a meeting of the members of the Churches of Christ in Boone County, all people interested in the work of the Kingdom are cordially invited to attend and partake of the fellowship. Just pack a basket, bring the family and enjoy the day.

Sorry to report that Miss Lucy Marie Souther was operated on for appendicitis at Booth Memorial Hospital last Friday. At this writing she is improving nicely.

GRASSHOPPER MENACE IS BECOMING SERIOUS HERE

CROPS AND TREES BEING SERIOUSLY INJURED BY PESTS—FARMERS URGED TO USE POISON BAIT.

Already badly damaged by the drouth, Boone County farmers face another crop danger, that of an army of grasshoppers now spreading throughout the entire north section of the county.

The cause of vast army of "hoppers" is varied. However, most people believe that a cool dry season made for ideal development of the pests.

County Agent, H. R. Forkner was called to the Albert E. Pfalzgraf farm, near Idlewild, Sunday afternoon to inspect the damage being caused by the pests, and reported the condition to be even more serious than he had anticipated. Mr. Forkner stated that the grasshoppers had almost destroyed the corn, alfalfa, tobacco and that the garden and flowers were almost gone. Even the small trees and shrubs were being menaced, the pests eating all the leaves and bark off the trees.

In view of the danger of this menace spreading to all parts of the county, County Agent Forkner urges all farmers to be ready to combat the pests with "Poison Bait" made by mixing while dry, 25 lbs. of bran and 1 pound of paris green and add enough water (2½ to 3 gallons) to make the mass moist. Broadcast the bait in the evening after sunset. Apply at the rate of 12 pounds to the acre and repeat application when necessary.

All crops throughout this section are in dire need of rain at present, especially corn, tobacco, and truck gardens. Pasture is also becoming a problem and a shortage of stock water is being faced by many.

Since two services are planned for each day, the morning service will start at ten o'clock, and the evening service at 8:30, according to W. C. Guth, pastor.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

TO THE VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY

My Campaign is drawing to a close, and I take this opportunity to thank the women and men, and boys and girls for their kindness and many courtesies and loyal interest that they have shown me in my race for County Judge.

It has been one of the greatest pleasures of my life to meet the Citizens of Boone County face to face and state the fact and issue of this Campaign, for I have nothing to hide and my life work is an open book for anyone to investigate.

(I was born and reared in My Old Kentucky Home where the sun shines the brightest and the glow of the moon is the softest.)

I have taken the oath of allegiance to the American Flag, and will love and honor the Stars and Stripes forever!

In 1900 I married a Boone County girl, Grace M. Rogers, and to this union was born three sons and one daughter.

The office of County Judge belongs to the people of Boone Co. and I am asking you for your votes and support, and if elected I will be your faithful servant.

I am in favor of good roads and for every dollar spent I shall see that the County gets 100% benefit. I will have the interest of the taxpayers at heart at all times. I believe in probation and will show mercy at all times.

I have two opponents who I hold in the highest esteem, but I promise the people that I will never ask them to elect me thirty-two years.

(I have read law and know right from wrong and Boone Co. has had three men to serve as County Judge who were not Lawyers, Judges Stevens, Baker and Roberts, and all had successful administrations.) And a great deal of business of the County Judge's office has been transacted by another who was not a Lawyer. In this world of ours are many dictators, both large and small... We have them here at home, but I am opposed to a dictator of any size.

I have been a follower of Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Democratic Party—the greatest Party in the world today, all my life. Our President, Senators, Congressmen and Governor are all Champions of Democracy, and I have voted for them all, for which I have no regret.

I believe in God the founder of the Universe and I am not ashamed of my Savior any time, anywhere. I am not the candidate of any firm or business organization... I will do all in my power to give a safe and business-like administration—on the job six days a week.

Respectfully,
FOREST H. BROWN

VOTE FOR M. C. CARROLL FOR MAGISTRATE

I want to make this statement to the voters:

To those whom I have talked with in public places and to those whom I have visited with in their homes while I campaigned with you as Magistrate, I would like to say that you have shown to me that Boone County has lots of kind, friendly and loving people in it, yet. You are people who believe in Boone County going forward and I am another who wants to see it go forward, in churches, schools and roads.

I am a member of Big Bone Methodist Church and I want to say that I hold nothing against any of the other churches and faiths. I believe that everyone should have the right to worship as he desires. I have always been a liberal supporter of churches and schools and have done a lot of work on the roads.

If the voters of this district will show me on election day, August 2, 1941, that they want me for their Magistrate, I will work for the people of my district regardless of who you are or where you live.

I want to thank everyone for the kindness shown me and the good remarks and the good work you have been doing for me. Regardless of whether I win or lose I want you all to know I am your friend.

TO THE VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY

You were gracious enough to let me serve you as Representative for the past two years, for which I am grateful. I am now asking you to let me serve you for another two years.

I do not profess to have been perfect, but I do claim that I did my best. It is a tough job for a new man to go up against a lot of old heads at the game. The counties that do not alternate, but send the same Representative term after term have a distinct advantage over a one-term County. I will truthfully tell you that a new man in legislature is really lucky if he learns the goings-on in one term.

I have now had that experience and believe that I can serve you better by having served you, and can really be a help to the people whom I represent.

Won't you please come out and vote in this race and if you think that I am qualified and sincere, CAST YOUR VOTE FOR ME.

Gayety Theater News

TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

The glamour and romance suggested by the soft Brazilian moon, the throbbing rhythm of the Samba, and the tantalizing movements of exotic dancers provide the background for 20th Century-Fox's Technicolor musical, "That Night in Rio," starring Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Carmen Miranda.

The latest cinematic contribution of the studio that produced "Down Argentine Way" and "Tin Pan Alley" is sprinkled with catchy tune by those master tunesmiths, Mack Gordon and Harry Warren.

The full richness of Rio's night lift and the vivid costumes of the performers are captured by the magic Technicolor. Amidst these gorgeous surrounds Director Irving Cummins has fashioned an outstanding piece of entertainment.

SATURDAY

Infatuated with a brilliant madman, she sets out to commit murder for him. Restored to beauty by a surgeon, her nature gradually changes with her face in a graphic story of regeneration.

TUESDAY

"I wish to state to the voters of this State and any others that may be interested, that I have known Mr. Paul Sidebottom practically all his life and have watched him in his public affiliations and am glad to commend him very highly as a public servant and citizen.

"I further wish to state that in the efforts of the Cooperative Ass'n., of Burley Producers to obtain the present status of the tobacco situation, we found Mr. Sidebottom willing and very helpful in getting this movement started, at the time when it seemed we were going to be blocked in obtaining help from Washington, Mr. Sidebottom came to our Association and offered his services and used his car and money to travel and make contacts for the interest of same, he made a trip to Washington, D. C., with our committee and obtained the promise from there to give us the financial help that was necessary to complete the operation of the Association.

"This loan was put in operation through the Burley Tobacco Ass'n., last year and I think the farmers realize the untold benefits derived therefrom by those farmers who marketed their tobacco, and it is through such untiring efforts of men like Mr. Sidebottom that the Burley Farmer is depending to make our organizations successful.

NOT WANTED!

"Jook-joints", "honkey-tonks", "dives", and other lawbreaking retail beer outlets are not wanted by Kentucky's $20,000,000 legalized beer industry!

Beer is a wholesome beverage, and the makers of beer insist that it be sold under equally wholesome conditions.

Kentucky's beer industry, therefore, wants all undesirable retail beer outlets eliminated entirely. Accordingly, we are cooperating with state and local law-enforcement officials to maintain wholesome conditions wherever beer is sold.

We invite you to help in this public-spirited "clean up" effort, by (1) patronizing only reputable beer retailers; and (2) reporting any disorderly outlets to enforcement officials or to this committee.

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT

The Surgical shoe, designed after exhaustive studies of the many factors responsible for "foot trouble," achieves a long-sought objective in affording proper support and scientific body weight distribution within the shoe. Built on a last which closely approximates the configurmation of the normal foot, it is not a "corrective shoe" in the orthopedic sense of the word.

Its primary purpose is to maintain the foot comfortably in proper position, thus overcoming or avoiding ankle pronation and the accompanying weakness or sagging of the longitudinal arch.

By properly distributing body weight over the foot surface, this unique shoe relieves excessive strain on the first two metatarsals and transfers weight bearing to the fourth and fifth metatarsals and to the outer half of the heel.

Thus excessive stress and tension on ligaments and articular surfaces are reduced, leading to relief of pain, fatigue and weakness.—Adv.

ELECT
ALVIN KIDWELL FOR SENATOR

Alvin Kidwell

Alvin Kidwell, Sparta, 47-year-old nurseryman and active member of the Methodist Church, the American Legion and the Democratic Party, is a candidate for his party's nomination for the state senate in the Boone-Gallatin-Pendleton-Owen district.

Quiet and modest, Mr. Kidwell has not indulged in an active speaking campaign. He prefers to see voters face to face, have a word with them and pass on. He never has been known to say an unkind word of an adversary, but when he is asked concerning his opponent he speaks of him in the most gentlemanly terms.

Mr. Kidwell is a native of Trimble county and a graduate of the Trimble county high school. He taught school a number of years, but quit this profession at the outbreak of the last World War to join the U. S. Army. He was stationed at Camp Taylor during the war.

He entered the Nursery business in 1923 at St. Matthews. In 1929 he moved to Sparta, his present home, and established his present business in that community. In 1934 he was married to Miss Josephine Graham.

TO THE VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY:

As the Democratic Primary draws to a close. I desire to thank all the people for the kindness and courtesy shown me during my canvass and also for the many favors shown me throughout my term of office.

Also, I wish to express my appreciation to my opposition in this race for the clean manner in which they have conducted their campaigns.

It is being circulated in Boone County that I am advocating the election of candidates for other offices than the one for which I am a candidate. In certain parts of the County it is being told that I am working for the election of a certain candidate for a certain office, while in other parts of the county another candidate for the same office is being named. All of these reports are not based on facts and are purely political propaganda. I am a candidate for re-election for County Court Clerk and am devoting my time to my own election and any reports to the contrary are unfounded and not based on facts. I know that none of my friends will be mislead by such reports.

If re-elected, I will endeavor to serve you to the best of my ability, as I have always done in the past.

Save vital food elements with "WATERLESS" Electric COOKING

Vitamins and minerals essential to radiant health are naturally present in all foods. But all too frequently these vital food elements are destroyed by improper cooking or poured away with excess cooking water. To preserve the vitamins, authorities agree on these simple rules:

USE LITTLE OR NO WATER
START FOODS FAST — DO NOT OVERCOOK
AVOID VIOLENT BOILING
COOK IN COVERED UTENSILS WITHOUT STIRRING

It's easy to follow these rules and serve more healthful foods with electric cooking. Electric heat is applied only to bottom of utensils, none laps up sides, so only enough water to cover bottom of pans is needed. Foods are brought to a steam quickly in covered utensils, cook on gentle simmer heat until done and need no stirring. There is no excess cooking water, laden with vitamins, to be thrown away after cooking.

You owe it to yourself and family to investigate this clean, cool way to cook more healthful meals. It costs much less than you think!

BIG VALUE! This beautiful, built-to-floor Hotpoint Century model, with new speed and new efficiency, only $117.95* installed. Liberal allowance for your old stove. Thirty equal monthly payments.

TO MY FRIENDS---THE VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY

THANKS

As this current primary campaign draws to a close, it has became evident that I am to be your County Surveyor for another four years. Since you have not offered an opponent for me, and since I have filed by affidavit of declaration for office and allegiance to the principles of the Democratic Party, under the law I am the Democratic nominee for County Surveyor, which in Boone County is equivalent to election.

Four years of experience and a wide association in the engineering profession in Northern Kentucky have better fitted me to serve you another term. I shall do my very best to justify your confidence, and shall try to improve my knowledge of Engineering that I may be able to give you the very best of service.

I have qualified myself before the Kentucky State Board of Registration for professional engineers and in addition to serving you as County Surveyor will be prepared to assist your towns and their governing agencies in any problem they may have.

Again I thank you, and in the coming primary, may the best qualified, whoever they may be, be the winners.

TO THE VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY

The primary election is drawing to a close, "As in previous election" the night before, plenty of propaganda will be distributed as a last resort to change your vote. Don't let it effect you. I have made no promises and am under no obligations to anyone. But I will say, if elected I will free that laboring man (who works for the county) so he can cast his vote for whom he wishes without losing his job.

I will leave my 35 years' record as a teacher in the Boone county schools for you the voter and not my opposition to judge. In my campaign I have refrained from indulgence in personalities. In this race for Judge the voters reserve the right to pass upon the qualifications of the various candidates. I am willing to meet the issue and submit myself to your consideration from the standpoint of qualification.

This is my last message and I hereby thank all my friends and co-workers who have so willingly assisted me and sincerely hope we will have a nice clean-cut primary election.

Signed,

A. M. YEALEY

If elected to the office of Jailer, I will serve to the best of my ability as I have always done in past positions.

Correspondent Writes Of Visit In El Dorado, Kans.

Mrs. J. S. Eggleston is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Allen and other relatives in El Dorado, Kans. She has been visiting the waterworks, lakes, oil fields, and on Sunday July 20 visited Ft. Riley, Kans., where her nephew Priv. J. B. Ellis is stationed.

While at Ft. Riley Priv. Ellis guided them about the fort, showing them 9000 horses, graves of unknown soldiers, the large guns and the old government building which was built of huge logs. One hundred or more horse stables were constructed inside the fort.

Mrs. Eggleston stated that she visited the laundry, church and Sunday School rooms used by the soldiers. She viewed the grounds where the soldiers practice riding and the entire trip was very interesting.

Mrs. Eggleston states that the Waterworks at El Dorado, is one of the finest in that section, and proved to be very interesting. El Dorado is noted for its fine water, she states.

The Skelly oil plant burned on Thursday morning, Mrs. Eggleston states, and everyone in Kansas and surrounding territory turned out to help control the blaze. She states that it was the largest fire she had ever seen.

Senator Paul L. Sidebottom,
Williamstown, Kentucky.
Dear Mr. Sidebottom:

As Chairman of the Legislative Committee for the Kentucky Mutual and Co-Operative Fire Insurance Association, I wish to express to you our appreciation for your valuable aid in defeating Senate Bill numbered 181. It is my opinion that this was one of the most dangerous bills introduced in many years, and if it had passed the future of every co-operative and mutual insurance company in this State would have been endangered. We thank you for your fearless exposure of this measure, and we know every buyer of insurance in the State of Kentucky owes you a debt of gratitude, for your help in defeating this measure.

Yours very truly,
O. E. HURST, Chairman Legislative Committee for Kentucky Mutual and Co-Operative Fire Insurance Association.

As Officers of the Grant County Assessment Fire Insurance Company, who were present, saw and heard your efforts in defeating such vicious legislation, we heartily approve of the foregoing expression of appreciation of your loyal services.

THANKS

I desire to thank the fine people of Boone County for their courtesy and kindness shown me during my campaign for Sheriff of Boone County.

I have endeavored to see all of the people in the county, but realizing that this is impossible, I wish to offer my apology to those that I have failed to see personally, and ask your support at the polls on Saturday, August 2nd.

J. T. "JAKE" WILLIAMS

DEPUTY SHERIFF OF BOONE COUNTY

To The Citizens Of Boone County

As my campaign draws to a close, I desire to thank all the people who have assisted me in any way, and to every person with whom I have come in contact, for your kindness and courtesy shown me during my canvass of the county.

Especially do I wish to express my appreciation to my opponents for the clean way they have conducted their campaigns.

It has been impossible for me to see everyone in the county, and so I will take this opportunity to ask your support at the polls on Saturday, and if I am chosen for the office of County Court Clerk, I will strive to serve you in an honest and efficient manner.

HOWARD HUEY

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK

TO THE VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY

I regret that the duties of the office of Jailer have prevented me from seeing many of the voters of the County in person regarding my campaign for the office of Jailer.

The campaign is drawing to a close. If on August 2nd you honor me by re-electing me to this office, I assure you that no act of mine will ever cause you to regret the vote you cast for me.

For the honor you have conferred upon me in the past I am profoundly grateful and with confidence I await your verdict on August 2nd.

ELMER KIRKPATRICK

TO THE VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY

As the campaign draws to a close, I wish to express my sincere thanks to citizens of Boone County for the courtesy shown me in my race for Sheriff. Their kindness will always be remembered, win or lose.

Due to my entering the race at a late date, I have been unable to contact all the voters of the county personally. To those I have been unable to see, I ask their consideration, and solicit their support. It has been no choice of mine if I have been unable to see you as my time has been limited, which has forced to miss many sections of the county and many of the voters.

Again, I wish to thank you for future and past favors, and if I am elected Sheriff of this county, promise to fill the office to the best of my ability.

RIDDELL ELECTED COUNTY JUDGE

ALUMINUM DRIVE GOES OVER TOP

COUNTY'S PART IN PROGRAM MORE THAN DOUBLE EXPECTATIONS, ACCORDING TO AL DARBY, COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

Boone County's part in the National Defense Aluminum Program has gone over the top more than double, according to Allen Darby, who is chairman of the county committee and Commander of the Boone County American Legion, Post No. 4.

Chief Al Hue, of Florence Fire Department reports that Florence Boy Scouts have collected over 600 pieces. Chief Hue reports that the local scouts will be honored for their patriotic duty at a special ceremony in the near future. Members of the troup will be made Junior Firemen in the Florence Volunteer Fire Department.

Bob Brugh, member of the Walton Committee, reports that the town of Walton and adjoining communities have contributed more than 1500 pieces.

All aluminum will be collected this week, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The State Highway Department and the County Highway Department are cooperating in the collection work. The county's contribution in this National Defense program will be collected the last of the week and delivered to the U. S. Concentration point in Lexington.

The completed results in the aluminum drive will be announced next week.

Dean-Arnett

Miss Martha Lillian Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Dean, of Winchester, Ky., and Mr. Edgar Arnett, of Erlanger were married Saturday at the First Baptist Church, Winchester, with Rev. R. D. Martin, pastor of Erlanger Baptist Church, officiating.

The bride was attired in a light-weight suit of pale blue wool with contrasting accessories of brown. She wore a shoulder corsage of yellow and brown orchids.

Mrs. Willard Martin of Winchester entertained the wedding party with a rehearsal luncheon at her home at 2 in the afternoon.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony, the young couple left for a bridal tour of unknown destination, to return about August 20th, when they will be established at their apartment on Erlanger Road, Erlanger.

Miss Dean and Mr. Arnett are well known in school circles in Northern Kentucky as she has been a teacher in the public schools of Erlanger for the past five years, and he has been superintendent of the Erlanger school system.

FARMERS ARE INTERESTED

IN POND BUILDING PROGRAM—100 FARMERS HAVE REQUESTED SERVICE—CONTRACTS FOR 25 PONDS MADE.

Boone County farmers are interested in the pond building and farm water supply program, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Approximately 100 farmers have requested pond building service and contracts for approximately 25 ponds have been made.

Grover Robertson, pond building specialist, who has contracted with a large number of farmers is apparently doing a good job of work.

Where farm reservoirs are to be built with tractor power by custom operators for an hourly charge there are several things which may be done to decrease the cost of the work and assure a supply of water during the entire year. Some of these things are as follows:

1. Study Kentucky Extension Circular No. 317, "Earth Dams for Farm Reservoirs."

2. Locate your dam, if possible, where a large area will supply water to the reservoir.

3. Examine the area to be covered with water, carefully for sink holes or gravel beds which may drain your reservoir.

4. Be sure a core trench is dug to impervious soil and refilled with tight soil to cut off seepage under the earth fill.

4. See that allowance is made for settling of earth in the dam and that there are no low places in the top line of the dam.

6. Minimum slopes of 2 feet horizontal to 1 foot vertical are essential on the dry slope of a dam and 3 to 1 on the water. This is very important.

7. Do not guess at the size of a spillway required. Determine the size of the spillway by measuring the size of the drainage area above the dam and consulting tables in Circular No. 317.

8. Protect the spillway from erosion by means of sod, concrete or rock immediately after the dam is built.

9. You may save the cost of several hours of tractor time by using your own teams and equipment to smooth up the job after the heavy work has been completed with power machinery.

10. Some kind of dense-rooted vegetation should be sown on the top and lower slope to control erosion. Use lime and fertilizer if necessary.

11. Protect the water side of the dam from the action of waves with rock rip-rap.

12. Remember you are going to pay out your money for a permanent supply of water and it will pay you well to do the job right.

BEWARE OF THE "BLACK WIDOW"

IS WARNING AS BIG BONE MAN SLOWLY RECOVERS FROM TWO WEEKS' ILLNESS FROM SPIDER BITE.

"Beware of the Black Widow" is a warning being passed from person to person in the Big Bone neighborhood, as Clifford Readnour, 30-year-old farmer of that community slowly recovers from a Black widow spider bite received about two weeks ago.

Readnour was bitten by a small black spider on July 22nd, and becoming ill from the bite summoned Dr. Coe, local physician for treatment. He was returned to his home Tuesday night, but on Wednesday his condition was so bad that he was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he remained seriously ill for several days.

His condition at this time is much improved. However, he was informed by hospital attendants, that had he not been in extra good physical condition at the time he received the bite, it would have proven fatal.

Spiders of all kinds are very dangerous and when bitten, a person suffers much pain. The "Black Widow" however, is said to be even more poisonous than the rattlesnake and should be handled in the same manner. They can always be identified by a solid black body, with a distinctive red spot on the under part of their body immediately behind the rear legs. If a spider should bite you, it is best to kill it and see if it has the above marking, so your doctor can work accordingly.

One Hundred Fifty Attend Silver Tea

Both the church and Lloyd Home were decorated with beautiful bouquets and baskets of flowers which were donated and arranged by the Florence Homemakers.

In the receiving line at the Lloyd Home were Mrs. Mable Sayre, president of the Lloyd Society, Mrs. James Layne and Mrs. Ann Stewart the guest speakers.

Mrs. John Vest and Mrs. Garnett Tolin presided at tea table which was covered with a lovely lace and linen cloth and a very handsome silver tea service.

SEMIPRO TEAM WINS ANOTHER

TO SCORE SECOND VICTORY IN SERIES SUNDAY—BIG BONE—LOSES—PETERSBURG WINS OVER HEBRON SATURDAY.

Cracking their opponent's defense with a barrage of extra-base blasts, the Boone County All-Stars downed their rival, the Widemann nine, 8-5 at the local park Sunday to go undefeated in the elimination play in the Campbell County Semipro baseball league. Six of the local's ten base hits were good for extra bases—three doubles a triple, and two home runs.

Shinkle, the first All-Star player at bat, opened the first frame with a home run, knocking the ball out of the park. Another base knock by Mahan, a two-bagger by Sebree and a miscue, gave the home boys a three-run margin in their first time at bat. A triple and a two-bagger by Ryle, a circuit blow by Sebree, and a double by Steffen, further staggered Arnzen, pitcher for the Widemanns, and his teammates. Steffin chalking up his second win with the local nine, struck out nine while giving up two walks and ten hits and held his opponents scoreless after the fifth inning for the second time in as many games.

The All-Stars tangle with the Pleezing Foods team at the local park in the next round of elimination games. With a strengthened line-up, the All-Stars plan to avenge the two setbacks given them by the Pleezing nine earlier in the season.

Big Bone suffered defeat in its game in the elimination play at the hands of Pleezing Foods at Big Bone Sunday, as Ryle, Afterkirk, and Carroll were unsuccessful as hurlers against the hard-hitting Newport lads. Big Bone meets the Fort Thomas Florists at Big Bone in the third round of series game Sunday.

Scoring seven runs in the first inning, Petersburg turned back Hebron 13-9 Saturday at Petersburg, behind the pitching of D. Deck, in the only contest in the county league. A home run by H. Deck and three-baggers by Edwards and McWethy gave the winners their winning tallies. Walton, Goodridge, and Hodges were on the hill for Hebron.

Petersburg travels to Big Bone and Burlington to Hebron for games Saturday.

Biggest Event Of Week Overlooked In Political Rush

The biggest event of last week, especially to The Recorder office employees, was completely omitted from last week's issue, due to a last minute political rush, which swamped this office Wednesday morning.

Little Miss Olive Lynnette Jarrell 7¼ pound girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jarrell on Saturday morning, July 26th. Both mother and daughter are doing nicely.

"Bill" is employed at this office as printer and we exceedingly regret this oversight and offer our apology for this and all other items of importance, which were omitted in last week's issue, which was unavoidable on our part.

A crowd estimated at two thousand thronged the streets of Burlington Saturday night, to hear election returns, which were broadcast after each precinct had been counted. This courtesy was made possible by the merchants and business men of Burlington, who contributed toward the renting of an amplifying system.

Counting of ballots was handled very efficiently, with all precincts being completed by 12 o'clock midnight. This county was the first in Northern Kentucky to complete tabluation.

Four hundred and seventeen 4-H club boys and girls are being visited in a series of ten community 4-H club project tours and picnics, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Project work has been found in good shape and a good display of work is planned for the County Fair on August 23rd.

Four-H members in Hamilton, Hebron, Grant, Petersburg, Verona, Burlington and Constance clubs have already been visited. Walton, Florence and New Haven clubs will meet on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week respectively. Mr. Franklin Frazier, new assistant county agent, and Mary Scott Moore, assistant home demonstration agent, are assisting in the project tours.

Four-H Camp Is Postponed Until 1942

This year's 4-H Club Camp scheduled for Camp Bingham, Washington County, August 11-15 has been postponed until next year, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The postponement comes as a disappointment to many Boone County 4-H Club members, but plans are for a bigger and better camp program next year.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED ON TOUR

OF GARDENS HELD LAST WEEK—DROUTH TAKING HEAVY TOLL OF LATE PLANTINGS IN COUNTY.

Marked improvement in home production of food was seen on the county garden tour held on Tuesday of last week, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Demonstration garden meetings in Petersburg, Burlington, Florence and Verona communities were held.

The present severe drouth was found taking a heavy toll of late plantings. Early plantings as a whole turned out good. Larger varieties of different vegetables and four to five or more different plantings of main crop vegetables were seen at each meeting stop. Now is an ideal time for seeding the winter green crops including kale, mustard greens, spinach, turnips and Chinese cabbage. Many growers are still planting late beans.

Homemakers' Clubs in connection with the Live at Home program are stressing not only greater supply of vegetables over a longer period, but the production of those vegetables and foods that supply large amounts of the vitamins most needed for better feeding the family.

LET LABOR EMULATE INDUSTRY

Testifying before a Senate committee, Leon Henderson, the Federal price administrator, said that he will oppose further wage increases if they force unjustified increases in commodity costs. He then praised American industry for cooperating with his department in the vital work of preventing inflation and holding down prices.

Labor is taking a mighty short-sighted point of view if it believes it can keep on getting higher and higher wages without, in the long run, producing price increases which will have a ruinous effect on the standard of living of the great masses of the American people. What really counts is a family's "real wages"—that is, its income judged by the light of what it will buy. Today labor's "real wages" are the highest in its history. Strikes and lockouts which result from unjustified and unfair demands on the part of labor must eventually force "real wages" down by inflating prices.

American industry, as Mr. Henderson said, is doing a fine job on behalf of the public. Retail industry, led by the chain stores and by the organized independents, is providing an especially noteworthy example of this. These stores have publicly pledged themselves to fight profiteering, to discourage speculation, to keep the public informed as to true conditions, to oppose "hysterical" buying, and to do everything else in their power to prevent price rises. Retail industry, in other words, is not trying to cash in on the emergency. And that is one of the main reasons why price increases have so far been moderate, despite the inflationary tendencies that any such extraordinary efforts as the arms drive produce.

Labor, if it is interested in its own welfare, to say nothing of the nation's welfare and security, would do well to take a page from industry's book. Some of labor's best friends have said time and again that there is no legitimate excuse for most of the recent strikes which have delayed production of essential supplies. It is hoped that Mr. Henderson's far-sighted point of view finds its reflection in other high governmental circles.

TWO WORLD'S

There are two worlds to conquer and two worlds to consider. Man's world is at odds with itself, its hands are full in its usual struggle for maintenance. There is another world about us which proceeds in its quiet way to grow and offer sustainence, softly bringing about its changes and its manifestations of beauty of our doors without headlines and by-lines to herald its strength and power. This is the world of nature so busy about us, day and night weaving its miracles of bloom and berry, of song of bird and rustle of leaf, of barking dog and laughing child. This is life and love and happiness. There is summing on the streets. Nature's world brings hot sun for fields growth and cooling rains for relief. Comes the breeze of nightfall and the sound of neighbor's voices from nearby porches. About us are kindly, wholesome folks mowing the grass, springling the lawn, weeding the garden as the insects buzz overhead and the birds twitter to their young ones. This is a permanent world that survives. It is the world of our grandmother who loved it and of our grandfather who appreciated it. Those blooms are old settlers, those birds from generations back. All will live on to make for good and for happiness when man's world is in chaos. Let us live in the world of nature then, taking an interest in the life and energy around us and perhaps through this understanding of nature's glory we may spread some of it's good into man's world.

SAFEGUARD EYES

A very good policy is to have your eyes examined once a year by competent optometrist. If a condition exists that may cause future trouble, it can probably be taken care of in time.

We have had the many years' experience in examining eyes and fitting glasses that assures you satisfactory optical service. Come in soon for an examination.

SAVE ALUMINUM

A recent ad in an exchange newspaper, showing a line-up of aluminum pots, pans, skillets and kettles, brought up a picture of this metal in terms of airplanes. Our housewives are putting off buying aluminum articles for they understand their government needs the product. Many of us are trying, as consumers, to get ourselves in a mental frame of mind to face a bit of doing without if the need should arise, so that the shoe might pinch. As Americans we are reputed to eat, dress and live better than any other nation of people. So you may figure that it would be harder for us to have to face rationing. If electric power was shut off could we take to oil lamps and wood burning stoves, gracefully? How about going without electric shavers and no street lights? English people did it and with a cheerio and stout fellow! So if we have to go without a new aluminum kettle for awhile we will grin and be mighty glad we have something to put in the pot whatever its composition!

SOY BEANS

We thank China for contributing to our life the soy bean crop. Little did the grower who, a few years back, became convinced that soybeans improved the land, ever except to obtain $1.40 a bushel in June, 1941. This crop has almost doubled its value in a year and has reached a high for a four-year period. Soy beans are becoming big business with their oil being used in soaps, sauces, paints, ice cream, plastics, infant food, flour, linoleum, glue, automobile parts and on and on. The surface of soy bean culture has only been scratched according to our chemists and engineers. The world is needing oil right now so our men of grain are increasing production of the soy bean. The June market quotation from Chicago shows that this bean crop was 40 cents higher than wheat, 65 cents higher than corn and more than a dollar above oats. So our farmers increase their acreage and their bank accounts.

SAFETY

There has been some speculation as to just how safe life insurance is in such disordered, unpredictable times as the present.

That question can't be answered precisely. But this much seems sure: Life insurance is as safe as any other form of investment.

The reason for that is that back of all life insurance policies are the productive resources of this country. Life insurance assets are invested in our greatest and most vital industries, in real estate, in farms, in the obligations of government.

Those assets, in short, are backed up by the principal economic assets of the nation. There is no greater attainable degree of safety.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JAMES TEACHES CONSISTENT CHRISTIAN LIVING

LESSON TEXT—James 1:17-22; 2:14-17; 4:13-17; 5:12.

GOLDEN TEXT—Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.—James 1:27.

Spiritually minded but very practical was James, an outstanding leader in the Church (Gal. 2:9; Acts 15) and the brother of our Lord. His epistle speaks little about Christ, but it reflects more of His teachings than any of the other epistles. It parallels the sermon on the mount and in that way, as well as other ways, greatly resembles the teachings of Jesus. It is a straightforward discussion of practical Christian living.

There is so much inconsistency among Christians in their daily walk that nothing could be more needed than a careful study of the exhortations of James.

I. Be Doers of the Word—Not Hearers Only (1:17-22).

Knowing God's will is important, but it amounts to little except to bring condemnation upon us, unless we do it. It is good to hear with swift apprehension, but there is no point in talking about what we have heard unless we practice it.

God is the "giver of every good and perfect gift" (that's literally and wonderfully true). He has not withheld one blessing, even to the giving of His Son, who was sent down from heaven to redeem us.

His very goodness should prompt us to lay aside everything which dishonors His name. Wrath (v. 20), all uncleanness of speech or thought, pride (v. 21)—all these must go, and will go, as we permit the Word to take root (be "engrafted") in our hearts and lives. Note that it is not enough to read the Word, or even to memorize it. It must take root and grow in our life.

II. Believe—But Do Not Forget to Work (2:14-17).

Saved by faith? Yes, we are, and in no other way; but the man who says he has faith in Christ will inevitably show the results of that faith in his life.

James is not in any way contradicting the teaching of Paul's epistles regarding justification by faith, but is clearly stating what must be true, "that a faith which does not result in works, i. e., in a manifestation of a true Christian life, externally and visibly, is not the kind of faith commanded by God, and constantly revealed in the New Testament as the only instrument for the appropriation of the redemption that is in Jesus Christ our Lord. There is no such thing as real, genuine, vital, living, Christian faith, except it has its fruits in the works of faith" (Wilbur M. Smith).

How that faith will show itself in the practical dealings of daily life is graphically presented in verses 15 and 16. Pious talk has always been very cheap, and it certainly accomplishes nothing. Real Christianity works.

III. Trust—But Do Not Boast of Tomorrow (4:13-17).

There is a strange religious attitude which talks about faith as though it were something of which to boast, which encourages people not only to believe, but actually to presume. There is a radical difference between faith and presumption.

All Christians are subject to the temptation of talking about being "strangers and pilgrims" (Heb. 11: 13) in this earth, and then planning their lives and their business as though everything will continue as it is through all eternity. It is right to plan, but every day we should plan subject to God's will, always realizing that this may be the day when we shall be called into His presence to give an account of the deeds done in the flesh.

Every hour of life should find us ready to meet the Lord, and with all in readiness, so that our going may leave behind a clear testimony of faith in God, and of consistent Christian living.

IV. Be Honest—Without the Need of an Oath (5:12).

A Christian should never need to give an oath in the ordinary affairs of daily life. His life should be so transparently honest and consistently aboveboard that his word ("yea, yea, or nay, nay") will be "as good as his bond."

The Jews were accustomed to use formulas for oaths such as those mentioned in Matthew 5:33-37. They would have felt much at home in our day when there is so much dishonesty that people are constantly calling on God to witness to their truthfulness. Those who have least to do with Him and the worst records for dishonesty are most prone to thus seek to bolster their word.

What a striking contrast is the simple "yes" or "no" of the true Christian. Let us make our word always good, because it is the expression of the integrity of our lives.

WITH THE

Cincinnati Reds

Cincinnati—Don't count the Reds out of the 1941 National League pennant race. They're still in it, for the records show that several teams in National League history have turned the trick after being as far, or farther, off the pace than the Reds are today.

The records also show that the Reds played better ball than any other club over a combined two-month period, June and July. They were tops in June and second only to Pittsburgh, which had a phenomenal streak, in July. This is mighty encouraging, for it proves that in each of the past two months the club has played a better brand of ball than St. Louis and Brooklyn, the pace-setting teams.

While claims are flying about in respect to advantages of the schedule, etc., the Reds can make their own claim, for they have very much the right kind of a schedule setup. They are at home during the greater part of September, which is the stretch month.

There is plenty of immediate action ahead for the Reds, however, and they don't have to wait for September to get it.

Friday, the Rds will play an exhibition game in Indianapolis. Saturday and Sunday, they'll be in Chicago, then they'll rest Monday and Tuesday, prior to taking on the St. Louis Cardinals in the last night game of the season, Wednesday, August 13. August 14 will be another off day, where-upon the Reds will close their home stand with a four-game series against the Chicago Cubs Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 15, 16, and 17. The doubleheader will be played Sunday, August 17.

That twin bill will be the first of four successive doubleheaders for the Reds, as they are scheduled for three straight in Philadelphia Aug. 18, 19, and 20, as they start their last eastern trip. Return to Cincinnati from that trip is scheduled for Saturday, August 30, when the Cardinals come here to open a two-game series against the Reds.

Deferred Registrants Urged To Offer Aid To Civilian Agencies

All Selective Service registrants who have been deferred from military service today were urged by Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Deputy Director of Selective Service, to offer their full assistance to State and local civilian defense agencies.

Many young men have been granted deferment because of their occupations, because they have dependents or because they are not physically capable of undergoing service in the armed forces, the General said. Nevertheless, he added, they are qualified to perform some work in connection with civilian defense activities and should offer their services to existing agencies or those which are being organized.

By granting certain men deferment, Congress, when it adopted the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, gave no indication that it intended to excuse these men from the obligation which rests upon every young man—that of helping his country in time of emergency, General Hershey declared. Each man is expected to do his share, in one way or another, when a crisis threatens the national security, he said.

The Deputy Director asserted:

"Many of our young men have entered the armed forces, leaving at home others who for one reason or another have had their military training deferred. Those who remain owe it to those who have been called and owe it to their country to help in its defense when they are needed.

"They can do their part by offering their services in the interests of civilian defense."

Pointing out that the Office of Civilian Defense is coordinating the civilian defense activities of the States and expanding them to communities where they are not organized as yet, the Deputy Director said that in the very near future the vast majority of deferred registrants should be able to find a civilian defense activity where their services can be used.

He declared: "In the very near future each community will be engaged in civilian defense activities. Such activities, of course, cover a wide range and should include a task for almost every young man who is deferred from military training for one reason or another."

No young man should shirk his responsibility if it is humanly possible for him to take part in the increasing civilian defense activities, General Hershey said.

DARING DEATH

Is What You Do If You Take Chances by Not Having Your Wheels Balanced.

Hundreds of cases are reported every year of accidents resulting from unbalanced wheels, which set up such a violent shimmy or shake that the car gets out of control.

Unbalanced wheels cause tiresome driving, wear out the front end bearings prematurely and they are dangerous.

Unbalanced wheels are caused by changing tires—uneven wear of tread—addition of patches—improper mounting of tires—loss of balance weights. YOUR WHEELS SHOULD BE CHECKED REGULARLY.

Prepare your car for safer and more pleasant driving by coming into our Wheel Balancing Department and having your wheels checked and balanced. It can be done in a short time and the cost is small.

Friends and Voters,

To the many citizens of Boone County who extended to me their sincere kindness and staunch support in the recent primary election, I desire to express publicly my heartfelt appreciation and thanks.

Although I was unsuccessful in my endeavors to be elected to the office of jailer, I feel that I was amply repaid for any effort that I may have expended, in that so many friends, both old and new, expressed their confidence in me by casting their respective votes in my behalf. To those who did not support me, I hold no ill will, and hope to be their friend in the future, as in the past.

I sought to conduct a clean campaign, as did both my opponents, to whom I wish to express my thanks and to offer my congratulations to the successful candidate.

Respectfully,

Feet And The Law Of Tissue

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at— PEOPLE'S
Where Foot Comfort Begins
SHOE STORE
9th and Madison Covington

There is a natural law constantly at work in the tissues of the human body. We must understand that bone, muscles and nerve consist of millions of ever changing tiny bodies called cells. These cells are held together with the tissue fluid and substances of the body.

Therefore bone, muscle and ligament respectively share the influence of this law, that constant tension causes wasting especially in the feet when the body weight which they carry about and support is not evenly distributed and balanced throughout the twelve major bones of the foot framework.

If ligaments are stretched, due to long and careless standing especially — those which bind the weight-supporting and key bones together, these ligaments finally yield in about the fifth or sixth year to strain and abuse and pull away from the bone attachments.

The rest which the night affords is not enough to counteract continuous strain during the day.

This same law holds true of the muscles and tendon attachments of the feet which lift the body weight on the metatarsal heads or pivots. On the other hand, constant pressure causes wasting of tissue.

If the muscles do not hold the weight-bearing joints of feet in proper dovetailing and interlocking action, these points become deranged, misshaped and deformed because of the pressure of the body weight upon their point surface.

When we consider that we drive hundreds of tons of aggregate weight upon bones of each foot every day that we live it is easily understood why feet degenerate.

Can you be well with unhealthy feet. Those headaches, those backaches, those leg pains, may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

Let me tell you of our experience

"We used the Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, and it was wonderful how they looked after our welfare.

"They cared for all flowers; notified relatives; received visitors; answered 'phone calls; directed pallbearers; and attended to every detail to our complete satisfaction."

Feet And The Law Of Tissue

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S
Where Foot Comfort Begins
SHOE STORE
9th and Madison Covington

There is a natural law constantly at work in the tissues of the human body. We must understand that bone, muscles and nerve consist of millions of ever changing tiny bodies called cells. These cells are held together with the tissue fluid and substances of the body.

Therefore bone, muscle and ligament respectively share the influence of this law, that constant tension causes wasting especially in the feet when the body weight which they carry about and support is not evenly distributed and balanced throughout the twelve major bones of the foot framework.

If ligaments are stretched, due to long and careless standing especially — those which bind the weight-supporting and key bones together, these ligaments finally yield in about the fifth or sixth year to strain and abuse and pull away from the bone attachments.

The rest which the night affords is not enough to counteract continuous strain during the day.

This same law holds true of the muscles and tendon attachments of the feet which lift the body weight on the metatarsal heads or pivots. On the other hand, constant pressure causes wasting of tissue.

If the muscles do not hold the weight-bearing joints of feet in proper dovetailing and interlocking action, these points become deranged, misshaped and deformed because of the pressure of the body weight upon their point surface.

When we consider that we drive hundreds of tons of aggregate weight upon bones of each foot every day that we live it is easily understood why feet degenerate.

Can you be well with unhealthy feet. Those headaches, those backaches, those leg pains, may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

Let me tell you of our experience

"We used the Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, and it was wonderful how they looked after our welfare.

"They cared for all flowers; notified relatives; received visitors; answered 'phone calls; directed pallbearers; and attended to every detail to our complete satisfaction."

Gayety Theater News

TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

In "Love Crazy" coming to the Gayety, Myrna Loy goes "slinky" for the first time since she left off playing exotic siren roles. Though she is cast once again with William Powell as the feminine half of America's favorite "Mr. and Mrs." team in the new comedy, thirteen wardrobe changes were designed for the actress reminiscent of those she wore when appearing in vampire roles.

SATURDAY

George Montgomery tried to buy the white stallion he rides in "The Cowboy and the Blonde," the new 20th Century-Fox film. But "Gold Dollar," the famed four-footed star of many films is not for sale —in fact, his owner, Charles Flores won't let him out of his sight.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

To the great annoyance of Paramount Director William A. Wellman, the birds in a park refused to sing while he was making a scene for "Reaching for the Sun," the new romantic comedy at the Gayety Theatre.

Joel McCrea, who stars in the film with Ellen Drew, was called upon later to "dub in" imitations of the bird calls required. McCrea is an expert on birds and their calls.

TUESDAY

On the heels of their success in "Curtain Call," Alan Mowbray and Donald MacBride, are teamed in the top roles of the hilarious new farce, "Footlight Fever," with Elisabeth Risdon as their foil. Cast as two Broadway producers who resort to fantastic methods to obtain financing for their latest play, the funsters are said to keep the suspense high, the action fast and the laughs crowding. The three are said to surpass their recent triumph in "Curtain Call."

A 60-year-old ranch house, built in the same era in which the picture is laid, was used as a location site for many of the scenes in RKO Radio's "Robbers of the Range," in which Tim Holt is starred.

The house stands on the Morrison ranch near Agoura, California, twenty-eight miles from Hollywood and is occupied by one of the descendants of the original builders. In addition, the corrals, the original well and a barn still are standing as they were built in 1880.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS MON.

AFTER ONE-DAY SESSION—ONE INDICTMENT RETURNED—SHORT SESSION IS EXPECTED.

The August term of Boone Circuit Court is expected to be a brief session, as all cases on docket are of minor importance and can be handled swiftly.

The grand jury was selected Monday morning and went into session at about 10:00 a. m. At 3:00 p. m. they had completed all their work and were dismissed for the term. Only one indictment was returned by the grand jury, that being against Phillip Edward Smith for attempted robbery. Smith has been in jail here for sometime following his arrest at Florence, for the attempted robbery of Joe Berkshire, insurance collector, on April 21st.

Smith's trial was set for Thursday, August 14th, and attorneys Ed Walton and Harold Kelly Clore were appointed by the court to represent Smith.

The listing of the various jurymen follows:

Grand Jury—Leonard Cook, foreman, R. B. Gordon, Jas. A. Huey, Ed Easton, Orville Rice, Harry Jarboe, O. K. Powers, Reaney Simpson, Ellison Rector, Thomas Kenyon, Albert Sebree and Harry Chapman.

Petit Jury No. 1—W. Keene Souther, H. L. Vest, Lillard Scott, Ralph Feldhaus, Orville Hensley, Kenneth W. Aylor, Marvin Kendall, Ira Aylor, Fritz Shinkle, John L. Jones, Jr., Dolpha Sebree, L. E. Moore.

Petit Jury 2—Cecil Martin, Levi Pennington, J. S. Head, Robt. Graves, W. E. Florence, Ross Shinkle, Raymond Goodridge, Clarence Struve, R. L. Brown, T. L. Brooks, Allen Darby, C. A. Fowler.

Fish And Game Club To Meet Thursday

The regular meeting of the Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association will be held at the club house on Burlington-Idlewild road, tonight (Thursday) at 8:00 p. m., according to Justin Dolph, president.

A committee has been appointed for refreshments, and all members are urged to be present.

SQUIRREL SEASON OPENS AUGUST 15

SQUIRRELS ARE PLENTIFUL THROUGOUT STATE, ACCORDING TO REPORTS FROM LANDOWNERS AND OFFICERS.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 11—Nimrods are making last-minute checkups on guns, ammunition and wearing apparel in anticipation of the opening of the squirrel hunting season which begins August 15.

According to the most recent information received by officials of the Division of Game and Fish from Conservation Officers, hunters and farmers, squirrels are plentiful generally over the state and this should mean that Kentucky nimrods will enjoy one of the best hunting seasons for the little bushy-tailed animals in years.

Hunters are required to purchase a $1 county hunting license if they do their hunting in one particular county, but if they hunt in two or more counties they must then purchase and have in possession a $3 state-wide license.

Every person, buying his or her hunting license, should investigate fully the difference between the $1 county license and the $3 statewide license and consider their hunting territory before purchasing the license because it is impossible for a person to bring back a $1 county license to the county court clerk and ask for an exchange to the $3 state-wide license S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, stated today. By obtaining the $3 statewide license the purchaser knows definitely that there will be no worry of crossing county boundaries and running afoul of the law. This could, and probably will happen with holders of the $1 county license.

Mrs. Minnie Carpenter returned home Monday of this week after spending the past week with her sister, Mrs. Cecil Gaines, of Walton.

Utopians Hold Planning Meeting

Utopia Club members will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vice on Woolper, Thursday evening, August 14th to plan for the 1941 4-H and Utopia Club Free Fair, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The club again this year is sponsoring all work in connection with the fair concessions. This group of older boys and girls have done a splendid job of work in making this fair more enjoyable and interesting. We all appreciate their splendid cooperation in this project and wish them all success this year.

SEMIPROS ADD ANOTHER GAME

IN SERIES CONTESTS TO GO UNDEFEATED IN SERIES CONTESTS — PETERSBURG WIN OVER BIG BONE SATURDAY.

Timely extra-base blasts, behind three-hit, strike-out pitching, gave the Boone County All-Stars their third consecutive elimination series victory in the Campbell County Semipro Baseball League, as they turned back the confident-of-victory Pleezing Foods team 7-1 at the local park Sunday. While blasting an opponent's hurler from the mound, the locals held their rival to not an earned run.

After a wild throw gave the Pleezing nine their lone tally, in the second frame, the All-Stars trailed until the sixth, when a triple by Henry Deck and a base knock by Mahan knotted the score. Another base knock by Hitzfield and a three-bagger by Steffen put the home boys out in front, and hits by Shinkle and Deck and a double by Kirkpatrick, added to a couple of walks, ended the Newport lads' hope of defeating the strong local team. Steffen, strike-out artist for the locals, fanned 13 while holding his opponents to three hits, as his teammates hammered the opposing hurlers for ten base blows.

Dan Cohen Shoes journey to the local park to meet the All-Stars in the next round of series games.

Petersburg journed to Big Bone Saturday to hand Big Bone a 16-11 setback in the county league. After scoring seven runs in the opening frame, Petersburg led all the way, collecting 31 hits, including three doubles by H. Deck and a home run by E. Deck. Williamson also hit one good for the circuit for Big Bone, as his team collected 20 base hits. Carver and H. Deck were on the mound for the winners, Williamson and Black for the losers.

A two-and-out elimination series begins Saturday, as Big Bone journeys to Petersburg for the first game, with Hebron being idle due to Burlington having withdrawn. After one team is eliminated the other two will play a three-game series to determine the county championship.

Poultry Judging Will Begin Training Work This Week

Four-H boys who plan to become members of the poultry judging team to represent Boone County at the State Fair in September will begin training this week, it was announced by Franklin Frazier, Assistant County Agent.

The four boys that have proven themselves to be the most capable judges of poultry production will be selected for the three-day trip to the State Fair.

This training in poultry culling will be valuable to these 4-H boys, since the Government is appealing to farmers for increased egg production. Therefore, the elimination of unprofitable birds from the flock will make more room in poultry houses for profitable birds and consequently the annual egg production will be increased.

ALL-TIME RECORD SET IN PRIMARY

ON AUGUST 2, 1941 — FIRST CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF TO CARRY EVERY PRECINCT IN COUNTY.

J. T. "Jake" Williams, chosen by the voters of Boone County as Democratic nominee by an overwhelming majority at the polls last Saturday, not only has the honor of being elected sheriff, but also set a record that will be something for all future candidates to match.

Mr. Williams received 2352 votes, and carried all seventeen precincts in the county by a nice margin. His lowest margin in any precinct was 32 votes and his highest margin was 218.

Since the election we have checked the records very carefully and to the best of our knowledge "Jake" is the first and only candidate for sheriff ever to attain this record. This is surely a distinction that should not be overlooked, as this record is seldom attained by any candidate for any ofifce.

The only other candidate carrying every precinct in the County was John S. Juett, democratic candidate for Representative from Boone and Grant counties.

C. D. "Dewey" Benson received 2430 which was more votes than Williams tallied, and came very close to Williams' record for carrying every precinct. Benson carried 15 of the 17 precincts, tied his opponent in one and lost only one precinct by 44 votes.

We feel that these records are worthy of honorable mention, and offer our congratulations to Mr. Williams, Mr. Benson and Mr. Juett.

Dr. E. D. Edelmaier To Speak At Local M. E. Church Sunday

Sunday at 11:00 a. m. Dr. E. D. Edelmaier, District Superintendent of the Covington District, will preach at the local Methodist Church, after which communion will be administered and the quarterly conference conducted. This is the last business session of the conference year and all members are urged to attend. All are invited to attend.

FOUR-H MAKE PREPARATIONS

FOR FREE FAIR—DAIRY CALF SHOW WILL BE AMONG LIST OF SPECIAL EXHIBITS FOR THIS YEAR.

Boone County 4-H Club members are preparing for the largest and best exhibit of club projects on record, according to H. R. Forkner. County Agent. Ten community 4-H club tours have just been completed and interest among members is unusually high.

Special exhibits this year include a dairy calf show sponsored by Dearborn Feed Mills, Cooperative Pure Milk Association, Summe and Raterman Dairy and Hannekin Dairy. Twenty-eight members have dairy calves eligible to compete in this event.

The draft horse men of the county are sponsoring the second 4-H draft colt show held in Kentucky. Special features of the show this year will be a display of mule colts raised in 4-H project work.

Sixty-one 4-H members are carrying garden projects this year and plans are for an unusual good exhibit of garden and special vegetable crops. Poultry, sheep and tobacco club members have done excellent project work and will have good displays.

Foods projects have been specially stressed in the Home Economics work this year. Biscuits, cakes, candy, gift boxes and food scrap books will be on display along with the clothing girls' style show revues, Units I, II, III and IV sewing, room improvement and canning.

Utopia Club members will show dairy, poultry, corn, room improvement, landscaping and canning projects. Homemakers' club exhibits and open class exhibits of vegetables will also be on display.

Let's all get together at Boone County's Big Annual Picnic and Fair at Burlington School Grounds, on Saturday week, August 23rd from 9:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. It's your Fair and County Picnic. Let's be there.

DEFENSE NEEDS BACKED BY AAA

FARM FAMILIES ARE ASKED TO COOPERATE—FOOD IS VALUABLE WEAPON — RESERVES WILL NOT BE WASTED.

"The defense effort must succeed. The interests of any economic group must be subservient to it. Our national point of view must be animated and inspired by a willingness to give rather than a desire to take. Sacrifices are going to be necessary to insure the security of our democratic existence.

"Production of abundant food and fiber for our own nation and for other democracies resisting aggression is a duty that farmers accept willingly and with patriotism.

"Farm families should, as far as possible, reduce debts to a minimum and accumulate reserves of cash and commodities. They should endeavor to grow as much as possible of what they consume."

—National AAA Conference Report.

Food Is a Valuable Weapon

"As time goes on, food reserves may become just as valuable a weapon as munitions themselves. If the war continues very long, famine will spread over the earth like a terrible plague. The thought of food reserves in the United States will be in the minds of millions upon millions of people in the hungry countries The knowledge that the United States can supply food will reinforce our arguments about democracy.

"These food reserves will not be wasted even if peace comes just as they are put in storage. After peace we must continue our efforts to strengthen democracy. The challenge to our system will not end with the defeat of Hitler . . . Forty-three percent of our people are undernourished in one way or another. One way to meet the challenge to democracy is to give our people enough of the right kinds of food . . .

"Farmers learned a lesson during the first World War. The inflation bug bit them and they had the speculative fever . . . In this second war farmers want prosperity but they would like to make it a permanent thing instead of something to talk about between wars . . .

"After this war we are going to find ourselves with an industrial plant and farm plant bigger than ever before. We will have all the resources for a national income of 100 billion dollars a year. What use shall we make of this productive capacity? Shall we allow it to choke as it did in the 1920's or shall we use it to feed and clothe and house our people? Shall we use it to make all America healthier and happier? On the answer depends the fate of democracy in the United States and in the world."

—Secretary of Agriculture, Claude R. Wickard.

Programs Must Change

"It is absolutely essential that we recognize that change is inevitable, and that AAA must change with the times. AAA, like a human being, either grows or shrivels up and dies . . .

"I cannot tell you just what the changes should be, but I can give you in broad perspective the general lines along which I think our thought and activity should follow.

"First, the democracy of AAA should be broadened to reach more of the small farmers, tenants, and sharecroppers.

"Second, I think the organization of AAA should be tightened to make it more protective of farmers' interests. We should make our committees function more efficiently and more democratically.

"Third, I think we should extend more of the benefits of AAA to the small farmers and sharecroppers. Especially since the enactment of the new 85 percent loan, I believe we can well afford and should use more of our wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco and other payments to alleviate distress and increase the opportunities for small producers of these crops.

"Fourth, we must consider changing AAA to make it cushion the shocks mechanization has brought to many of the people on our farms.

"Fifth, we should make our conservation more positive and more thorough.

"Sixth, always keep parity as our goal."

—AAA Administrator R. M. Evans.

No particulars concerning the tragedy has been forthcoming at this writing (Tuesday night) as the telegram to the parents merely stated that he had drowned on August 9th in Louisiana. All reports and stories being told at present are merely rumors and have absolutely no reliable source.

Pvt. Pope was inducted into army service on April 4, 1941 and had served about four months of his one-year training. He was stationed at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, but was in Louisiana on maneuvers at the time of the accident.

To date there have been 64 young men from Boone County inducted into the army, Pvt. Pope being the first casualty from the entire list. In our humble way, we extend our sympathy to the parents, relatives and friends during this hour of sorrow.

NOTED EDUCATOR SUCCUMBS AT 77

WAS BORN IN BOONE COUNTY IN 1863—HAD BEEN PRINCIPAL OF LATONIA SCHOOL FOR 27 YEARS.

Professor James H. Craven, 77, native of Boone County, and widely known in educational circles, died Thursday at his home, 24 East Maple Ave., Fort Mitchell, after a long illness.

Born December 19, 1863, in Boone County of parents whose families were among the early settlers of the county, he received his early education in Boone County and as graduate from Verona High School. He later studied at Glasgow Normal School, the National Normal School at Lebanon, Ohio, and at the University of Cincinnati, the University of Kentucky, and Eastern State Teachers College, Richmond, Ky.

Mr. Craven was associated with Latonia and Covington schools for around 50 years before his retirement in 1936. He was Superintendent of Latonia schools when Latonia was annexed to Covington in 1909. He became principal of Eighth District School at that time and served 27 years in that capacity.

During his study of geology, Mr. Craven excavated a number of graves on Mud Lick Creek in Boone County, unearthing bones and tools pertaining to ancient times.

He was a member of Latonia Christian Church, being an elder and Chairman of the official board of the church; Latonia Lodge of Masons, the Past Patrons and Matrons Association, Indra Consistory, the Schoolmasters' Club, and the Kentucky Educational Association.

Services were held at 2 o'clock Saturday at Latonia Christian Church, with Rev. Joseph B. Hill officiating. Burial was in Highland cemetery.

Porter Shinkle of Aurora, Ind., was operated on at Booth Hospital, Coingvton, Tuesday morning of this week for thyroid. At this writing he is doing nicely. Mr. Shinkle has many friends in this county who will regret to hear of his illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGuire, of Florence, are the very proud parents of an eight-pound baby boy, born Monday at Booth hospital. The big boy, as yet, is without a name. Both mother and baby are reported to be doing fine.

UPSETTING THE DOPE

In wars, as in horse races, the long shot occassionally upsets the dope and comes through for a win. Some of the experts are now cautiously hazarding the guess that this may prove true of the Russians.

When the German-Russian war began the bulk of the military authorities reluctantly agreed that Hitler was probably right when he said that it would be over in six weeks. Those six weeks and more have now passed, and the Russians instead of retreating in confusion, are said to be planning gigantic counter-attacks. The Germans have not taken any areas of major importance. The Red air force, which, according to German claims was almost totally destroyed in the early days of the fighting, is still very much in evidence and is giving excellent support to the Soviet land forces. The Red mechanized equipment, which was supposed to be second-rate, has, according to some reporters who have seen it in action, actually proven equal and even superior to the German. Most important of all, the morale of the Russian people—military and civilian alike—seems to have proven far more staunch than anyone expected.

Germany has not lost the Russian war. It would not come as any great surprise if Hitler's forces yet success in taking Moscow, Leningrad and other key cities. But these would be hollow victories unless, at the same time, Hitler was able to destroy Russian military power. So long as substantial Red armies remain in existence and fighting, Hitler will not be safe no matter how much Russian territory he succeeds in conquering. On top of that, Russian civilians have shown an almost suicidal fervor in destroying areas which have been evacuated, and in sniping at German troops. The Russians are fighting a total war in total fashion now. and they have demonstrated surprising courage.

Best of all, from the British-American point of view, is the apparent fact that Germany is suffering terrific losses. On August 2, the Russians claimed that 1,500,000 Reich troops had been killed, wounded or captured. That may represent a big exaggeration—neither the Russian nor the German propaganda ministries can be depended upon for the whole truth. But, if even a third or half that many German troops have been incapacitated, it is a severe reverse to Hitler. The first divisions sent into Russia were the cream of the German crop—the tought veterans of the Polish, French and Low Countries campaigns. No nation can create soldiers of that quality overnight. That may explain reports to the effect that the reserves Germany has lately sent into Russia have proven inferior in quality to the men who preceded them.

It also seems unquestioned that Germany has lost vast quantities of aircraft and mechanized equipment—and has consumed immense amounts of oil, that most precious of war materials. Russian bombers have been invading the Rumanian oil fields, and may have done considerable damage. And in the meantime, Britain has been carrying on determined, big-scale air raids against the Continent.

At the beginning, British spokesmen had little to say of Russian chances. They were frankly skeptical. Now they are saying that the Russians have actually stopped the Germans, and that there is no possibility of the campaign ending before the winter rains set in. If that is true, Germany will be in for a war of position—and that is precisely what Hitler cannot afford. In addition, Britain gets stronger as Germany gets weaker. This war isn't over yet—but not since it started has the outlook been so good for the Allies.

In time, news of the German reverses and losses is bound to seep through to the German people, no matter how much baloney Dr. Goebbels puts out through press and radio. Then, think some, German morale will start to crack. It is a fact that in the last World War, Germany went to pieces in a matter of a few months, and the main reason for that was the collapse of morale at home. Will it happen again?

FOOD PACKAGES

The American Red Cross had for some time been sending food packages to war prisoners in foreign camps, and since the inauguration, they have received letters of gratitude from the prisoners who have appreciated their thoughtfulness and generosity Through the Geneva international agreement regarding prisoners of war, these food packages are handed by Red Cross representatives to the prisoners and while many packages are addressed to certain ones, most of them are sent to be placed in the hands of the needy. The greatest number of these boxes go to the British but others are given to Canadians, French, Polish, Czechs, Australians, Greeks, and Norwegians, who pray for their share of the bounty. Postal cards are coming to headquarters thanking the donors and mentioning certain items that would bring extra pleasure such as soap, wash cloths, small towels and paper face tissues which make ideal hankies. The boxes cost $2.75 to pack and contain foods that are chosen for their health value. Eighty thousand prisoner's boxes have been sent by our American Red Cross and twenty thousand more are being packed to go. With Canadians busy in their own Red Cross parcel packing, and with the British Red Cross adding its contribution, many sons and brothers are enjoying the thoughtfulness and kindness of charitable souls, of whom there are many the world over, thank heavens!

THE CONSTANT BUYER

Americans are people who spend money and enjoy spending it. We start in sight of our children and they grow up aware of the great pleasure one gets out of buying. A child's value of exchange has altered with the passing years. Back in the days of our youth a penny was the medium of exchange used to secure the best of goods for a youngster, at least for the average appreciative young one. Today's children start with a nickel and dime and enter into the higher brackets without even a tremble in their voice! We all like to buy, we like to spend, and since shopping is the great American habit, it is not unusual that our children follow the same lines early. It has not gone too far to try to instill in the child the meaning of a penny, although they have been in the dime class for some time. It isn't too late for grown ups to learn to spend wisely whatever is the denomination of their exchange. There are many lanes of purchasing. One lane is traveled by the person who spends more than he earns. Another is worn by those folks who shop because they simply must buy something even though they don't much care for it. The most crowded lane is that used by those who buy because they need. Some of us don't spend so much because we haven't it and others spend when we haven't it and land in the bankruptcy court. But each of us in Boone County are buyers and it is up to each of us to get his money's worth. He must also educate his children to follow the right lane of buying.

PEP 'EM UP

A subscriber mentions his dislike of a certain radio program and feels that the general public grows tired of the same sort of thing year in and year out. He hopes that in the fall the radio will start their new schedules with a change of some outmoded talent and also programs. Perhaps radio does need new ideas and new voices. Other fields have to keep on their toes in order to hold the public interest for a great length of time. Colleges are offering splendid educational programs to the public. The world of music is giving better and better programs. Civic round tables and town meetings are constantly bringing new features to their towns. Surely the radio must improve certain programs and add new names to supply the public demand and stimulate the popular interest of their radio listeners with a variety of entertainment that isn't too many years old.

SWEET HOME

A renter still makes a house a home but perhaps you have wondered whether the author in writing "Home, Sweet Home," had in mind the rented dwelling or that abode that was owned, labored for and maintained as a foundation for a family today and those to come after. A heritage to pass on to another's keeping. Today more people have money to invest in property. More people are buying homes and paying on homes mortgaged during the leaner years. A county such as Boone likes to have most of its homes owned A home owner is going to stay in the county, be more interested in local politics, more concerned over taxes more apt to take part in civic responsibilities. You take more time with a house if you own it. You make it as attractive as possible for you are doing it for yourself and your own pleasure and satisfaction. We wish that we could all figure out ways to safely and securely be home owners and derive that sense of security and happiness that comes with it.

LEARN BY MAIL

There is a branch of education that we don't mention much in Boone County and it certainly isn't because it isn't worthy of conversation since it is teaching about three-quarters of a million young people each year. Maybe we don't discuss correspondence schools because we don't know a lot about them. This teaching by mail has proven important and effective in the lives of many people. Some small town schools subscribe to such a course of study for those pupils who want certain subjects and the schools find it fits their needs rather than hire an instructor for the special subject needed. There are 400 such correspondence groups listed who furnish this service, with a total of four million men and women in their rosters as alumni. Those who wish for an education and desire it enough will find an answer to their problem somehow!

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

PETER ENCOURAGES SUFFERING CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—I Peter 4:12-19; 5:6-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—If any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.—I Peter 4:16.

"Sweet are the uses of adversity"—so says the poet, and it is true that God is able to make even the sufferings of man a source of blessing and an occasion for joy, "if a man suffer as a Christian" (I Pet. 4:16). In a world where sorrow and suffering have been heaped high by man's inhumanity to man, it is indeed appropriate that we think of the encouragement which God's Word gives to those who are in distress.

There are many helpful Scripture passages on this point, those before us today being from the writings of Peter to the Jews of the dispersion. Scattered abroad and no more under the guiding and protecting hand of Paul, Luke and the others, they were undergoing severe persecution for Christ's sake. Some were apparently disturbed by their trials, and Peter tells them that persecution should bring

I. No Surprise (4:12).

We ought to expect trials in this world; yes, severe fiery trials. Such things are common to all mankind, and the Christian should not expect to escape. To them, such trials are real tests of their faith, an opportunity to show to the unbelieving world that God is able to deliver those who put their trust in Him!

To be forearmed is to be forearmed. "Think it not strange concerning the fiery trial."

II. No Shame (4:13-16).

There are two senses in which the Christian is to be unashamed in the midst of suffering. In the first instance, he is not to be ashamed of the trial itself if he bears it for Christ's sake, for he is thus sharing Christ's sufferings. We cannot share in his substitutionary and sacrificial suffering on Calvary, but we can stand with Him who was indeed "a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief" (Isa. 53:3). In the second place, he is not to do anything which would justify others in making him suffer. It is a disgrace, a shame which injures the cause of Christ, when a believer has to suffer because he has broken the law, or because he is "a busybody (R. V. "meddler") in other men's matters." If you pry into others' affairs, expect to have your fingers stepped on, and don't expect God to deliver you out of it or honor you in that kind of suffering.

III. No Escape (4:17-19).

If the righteous find the difficulties and temptations in their way to be like fiery trials, if those who have the blessed presence of Christ to cheer and to guide them find it difficult at times to make their way through sorrow and sadness, what will the unbeliever do? Does he think that he shall escape? Surely not—and there is yet that day ahead when the believer shall enter into eternal peace, where sorrow and suffering shall be no more. Where will the unbeliever be in that day?

IV. No Worry (5:6, 7).

"Put care into Christ's bag," said George Herbert. "Treat your cares as you treat your sins. Hand them over to Jesus one by one as they occur, commit them to Him" (F. B. Meyer). He really cares about you—believe it and act upon it.

The cure for all worry is right there, but even as it is true that the meek shall "inherit the earth" (Matt. 5:5), so it is true that only the humble are ready to cast their cares on the Lord. "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble . . . Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up" (James 4:6, 10).

V. No Wavering (5:8-11).

"Steady, perfected and established in Christ, strengthened by His grace, sure of the eternal call, and with the eye of faith on the glory to come, such is the man who is able and ready to successfully meet the devil when, like a roaring lion, he seeks to disturb and devour God's people.

Satan is busy in our day. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith says: "It is admitted everywhere by outstanding Christian leaders, in every sphere of life today, that there has never been a time, at least in our generation, when the temptations of Satan have been so fierce, so frequent, so constant, as just now. What Satan wants to do is to destroy the testimony of God's people, to take them out of places of power and influence for the gospel, to rob them of that joy, and victory, and power, by which, through their labors, others will be brought to confess the Lord Jesus Christ. Christian people today who are conscious of being fiercely assailed by evil ought not to be alarmed, but should realize that this experience of theirs is general, everywhere, of true believers, and that there is sufficient grace for every need in such dreadful times as these."

The best way to have folks stop at railroad crossings is to keep a steam shovel or sign painter working there all the time.

Too often the fellow who headed the honor roll in college, looks like a dub in the school of experience.

WOMAN NO. 1—

Here's a Woman:— Not old)—that cannot do all the things she would like to do. Why! Her feet hurt. Long before the day is over, her legs ache and draw. Early in the afternoon her back begins to ache—then her head aches. When the day is over, she is a physical and nervous wreck; glad to be in bed. Now maybe after a night's sleep (if she gets a night's sleep) she hopes the day will bring her some body and foot comfort.

THE SECOND WOMAN:—About the same age—used to suffer day after day like the first woman. Someone told her that feet out of balance and not properly supported sometimes cause leg pains—backaches — and followed by headaches and general nervousness.

BUT SHE INVESTIGATED and found that these things can be corrected. After wearing surgical shoes, the foot pains disappeared—Corns and callouses vanished—no more leg pains—no more backaches—no more headaches—and the world seemed bright again—Just like being born all over again.

If YOU are suffering—don't put up with it another day—investigate today—Your feet may be causing all your trouble.—Adv.

RULES FOR CANNING GIVEN IN CIRCULAR

A circular published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics gives the following rules for canning:

Select fresh, sound fruit and vegetables in prime condition and can them immediately. An hour from the garden to the can is a good rule.

Wash the fruit and vegetables thoroughly, and discard bruised, decayed or otherwise imperfect pieces.

Wash the jars and lids in clean, hot, soapy water and rinse them in boiling water.

Sterilize the jars by immersing them in hot water or placing them upside down in a small amount of water and bringing the water to boiling. Keep the jars hot until packed. Place metal or glass covers in the container with the jars to be sterilized.

Put new, tested rubbers on the jars.

Prepare the product to be canned according to the recipe for it.

Pack boiling-hot precooked vegetables in sterilized jars. add a teaspoon of salt to each quart, and cover the vegetables with boiling liquid. Completely seal the jars if they are to be processed in a water-bath canner; partly seal them if they are to be processed in a pressure cooker.

Pack fruits in sterilized jars and cover the fruit with boiling syrup. Completely seal precooked fruit packed boiling hot; partly seal raw fruits to which boiling sirup has been added.

Process according to directions.

Remove jars from the canner one at a time, completing the seal of partly sealed jars as they are removed.

Place glass jars out of draft to cool. Even a slight air current striking hot jars may cause them to break.

CHICKENS VS. TOBACCO

A flock of 108 pullets that was more profitable than an acre and a half of one-sucker tobacco, was seen by 41 Logan county farmers on a tour of 14 flocks in three communities. Income from the 14 flocks in three communities. Income from the 14 flocks ranged from $150 to $450. County Agent John Watlington reports a 100 percent increase in the sale of chicks this year, compared to 1940.

W. S. C. S. Hold Annual Birthday Party

The W. S. C. S. of the Florence Methodist Church, held their annual birthday party Wednesday in connection with the regular monthly meeting. The business session and devotional were held in the morning.

During the luncheon hour, Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Taylor gave the early history of the society, showing how it has grown from a society of purely local interests to one with a world-wide vision.

Mrs. Idear Bethel led the afternoon session, stressing the work done through cooperation with various committees and conferences. Mrs. Mosley spoke about the many projects in which Methodist women have a part with women of other denominations. As she spoke a procession of people representing these projects passed by on the platform. The World Day of Prayer was beautifully represented by Mrs. Sullivan and the badges and foreign costumes worn by a bevy of girls, left a lasting impression of the extent of this work.

Mrs. Grayson's reading left us wondering how we too might minister to "the least of these." The session closed with singing "God Be With You." We went away feeling it had been a good day.

TWO CONVICTED IN TOBACCO QUOTA VIOLATION CASE

Two North Carolina farmers have been convicted of forgery and conspiracy to defraud the Government in violation of tobacco marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act and ten other persons charged with violations of quota law are under indictment by Federal District Court at Charleston, S. C.

This information was received from the Kentucky State Office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration by Mark Cook, chairman of the Boone County AAA Committee.

The two farmers convicted allegedly entered into a conspiracy with certain other persons, who have not yet been tried, for the purpose of defrauding the Government of penalties due on the marketing of tobacco in excess of quotas during the 1940-41 marketing year.

Pleas of guilty were entered May 26 by both of the farmers convicted. The two are Grover Lucas and Pearly Farmer, both of Wilson, N. C. Irregularities in which they admitted being involved occurred in the vicinity of Timmonsville S. C., in connection with the purchase of scrap tobacco and the misuse of marketing cards issued to growers.

Farmer was sentened to two years in Federal penitentiary and Lucas was sentened to one year. Each of the two was fined $200. Both sentences and fines were suspended upon good behavior.

The three other men allegedly involved in this case probably will be tried in December.

The seven defendants in the other case reported are accused of manipulating or causing to be manipulated warehouse records and warehouse and dealer reports furnished to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for the purpose of defrauding the Government of penalties due on the marketing of tobacco in excess of quotas during the 1938-39 marketing year.

Defendants in this case include warehouse operators, flue-cured tobacco dealers and growers. The case is expected to be tried in December.

Mark Cook said comparatively few violations of tobacco quota regulations have been reported locally but he said that thorough investigation of all indicated violations is rapidly being completed by representatives of the marketing quota section of the AAA.

$1 SELLS FOR $80

A check for the 2 billionth dollar loaned by production credit associations in the United States brought $80 at an auction at Newton, Iowa, recently, according to word received here by A. T. Mills, secretary-treasurer of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association. The auction of this check was one of the feature events of the meeting celebrating the lending of the 2 billionth dollar loaned by the Nation's 525 production credit associations, he continued.

At the suggestion of Martin Paulson, farmer who obtained a loan from the Newton, Iowa, Production Credit Association, which included the 2 billionth dollar, the actual check for this dollar was put up at auction and the money turned over to the United Service Organizations for their use in providing facilities for the entertainment during the leisure time of our boys who are in the army and navy.

This meeting at Newton, Iowa, was attended by many Iowa farmers as well as representatives of all the surrounding States, and some from as far away as States of Washington, Mississippi and Connecticut. Milton Warren, of Mansfield, Illinois, the man who received the first production credit loan in 1933, and Harley Moore who received the millionth loan from the Peru, Indiana, Production Credit Association, in 1938, were also present.

C. R. Arnold, the Ohio farmers who is now Production Credit Commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, was the principal speaker at the event. He said, "I look upon production credit associations, like farmer cooperatives in general, as very definite examples of democracy in action.

"In this present national emergency, the new strong production credit associations are financing the needs of their members who are increasing production of the vital foods needed for defense." Commissioner Arnold continued.

"Farmer-members of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association which services Boone, Campbell, Carroll, Gallatin, Grant, Kenton, Owen and Pendleton Counties, have borrowed $1,194,000 since the credit cooperative was organized in 1933, according to A. T. Mills, secretary-treasurer of the association. He pointed out that this is a part of the 2 billion dollars loaned by all 525 associations.

Junior Mayes, a Mercer county 4-H club boy, has established a registered Southdown flock of sheep.

Four thousand sheep were run through a portable vat in Carroll county, the largest number ever dipped in one year.

RAILROAD CARS AREN'T WAREHOUSES

The railroads of this county have adequate facilities for handling today's record-breaking traffic. But railroad cars cannot be used as warehouses. That is the gist of a recent talk by Robert S. Henry of the Association of American Railroads.

Mr. Henry dealt principally with what he terms "the greatest combined job of transportation, marketing and storage which is done anywhere in the world—the movement of the winter wheat crop into storage. Many weeks ago the railroads started their preparations. By mid-May, empty cars were moving west in fleets, to insure that a sufficient supply would be built up in advance of the harvest. On May 30, the seven roads which handle the bulk of the winter wheat, had a total of 19,614 such cars lined up—4,631 more than were assembled for the grain movement on the same date last year. Thousands more cars are in current use in the grain belt, and other thousands still will be sent as needed.

The difficulty lies in the fact that this year's carry-over of old grain is the largest ever recorded. Elevators in the wheat belt were filled from one-half to three-quarters of their capacity before a grain of the new crop was moved. The problem, therefore, is to find somewhere to put the new wheat. And that is not a transportation problem.

To quote Mr. Henry again, "Freight cars cannot be used for storage purposes—either for grain or for any other commodity. They are too valuable and too necessary as moving vehicles—vehicles of rtransportation. Those familiar red-painted boxes on wheels are not storage facilities. They are the moving red corpuscles of the stream of American life and the American defense effort."

In short, the railroads are in perfect readiness to handle the gigantic new wheat crop. The railroads cannot use, and cannot be expected to use, their vital facilities as warehouses. Their business is transportation—not storage.

694 LAMBS ENTERED AT SHOW AND SALE

The annual Central Kentucky 4-H and Utopia lamb show and sale, recently held at Lexington, brought entries from club members in 14 counties who showed 694 lambs.

The grand champion lamb of the show was from Jessamine county, and was owned by Juanita Hayden. This lamb sold for 36 cents a pound and weighed 85 pounds. The reserve champion was shown by Mary Frances Green, from Clark county, bringing 25 cents a pound.

Clark county had the champion carlot of the show. These lambs averaged 85 pounds each and brought $15.75 per hundred pounds. The reserve pen was from Mercer county and sold for $14.25 per hundred.

The purpose of the lamb project is to teach 4-H and Utopia members better methods of handling and producing lambs for market. This show is the culmination of the project.

NUTRITION MEETING

The Florence Community Unit of the Boone County Nutrition Organization, held its initial meeting at the Florence Town Hall, Thursday evening, July 24. There was almost 100 percent attendance of the local organizations at the meeting, forty-three people being present, including seven members of the local Boy Scout unit.

Mrs. Joe Berkshire, temporary chairman, presided at the meeting. Guest speakers were Mrs. James Layne, Miss Mary H. Gillaspie, Rev. J. R. Cross, Mr. H. R. Forkner and Mr. Mark Cook. Each of the speakers in turn stressed the fact that now is the time to prepare ourselves to help in the national defense program, by making our families and those of our neighbors stronger, and to raise and preserve our own food supply.

All those present enjoyed the meeting and the discussion which followed the short talks by the speakers.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Joe Berkshire, chairman; Mrs. George Kobman, secretary; Mrs. Grant Maddox, garden chairman; Mrs. Grant Maddox, canning; Mrs. Lorie Corith, school lunches; Mrs. A. W. Fullerton, nutrition in the home; Mrs. Orville Willeford, publicity; and Mrs. William Marksberry, exhibits.

After the election of officers the chairman gave a summary of the meeting as follows: That we eat simple foods, live at Home and Raise What We Eat.

Among them are: Five dollars to the former resident coming the longest distance to attend the home coming; five dollars to the oldest man or woman driving a car from home to the fair; prizes for the oldest car in service and driven to the fair; oldest mother of a World War veteran; largest family in number to attend the home coming; first person entering the fair grounds and bringing with him the most persons; and many other prizes, most of which are cash.

The horse pulling contest and amateur contest will be held on Thursday. Friday, draft horse show and awarding of premiums on all entries. There will also be feature attractions. The saddle horse show will be held on Saturafternoon. Also the 4-H Club review and free attractions are included in the day's program. Ninety-two page fair books are now available for distribution. You may have yours by writing the secretary of the fair association.

GRASS INTO SILAGE CONSERVES STORAGE

Putting legume hays and grasses into the silo is insurance against loss in curing, and also conserves storage space, it is pointed out in a new circular of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics called "Grass Silage." In wet seasons often as much as 50 percent of the value of the hay is lost in an effort to get it cured.

About three and a half times as much storage space is required for loose hay and nearly twice as much for baled or chopped hay, as is needed for the same amount of grass silage. Grass silage in the silo contains about 14 pounds of dry matter per cubic foot, loose hay in the mow about 4 pounds and chopped or baled hay about 8 pounds per cubic foot. Corn silage contains about 12 pounds of dry matter per cubic foot.

This Week In Defense

President Roosevelt placed airplane fuels under export control, limiting shipment to points in the Western Hemisphere, the British Empire and unoccupied territories of countries resisting aggression. Secretary Hull told his press conference any move of Japan into Thailand would be a matter of concern of the United States. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced the lend-lease administration has ordered 10,000,000 yards of cotton grey goods to make uniforms for Chinese soldiers.

Aid to Russia

The State Department announced extension of the trade agreement between the U. S. S. R. and the United States until August 6, 1942, to insure "continuance during the mergency period of our established commercial relations with the Soviet Union on the basis of the 1937 commercial agreement." Russia will pay cash or will earmark gold for all materials bought, the Department said.

Silk

The Office of Production Management "froze" all silk supplies in the country because minimum requirements of the Army and Navy for silk powder bags and parachutes will consume total stocks. Price Administrator Henderson said the action should not result in retail stocking price increases for stocks on hand. OPM formed a special commodity section to handle problems of obtaining substitute materials, allocating rayon yarn and manufacturing capacity.

Federal Security Administrator McNutt called for immediate registration by State Employment Services of the approximately 175,000 silk industry workers being forced out of work by the raw silk shortage. The Department of Agriculture reported more than 150 different cotton stocking designs are available to the hosiery industry, and stated 89 percent of the 16,000 knitting machines can knit cotton as well as silk.

Army

The War Department announced a campaign to convert to armament production thousands of consumer-goods factories facing eventual shutdown because of diversion of raw materials to the defense program, and said it already has a list of 500 such plants.

The Department expanded its officer candidate schools to provide opportunities for one in each 100 soldiers to receive a commission. Advancement during the first year will be available to about 28 percent of all trainees, the Department said. It reported 100 Canadian officers and 65 junior officers from the Latin American Republics are now enrolled in various courses with the U. S. Army.

Selective Service

The Senate passed legislation authorizing extension of service of Selectees, Guardsmen and Reserves from 12 months to 30 months, and of enlisted men from three to 4½ years. The legislation provides for a salary increase of $10 a month for every month served in excess of one year. Congress also approved legislation deferring from military service all men who had reached their 28th birthday July 1, and authorizing resignation of men already inducted who became 28 before July 1 and whose discharge is not found contrary to the best interests of the Army.

Oil

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes said he was satisfied with first results of the nightly blackout of East Coast gasoline station, but asked motorists to redouble efforts to cut motor fuel consumption voluntarily. He made recommendations for operators of commercial vehicles which he said would cut gas consumption about 30 percent, and announced the oil industry will give its patrons windshield stickers pledging the use of one-third less gasoline than usual. He said 82 insurance companies have contributed to the "share-your-car campaign" by revising underwriting rules to enable motorists to carry paying passengers to and from work.

Federal Security Administrator McNutt urged immediate registration at State employment offices of all automobile service station workers who lose their jobs as a result of the drive to cut gasoline consumption. in order that they may "be transferred as rapidly as possible to other work."

Power

Consumer Administrator Harriet Elliott issued a list of suggestions to housewives for the conservation of power for defense by cutting electric bills, and said "The practice of careful consumption habits now is the best preparation for the future.' Miss Elliott recommended economies be practiced particularly in parts of the country where power shortages are threatened.

Labor Supply

The OPM said railroad labor and management will help meet skilled labor shortages in defense industries out of the available supply of railroad workers, which includes 20,000 skilled mechanics now unemployed and 80,000 apprentices who could be promoted to release other workers. The OPM also announced 21 Gulf Coast shipyards have put into effect zone labor standards prohibiting strikes and stabilizing wages during the next two years. Federal Security Administrator McNutt said 2,500,000 jobs were filled by State Employment Services during the first six months of 1941, a gain of 52 percent over the same period in 1940.

Defense Housing

FWA Administrator Carmody said nearly 8,000 homes for defense workers—an average of 256 houses a day—were constructed during July, 16 more houses a day than in June. Mr. Carmody said 16,107 homes were completed, as of Aug. 1, of the 90,465 approved for construction. Contracts have been let for 60,835 more, he said.

Agriculture

Assistant Price Administrator Galbraith, speaking during the annual Farm & Home Week, said "farmers . . . must be the natural leaders in the fight against inflation. If they take the leadership then stability is assured . . . To stop this price increase . . . we need the willingness to see price advances stopped and stopped firmly." He said prices today are more favorable to farmers than in years, but it took 20 years "to rebuild agriculture out of the wreckage left by the inflation of the last war."

Prices

The bureau of Labor Statistics reported retail food prices increased 1.5 percent during the last two weeks of July to a level almost 16 percent above August, 1939. The Federal Reserve Board said national income payments by last June had reached about $88 billion a year—19 percent above May, 1940—and said unless an unsually large part of consumer income is saved or paid out in taxes, price inflation will grow.

World Affairs

Secretary of State Hull, returning to his desk after a six-weeks absence, said "During the weeks of my absence the most clinching demonstration has been given . . . (that) there is a world movement of conquest by force, accompanied by methods of governing the conquered people, are rooted mainly in savagery and barbarism." Secretary Hull said "with full effort and ever-increasing production and preparation for defense . . . a successful resistance to the present world movement . . . will be made."

HIGH STANDARD OF SERVICE URGED BY LYTER DONALDSON

Enlistment of the entire Kentucky Highway Department in a campaign to promote the highest possible standard of service to motorists, was announced last week by J. Lyter Donaldson, Commissioner of Highways, in a memorandum to all highway employees. Pointing out that the Department of Highways, in all of its activities, is maintained exclusively by revenue collected from motor users, the Commissioner stated that "the Department is justified only to the extent that it provides service to those who were responsible for its creation and continued existence."

Requesting that particular assistance be given tourists to provide for their comfort during visits to Kentucky, Mr. Donaldson said, "that he would like to have tourists from other states return to their respective homes with the very definite knowledge that the highway department of Kentucky had rendered to them every friendly and courteous service. "During the next few months" he said, "thousands of motorists from neighboring and foreign states will visit Kentucky and this purpose can be best accomplished by the exhibition on the part of the Highway Department of a friendly interest in those who are guests of the State."

Suggesting that employees familiarize themselves with various routes within the State and best available highways leading to Kentucky's many attractive points of interest, Mr. Donaldson requested that the recently published highway guide entitled: "Kentucky Highways" be made available to out-of-State visitors in every possible instance, particularly at points of entry into the State.

HOME CANNING MAY REDUCE FOOD COST

Home-canned peaches for 8 cents a quart! That's possible where peaches can be bought for $1 a bushel, and where the cans already are on hand, says G. P. Summers, field agent for the Department of Markets and Rural Finance at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Fifteen to 18 quarts usually can be canned from a bushel.

Mr. Summers points out that the price of canned peaches already has advanced 30 to 35 percent over a year ago. Canneries are paying for California peaches two and a half times as much as was paid last year.

"With a big peach crop in Kentucky, it behooves every family to can and dry all the peaches possible," declares Mr. Summers. "This is one way they can reduce the cost of living, and one way they can assure delicious home-canned peached for the coming winter."

Families without cans should dry peaches, it is suggested. Also, it is not advisable to use all the cans for peaches. Other fruits and vegetables should be canned. Fortunately, peaches are easily dried, and keep well after they are dried. Many dried peaches are sold, which indicates that dried fruit is popular.

OXEN WILL BE DISPLAYED AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR

Louisville—Conservation of gasoline is no problem to Elmer Newton, 22-year-old farmer of Taftsville, Vermont, who is coming to the Kentucky State Fair, September 6-13, inclusive, with his championship yoke of Ayreshire oxen. This outstanding pair of cattle are so well trained that they are driven without reins or any other control, except the spoken command of their driver. They quickly respond to their names, which are "Type" and "Test" and will follow Newton about the farm or Fairgrounds like a pair of giant dogs.

Demonstration in the ancient art of ox driving will be staged daily with "Type" and "Test" yoked to a cart with wooden wheels and axle that were fashioned over a century ago. Accompanying these cattle will be the noted 16-year-old Ayreshire cow, Newland's Flirt, that has made the almost unbelievable lifetime record of 142,092 pounds of milk and 5,446 pounds of butterfat. In addition to having won the grand championship at the Northumberland Show in England, Newlands Flirt is one of forty-five Ayreshires in the United States that has each made over 5,000 pounds of butterfat.

"SCHOOL" TO DISCUSS LIVESTOCK FEEDING

A nutrition "school," where problems of feeding livestock and the manufacture and sale of feeds will be discussed, will be held at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics August 20 and 21. Speakers will include members of the faculty of the college; Dr. W. E. Krauss of the Ohio State Experiment Station; Kenneth J. Maltas, Decatur, Ill.; R. T. Faulkner, agricultural agent in Grayson county, Kentucky, and Tilford Haycraft, Leitchfield, Ky.

The meetings, which be open to all, will be attended by farmers, livestock raisers, and manufacturers and distributors of feeds.

The national defense program calls for increased production of dairy and poultry products, pork and lard. This is to be accomplished largely by better feeding, rather than by increasing the size of herds and flocks.

You may be hot today but think of how you are going to look back on this heat wave when the thermometer hits zero and the driveway needs salt.

DARING DEATH

Is What You Do If You Take Chances by Not Having Your Wheels Balanced.

Hundreds of cases are reported every year of accidents resulting from unbalanced wheels, which set up such a violent shimmy or shake that the car gets out of control.

Unbalanced wheels cause tiresome driving, wear out the front end bearings prematurely and they are dangerous.

Unbalanced wheels are caused by changing tires—uneven wear of tread—addition of patches—improper mounting of tires—loss of balance weights. YOUR WHEELS SHOULD BE CHECKED REGULARLY.

Prepare your car for safer and more pleasant driving by coming into our Wheel Balancing Department and having your wheels checked and balanced. It can be done in a short time and the cost is small.

ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT USED TO SWELL POULTRY PROFIT

Poultry and egg producers will find many new ways to earn profit from their flocks at the big REA Farm Electric Equipment Show, opening September 8, 1941 for a two-day stand on the Taft Highway one mile west of Dry Ridge, Ky. The show will be staged by Rural Electrification Administration of the Department of Agriculture under the sponsorship of the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation. At present some 2000 farms, served by the local system, are using various applications of electricity in their poultry production.

The show features demonstrations and discussions of the fact that electricity in poultry production can lead to healthier birds, safe and dependable brooding, lower costs, and more eggs in the season when the days are shorter and prices higher. Live chicks will demonstrate the dependable service of electric brooders. Ultra-violet lights, water warmers, egg graders, and the new semi-scalding process for poultry dressing are included in the show.

Other demonstrations and discussions will show ways of reducing production costs and hours of labor, and bringing ease and economy to farm and household tasks. Trailer and booth exhibits include water pumps, irrigation systems, portable motors, dairy and poultry equipment, a complete farm shop, and hundreds of small appliances.

A small automatic feed mill with overhead bins will show how a farmer can grind a day's feed by simply pressing a button. In other power demonstration D. W. Teare, show manager and L. C. Hindley, of REA, will grind a wide variety of local feed crops in different mills to enable local farmers to see what mill most nearly meets their own needs.

Three or four full meals will be prepared at one time by Victoria Harris, REA home economist, in her electric range and roaster demonstrations. She will be assisted by Home Demonstrations Agents of the State Extension Service. With automatic electric oven controls they will show how the farm homemaker can spend the afternoon at work, or away from home, and yet have a piping hot meal ready to serve at meal time. The food, enough to serve two or three dozen farm hands, will be given away after the demonstration.

This week Mr. Chester Roland, system manager, is completing co-operative arrangements with local dealers who will take part in the exhibits and demonstrations.

USDA ANNOUNCES SOIL-BUILDING ALLOWANCE RATES

Soil-building payment rates for the 1942 agricultural conservation program substantially the same as rates in the 1941 program have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The rates will be the basis for determining maximum payments which Boone County farmers may earn by carrying out soil-building practices up to next June 30, Mark Cook, Chairman of the Boone County Agricultural Conservation Association, said today.

The announced rates which will be applicable in Boone County are:

(1) 70 Cents per acre of crop land (except cropland included in special crop allotments) for the farm.

(2) 25 Cents per acre on non-crop pasture.

(3) $2.00 per acre of orchards (except for any orchard land included in cropland. On this land the rate will be $1.30 per acre.)

Mr. Cook points out that in 1941 the 70-cent rate on cropland applied only to areas generally deficient in feed.

Included in the 1942 program, as in 1941, is a special allowance of $15 per farm which may be earned by planting of forest trees. The 1942 program also continues the provision for a minimum $20 payment which may be earned on any farm. The $15 allowance for tree planting is in addition to the $20 minimum which may be earned by other practices, and in all cases is in addition to other allowances figured for the farm.

These soil-building allowances are one of the two types of payments farmers may earn under the AAA program in Boone County. Other payments are those to be earned by planting within special crop allotments for commercial wheat, and tobacco. Rates for these payments will be announced later.

Because the 1942 conservation program began July 1, Mr. Cook said, the soil-building rates are being announced now so that farmers may know just how much is available for practices they are now carrying out.

Special crop allotments are to be set in 1942 for the same crops as in 1941, Mr. Cook said, except that there will be no allotments for commercial vegetables and no total soil-depleting allotments. To replace these total soil-depleting allotments, special crop allotments can be set up for certain feed grains in areas where surplus feed is produced.

This provision for feed grain allotments in surplus areas is provided to stabilize such crops in the interest of the defense program in 1942, AAA officials said. Present supplies of these grains, they pointed out, are ample for the needed expansion in the livestock industry. Planting in accordance with demand will release storage needed for surplus crops and permit farmers to produce crops needed for the defense program.

While there are only minor changes in rates used in establishing soil-building allowances which farmers may earn by carrying out approved soilbuilding practices in 1942, final provisions of the 1942 program will increase emphasis on conservation in programs to be carried out on individual farms.

WHEAT QUOTA PROCLAIMED ON 1942 CROP

In order that farmers may be informed on the wheat situation before planting time this fall, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard proclaimed a marketing quota on the 1942 wheat crop July 25.

Before the quota becomes effective it has to be approved by two-thirds of the wheat growers voting in a referendum which will be held next spring after the condition of the 1942 crop is determined, Mark Cook, chairman of the Boone County Agricultural Conservation Association, said today.

Proclamation of the quota at this early date will not only give the wheat growers ample time to study the situation, but will permit them to get all available information on possible crop failure and the possibility of new markets for wheat before their decision on the quota.

The quota was proclaimed by the Secretary on the basis of estimates which indicated a 640,000,000-bus. carryover of wheat on July 1, 1942, and on an estimated 1942 crop of 660,000,000 bushels. This figure is arrived at by assuming normal yields on the 55,000,000-acre allotment for 1942, which is 7,000,000 acres smaller than the 1941 allotment. A larger acreage of wheat or above-normal yields, such as most farmers reported this year, would materially increase the 1942 crop.

With normal yields on the 1942 allotments, the total supply of wheat for 1942-43 would be 1,300,000,000 bushels compared with the quota level of 998,000,000 bushels. This quota level is 35 per cent above average domestic consumption and exports.

Domestic consumption of wheat during the past 10 years averaged 690,000,000 bushels annually and exports during the same period averaged 49,000,000 bushels. Thus total disappearance per year during the past 10 years has averaged only 739,000,000 bushels compared with an estimated supply on July 1, 1942, of 1,300,000,000 bushels.

A FEW WORDS AAA-WISE
Lime and National Defense

Every year Kentucky farmers in the AAA program spread hundreds of thousands of tons of lime on their land. In 1940 the amount of lime spread in the program reached the all-time high of more than 1,193,000 tons.

What this may mean to national defense through improved health of the people is recognized by leading health authorities like Dr. Philip F. Barbour of Louisville, consultant on child diseases for the Kentucky health department.

Speaking of the entire southern Appalachian area, which includes much of eastern Kentucky, in a recent address Dr. Barbour said, "The absence of lime in the soil is leading to early disintegration of children's teeth. Perhaps nowhere else in the nation are there so many children with such poor teeth."

Dr. Barbour pointed out that more lime was spread on the soil in the Appalachian area last year than in any other similar area in the United States, but he added that much more lime is needed.

A survey in McCracken county found that 60 families would use cold storage lockers as soon as a plant was established.

F. F. A. NEWS

The F. F. A. State Camp at Hardinsburg, Ky., was the destination of five members of the Hebron Chapter of Future Farmers of America. Those attending were Bill Burns, Joe Hogan, Mr. Huey, Ed Burns and Galen Burns. The trip was made by automobile Monday.

We arrived in Hardinsburg, 170 miles away, just in time for dinner. All day Monday, boys from all over the State arrived. That night there were 80 members present.

We were divided into four groups and the next day the groups produced a team to play softball and volleyball. These games gave the winner 30 points. The group having the most points at the end of the week was awarded a soft drink each.

The schedule for activities of the day was as follows:

7:00 Get up; 7:30 exercise; 8:00 breakfast; 9:00 clean barracks; 9:30 groups met for business meeting; 12:00 lunch; 1:00 softball, volleyball, shuffleboard, horseshoes, and ping pong tournaments; 3:00 swim; 5:00 free time; 6:00 supper. 6:00 free time; 11:00 lights out.

Several members of other Chapters violated some of the Camp rules, so had to be punished by the council members.

Saturday morning we departed for home. The members were glad they had attended, and agreed that the week was a very enjoyable one.

WE CHOOSE HUMAN FREEDOM

To many Americans, the most important sentence in the President's recent Proclamation of an Unlimited National Emergency was this: "I call upon all the loyal citizens engaged in production for defense to give precedence to the needs of the nation to the end that a system of government that makes private enterprise possible may survive."

That, coming from the Chief Executive who has been given powers as great as any ever held by his predecessors in office, is heartening. For it is the private enterprise system that maintains and strengthens and vitalizes democracy. It is the private enterprise system which is the basic of social economic and political liberty. And it is the private enterprise system which the dictators, wherever they hold power, have destroyed.

Today the private enterprise system is being called upon to give us and the embattled democracies overseas the tools of war and defense. We are determined to build for ourselves a military and naval establishment which will make it impossible for any power or any conceivable combination of powers to invade and conquer us. But, unfortunately, all of our possible enemies do not lie without our borders. Some of the most effective enemies of the private enterprise system—the democratic system—are operating within. And some of them hold important positions in government itself.

No one claims that private enterprise is perfect. Perfection is not of this world. But any honest man knows and will admit that the faults of private enterprise can be corrected, through the orderly, democratic process of lawful regulation. And any honest man knows and will admit that the overwhelming proportion of businesses in this country have responded whole-heartedly to the requests of government for maximum cooperation in the name of national defense and security. This is especially true of the natural resource industry—coal, power, oil, metals—which are the very root of the defense effort.

In the speech to the nation which the President made on the same day he signed the Proclamation, he said this: "We choose human freedom—which is the Christian ideal." Freedom involves many things—and one thing it involves is the right of men to engage as private, free citizens, in legitimate business, without persecution from their government. It involves, in short, the preservation of the private enterprise system. Socialism—whether it goes under the name of Nazism, Fascism, Communism or anything else—means slavery and degradation for the people. Look ahead if you doubt this. And then fight every attack on freedom at home.

Many Monroe county farmers plan to sow Balbo rye instead of common kinds this season.

KENTUCKY WILL RECEIVE $10,070.51 FOR CONSERVATION IF FEDERAL BILL IS PASSED

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 11—If the proposed Buck Bill, H. R. 3361, to provide federal aid to state fishery restortation projects and a companion bill recently introduced in the Senate by Senator Bennett Champ Clark, of Missouri, as S. 1614 should be enacted by both branches of Congress, Kentucky would be in line to receive $10,070.51 according to information received by S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish from Charles E. Jackson, Acting Director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Apportionment of funds to states for fish restoration and management projects under the proposed Buck Bill, with an appropriation of $1,000,000, is based according to land area and number of fishing licenses sold. Kentucky, with an area of 40,395 square miles would receive $4,800.42 and having sold 75,025 fishing licenses (figure based on licenses sold during year of 1939) would be apportioned $5,-270.09 on the basis of licenses sold. These two items would make the total Federal apportionment to Kentucky $10,070.51.

In order to receive this fund from the federal government, Kentucky must put up the full amount on approved projects and upon their completion the Commonwealth is reimbursed 75 cents on every dollar by the Federal Government.

Three years ago Congress passed the Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration under which Kentucky has been allotted a total of $50,125.76. But due to lack of sufficient funds which are available for the Division of Game and Fish the money set up by the Pittman-Robertson Act or Kentucky has not been completely matched and therefore Kentucky has been unable to fully benefit from the Federal Assistance.

TRAIN WRECK DELAYS BODY

FOR EIGHT HOURS NEAR SUNBRIGHT, TENNESSEE — PVT. RADER ACCOMPANIES BODY AND TELLS STORY.

After an eight hour delay in railroad service, the body of Pvt. Floyd Lee Pope arrived here at 7:00 p. m. last Wednesday accompanied by Pvt. Herman Rader, Walton, a constant roommate of Pvt. Pope since their entry into the Army service on April 4th.

The arrival of the Rader boy here late Wednesday afternoon brought the first information regarding the tragedy as it occurred in Louisiana last Saturday afternoon.

According to Rader, on last Saturday afternoon, Pope, along with a large group of boys and officers in his Company organized a swimming party and in several trucks went about three miles out of camp to a large gravel pit that had filled with water, making an ideal pool.

Pvt. Pope drove one of the trucks on their way out, and was not missed until the party was ready to come home. When he failed to show up to drive the truck on the return trip, it was thought that he had been delayed in dressing and that he would return on another truck. The officer in charge drove Pope's truck back to camp where it was discovered that he had not returned on any of the trucks.

A searching party was then sent back to the pool and returned with parts of his clothing and shoes that were identified by Pvt. Rader as being Pope's. A crew was then sent to the pool with boats and drag hooks for the purpose of recovering the body which was not found until 1:35 p. m. Sunday afternoon.

According to Rader, swimming parties were very popular among the boys because of the extreme hot weather which they have had for the past two weeks. Pope was unable to swim, but this was not known by any of the boys in the group. It was said that the pool was very deceiving in that it was very clear and the depth could not be determined from the shore. The pool ranged from 3 to 30 feet in depth, Pope's body being taken from about 25 feet of water when it was found.

The body was taken to a funeral home 30 miles from camp for preparation and then returned to camp for short services before shipment home.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at 2:30, where a large crowd gathered to pay their respect to the first Boone County boy to give his life for his Country in this present emergency. Due to the lenght of time that the body was in the water and an eight hour delay caused by another wrecked train, the casket was not opened here for the purpose of viewing the remains.

RIBBONS—BLUE

What a world of glory will be in those ribbons of blue,
When on Saturday 20 boys and girls are awarded for going through;
"Now Rilla and Robert scrub your teeth and Robert look at your hair!"
"Don't you know that it's near the time for the 4-H Fair?

Marilyn, Helen and Margaret have had their vitamins C, B, and A,
Rilla, Bettie and Della their sunshine every day,
And you can always find Janet, Joy and Charlotte in bed by seven,
Because they know its very bad to wait 'til its 'leven.

Billie, Albert and Gerald keep the old soap dish hot,
So much scrubbing and splashing, its a wonder its ears they've got.
Emma Jane, Elisabeth and Carrol use so very many dresses,
Bennett and Clifford its pants their mother presses.

Scrub and iron, cook and cover,
Why not pin the blue on MOTHER.

ALL-STARS WIN OVER SHOEMEN

STEFFEN PITCHES LOCAL TO TWELVE INNING VICTORY IN ELIMINATION CONTEST—BIG BONE TAKES CLOSE ONE FROM PETERSBURG.

Elmo Steffen, curve and speedball artist, turned in one of the finest exhibitions of base ball pitching ever witnessed in Boone County, when he hurled the local All-Stars to a 1-0, twelve inning victory over Dan Cohen Shoes in a Campbell County League elimination series game Sunday. Only two hits were granted to the Shoemen in the twelve innings of play, and fourteen of Steffen's opponents went down via the strike-out route.

Only two Dan Cohen men got as far as second during the first nine innings of play, and it was not until the twelfth that one of them saw third. Krieling, Cohen third sacker, led off in the final frame with a triple to right that was ba. ly missed being caught. Steffen then fanned the next two batters and got the third on an infield out to keep the Shoemen from scoring.

Meanwhile, The Boone County lads kept pecking away at Koop, the Cohen moundsman. Their inability to hit safely when men were on base is demonstrated by the fact that ten All-Stars were left stranded on the base paths. Most of their ten hits came when two men were out.

Leon Ryle led off in the twelfth for the locals with a line single to center, and was neatly sacrificed to second by Steffen. Gulley was then called into the game in the role of pinch-hitter. He lined out to the center fielder, and after the catch, Ryle broke for third. Ryle was then waved home by the umpire when the throw got through the third baseman and into the crowd. Besides his superb pitching, Steffen led both teams at bat as he got two doubles, a single, a walk, and a sacrifice in five trips to the plate.

The All-Stars still remain in a first-place deadlock with Martz Cardinals and Larry's Log Cabin nine, each team having won four games and lost none in the elimination play. Manager Bob Eades' Boone Countians meet the Bavarian nine next Sunday at the local park.

Big Bone nosed out Petersburg 2-1 in the first elimination game in the Boone County Saturday League. Big Bone tallied in the third and Petersburg tied up the game in the fifth. No more scores were made until the ninth when the victors pushed across their winning score. Howard Ryle was the winning pitcher, while D. Deck was on the mound for the lossers.

Next week Petersburg travels to Hebron, and Big Bone has a bye.

60 FARMERS ARE ELIGIBLE

FOR INSURANCE OFFERED ON '42 WHEAT CROP OF COUNTY GROWERS-CONTRACTS READY NOW AT A. C. OFFICE.

Insurance contracts on the 1942 wheat crops of Boone county farmers are ready to be written by county A. C. office and all the grower needs to do to insure his wheat against all unavoidable hazards is sign the contract authorizing deduction of the premium from AAA payments and indicate his intention of participating in the 1942 program, Mark Cook, county AAA chairman, said today.

Crop insurance, now available on both cotton and wheat, is written by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and is part of the AAA program for balanced agricultural production.

Mr. Cook points out that at least 60 farmers in Boone county are eligible for insurance on their wheat crops and that response to the offer of wheat insurance this year undoubtedly will affect expansion of the crop insurance program to other farm crops in the future.

Although Kentucky is a low risk area where losses rarely occur, premium rates are also lower than in areas where wheat losses are more frequent and more severe. And despite the fact that losses in the State are comparatively low, he said, indemnities were paid on approximately 15 per cent of the wheat insurance contracts written in Kentucky in 1940. These indemnities totalled 8,212 bushels of wheat and were paid on 1941 total or partial loss claims.

Wheat insurance policies were written on 579 crops in 1941 but no report is yet available on this year's crop losses.

Farmers who insure their crops are assured of a yield at least 75 per cent of normal, and the insurance covers damage from all unavoidable hazards such as floods, hail, fire and grasshoppers.

PHILLIP SMITH GETS 21 YEARS

AFTER SHORT DELIBERATION BY JURY THURSDAY—COURT ADJOURNED UNTIL WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20TH.

Phillip Oscar Smith was found guilty on Thursday of last week on the charge of attempted robbery and received a sentence of 21 years in the state reformatory, following a short deliberation by the Petit Jury on Thursday afternoon.

Smith gave his home address as somewhere in Rhode Island, but has been wandering over the country for the last few months. He had a jail record on a few minor drunken charges, the latest being in Newport only a short time ago.

The testimony stated that he followed Joe Berkshire, of Florence an insurance collector, to Berkshire's car parked in front of the White Villa Cafe in Florence on the afternoon of April 21st and as they reached the car Smith made the demand, saying "give me that money or I will kill you or you will kill me." Berkshire had about $158.00 in bills on his person at the time and being near his parked car, he entered his car hastily and sped away.

Berkshire drove to Florence and summond Patrolman Robt Smith and returned to the White Villa Cafe to arrest Smith. He was arrested about 150 yards down the highway, walking toward Covington. No weapons of any kind were found on Smith when he was taken into custody.

The jury finding him guilty of attempted robbery, gave him the least penalty, that of 21 years. The other penalties being life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

Court was dismissed Thursday afternoon until Wednesday, August 20th at which time a few small items will be cleared that could not be handled at present.

WE HAD AN IDEA

If honesty is the best policy why is it so hard to practice it the greatest percentage of the time? A car expert recently made an attempt to find out the proportion of honest garage mechanics throughout the country. There has been much said against repairmen who work on the car and charge for unnecessary and non-existent troubles. So this man started across country in a carefully reconditioned auto. Before entering a town he would disconnect a wire which left about half of the car's cylinders hitting. The man's secretary would drive the car into a nearby garage where any sort of a mechanic would know instantly what was wrong the minute he looked under the hood. It wouldn't take a second to connect the wire and tell the lady that everything was all right. There were 347 garages that were tested and in 129 of them the condition was immediately recognized and fixed with only a small charge or none at all. The other places suggested all sorts of troubles and remedies and cleaning the carburetor and installing a new clutch were among the suggestions. The average charge was $4 for something that 81 mechanics had felt wasn't worth a fee at all! The result of integrity found that mechanics in towns of under 10,000 population were more honest than in the large cities. Most of us here have at some time or another been "taken in" because of our lack of mechanical knowledge. And most of us in Boone County patronize a garage where we know that we are getting fair and honest service.

THEY WANTED TIME

We sit with our fingers crossed and wonder what will be the result of communistic Russia allying herself with democratic England. There are some of our readers who charge that Stalin is no better than Hitler and Russia's past history may give them room for discussion. Perhaps England isn't approving of Russia's past conduct but England is glad of the help Russia can give her in this war. We consider the situation with regard for our own interests, and though it is selfish, it is the principle thought of most America today. To do what is best for the nation is our main concern right now. If you are faced by extreme danger and something came along to divert the attention of your foe, giving you time to gain your strength and fortify your house, you would be glad of the distraction and help, accept the assistance gratefully since it has maybe saved your life. So England considers this Russian alliance. She doesn't stop to argue the ethics and morals of the Russian government. She didn't do it during the first world war when Russia was an ally. England's prayer has been for time. America has asked for time in building, equipping and training. So Russia comes in to battle and give England an answer to her call for time—time—time.

THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER

At a recent convention which met in the interest of home economics with special regards to the farm family, a wardrobe was on display as an outfit for a girl in high school. The cost of it ran to $7.52 for one year. This sample wardrobe with a few changes and alterations, would last for three years, be in style, serve practical needs as well as suit the appearance of the wearer for this period of time. Three years of wear puts the $7.52 rate on the outfit. The garments would be made at home, following simple patterns, using mostly cotton materials, trimming with worn neckties and using spools, corks, nuts and wood chips for buttons. It requires ingenuity and the knack of visualizing, a touch of artistry and a trick with the needle and thread. Women about Boone County have this and if they are members of a family whose net income is $500 a year, they will still see that their daughter of high school age looks as good as the next girl.

FAT AND FORTY

Often a fellow tries to fool himself about his manly figure after he reaches the forty mark. He closes one eye at his mirrored image and considers that he is carrying his weight mighty well for his age. But if he opens both eyes he generally finds that he has lost weight in his arms, legs and shoulders but has put a considerable amount of poundage on his stomach. This fat, they inform us, draws down on the disphragm and thereby an insufficient amount of blood circulates through the vessels of the heart and this leads to angina pectoris which is an increasing heart complaint among older men of today. The solution for men of forty and over is to control this "bay window" or "German Goitre" with a corset, as suggested by a western doctor who has studied the subject of angina pectoris. If you are considering the purchase of a garment for yourself and are loathe to walk into a store to buy one, carefully compute with angles and curves and then swear your wife to secrecy before sending her down to do the shopping for you

WE ALL DO IT

One of the most frequent practices and one which usually escapes our notice yet which is a danger note, is parking the car parallel and then getting out of it on the side opening into the lane of traffic! When you stop to think it over you can remember all sorts of accidents that might have happened to you the many times you have done this very thing. You are running a risk for yourself and you are endangering others as the line of traffic swings hurriedly to one side when your car door opens. That means dodging and danger for another line of travel. By using precaution and observing FIRST before you step out you may safely proceed. But watch the fellow who will park his auto, shut off the motor, open his left-hand door and then BACK OUT of the car without looking around. Sometime traffic may not swing aside and then what?

CUSHION FOR THE FUTURE

"Saving now begins to appear as a super factor of safety," wrote Paul F. Cadman, Economist of the American Bankers Association, recently. "In every instance it comes about either through abstinence or sacrifice or the willingness to conserve. It calls for a conscious and moral effort on the part of the owners and custodians of wealth. The progress of saving . . . will store up purchasing power against the day when defense will have been completed, peace declared, and a new depression will have fallen."

It is to the credit of the bankers of this country that they fully realize this. That realization is back of their current efforts to encourage the public to buy as large a quantity of the new defense stamps and bonds as possible. These securties, which are fully guaranteed by the United States Government, offer the citizen the opportunity to do his individual part to finance defense. They offer him at the same time the opportunity to do his individual part to finance defense. They offer him at the same time the opportunity to place what earnings and capital he can spare into an investment which provides the highest attainable degree of safety. And they offer him the chance to build up a cushion against the possible economic shocks of the unpredictable future.

Plans, highly theoretical for the most part, have already been laid for preventing depression when the wars end. But, if the lessons of the past have any bearing whatever on the present, the coming of peace will bring with it tremendous economic dislocations and problems of one kind or another. The money we are able to store up now will come in mighty handy then. The banks, in cooperation with the Federal Treasury, are doing a job that has to be done.

YOUR HELP WANTED

The stock fire insurance industry, through its non-profit organization, the National Board of Fire Underwriters, is doing a vital job in fighting that ever-present menace to defense production—fire.

Immediately following the President's announcement of an unlimited national emergency, the National Board passed this resolution: "Whereas the National Board in September, 1939, tended its services and facilities for the purpose of aiding the government in the emergency then existing; and again at its annual meeting in May 1940, reaffirmed this offer, and is at present time engaged in giving such service to both the War and Navy Departments, now therefore be it resolved, that in respect of the unlimited national emergency just proclaimed by the President of the United States, we re affirm our desire to extend our best services and facilities of the Federal Government in carrying out the program of National Defense Through Fire Defense to the end that we may aid the nation in minimizing hazard of fire, not only on government operations, but in connection with industrial activity, and, in respect of the nation as a whole, pledging our best efforts toward the development and conservation of the resources of the nation."

That formal resolution covers an activity that must be carried thru to success—and that must be given the active aid of every citizen. One big step in safeguarding America is to fireproof America. We must prevent the little fires as well as the big fires. We must realize that every fire wastes materials, money, resources, labor, time.

The tremendous increase in industrial activity caused by the defense program breeds great fire hazards. It presents the saboteur and the arsonist with fruitful opportunities to block and to delay the arms drive. The superb organization of the National Board is working full-time and over-time to fight these menaces. Give it all the help you can.

THE WRITER OF HEBREWS EXPLAINS THE NEW COVENANT

LESSON TEXT—Hebrews 9:11-22.
GOLDEN TEXT—Being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him.—Hebrews 5:9.

The infinite superiority of the Lord Jesus Christ, in both person and work, is a theme which the writer of Hebrews presented to encourage Hebrew Christians who were suffering much for their faith (Heb. 10:32) and were being tempted to turn these back to Judaism (Heb. 2:1; 3:12). His purpose was not only to stem the tide of unbelief and discouragement, but to urge them to go on to better things (6:1-3) because of the better covenant under which they had come as believers in Christ.

The portion of the chapter before us deals with the heart of the matter in presenting the sacrifice of Christ as being superior to all the sacrifices of the Old Testament. The verses are somewhat difficult to outline, but the following, adapted in a measure from Dr. W. H. Griffith Thomas, will be helpful.

I. The Ministry of Christ—a Better Ministry (vv. 11-14).

Every act of worship calls for a sanctuary and a worshiper. Under the old covenant the Jews were familiar with the tabernacle into which their priests went daily, and the holy of holies into which the high priest went once a year with the blood of goats and bulls; but now under the new covenant they had

1. A Better Priest and Sanctuary (v. 11).

No longer do we need the mediating priesthood of a fellow man set apart for that office, for Christ Himself has become a High Priest and is the "one mediator between God and men" (I Tim. 2:5), yet He is not one "who cannot be touched with the feelings of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Heb. 4:15).

2. A Better Sacrifice and Blessing (v 12).

The blood of Christ, the perfect and final sacrifice for sin, resulted in a once-for-all solution of the sin problem and provided the blessing of eternal redemption.

3. A Better Result (vv. 13, 14).

The sacrifices of the Mosaic ritual had an outward result. They "removed ceremonial disabilities, they restored the unclean to fellowship, they kept the chosen people in covenant relation with God." They "did sanctify and cleanse the flesh; how much more the blood of Christ" (Moorehead). His sacrifice gave spiritual cleansing, the cleansing of the "conscience from dead works to serve the living God" (v. 14).

II. The Ministry of Christ—an Efficacious Ministry (vv. 15-22).

This ministry of our High Priest, Christ, is well characterized by the word "efficacious," which means "having the effective energy to produce an effect." He came into the world "to save sinners" (I Tim. 1:15), and He did it. We note

1. The Power of the New Ministry (v. 15).

The surrender of Christ even unto death gives validity and efficacy to the new covenant. "All the transgressions of the old covenant had been treasured up; the death of Christ gave satisfaction to all that that covenant could claim, and brought release. So the Mediator of the new covenant begins an entirely new economy, with sin put away by the sacrifice of Himself, and an open path to the beginning of a new life in the favor and power of God" (Andrew Murray).

2. The Guarantee of the New Ministry (vv. 16, 17).

Speaking of our redemption as an eternal inheritance (v. 15) naturally leads to the thought that a testament or will does not become effective until the death of the testator. God has "blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ: according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world" (Eph. 1:3, 4). He has bequeathed all that to us, and the bequest is made certain by His death. That means that not only our salvation, but "everything we have had, even our temporal mercies, are a part of those purchased and bequeathed blessings; everything is sanctified by the precious death of our Lord Jesus Christ.

3. The Confirmation of the New Ministry (vv. 18-22).

The shedding of blood on Calvary's tree for the remission of sin was not a new or strange thing. The proof for that is given by referring to all of the old covenant procedure for the cleansing of the sinner. How was it brought about? Through blood. In that Old Testament covenant it was the blood of goats and bulls, not sufficient to perfectly cleanse the spirit of man nor give him once-for-all remission, but nonetheless a type of the better sacrifice of the Lamb of God.

Then "let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering (for he is faithful that promised.)" (Heb. 10:23).

RETAIL MILK PRICES INCREASE

THROUGHOUT NORTHERN KENTUCKY AND OHIO—ONE CENT INCREASE SEEN AS CERTAIN.

The retail price of milk probably will remain at 12 cents a quart across the counter and 13 cents delivered, it appeared Saturday, following reports that a one-cent reduction might take place because at least one large outlet did not hike the price this week.

Most retailers put the one-cent increase into effect last Monday following an agreement by which milk producers were to receive more money. Some retail outlets did not increase the price and this resulted in a very unstable market condition, it was said.

During the last two days there were reports that in order to stabilize the market, all retailers would revert to the former price, but reliable reports indicate that Monday morning the retailers who have not yet conformed to the increased price would announce that they would do so.

A Day Of Interest Spent In Cincinnati

On Thursday, August 7th a group of twenty-six Homemakers and friends visited business places in Cincinnati.

The women left Burlington in a truck at 9 A. M. The first stop was at the Frank Tea & Spice Co., where we were very courteously received. We were first taken to the recreation room in which there is a splendid display, all imported and domestic spices, herbs and olives were arranged in groups around a very large atlas, strings extended from the spices to the places on the map in which they are raised and from where imported. We then were divided into two groups, each with a guide and shown thru the several plants. We saw many things here, the making of mustard, grinding spices, olive jars being boiled in huge copper boilers. We saw jars and jars of peanuts—and incidently helped ourselves—We saw the peanuts picked over by hand, then vacuum cleaned and the hearts taken out before grinding into butter. The grinding is done between immense stones from which jars are filled automatically.

The imported spices come in interesting packages. The containers are very large and made of grasses, they are called "flails." This company makes the containers used for the spices the caps used on the glass jars and does the printing also, all of which we were shown. On leaving here each was presented with a package, containing jars of Jumbo Peanut Butter, a box of pepper and a recipe book.

The next place visited was WLW. Here we saw Howard Chamberlain do the announcing, we heard and saw Jimmy Fiddler give his "Weather Report," and heard Paul Arnold sing "Silver Threads Among the Gold" after the broadcast lunch was in order. We went to the WLW cafeteria and as it was after 1 o'clock food was in demand.

After lunch the next stop was the Kroger Food Foundation, we were graciously welcomed here. Assembled in a combined reception and dining room we were given a brief outline of what we were to see then we were invited into the Foundation kitchen, which is very modernly and conveniently equipped and served Wescola and cookies.

The economist in charge explained the work done there, she told of their experimenting, trying to find substitutes for spices, of which there is such a shortage on account of the war. We were then taken thru the building by a young man who explained in detail the many things which are done there. Instruments for testing the pouring of catsup were shown to us. It is used to get a catsup which will pour evenly, in order that it can readily be handled by children. In one of the rooms test rats are kept, also dogs and cats which are fed their dog food. The dogs and cats never having been out of the building—On leaving here each was given a coupon for a lb. of coffee.

The last visit was to the Tasty Bread Baking co., on one of Cincinnati's seven hills, here we saw bread and bread and more bread baked—we saw an immense room filled with very large, oblong vats. The vats contained great batches of "sponge", we saw the sponge made into dough, the dough into bread, each loaf is made of two long pieces of dough twisted around each other, but the loaf after cut does not show the twist. The prepared loaves are put into an oven 110 feet long by 15 feet wide—goes in at a temperature of 500 degrees and one can see into the oven all along the side as the bread is carried thru, it takes 28 minutes from the time it is put in until it comes out finished at the far end, the oven then is 400 degrees. The bread is then put into a cooling room for an hour or two before it is sliced and wrapped by machines.

Our guide was very accomadating and patiently answered the many questions the women asked. He generously gave each of us a loaf of bread as we left.

The day for the tour was pleasant, the places visited were interesting and the ladies not too tired to enjoy the ride home.

Sheep Protective Association Hold Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Boone County Sheep Protective Association will be held at Burlington at 1:00 P. M. on Saturday, September 6th, according to H. E. White, president.

The board of directors will meet Friday, August 29th, at 1:00 P. M., to approve claims for all sheep losses incurred during the year by members.

The County Association on September 1st will have completed its third successful year of operation. Sheep losses from dogs have been remarkably low compared with former years. The Association offers its service to all sheepmen of the county. Membership fees are low and at the same time the Association has built up a strong reserve. Those desiring membership should join by the September meeting as the cost of protection is the same wheather it is one month or the full twelve months period from September 1st to the next September 1st.

DARING DEATH
Is What You Do If You Take Chances by Not Having Your Wheels Balanced.
Hundreds of cases are reported every year of accidents resulting from unbalanced wheels, which set up such a violent shimmy or shake that the car gets out of control.

Unbalanced wheels cause tiresome driving, wear out the front end bearrings prematurely and they are dangerous.
Unbalanced wheels are caused by changing tires—uneven wear of tread—addition of patches—improper mounting of tires—loss of balance weights. YOUR WHEELS SHOULD BE CHECKED REGULARLY.
Prepare your car for safer and more pleasant driving by coming into our Wheel Balancing Department and having your wheels checked and balanced. It can be done in a short time and the cost is small.

The Foot Comfort Counselor

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLES SHOE STORE
Where Foot Comfort Begins
9th and Madison Covington

The average person takes about twenty thousand steps a day. That's nearly eight miles, so good feet are necessary to you too.

To show you how important they are, let's renew a little anatomy. The human skeleton contains 208 bones. Each of your feet is made up of twenty-six bones. In both feet . . . fifty-two bones, or one fourth of all the bones in your body. Nature meant your foundation to be a pretty important part of you. When your feet hurt, you hurt all over because your nervous system, like a telephone system, is all inter-related.

When you cramp nerves in your feet, the pain may be felt by reflex nerve action at knees, hips, and even in your back. For instance, there's a story told about a certain famous doctor whose patient complained of a shoulder pain. The doctor could find nothing wrong with the shoulder so he asked the patient to sit down and take off her shoes. He then proceeded to manipulate the delicate bones of her feet, much to the lady's disguest. Said she, "There must be something wrong with you doctor, my feet don't hurt, it's my shoulder."

To which the doctor replied, "Yes madam, but when you step on a dog's tall, which ends barks."—Adv.

ISN'T IT A RELIEF — by Elec

IT'S A FACT! The cost of food and other essentials is going up, due to circumstances beyond the control of your local merchants, but there's one item in the cost of living—electricity—that not only defies this trend but actually costs less today than ever before. Year by year, the unit cost of electricity has come down until today the average customer of this company receives 53% more electricity for his money than he did in 1931. The dollars you spend for food, clothing and other necessities are steadily shrinking in value, but your electric dollar buys more today than it ever did.

REA SHOW TO FEATURE DAIRY DEMONSTRATION

Higher prices earned through the production of better and purer milk, and the elimination of loss through spoilage, can result from methods to be demonstrated at the big REA Farm Electric Equipment Show. Opening at 7:00 p. m. on September 8, 1941 for a two-day stand, the show will be staged by the Rural Electrification Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Kentucky Extension Service national manufacturers, local dealers, and the Owen County Rural Cooperative with 2550 members in Owen and eight nearby counties. All are cooperating to make this the biggest event in the history of the local rural electric system.

More stringent regulations in the fluid milk market and stricter requirements of the dairy processors today compel improvements on the dairy farm, More and more the number of dollars on the milk check depends on the use of efficient modern equipment. Small sterilizers, to be demonstrated at the REA show, provide a quick, easy and economical means to proper sanitary measures.

Hand-power and irregular speed on the cream separator have given way to constant speed electric motors that extract more cream of a higher test than could be taken from milk under old conditions. A small one-can milk cooler, designed to meet specific farmer needs, will be a feature of the showing of coolers of all sizes, including walk-in boxes and quick-freezing storage. Even the modern farm home refrigerator has space for the cream can or several dozen eggs. Even such devices as the electric insect trap contribute to higher income in dairy production.

The demonstrations of the REA home economist, assisted by Victoria Harris, show home economist; will produce new and attractive foods from the electric refrigerator. She will point out that the refrigerator is a year-round necessity for the safe and dependable storage of food. She will tell farm women what to look for in selecting a refrigerator, how to take care of it, and how to use it in the preparation of meals. Highlights of her demonstration will be the economic contribution of the electric refrigerator in the farm home.

In this largest of traveling electrical exhibits, farmers will see feed grinding demonstrations using feed crops supplied by members of the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative. In the irrigation demonstration, D. W. Teare, show manager, will tell farmers how they can make the home garden produce more crops without additional labor.

The big auditorium tent will seat some 1,500 people for the demonstrations and the equally large exhibit tent will house 38 exhibits of farm and home electrical equipment. Smaller tents and trailers will bring to this community additional displays of new electrical appliances.

Until the lines of the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative reached the farm homes in Owen and nearby counties, labor-saving and income - producing electric power was not available. Now the farm home, electrified, can be a modern efficient plant with electric power. The Show will give them first hand information on how to use this new servant.

MILLION BUSHELS OF PEACHES; BEST CROP SINCE 1931

A million-bushel peach crop, the largest and best crop since 1931, is being harvested in Kentucky, says a statement from the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The Red Bird and June Elbertas already have been picked, and other varieties are ripening. The harvesting of the big crop will continue through July and August.

W. W. Magill of the horticulture department of the college says the commercial crop in the Henderson district will be at least 300,000 bushels. This district includes the counties of Henderson, Union, Hopkins, Webster and Daviess. He believes an equal amount of peaches will be picked in the Paducah district, which includes McCracken, Graves, Ballard, Hickman, Fulton, Carlisle, Livingston and Trigg counties.

In the Bowling Green district Mr. Magill puts the commercial production of peaches at 100,000 bushels. This district includes Warren, Allen, Monroe, Simpson, Barren, Christian and Caldwell counties. Jefferson, Bullitt, Shelby Oldham, Trimble and Nelson counties, comprising the Louisville district, should have a commercial crop of about 80,000 bushels, according to Mr. Magill. For the Northern Kentucky counties of Campbell, Kenton, Gallatin, Bracken and Grant he estimates a production of 50,000 bushels; and for the Eastern Kentucky counties of Johnson, Pike, Pulaski, Fleming, Harlan and Perry, he puts the production at 40,000 bushels. Some commercial peaches are produced in other counties, while home orchards from which few or no peaches are sold will add to the production, Mr. Magill pointed out.

ALWAYS REMEMBEER:

That sour milk can be used just the same as sweet milk if one third teaspoon of soda is added to each cup of sour milk. Use baking powder just as though you were using the milk sweet . . . . That varnish applied over a painted wall will protect it and also make it easier to wash. Use a light, clear, thin varnish for the purpose . . . , That hot lemons yield about twice as much juice as cold ones. Heat the lemons until hot to the touch, cut immediately and then squeeze.

SPECIAL EVENTS AT FREE FAIR

miums and ribbons are available in each division.

The new garden vegetables will be arrayed to compete for ribbons and a table lamp. This is the Homemaker's chance to show her neighbor how she has added variety to her menu as well as her garden plan.

The canning exhibit of fruits and vegetables should be one of the largest in fair history. County and club demonstrations have increased interest in beautiful canned products. The "Live at Home" program has encourged the use of canning budgets so many more foods have been canned this year. The premiums and ribbons offered in this show are desirable.

OPEN CLASS

Attention is here called to the open class exhibits which may be entered by anyone. Premiums are attractive in this division also. Everyone is urged to get out the quilts and select the best cotton patchwork and cotton applique and bring to the fair. This display will really be a large sample of painstaking Boone County handiwork.

A summer flower show at the fair will call to mind the successful tulip show held last spring. There are many colorful flowers blooming new, both of the garden and field varieties. Bring them in. Arrange artistically and compete for these ribbons and premiums. There is also an open class entry for largest variety of garden vegetables. Even through the hot weather many things have survived. Bring what you have and "swell" the show and you may "swell" your purse too.

Remember this is your fair and county picnic. Let's all render our full support and be there. Help make the 1941 event the best on record. Come bring your dinner or eat on the grounds—rub shoulders with old friends—meet new ones.

Cook Reunion

Sunday, August 10th, the descendants of the late Theo W. and Odelia Grasser Cook to the fifth generation held their annual reunion at the beautiful colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. John Klopp and daughter Miss Gladys. This grand old farm over looking the beautiful Ohio and opposite Aurora is an ideal spot for an occasion like this. Mr. Klopp is the oldest grand child of the deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Cook, and his wife and daughter are truly typical Kentucky host and hostess, nothing is left undone on their part to make each guest welcome and comfortable at the noon hour many were the baskets and boxes that were unpacked of everything good to eat and the long tables weighted with food prepared by the ladies present were really tempting and inviting.

The host invited all to gather around the tables, and Capt. Ed. Maurer of Louisville offered prayer and thanks in a very impressive and beautiful manner. Mr. Maurer is also a native of Boone County. After an enjoyable afternoon spent in pleasant conversation and reviving memories and renewing relationship with uncles, aunts and cousins, the happy group departed for their homes in several states hoping to meet again at the 2nd Sunday in August, 1942. THE BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

VOLUME 66 — BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1941 — NUMBER 12

BOONE COUNTY IS SELECTED

FOR PROPOSED NATIONAL DEFENSE AIRPORT—FIELD SAID TO BE NEARER FOUNTAIN SQUARE THAN ANY OTHER.

The proposed new airport which has been under survey here for the past month, may become a reality soon, it was learned Monday, as the Boone County site is being seriously considered by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The survey for the mile square field was completed several days ago and was submitted to A. H. Wait, Regional Airport Engineer for C. A. A. last Tuesday. The survey was made in two-foot contours by the Kentucky Highway Department Engineers, which will enable engineers to estimate the exact cost of grading the site for a class four airport, which is the highest type airport in the United States.

The proposed site, located on the east side of the Youell Road, near the Boone-Kenton line, is said to be nearer Fountain Square and the downtown section of Cincinnati, than any other proposed airport location on the north side of the Ohio river. It has an elevation of 900 feet above sea level and has no hazards, natural or artificial, to contact or blind flying.

If the Boone County site is selected it is understood that an Army Air Force squadron or group will be based on it and that aviation industries may be established in the vicinity.

The Kentucky Aeronautics Commission, of which Albert H. Near, superintendent of Bowman Field, Louisville, is Chairman, has been cooperating with Covington groups in submitting the Boone County site for consideration of the CAA.

Northern Kentucky businessmen and industrialists Monday night planned an allout campaign for the Boone County airport. They stressed the fact that it is close enough to Cincinnati to be made the leading commercial airport of the Ohio Valley area. Freeing of Ohio River bridges connecting Kentucky with Cincinnati, scheduled for late this year, would remove the last obstacle to establishment of the airport, they pointed out.

Location of the airport in Boone County would open a large area for industrial and residential development, it was explained.

Mr and Mrs. William Rudicill returned home Monday, after spending several days visiting Carl Rudicill, at Ft Belvoir, Va. They report a splendid trip and stated that they visited Washington, D. C., and many other points of interest.

16 HOMEMAKERS REPRESENT CO.

IN DISTRICT STYLE TRENDS MEETING HELD BY MISS IRIS DAVENPORT, SPECIALIST AT COPPINS, AUG. 19TH.

Boone County Homemakers were represented by 16 Clothing leaders at the District Style Trends meeting held by Miss Iris Davenport, Specialist, University of Kentucky, at Coppins in Covington on Tuesday, August 19.

This lesson will be reviewed for local organizations at the regular September meetings. Every Homemaker will want to attend these sessions and many non-members will be welcome to the clubs. The fall style trends are interesting, especially in the face of increasing prices on clothing and limited materials because of defense industries. Miss Davenport recommends short cuts to remodeling of the clothing on hand. Simple lines and plainer designs make the bringing "up-to-date" a matter of a little thought and effort. Miss Davenport brings style trends to the Homemakers in early spring and fall as a practical help in their clothing program.

Those who attended were Mrs. Alan Gaines, Walton; Mrs. J. G. Bedinger, Walton; Mrs. W. D. Abdon and Mrs. Sam Sleet, New Haven; Mrs Raymond Beacom and Mrs. Elizabeth Morehead, Taylorsport; Mrs. Walter Renaker, Verona; Mrs. D. M. Pope and Mrs. J. C. Aylor, Hebron; Miss Johnnie Mae Terrill and Mrs Lawrence Chambers, Petersburg; Mrs. J. R. Williams and Mrs. D. L. Tanner, Florence; Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Sub. Home Demonstration Agent.

BUS CHARTERED TO TRANSPORT PERSONS TO CONVENTION SUN.

A chartered bus will leave Florence Christian Church Sunday morning, August 31 at 9:30 a. m. for Burlington to transport persons desiring to attend the County Christion Church Convention. Bring a basket and enjoy the day.

NAVY TO ACCEPT QUALIFIED MEN

FOR TRAINING—WILL BE OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG MEN TO SERVE THEIR COUNTRY AND BUILD A FUTURE.

At the suggestion of Secretary of Navy Knox, A. E. Stephens of The Recorder has been made Navy Editor, to help the Navy in giving ambitious local young men information about the opportunities the "Two-Ocean Navy" offers them for technical training and advancement as they serve their country in its emergency.

According to an announcement made public in Washington, a limited number of additional men between the ages of 17 and 50 will be given a chance, by enlistment in the Navy or Naval Reserve, to get to the top, with big pay, in jobs which by their aptitude and as a result of examination they show themselves fitted, from among nearly 50 different trades and vocations. These include such calling as aviation machinist, dental technician, photographer, diesel engineer, radio technician, electrician, welder, storekeeper, and baker. Enlisted men may also qualify for commissions as officers.

Beginning this week, the Navy plans for a limited time to accept new qualified men for training. These men will be sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and may have a chance to go to a Naval Trade School even before assignment to the fleet. During this period they will be given regular Navy pay and the Navy's free schooling is valued at hundreds of dollars.

"Never in the history of the United States has there been greater opportunity for loyal young Americans to serve their country and build their futures than right now," said Secretary Knox.

In outlining the many advantages offered by enlistment in the United States Navy, Mr. Stephens Navy Editor of The Recorder said, "It is possible for a bright young man to increase his pay seven times during his first enlistment and he can earn as much as $126 a month. This monthly figure is actually worth much more when it is remembered that the man has few living expenses and is provided with the finest of medical and dental care.

"You have all your food and lodging, and also your original outfit of clothing provided by Uncle Sam free," Mr. Stephens continued. "In addition there are free sports and entertainment—even to the latest Hollywood pictures. On top of this you get free travel and adventure in colorful places—a thing few civilians can afford.

"When you consider the size of this country and the fact that the Navy will select only 15,000 applicants a month from many times that number throughout the United States, the quotation, 'Many are called but few are chosen,' will apply to local young men interested.

"Navy men are a 'hand-picked' lot. Candidates must be men of more than average intelligence and ambition, of fine moral character and must have the written recommendation of at least two local townspeople."

As Navy Editor, Mr. Stephens has just received from Washington a supply of free illustrated booklets for all men interested and, in addition, will welcome inquiries from young men who wish to look into the new and greater opportunities the Navy now offers for training for future civilian careers as they serve their country now in its emergency.

LOCAL NINE EDGED OUT

FOR FIRST DEFEAT IN FIVE STARTS IN ELIMINATION CONTESTS — PETERSBURG WINS OVER HEBRON SATURDAY.

The Boone County All Stars suffered their first setback in the Campbell County Semipro League elimination play as they were nosed out 5-3 by the Bavarian team in a well-played game at the Burlington park, Sunday. The local semipros were trying for their fifth consecutive win when their opponents, fighting with their backs to the wall after two previous losses, came from behind to overcome a three-run lead and edge out the favored-to-win Boone Countians.

In the second frame Henry Deck drew a walk and scored on a double by Ryle, who also came into score as Clore collected a timely single. Hitzfield opened the third with a base knock and crossed home base on a sacrifice by Mahan and a hit by Sebree to give the home team a 3-0 lead. The Bavarians knotted the score in the sixth and tallied their winning run in the seventh, as the locals were unable to advance their base runners to the tally mark. Free passes to first by bases on balls and a hit batsman helped the Bavarians get their final run. Steffen struck out 13, while allowing seven hits and giving six bases on balls, as his teammates collected four walks and eight hits off Brunned, hurler for the Bavarians. Hebe Deck collected the longest hit of the game, a triple.

The All-Stars will meet Dan Cohen Shoes, Sunday at the local park with only six of the original twelve teams remaining in the contest.

Petersburg journeyed to Hebron Saturday to hand Hebron a 11-8 setback in the second round of elimination contests in the County League. Though out-hit 10-7 the Petersburg nine made their base knocks count as they collected three triples and took advantage of costly errors made behind the pitching efforts of Wilbur Aylor, hurler for Hebron. D. Deck was on the mound for the winners as his teammates led all the way.

Petersburg holds a bye Saturday as Hebron travels to Big Bone in the third round of elimination contests.

COLUMNIST WILL ADDRESS ALUMNI

AT MEETING SET SEPTEMBER 6 AT BURLINGTON SCHOOL—TANDY ELLIS IS NOTED HUMORIST.

James Tandy Ellis, author of the famed newspaper column, "Tang of the South" which ran in the Louisville Times and Cincinnati Times-Star for fifteen years, nationally known lecturer and publicity director of the Kentucky State Highway Department, will deliver one of his highly entertaining addresses to the members of the Burlington High School alumni association and friends of the Burlington school at the sixth annual alumni banquet Saturday evening, Sept. 6, at the Burlington school building. The banquet dinner will be served at 8:15 p. m. and a business session of the association will begin promptly at 7:15 o'clock.

Members of the association executive committee feels that they are fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Ellis whose lectures and addresses are of humorous nature and his Negro songs and stories with banjo have given him the reputation of being the truest interpreter of Negro humor in America.

A recent newspaper clipping from the Greensburg, Ind., Daily News had the following to say about Mr. Ellis: "Never before in Greensburg has there been an after-dinner speaker whose stories and songs, whose witticisms, were so welcomed. The speaker captured his audience from the start and held them."

All members of the association are urged to attend this banquet and help revive the spirit of your alma mater. Patrons of the community are invited to attend.

Price of banquet tickets will be sixty cents for both members and non-members. This will also include your dues for the coming year. Send your reservations to Miss Lucille Cotton, secretary, Burlington, Ky., and your ticket will await you at the door. (Reservations must be in before Wednesday, September 3.) You may also secure tickets from members of the ticket sale committee. Members of this committee are Mrs. Roscoe Akin, Mrs. Chester Goodridge, Jas. Lee McNeely, Mrs. Kirtley Cropper and Harold K. Clore.

Officers of the alumni group are William Ryle Presser, class of 1940, president; Ralph G. Maurer, class of 1933, vice president; Donald Kirk class of 1935, second vice-president; Lucille Cotton, class of 1928, secretary and Dorotha Ryle, class of 1926, treasurer.

Local Breeder Sells Prize Stock

Jesse Wilson of Verona, last summer sold two fine Jersey heifers to Floyd Gibbons, of Morefield, Ind., for 4-H Club work. These heifers placed first and second in the 4-H Club class the past week at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Fair, the first prize heifer winning the open class championship.

The heifers are sired by the Boone County Jersey Bull Association Sire, Fairy Queen's Design No. 48204, and are granddaughters of the Association bull sired by Golden Glow Meadow Lad, 2607020, which is a proven sire and a son of a proven sire. A son of the latter bull sold by Mr. Wilson placed second at the Lawrenceburg Fair.

Boone County has long had a reputation for fine Jersey cattle. We are glad to see this reputation live on through county bred cattle that are outstanding both in show type and in production.

Plans are being made for the opening of the county schools Monday, September 8th. The time schedule for opening and closing will be announced to the pupils at school on the opening day. On opening day all buses should complete their runs for the opening of school at 9:00 o'clock Eastern Time. The permanent schedule will be planned and announced on the opening day.

Arrangements have been made to take care of the high school pupils living in the Hamilton district as follows: Those living on the east side of Gunpowder Creek will go to New Haven. "We solicit the cooperation of all school patrons in an effort to make this the best school year in the history of Boone County," D. H. Norris, Superintendent of Boone County Schools said.

EARN 100 PER CENT IN PROGRAM

URGED IN SOIL BUILDING PRACTICES BY H. R. FORKNER COUNTY AGENT—FAILURE TO DO SO MEANS LESS PROFITS.

Boone County farmers should act immediately to carry out 100 percent of their 1941-42 AAA soil building practice allowances, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Failure to earn 100 percent of the allowance means failure to make most profitable use of soil improvement possibilities in farming.

Preliminary reports indicate that farmers earned less of their 1940-41 allowance for the year closing July 1st than they did in the two previous years. Failure to reach previous accomplishments was due first to the seasonal effect of the ten-month year in changing the year from August 31st to June 30. Second, failure of farmers to check up on their allowance earnings and third to take fuller advantages of grant-of-aid materials, such as limestone and phosphate.

This year farmers have a golden opportunity to earn most of their allowances during the early fall. Farmers can secure Grant-of-Aid delivery of limestone, phosphate and vetch seed. Both phosphate and vetch are available at much lower rates than they can be purchased. Farmers may pile their own rock and have them crushed in many instances cheaper than the ground stone is supplied as grant-of-aid. In any instance the farmer can secure between 80 and 100 percent of his soil building allowance in the form of limestone, phosphate or vetch in lieu of cash payments when the practices are carried out.

Farmers are urged to act now. Now is the ideal time to seed vetch, apply limestone or phosphate. These materials may all be much harder to get next year.

Six Men In Call For September 8th

The first September call for six men was received here this week by Courtney Kelly, Clerk of the Local Draft Board, which will bring the total for the county to seventy men in army service, under the Selective Service Act.

Part of the September call will be composed of boys who registered July 1st this year, and for this reason the names of the men were not available this week.

Mr. Kelly stated that he did not have ay report on the physical examinations on all the youths who registered in July and until these reports were obtained, the September call could not be completed.

BANKS WILL BE CLOSED THROUGHOUT COUNTY MON.

Monday, September 1st is Labor Day and a legal holiday. All banks throughout the county will be closed on that day.

Riley, Promotional Secretary of the Kentucky Female Orphans School at Midway, Ky., will describe the progress of the school as well as cover activities at the Widows and Orphans Home in Louisville in the absence of J. E. Catron, Secretary of the Home who will unavoidably be deterred from being present. As usual Mr. Riley expects to bring some of the girls from the school to offer a song service.

All the ministers of the Christian Churches of the County are taking part in the program with Rev. R. H. Carter of the Florence Christian Church delivering the sermon in the morning.

CARD OF THANKS

Bakersfield, Calif.
Aug. 21, 1941.

Dear Recorder:

May we express, through your columns our sincere thanks for sympathy extended us by friends and relatives in our recent sorrow, the death of our beloved husband and father

J. H. Walton

We also include those of East Bend Church and others who sent him cards before his death. He enjoyed having them read to him and expressed a desire to reply to them, but was physically unable to do so.

We cannot write to all, but please know that we appreciate your loving words and kind messages, and may be able sometime to thank each personally, as in these days of chaos and calamity, our thoughts dwell on the quiet and security of our old Kentucky Home.

Our neighbors and friends here were very fond of "Grandad Walton," as he was affectionately called by young and old, who tenderly ministered to him in his illness, but he never forgot his friends in Kentucky, but spoke of them often. He also took a keen interest in current affairs and deplored the suffering and death caused by war.

We feel he has passed into the peace and joy with Him who said, "I will give you rest," and of whose love and mercy he was ever ready to bear testimony. We sorrow for him, but not as those who have no hope.

Love and best wishes to all.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JOHN URGES CHRISTIAN LOVE

LESSON TEXT—I John 3:13-18; 4:7-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.—I John 3:18.

Love is a word so abused in modern speech that one almost hesitates to use it, and yet it stands for the very finest in all human relationships, and presents to us the very essence of the nature of God. We do well to redefine the meaning of love in our Sunday school classes this next Sunday. Love is not that sentimental, "wishy-washy" feeling which prompts the writing of emotional ballads, which are (like the supposed love of which they speak) "here today and gone tomorrow." Nor is it that lustful thing which now parades itself shamelessly as love, when it is nothing but animal passion. Nor is it that weak thing which totalitarian dictators make it out to be when they declare that to attain, a people must hate, not love.

"Love is a desire for and delight in the welfare of another." It reaches out to all mankind, coming from God and being manifested in the gift of His Son as our Saviour. It is stronger than any earthly bonds. It is able to bear unbelievable burdens; yes, because He loved us Christ bore the sins of the whole world on Calvary. It expresses itself in courtesy, in high standards of life, and in sacrifice. Love is, as Henry Drummond put it, "the greatest thing in the world." Read I Corinthians 13 for Paul's exalted description of love.

Our lesson reveals two important facts about love—

I. Love Is an Evidence of Regeneration (I John 3:13-18).

There are two groups of people, the saved and the unsaved. The unsaved in Scripture are designated as "the world," meaning, not the physical world, but the world of unregenerate men who are against our God and His Christ. The saved are those who have come to God in Christ, who love Him and are in the center of His love. That love is, according to John, an evidence that we know God. There is an interesting contrast here.

1. The World Hates and Kills (vv. 13-15).

Today the wicked heart of man apart from Christ is revealed in the tragic events which have embroiled the whole world in conflict.

The point is that we as Christians should not be surprised if that kind of a world hates us. In fact, we should be troubled if it does not hate us, for if our Christianity means anything, it must be utterly distasteful to a world driven by hatred and the lust for blood.

2. The Christian Loves and Gives (vv. 14, 16-18).

The mark of a Christian is love for God and love for the brethren. That love demonstrates its genuineness by giving freely to meet the need of a brother, just as God freely gave His Son for our redemption. (cf. James 2:14-17).

The background of such an attitude is a proper understanding of our relationship to God, and an appreciation of His nature.

II. The Very Nature of God Is Love (I John 4:7-21).

God not only loves, but He is love.

1. God Is Love (vv. 7, 8).

"Love is the very essence of His moral nature. He is the source of all love" (R. A. Torrey). Only the one who knows God as love knows Him at all.

There is much thoughtless and meaningless talk about the love of God, as though it meant that He is careless about enforcing His divine law, that somehow He will overlook and excuse careless and wicked living. The fact is that the love of God has no real meaning unless it is understood in the light of the cross, for

2. God's Love Is Manifested in Christ (vv. 9-16).

He was sent as the giver of eternal life, the propitiation for our sins, our Saviour, and thus as the highest and deepest expression of God's love. Faith in Christ (v. 15) puts the believer in the very center of the love of God. Precious hiding place!

3. Love Casts Out Fear (vv. 17-19).

Fellowship is impossible in an atmosphere of fear, but love rules fear out. In Christ we realize that God first loved us, and then our hearts go out to Him in a warmth of devotion which brings us so close to Him that all fear is gone. The result of such fellowship with God follows, for

4. He Who Loves God Loves His Brother (vv. 20, 21).

If a man loves God, he will obey Him, and His command, which to the Christian is, "Love your brother." That is "the first and great commandment" (Matt. 22:36-40; Deut. 6:5; Luke 10:25-28). There is no use in our talking about loving God if we have no love for the brethren, for in doing so we make God testify against us that we are liars (v. 20).

The Blood Stream

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLES SHOE STORE
Where Foot Comfort Begins
9th and Madison Covington

The bloom stream has several important functions. For instance it feeds the tissues from the products of digestion; it carries away waste matter and it aids in equalizing the temperature and the water content of the body.

Blood is not just plain fluid, but has two parts. A yellowish fluid called PLASMA, in which float solid particles called corpuscles. Then there are three kinds of corpuscles; red corpuscles; white corpuscles, and blood platelets. The red corpuscles are the oxygen carriers of the body. The white corpuscles are the protectors of the body and multiply at a great rate of speed, In other words, the white corpuscles enable the body to resist infections and throw off contagious disease.

Friends, now that we understand how important a part our blood stream plays in the health of our entire body, it is easy to see that we should be careful not to choke or cramp this blood stream in any way.

When you cramp blood vessels and shut off blood supply to any part of the foot, every school physiology book tells us that you not only deprive it of the food it should have to keep healthy, but the slower blood stream cannot clear away waste matter as it should. We find chemical deposits form at the joints of the feet and the legs and then inflamation develops leading to pain and discomfort that makes you miserable all over. These symptoms are often mistaken for arthritis, rheumatism or some other ailment. Backaches headaches and many body ills may be traced to the feet.—Adv.

Simple, human episodes in which actors speak in words of two syllables and every movement is casual are often far more difficult to get across to an audience than Thespian pyrotechnics. So declares the Hollywood director who, both on stage and screen, has won outstanding note for his "human" direction. He is Robert B. Sinclair stage director of "The Women," "The Philadelphia Story" and other Broadway hits, and whose latest screen offering is "I'll Wait for You," moving story of loyalty and regeneration.

Farm Labor Shortage Seen As Possibility In Kentucky, Is View

Frankfort—In anticipation of a possible farm labor shortage in Kentucky, local offices of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission have been directed by the Commission at Frankfort to review their files in order that competent workers may be supplied in localities where shortages may occur.

A survey conducted by the Commission in a number of key counties throughout the state, particularly in the tobacco growing section indicates that while no acute lack of farm labor is anticipated, there is possibility that shortages may occur in some counties due to the demands of national defense and industrial expansion programs, or dependent upon weather conditions and other factors which may influence the harvest season. To cope with such a possibility, the employment service section of Commission offices will make every effort to supply necessary workers. Local offices serving particular sections experiencing farm labor shortage should be notified of the needs a few days in advance. All County Agents of the state have been acquainted with the availability of the service.

Burley Loans To Be Offered On '41 Crop

Under the new 85 per cent of parity loan law, loans on the 1941 Burley tobacco crop are to be offered to growers at rates averaging from 19¼ to 20 cents a pound, J. B. Hutson, President of Commodity Credit Corporation which makes the loans available, told farmers, AAA officials and representatives of various farm organizations at a recent meeting in Lexington.

The problem before the farmers is to find a workable method or organization to handle the loan program, the group agreed.

Problems of grading the tobacco, handling, storage and selling were discussed. Local farmers endorsed the plan used in making loans during the latter part of the 1940-41 sales season.

Half Way Mark Reached In '41 Agricultural Program

Farm supervisors employed by county agricultural conservation associations in Kentucky had completed checking participation in the 1941 agricultural conservation program on 126,220 farms up to August 2, the State AAA office announces.

This number of farms surveyed represents over one-half of the number to be checked this year.

Fifty-two counties reported more than two-thirds of their farms surveyed on that date. Only 7 counties reported less than one-third of their farms checked.

State office reports indicate that the speeding up of the farm surveys this summer is largely due to the elimination of measurement of general soil-depleting crops and other simplified procedure.

WITH THE

Cincinnati Reds

Cincinnati—The Reds will come marching home from the road wars this week-end to meet the pennant minded St. Louis Cardinals in single games at Crosley Field Saturday and Sunday. These two games will only be a respite to the Reds, who will head back for the road after the Sunday contest against the Cards.

Their first stop will be at Chicago, where they are scheduled for a Labor Day doubleheader, then a single game the next afternoon. On Wednesday, September 3, they will meet the Pittsburgh Pirates in a night game at Pittsburgh, follow with a single game the next afternoon and a doubleheader Friday, September 5 then move to St. Louis where they will battle the Cardinals in a single game Saturday afternoon, September 6, and a doubleheader the following day.

On Tuesday, September 9, the Reds will open their most important stand of the season. It will be their last stand, and upon it, of course, will definitely depend the final outcome of the Reds' desperate efforts to get back into the middle of the pennant scramble. Two single games against the Boston Braves September 9 and 10 will be the starter. The Wednesday, September 10 game will be a ladies' day affair. The New York Giants will follow the Braves to Crosley Field for games on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 11, 12, and 13, whereupon the rampant Brooklyn Dodgers will succeed as the opposition on Sunday, September 14, Monday and Tuesday, September 15 and 16. Two straight doubleheaders are due against the Phillies on September 18 and 19, and another twin bill is listed against the Pirates on Saturday, September 20. The Pirates also will meet the Reds on Sunday, September 21, then will come the Cubs for single games September 23, 24, and 25, to close the home season. Three more games at Pittsburgh will be all remaining of the Reds' schedule after that time.

Tickets for all of the Reds' home games are now available at the Reds' ticket office at 307 Vine St. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

STATE FAIR SALUTES DEFENSE

WITH AN ARRAY OF COLORFUL DECORATIONS THROUGHOUT GROUNDS—BARGAIN TICKET SALE ENDS SEPT. 2ND.

Louisville, Ky., August 27—Three cheers for the red, white and blue!

If you go to the Kentucky State Fair, and of course you will, you'll find no better expression of patriotism and support for the National Defense program than that afforded by the management in its color scheme throughout the spacious grounds.

Wherever you cast an eye, you'll find the marvelous red, white and blue of the flag and all it stands for staring you in the face. All twenty-six ticket booths, at outer gate, Horse Show Pavilion, Dance Pavilian, Grand Circuit harness horse track, along the Midway and other concessions will be striped in the colors that make up the lucky thirteen in the banner in one of the few democracies that's left, vividly remindful of the fact that America stands flat-footed for the real way of life.

Early this week, twenty-two WPA painters, on Federal-State project, began their symphony of swish-swish with the brush, first centralizing on the glorious Horse Show Pavilion, covering up the green and other colors with the beloved tints of the flag. Railings, chairs and ramps have been treated to red, white and blue and decorators are busy hanging bunting in the same color scheme aloft and about until you scent patriotism once you enter the hippodrome.

Bundles for Britain, Inc., Louisville Branch, 430 West Broadway, has added to the patriotism scene by engaging a booth in the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Bldg., where these able volunteer women will further stress the V for Victory Campaign throughou Fair week, September 6-13, inclusive. The public is invited to look in on this display to see and appreciate what is being done for the tight little isle and the eventual salvation of the Nation.

In the Kentucky Log Cabin, one of the many show places at the exposition the theme will be National Defense in a varied program of women's club activities.

Tuesday, September 2, just four days before the big preview, will be bargain hunters last chance to avail themselves of budget ticket books with entertainment value up to $3.00 for $1.00 for the 1941 Kentucky State Fair, September 6-13 inclusive.

On sale since August 4 throughout the state at drugstores, department stores and other retail outlets, these ticket books, six coupons to the book, are good for Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, September 8, 9, and 10, afternoon or night, when applied as admission to outer gate, grandstand or Horse Show. No tickets will be offered after the September 2 deadline.

Attraction at the Horse Show Pavilion on the first three weekday nights, will be Stallion, Gelding and Mare divisions of the World's Grand Championship Five-Gaited Saddle Horse Stake. Tickets are good for the big Flying "X" Rodeo and Circus at the grandstand on these nights or they can be used for admission to the first two programs of the five-day Grand Circuit meeting Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Each is a 50-cent attraction whereas outer gate admission is only 25 cents.

DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT NEWS
By James Browder, Tester

The months of July and August have brought about a decrease in milk production. Pastures were bad in July but worse in August. Only those herds being fed grass silage or some succulent roughage held up in production as should.

High herd of the months of July and August was that of Mr. John Corlir of Brooksville, Kentucky. His Jersey herd averaged 860 pounds of milk and 41.1 pounds fat in July, and in August 734 pounds of milk with 34.3 pounds of fat. He feeds a grain ration at the rate of 1 to 6 and has good Korean clover pasture.

Most improvement in the Association in the past month has been along the line of sires. Dr. R. C. Garrison of Burlington will quite soon have the papers on this proven sire. For a bull to be proved, he must have five daughters that have milked 305 days. This has all been completed and the results will soon be published.

Dr. Garrison will be the first member of the Northern Kentucky Association to accomplish this.

Mr. Harold Crigler of Burlington has recently taken steps to improve his herd by the purchase of a registered sire. This male is from a proven sire. This is only the beginning of such work and we hope to carry it much further in the future.

Northern Kentucky Association also took on a new member in July, Mr. Walter King of Verona entered the association. He has a herd of Jersey cows and is interested in getting in new blood and doing improvement work.

A GOOD NAME

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches.—Proverbs

Yes, a good name is something to be proud of, something to be guarded jealously, to be protected at whatever cost.

Kentucky's $20,000,000 legalized beer industry is proud of the good name enjoyed by beer, the wholesome beverage of moderation. Hence, we do not want the patronage of Kentucky's few law-breaking retail beer outlets.

In order to eliminate such places, Kentucky's beer industry is cooperating with state and local law-enforcement officials to maintain clean, wholesome conditions wherever beer is sold.

Results to date: 18 retail beer licenses revoked; 7 suspended; 2 outlets padlocked forever; 4 licenses refused.

DARING DEATH
Is What You Do If You Take Chances by Not Having Your Wheels Balanced.
Hundreds of cases are reported every year of accidents resulting from unbalanced wheels, which set up such a violent shimmy or shake that the car gets out of control.

Unbalanced wheels cause firesome driving, wear out the front end bearings prematurely and they are dangerous.
Unbalanced wheels are caused by changing tires—uneven wear of tread—addition of patches—improper mounting of tires—loss of balance weights. YOUR WHEELS SHOULD BE CHECKED REGULARLY.
Prepare your car for safer and more pleasant driving by coming into our Wheel Balancing Department and having your wheels checked and balanced. It can be done in a short time and the cost is small.

THE GARDENER KNOWS:

When tall plants produce their bloom at the tip of the stalk such as larkspur, cosmos and hollyhocks, you shouldn't pinch them back. But when plants like petunias, verbenas and chrysanthemums have flowers on branching shoots, they do better when the tips at the center are pinched back . . . When iron sulphate is scattered on the ground under rosebushes you can usually get rid of rose bugs. Soak the ground after you scatter the sulphate.

FBI WANTS MORE MEN

TO HELP MEET EVER INCREASING NEED DURING NATIONAL EMERGENCY — WOMEN TO SERVE AS CLERKS.

With its responsibilities and volume of work constantly increasing as a result of the national emergency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is seeking qualified personnel for many different types of positions, according to an announcement made today by Mr. H. K. Moss, Special Agent in charge of the FBI's Louisville Field Division.

"Since the outbreak of war in Europe and the designation of the FBI by the President to coordinate the investigations of all espionage, counter-espionage, sabotage and related maters, the FBI personnel has been more than doubled," Mr. Moss stated. "We have not, however, lowered the previous high standards established in 1924 when Mr. John Edgar Hoover became Director of the FBI. Applicants for our various positions must still pass rigid tests, be in excellent physical condition and survive a thorough investigation as to loyalty, integrity and ability. Appointments are based on personal qualifications and merit," he added.

The best known and most sought position offered by the FBI is that of Special Agent. In order to qualify for this position with its starting salary of $3200 per year and become a member of the famed: corps of "G-Men" the applicant must be between the ages of twenty-three and thirty-five, a graduate lawyer or accountant or possess a college degree combined with investigative experience or a working knowledge of a foreign language. The accountants must in addition to their college degree have three years' practical auditing or accounting experience. All Special Agents must be free of physical defects and must be willing to serve any place in the United States or its territorial possessions. Only men are eligible and marriage is no bar.

While men are also eligible, women serve the FBI in clerical capacities and must be as capable in their field as the Special Agent is in his. Their character and ability are examined just as closely. Stenographic applicants are required to take dictation test at the rate of 120 words per minute and qualify as Typists, and typist applicants must pass a typing test at the rate of 45 words per minute. The FBI also seeks applicants for the position of Clerk-Messenger. Young men between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five who have at least a high school education are eligible for this position. According to Mr. Moss most of the men appointed to this position by the FBI continue their college education in the Washington schools with the hope of ultimately qualifying for the position of Special Agent. Entrance salaries for the positions of Stenogrpher, Typist and Clerk are $1620 per annum, $1440 per annum and $1260 per annum respectively.

In view of the wide spoce of the FBI's responsibilities, it also has positions available to men between the ages of twenty-three and thirty-five who possess college degrees in various sciences. With a starting salary of $2000 per year and the prospect of promotion to higher positions, those with scientific educations may apply for such positions as Junior Analytical Chemist in Geology, Metallurgy, Toxicology and Serology; Junior Cryptographer; Junior Document Identification Specialist; Junior Electrical Engineer; Junior Firearms Identification Specialist; and Junior Physicist. Successful applicants are assigned to the Technical Laboratory of the FBI in Washington, which is the foremost criminological laboratory in the world.

Photographers between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-five who have had at least three years of commercial experience, including the use of camera equipment, contact printing, enlarging, filter work and light effects, may also receive employment in the Federal bureau of Investigation.

Applicants for positions, according to Mr. Moss, should contact this office at 633 Federal Building, 6th and Broadway, Louisville, Ky., telephone Wabash 2133, or communicate with Mr. John Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI at Washington, D. C.

Farmers Construct Farm Reservoirs

George Baker, Beaver; Dr. J. D. Northcutt, Richard Northcutt, Shelby Beemon and George Griffith are among the farmers that have had good size farm reservoirs or ponds constructed during the past few weeks, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The ponders were built by Grover Robertson who specializes in pond building. Mr. Robertson reports that he has received approximately 80 requests for pond building work and that he is going to contact all parties as fast as he can get to them. He is working two large outfits full time at the present.

The general plan is to contact interested farmers as the machinery is moved from one location to the next. This makes moves less expensive and saves time. Farmers who can conveniently do so are advised to contact Mr. Robertson in person.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Yelton and children and Mr. and Mrs. Elza Poston and children returned home Tuesday night, after spending the past four days visiting historical and scenic spots in Southern Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Benson are planning to erect a new home on lots they recently purchased in the Maple Grove Subdivision. Work will start on the new building in the near future.

SEMIPRO NINE SWAMPS RIVAL

AS FOUR OF TWELVE TEAMS REMAIN IN ELIMINATION PLAY BIG BONE OUSTS HEBRON TEAM FROM COUNTY SERIES.

Blasting two opposing pitchers from the mound with a 16-hit slugging attack, the hard-hitting Boone County All-Stars swamped the Dan Cohen Shoes nine 11-0 at the local park Sunday, to become one of the four teams remaining in the elimination series of the Campbell County semipro's Baseball League. Every player in the local semipro's starting lineup contributed to the hitting attack and crossed the tally base, as their star pitcher, Elmo Steffen, let the Shoemen down with four scattered hits and two walks.

After both teams had gone down scoreless, and without a base knock, in the first frame, the locals opened the second with one of their noted hitting onslaughts and before their opponents were able to retire a batsman every member of the local team had taken his turn at bat and crossed home plate to score, and the Cohen's starting pitcher, Daines, had been shelled from the hill and his successor, Koop, had been hammered for four base blasts and three more tallies, to make the score 9-0. Koop lasted until the fourth when three base hits and a pair of runs sent him to cover. Durstock finished the game as hurler for the losers as they suffered their third defeat and were retired from the three-and-out series.

Mahan and Sebree led the attack for the locals with three base hits each, as Mahan and Ryle collected a double each, Steffen two. Steffen struck out 13 opposing batsmen, as six of his teammates were out at the plate and three reached first base on walks.

The All-Stars cross bats with Larry Log Cabin at the latter's park in the next round of elimination contests. Two of the remaining teams, Pleezing Foods and Larry Log Cabin, have already suffered two setbacks, Martz Cardinals none, the locals one.

In a one-sided slugging contest Big Bone turned back Hebron 22-6 in the two-and-out elimination play of the county league, to give the visiting nine their second defeat and remove them from the contest. Going into the fifth frame with a 3-2 lead the winner scored eight runs before the inning was over to take a nine-run lead. The Big Bone bastmen hammered Aylor, Goodridge, Walton, and Hankins, Hebron's hurlers, in collecting their runs, while Ryle and Williamson experienced little trouble on the mound for the winners. M. Aylor collected a double, a triple, and a home run for Hebron, while a barrage of doubles from the bats of the Big Bone team spelled defeat for their opponents.

Big Bone and Petersburg are the only teams remaining in the contest and will oppose each other at the Petersburg park Saturday.

SAYS N. R. ELLIOTT, LANDSCAPING SPECIALIST FROM UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY—URGES CARE OF PLANTINGS.

"We must plant a million trees on Kentucky farms each year for coming years to assure a farm wood supply ten years from now," was the startling statement of Mr. N. R. Elliott, landscaping specialist from the University of Kentucky, at a meeting of leaders from local homemakers' clubs held at the Court House in Burlington Tuesday afternoon. He urged the care and feeding of established plantings and challenged the Boone County farm people to join in carrying the slogan to accomplish the goal. "Check on your farm and see how many trees you will have standing 10 or 15 years from now."

The purpose of this class was to outline the work to be done with the landscaping program during the next three months. Details of this lesson will be repeated by the leaders at local Homemakers' meetings. Representation from Constance, Burlington, New Haven, Petersburg and Florence was present.

"All lawns should be seeded before September 15th," Mr. Elliott said. Bluegrass should be of that quality which weighs 21 pounds per bushel and if sod is fair should be sowed 2 pounds or 3 pounds per 1,000 square feet of surface. The seed is cheaper now than for last 3 or 4 years and may be purchased for 16c per pound. Anyone interested should call the Home Demonstration Agent to ask further particulars. Combined orders may be made to keep costs at minimum.

Bluegrass will grow in sun or shade and on frequently used surfaces if properly sowed and cared for.

SATURDAY

Western pictures got James Ellison started on his screen career, but it's his ability as a romantic young leading man that has won him his present popularity.

The handsome star's newest role is that of the American engineer-hero in RKO Radio's musical romance, "They Met in Argentina" with Maureen O'Hara as the heroine and Alberto Vila, the South American favorite, as his gallant rival.

With ten Rodgers and Hart tunes and a colorful array of gaucho customs and sports as a background to the gay story, "They Met in Argentina" is said to be one of the year's most entertaining films.

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

A distinguished cast of stage and screen personalities surround Anna Neagle in her latest filmuisical "Sunny," modernized version of the famous Broadway musical comedy.

Ray Bolger, brilliant dancer and John Carroll, popular film singer, top the supporting cast in this gay offering which is laid in New Orleans at the height of the Mardi Gras season. Other important roles are played by Edward Everett Horton, Paul and Grace Hartman, the noted dance satirists and ballroom fame: Frieda Insecort and Helen Westley.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Blonde Marion Martin, former "Follies" and "Scandals" star, and Clark Gable's dance-hall sweetheart in "Boom Town" missed a role in "Go West" when she underwent a siege of pneumonia the day before the picture began production. But she couldn't escape the latest Marx Brothers picture, "The Big Store."

She plays the foil for Harpo, who thus again has a blonde to chase throughout the picture. After the picture was completed, the slightly dazed Miss Martin admitted that she almost wished she had been in "Go West," in which she would have been wooed by Groucho.

"Or maybe I should have dyed my hair dark," she said. "Harpo seems to be especially rough on blondes."

REVELATION: A MESSAGE TO PERSECUTED CHURCHES

LESSON TEXT—Revelation 1-3.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.—Revelation 2:10.

The Revelation is so little known that we need part of our first lesson for an introduction to the book. The fact that this is a "revelation" which God gave to Jesus Christ, "to show unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass" (1:1), should make us all eager to study it. But it is significant that there is a promise of special blessing to those who do read (1:3), and a solemn warning against tampering with the book (22:18, 19). Quite evidently God places great importance on the reading and study of this book. Can we do less?

The book is not easy to interpret, and men have differed greatly as to its meaning. There are four general schools of interpretation: (1) The preterist, which puts it all in the past. Since many of its predictions have not yet taken place, this view seems untenable. (2) The idealist, which regards the book as being entirely symbolical of spiritual principles. There is truth to this view, but it does not cover the historical events mentioned in the Revelation which are yet to take place in the world. (3) The historicist, which regards the book as mainly an outline of church history. This too fails to account for prophecies yet unfulfilled. (4) The futurist (which seems to be the best view); namely, that chapters two and three, while relating to actual churches then in existence, also outline the entire history of the church, and that the remainder of the book relates to future events. This is the interpretation which is largely held by conservative Bible teachers.

A brief outline of the Revelation is found (1:19) in the book itself:

1. "The things which thou hast seen" (John's vision)—chapter 1.
2. "The things which are" (the seven churches)—chapters 2 and 3.
3. "The things which shall be" (the six sevens; namely, seals, trumpets, personages, vials, dooms, and new things)—chapters 4 to 22.

Our lesson portion brings before us two of the seven churches of Asia—Ephesus and Smyrna—with their lessons for our day.

I. The Ephesus Church—Active but Cold, and Facing Judgment (2:1-7).

Following the salutation and the glorious vision of the Son of man (do not fail to read it, Rev. 1:9-18), John the apostle, who was the one to whom the vision came, is directed to write to the church at Ephesus, addressing it through "the angel" of the church. We do not know who he was, but since the word means "messenger," it may refer to a leading officer or elder.

The picture of the church at Ephesus was a very beautiful one. It was an active church, not afraid to work, patient under trial, commendably impatient with sin and worldliness. It was not afraid to exercise discipline, to discredit false apostles, and to stand against the evil works of the worldly-minded. There would seem that there could be nothing more said for a church, but there was a vital note lacking. In activity they were perfect, but they had departed from their first love.

What is meant by leaving their first love? "First love is the abandonment of all for a love that has abandoned all . . . The church at Ephesus was still a remarkable church, but it lacked the element of that enthusiasm, which in the eyes of the calculating worldling, is imprudent. There are some people who imagine that this lack of enthusiasm is an advantage. May God have mercy on such. I pray the day may never come when the heroisms and enthusiasms of first love shall cease" (G. Campbell Morgan).

Repentance was called for, or God said He would extinguish the light of that church. The lesson for us is that cold orthodoxy will kill a church.

II. The Smyrna Church—Poor but Faithful, and Facing Persecution (2:8-11).

This is one of the two churches of the seven for which there is no word of rebuke, Philadelphia being the other. It was a poverty-stricken church humanly speaking, but rich in the sight of God. Such a church may be more useful to God and more precious to Him than a large church which is cold and indifferent.

What does He have to promise this church? Persecution. We who follow Him upon whom men spat, who was so buffeted and despised, yes, even crucified—shall we be surprised if a hostile world persecutes us?

Note that the Lord knew all about their sufferings, both present and future. He was with them and would continue to be with them, so they had no occasion to fear. Then at the end of their suffering there would be the crown of life.

The way some folks drive, you would think they were trying to meat the earth's record of traveling through space.

AERIALISTS TO BE FEATURE OF STATE FAIR

Louisville, August 31—Latest of seven free acts booked by the Kentucky State Fair, September 6-13, inclusive, is the Los Aero of aerialists, three beautiful girls and a robust young man, who perform on a whirling replica of a fighter plane mounted atop a lofty steel tower.

Twice daily during Fair Week this daring quartet will perform on wings and propeller while the make-believe craft spins around at better than a plane's cruising speed. The act is climaxed by all four artists hanging suspended only by their teeth from the crazily-spinning "fighter" and with no protective net or saftey device apparent.

Pep and Pete, a pair of clownish Keystone cops, is another of the outdoor acts just signed. The former stands seven feet in his stockings and the latter is exactly a yard tall. They have no script and there's no telling what they won't do.

A midget plane with a sky-writing pilot who flies upside down on occasion is still another of the new things to be seen at the grandstand show. The other four free acts booked some weeks ago include Hollywood Horse, an unbridled human bred; Paul and Pettit, trick and fancy skaters and cyclists; the Great Gretonas, high-wire artist and Thorson the Great, juggler-magician.

Among other intertainment features will be the Flying "X" Rodeo, Jimmie Lynch and his Death Dodgers, Clyde Beatty's Zoo and Circus, the Johnny J. Jones Shows, five days of Grand Circuit harness racing and, of course, the "world's" greatest horse show."

Dove Hunting Season Changed In Kentucky

Frankfort, Ky.—The open season on mourning doves in Kentucky opens September 16 and closes October 27. Shooting hours are from sun-up to sun-set, central standard time, while the daily bag limit is 12 birds and the possession limit is also 12, R. C. Soaper, U. S. Game Management Agent, stated today.

The open seasons on doves and other migratory birds and waterfowl are set each year by the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., upon recommendation made by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, after thorough surveys have been made during the past winter and throughout the nesting period of all species of migratory birds, Soaper explained.

"A shortening of the season," said Secretary of the Interior, Harold L. Ickes, "was necessary because the status of the mourning dove was last winter found to be much worse than anticipated. The severe cold storms that killed many woodcocks and jacksnipes in January 1940, also played havoc with the mourning dove populations in all the Southeastern and Gulf states, and the winter studies and the studies throughout the breeding range indicate that the number of these birds are still decidedly unsatisfactory."

Secretary Ickes said that "in almost all areas in the southeastern states where the mourning dove is an important game species, the bird was scarce that sportsmen, naturalists, and game administrators joined in their demand that steps be taken to give the dove better protection."

Soaper, while conferring today with S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, stated that "I have just finished making a survey on mourning dove nesting conditions (August 25, 1941) in four large peach orchards and find doves setting on eggs in each orchard. I consider it, biologically, against good game management principles to permit the shooting of mourning doves south of the Ohio River before September 16 or October 1."

Wakefield stated that the Division of Game and Fish is now making a moving picture of a dove hatching out two young birds at the home of Mr. Gill in Shelbyville, Ky., and the young birds are still in the nest (August 27, 1941) and are being cared for by the pair of old birds at the present time.

"Kentucky dove hunters should not consider themselves so bad off" Soaper stated, "because the shortening of the season in every state has been done in such a manner as to reduce the number of birds killed. Kentucky has 42 days of dove hunting this year while some of the other states have a much shorter season. For example Idaho's season on doves opens September 1 and extnds to September 10; Illinois, September 1 to Sept. 30; Minn., September 16 to to September 15. All split seasons have been eliminated in the southeastern states."

V. R. Ferguson, of Ohio county threshed 179 bushels of Kentucky No. 1 barley from four acres.

This Week In Defense

In a radio address to the Army on the reasons for extension of selective service, War Secretary Stimson said the Government realized the personal sacrifice of additional service but was also conscious of the danger to the U. S. He said "some of the most significant symptoms . . . which invariably forecast the coming of a new Axis attack . . . are occurring in South America . . . the most dangerous avenue of attack against us."

The War Department announced that unless the international situation becomes more serious it intends to release by December 10 approximately 150,000 National Guardsmen inducted last fall, 20,000 selectees inducted last November and December, and 10,000 Reserve officers. The releases will be made upon application in accordance with the following priorities: dependency and hardship, age of more than 28 on July 1, 1941 and marriage for those who have served 12 months. Men completing enlistments will also be released on request.

Aid to Britain, Russia, China

The President announced aircraft ferry and air transport services to West Africa and the Middle-Eastern war zone to provide direct and speedy delivery to "a critical point in the front against aggression..." The route will be so arranged that it will not pass through the zone of actual warfare. Mr. Roosevelt said.

The President told his press conference Russian needs fall into two categories: (1) materials immediately available to help them in their summer campaign; (2) materials which will be available for the spring campaign next year. Russia will not get lend-lease aid, the President said, because the Soviets have the necessary cash for materials.

The Public Health Service announced a 16-member U. S. medical commission will go to China to direct health measures for 250,000 Chinese building the 1,700 mile railroad along the Burma road.

Production

President Roosevelt told his press conference that on the average defense production is up to estimates and in some cases actually exceeds estimates. He said, however, he still is not satisfied with armament production. He said several hundred tanks manufactured this year have gone to the British; the quota of 61 anti-aircraft guns monthly is being more than met; 160 37-mm. anti-tank guns will be delivered in August, 260 in September and 320 in October; 340 81-mm. mortars will be made in August.

OPM Director Knudsen told a press conference the rate of defense progress is sufficient to provide adequate equipmnt for the Army within six or seven months. He predicted again the U. S. can out-produce any other nation but said that the nation is still not showing the correct spirit. Production rather than shipping, he said, is the greatest bottleneck in U. S. aid to Britain.

War Under Secretary Patterson, speaking at Syracuse, said the Army will not have to resort to broomsticks instead of weapons for training because "America is at last pushing toward peak production . . . Tooling up will soon be over. Guns, tanks and planes are coming in daily increasing numbers." He cited production increases in the past six months: tanks, 800 percent; other vehicles, 600 percent; machine guns, 225 percent; anti-aircraft guns, 400 percent; smokeless powder, 400 percent.

Civilian Supply

OPM and the Office of Price Administration ordered auto production for the 1942 model year cut to 817,000 cars during the four months beginning August 1, compared with 1,560,000 during the four months ended July 31. General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were asked to make a 27.6 percent cut from last year's levels; Studebaker, Hudson, Nash, Packard, Willys and Crosley, 20.2.

OPM Associate Director Hillman said unemployment in the industry would be headed off by transfer of workers to defense plants and other defense industries and the conversion of auto production machinery to defense work along the same lines as similar moves in the silk industry.

Defense Contracting

The OPM announced changes in Army and Navy purchasing policies to combat unemployment in plants and communities threatened with shortages of materials because of priority action and to utilize more of the nation's productive capacities through subcontracting. The Government can negotiate contracts at prices up to 15 percent above current quotations, deal with joint groups of small contractors, eliminate bids and performance bonds when necessary, inspect products at the plant to facilitate prompt payment and call for bids to be broken down into optional units to permit smaller firms to bid.

Agriculture

Price Administrator Henderson set ceiling prices of burlap, used in the packaging of feed fertilizer and agricultural products at approximately 20 percent below recent New York quotations.

OPM announced 35 to 40 new egg-drying plants will be built by private interests at a cost of from $50,000 to $100,000 each in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, New York, Tennessee, Wisconsin, and Ohio, increasing capacity from 12,000,000 to more than 100,000,000 pounds annually to provide dried eggs to Great Britain. Similar projects are under consideration to expand milk drying, cheese and other concentrated food production for American and British requirements.

Civilian Defense

Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia arranged for the first Statewide "blackout" to be held the night of September 12 in New Mexico. Twelve towns will be "bombed," fires will be started in vacant lots and other emergencies will be rehearsed.

Mr. LaGuardia also announced a training program for 100,000 volunteer nurses' aides with the collaboration of the Red Cross and local hospitals. The Public Health Service called for 50,000 young women to begin professional nursing training this fall to meet a future shortage. At present, the Service said, there are 10,000 vacant positions for registered nurses in the nation's hospitals.

Credit Control

The Federal Reserve Board issued tentative regulations which it said will probably be placed in effect in September to increase the required size of down payments on installment buying (they will be from 15 to 33 percent) and to shorten to 18 months the time for payments on autos, airplanes, power boats, motorcycles, refrigerators, washing machines, stoves, air-conditioners, radio sets and similar household appliances.

Oil

Deputy Petroleum Coordinator Davies reported only a 10-day supply of gasolline reserves on the Atlantic seaboard and Price Administrator Henderson ordered a 10 percent cut in deliveries to filling station in East coast States. Filling station operators were told to reduce gas sales to their customers "equitably" but to allow necessary fuel to commercial, public and health vehicles.

Ships

Maritime Commission Chairman Land, speaking in California, said the immediate goal in ship production is more than 1200 merchant ships by the end of 1943 and the U. S. would be producing an average of two ships a day until then.

The Navy launched the sixth submarine since January 1 and announced that during the first half of August two minesweepers, two torpedo boats and two district craft were launched and 18 keels laid.

Australia produced nearly 84,000,000 bushels of wheat last season, compared with 210,283,000 in 1939-40.

Over 10,000 horses were slaughtered for human consumption in Switzerland last year.

Following the class discussion, the group went to see recent plantings made at the Burlington School. This work was done by the P. T.-A. through the work of a committee headed by Mr. A. D. Yelton, following a plan suggested by Mr. Elliott. It was pointed out that a few changes might be made to make plantings more effective and that certain plants would revive if fed and treated this fall even though the hot, dry weather had been hard on them. Mr. Elliott called attention to those heartier varieties of plants which have thrived under adverse conditions. Those who attended the meeting were Mrs. Geo. Kottmyer, Mrs. Peeno, Mrs. Sam Sleet, Mrs. J. C. Layne, Mrs. Garnett Tolin, Mrs. Courtney Kelly, Mrs. Jake Cleek, Miss Mary Rector, A. D. Yelton and Mary Scott Moore.

LAWN DEMONSTRATIONS

New landscaping demonstrations were planned for the homes of Mrs. Geo. Morith and Dr. N. A. Jett, Florence, by Mr. Elliott. The public was invitied to attend these helpful meetings on Wednesday morning. Advice was given on selection and arrangement of shrubs, trees, flower beds and borders. These demonstrations are two of a long list of plans made by Mr Elliott for Boone County Homemakers. Frequent tours to these demonstrations bring approved practices to the attention of other club members and non-members. Another method of helping to make Kentucky homes more attractive and liveable.

County Committee Meet

Mrs. Garnett Tolin called a meeting of the County Landscaping Committee to discuss program plans with Mr. Elliott. The committee has sponsored flower shows assisted with the tea given by the Citizenship Committee, ordered and distributed bubs, held classes for landscaping leaders—but one other goal was set for the county homemakers. It was in regard to the desire for county-wide roadside beautification that the committee met with Mr. Elliott. Plans were made for contacting the State Highway and other possible cooperators and arranging for carrying on such a program as can be planned. Members of the committee are Mrs. Jake Cleek, Mrs. Anna Engle, Mrs. J. C. Layne, Mrs. John L. Vest.

HOMEMAKERS PLAN MAJOR PROJECT

"Improve your health 10% during the coming year" is the challenge Dr. Statie Erikson, State Nutrition Committee Chairman, has made to each Kentuckian. Boone County Homemakers accept her challenge and will study a major project in meal planning and nutrition in an effort to reach this goal. A project planning meeting was held with Mrs. Pearl Haak, specialist from University of Kentucky, at the office of the Home Demonstration Agent Thursday morning.

Six lessons were planned. These will be presented at county training school meetings and repeated by leaders to their local Homemaker clubs. Lessons will be presented in club meetings in the following order:

OCTOBER—Meal planning.

NOVEMBER—Table service and family meal hour.

DECEMBER—Meals for special occasions.

APRIL—Meals for convalescent and semi-invalid.

MAY—Community meals.

JUNE—Meal planning.

Mrs. Haak called attention to the fact that 50% of Boone County selectees have been rejected. More than half this number suffer from trouble due to food deficiencies. The problems for study are facts about food and how to improve eating habits.

Those who attended the meeting were: Mrs. Geo. Kottmyer, Constance; Mrs. Sam Sleet, New Haven Mrs. Chas. Engle, Bullittsville; Mrs. Katherine Peel, Hebron; Mrs. Leo Flynn, Walton; Mrs. A. W. Fullerton, Jr., Florence. Arrangements for the meeting were made by Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Sub. Home Demonstration Agent.

SEPTEMBER HOMEMAKERS MEETINGS

Homemakers clubs will resume their regular meeting this month. After two months of educational tours and picnics, these organizations will get down to business. Officers for the coming year will be selected, standing committees will be appointed, reports of accomplishments compiled and preparation for the annual meeting will be made.

These meetings will feature the current "Style Trends" during their project period and consideration will be given suggestions made by Mr. Elliott for fall landscaping work.

Every Boone County Homemaker should make it a point to attend her local meeting this month.

Miss Mary Hood Gillapsie, Home Demonstration Agent, is still confined at Christ Hospital in Cincinnati. Her condition is reported to be improved. Mrs. Moore, who is working in the county as substitute agent, has been appointed to serve during September and October.

Feet And The Law Of Tissue

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
Where Foot Comfort Begins
9th and Madison Covington

There is a natural law constantly at work in the tissues of the human body. We must understand that bone, muscle and nerve consist of millions of ever changing tiny bodies called cells. These cells are held together with the tissue fluids and substances of the body.

Therefore bone, muscle and ligament respectively share the influence of this law, that constant tension causes wasting especially in the feet when the body weight which they carry about and support is not evenly distributed and balanced throughout the twelve major bones of the foot framework.

If ligaments are stretched, due to long and careless standing especially—those which bind the weight—supporting and key bones together, these ligaments finally yield in about the fifth or sixth year to strain and abuse and pull away from the bone attachments.

The rest which the night affords is not enough to counteract continuous strain during the day.

This same law holds true of the muscles and tendon attachments of the feet which lift the body weight on the metatarsal heads or pivots. On the other hand, constant pressure causes wasting of tissue.

If the muscles do not hold the weight-bearing joints of feet in proper dovetailing and interlocking action, these joints become deranged, misshaped and deformed because of the pressure of the body weight upon their point surface.

When we consider that we drive hundreds of tons of aggregate weight into the twelve major bones of each foot every day that we live it is easily understood why feet degenerate.

Can you be well with unhealthy feet? Those headaches, those backaches, those leg pains may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

IS YOUR CHILD READY?

Are your child's eyes ready for the strain of school work?

Your child cannot be so happy and proficient in school if his or her eyes are strained.

Good vision is imperative. Proper glasses now may save considerable trouble and expense in later years. Bring your child here for genuine eye comfort.

HANDWORK HINTS

A subscriber suggests that if you darn stockings diagonally across the weave that the darn will give when the stocking stretches. She says that with so much knitting today the celluloid needles will bend. Pour over them hot water and hold them over the steam from a kettle and you can then form the needles back in shape. Afterwards put them under cold water. Don't get them near a flame. Small corks on the ends of knitting needles will keep the stitches from slipping off and also keep needles from piercing your bag.

New Haven School Has Tenth Anniversary

In the fall of 1931 clay soil lay exposed, paster had the fresh smell of lime, carved initials were not yet on the desk heads when New Haven opened its doors to welcome its citizens of tomorrow. Today these children are the citizens—tomorrow is ahead for future Americans. Thus the years go hand in hand with all as the ten-mile post is reached in the life of New Haven. During the next few months New Haven wishes that all of her children would come back and renew old friendships and memories. She is proud of her graduates, proud of what fine men and women they have grown to be and she well recognizes that they are still on the threshold of their lives and that more honors and great things are ahead for them in the time to come. The following years with their graduates are:

LARGE CROWD HEAR ELLIS

The 1941 session of the Burlington alumni association was a huge success on last Saturday evening as one hundred and twelve persons gathered at the new school auditorium to hear James Tandy Ellis, noted after-dinner speaker and writer.

STORES UNITE IN SELLING STAMPS

FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE—SEPT. 15 TO 20 SET FOR CAMPAIGN MILLION STORES WILL PARTICIPATE.

A million stores from coast to coast are selling Defense Savings Stamps in the biggest retail sales effort on record.

A report of this nation-wide extension of retail outlets for the sale of Defense Savings Stamps, was made to Secretary Morgenthau by Maj. Benjamin H. Namm, Chairman of the Treasury's Retail Advisory Committee. This committee, which includes representatives of the 14 great national retail associations, has pledged complete cooperation to the Treasury in connection with "Retailers-for-Defense" Week, instituting the sale of Stamps in stores everywhere.

During this week—from September 15 through September 20—special demonstrations including parades, band concerts, fireworks displays and numerous other events are planned for communities in all sections of the Nation to mark the inaugauration of Defense Stamp sales in a vast national program by merchants everywhere.

In his report to the Secretary, Major Namm pointed out that the immense increase in the number of retail outlets for the sale of Defense Savings Stamps means that more than two and one-half million employees of retail stores have enlisted as salesmen for Uncle Sam. With retail stores in every city, town and hamlet selling U. S. Defense Stamps, Major Namm declared that the Government has enlisted a selling force in this endeavor bigger than the combined Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

Easy To Buy Stamps

"This is the greatest national effort ever made in behalf of one product in retail history," Major Namm said. "We cannot underestimate the tremendous part which the retail store employees are playing in this important undertaking. All of us are making it our patriotic duty to have these stamps available for purchase by everyone. We want to make Defense Savings Stamps the easiest possible product to buy. These Stamps, as everyone knows, can be saved conveniently in handy albums, and later exchanged for Defense Savings Bonds.

"The purpose of the Defense Savings Program is three-fold: the money we invest in Bonds and Stamps buys essential equipment for our armed forces; buying Bonds will help to prevent inflation; and after the war the savings represented by Defense Bonds will provide a cushion for the period of readjustment.

"I can assure you that National Retailers - for - Defense Week is merely the opening gun in a program that will be a continuing, steadily increasing effort on the part of the retail merchants of the land. We shall sell Defense Savings Stamps in retail stores the country over—not alone during National Retailers-for-Defense Week, but every day and every week so long as the national emergency exists. We have promised our wholehearted support of the Defense Savings Program. We shall not fail."

Continuing Program

In many cities and towns, Defense Savings Stamps have been on sale in retail stores for several months. Many companies, national in scope, have been selling them as a convenience to their customers. In Michigan, the stamps have been on sale through 22,000 retail outlets since July 10.

In addition to support from scores of chain store outlets, the Defense Savings Program is also receiving help offered voluntarily by many thousands of independent retail grocers, druggists, jewelers, furniture stores, hardware dealers, dry goods companies and various other merchants.

SEMIPROS WIN SERIES GAME

TO MOVE INTO FIRST-PLACE TIE AND OUST OPPONENT FROM CONTESTS—BIG BONE TOPS PETERSBURG TEAM.

The Boone County All-Stars demonstrated that they could win as well on one playing field as another Sunday, when they journeyed to Larry Log Cabin's park to hand the strong home team a 5-3 setback in an elimination game of the Campbell County Semipro Baseball League. By the win the home semipros moved into a tie for first place, with three teams surviving, in the three-and-out series and chalked up their seventh victory in their last eight starts, as they retired the Larry nine from the contest.

After opening the game with a bang and taking a one-run lead in their first time at bat, the locals found it necessary to come from behind to win. Shinkle, the first batsman up, opened the initial inning with a smashing double and, after two of his teammates went down hitless in an attempt to score him, raced across the tally mark as Sebree sent a line drive through the infield for another hit. The home boys were unable to advance another base runner to the scoring mark until the seventh frame, while their rivals were pushing a run across in the fifth, to knot the score, and another in the sixth, to take the lead. But in the seventh the locals went on a scoring spree and added four runs to clinch the game, with Deck blasting out a double and Ryle driving in two runs with another base hit.

Steffen chalked up his seventh win as hurler for the locals, as he struck out seven and walked one in allowing eight hits. Sunday he will pitch to the Pleezing Foods batsmen as the All-Stars meet that team at the Burlington park.

In the first contest of the three-game series to determine the winner of the County Saturday afternoon league, Big Bone downed Petersburg 12-1 at the winner's park. Taking advantage of a couple of costly errors made by their rival the Big Bone team clinched the game early in the contest and then led throughout with a safe margin, as Russell Miller led the hitting attack for his team with four base blasts. Carroll held the losers to seven hits to become the winning pitcher, as Harold D. and H. Deck were on the mound for Petersburg.

In addition to setting the pace during the regular season, with but two setbacks, the Big Bone nine survived the two-and-out elimination series without a loss. The Petersburg team was runner-up and lost one contest to Big Bone in the elimination rounds. The two teams play the second series game at Petersburg, Saturday.

WEED SPECIALIST ASSISTS IN TOUR

OF TOBACCO CROPS IN BOONE COUNTY WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 3RD — VALUABLE INFORMATION GAINED.

Russell Hunt, tobacco specialist, College of Agriculture, assisted Wednesday, September 3rd, in a county tobacco tour, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Experiment Station No. 33, Fusarium Wilt resistant variety was seen on the farm of L. W. Rogers. This variety is of special value to farmers in the river bottom sections where wilt is bad. Mr. Roger's tobacco, both in the field and in the barn, was found to be of excellent quality. Mr. Rogers will have several ounces of seed of this variety for sale in 1942.

Farmers attending the afternoon meeting at Sam Sleet's, Beaver, saw several interesting fertilizer demonstrations. Mr. Hunt, addressing farmers attending this meeting urged that they use good management practices with their tobacco. He expressed opinion that tobacco would bring a fair to good price this year and that the burley tobacco pool and government loan operations should prove a strong support to the market.

The first fair test of Experiment Station No. 48, Mosaic and Root Rot resistant variety tobacco, was seen on the farm of Jim Pennington of Walton-Verona Road. This tobacco was of fine quality, heavy yielding and disease resistant.

"For Over Fifty Years"

GRINDING AT HOME

With such an ado over cotton stocking and cutting down on our gasoline expenses, the subject of the return of the home-ground flour for bread leads us to believe that grandma wasn't so far wrong! We have noticed a trend of talk advocating the use of whole-wheat bread for its benificial properties to our health. It seems that in white flour the rough wheat, what they term the 'germ,' is taken out in order to give the public a finer textured bread. Our doctors find that our systems are not helped by eliminating the wheat germ and the best thing is to artificially enrich the white flour with vitamins that the wheat would give if it were left the bread. The millers inform the public that by leaving the original wheat germ in the flour the bread spoils easily since the oil in the wheat becomes rancid. But there is a way to sort of pasturize this wheat germ to keep it fresh for consumption and the process of doing so makes us pay more for the whole wheat bread in the end. Along comes somebody and starts to grind his own wheat as he needs it and so these home-grinding machines, which act like kitchen coffee-grinders, are finding a sale in the stores. The stunt gains in popularity and causes more stores to stock the home-grinding flour mills. Of course if you insist upon your bread being very fine, very white and very soft, you won't take to this new idea at all. The whole wheat bread is like the soy bean bread, a coarse flour. But they have been telling us for a long time that we are living too soft a life.

TO ARMS AND FORWARD

Back they swing again to admit through their entrance-way the army of America's youth who seek an education. Open wide the doors, let no one stop the advance of this privileged rank as they sit down in the nation's schoolhouses and concern themselves with preparations for fitting each with an important weapon to fight the future. And there isn't a man in Boone County who denies that education is not an important piece of armor in the fight. We are in the midst of a critical time when many a person will ask why send youth to school only to prepare them to die for their country later on! Someone said that if a country was worth living in, it was worth fighting for. But come what may in the international crisis, the American people will, to a man, help to maintain these institutions of learning, in order to give our children those opportunities that will ventually make of them better citizens. Better citizens lead to a better government and a good government finds itself fortified against an ignorant one. We know that as we progress in our community life we must extend this advance to our educational system for they belong together. We labor and sweat to keep our taxes paid and we grumble about them, which is man's way. But the schools of our nation must be kept going, their teachers paid, the roads clear that lead to their doors. We may have to deny ourselves but we can accept some stinting in order to provide our children with the right of a free education.

INSTALLMENT BUYING

There is raised the subject of tightening the credit that is allowed by small loan companies, of demanding larger down payments and of shortening the periods where debts are being paid, and of installment buying generally. In short, the plan is to curb installment buying to help in preventing the inflation of prices and to soften the blow of any boom following the defense program. Since about six million American families use this plan to obtain those things which they can't afford to pay for all at one time, such a tightening would greatly affect a goodly number of people. If credit strings are tightened where money is borrowed on time, this would affect around seven million Americans. Many a Boone County man expresses himself vehemently against installment buying, honestly feeling that such a method has done much to injure us economically. There are points in favor of this side when you see about you the many instances when buying on the easy payment plan has been so abused that it has consequently led to the financial difficulties of many a man. But on the other side they cite the high living standard of the American working man, the many advantages enjoyed by our great majority through the policy of installment purchases. When managed carefully, wisely and competently, this is a way of life that seems to give more satisfaction to the business man and his customers. But if money is coming in pretty fast for awhile and we talk ourselves into turning it into various luxuries that are beyond our means and through a boom we find our pocketbooks into accepting the spurt as a permanent thing going head over heels into debt, perhaps we might need to be checkmated on our installment buying.

SCHOOL BUSSES

The time is ripe for the annual caution to drivers to pay heed to the school bus as it plies its route from the nation's schoolhouses. Despite signs that are erected in school zones cautioning the driver to go slow and to stop for busses that are loading and unloading children, still these signs mean nothing if the motorist won't take trouble to drive safely every place for the sake of children. There isn't a school year rolls by but there are a series of accidents which occur through neglect upon the part of someone. It certainly isn't because a school bus is hard to distinguish as they are plainly marked and brightly painted to designate their purpose. Drivers of these school busses are chosen for their previous record for caution. Children are warned often enough about stopping, looking and listening before they cross a street or highway. They grow up knowing of traffic hazards and trained to guard against accidents. Heavens knows the auto driver is aware that this country is abounding in fatalities to school children. Perhaps all of us are lax in our school bus problem, the driver, his youthful passengers and the rest of us as motorists. We can't be in such a hurry here in Boone County that our mission is more important than the life of a child. Think of an excuse that would outweigh the importance of snuffing short the laugh and antics of a child. You think of one, your editor can't!

INSIDE LIES STRENGTH

There are many sections of the countryside where lawns are burned brown, where drouth has left a sorry looking strip of turf be it creeping bent, blue or rye. The spectable is pathetic and you almost give up hope that the grass will ever cover the spot with green again. But there is nourishment in the underlying ground perhaps and we can supply the need for fertilization and moisture if nature fails us. Funny things lawns, like people! They appear to be past hope and we give them up for dead when along comes a winter's protection with a chance to catch up and then spring sends the shoots to prove that hope is not gone. Summer finds that stretch of green to be tended and nutured again. How typical of our lives when the outer covering appears past human hope. Underneath the dried exterior there is probably a ground work that will enrich and fertilize the shell until the outside becomes beautiful. But we've got to help it along, like with the grass!

REQUIRED TO ENTER

Those girls around Boone County who are planning on entering college this fall, who have completed their high school training and are anxious to be off into that very different world, the college grounds, will be interested in reading a section of requirements of over a hundred years ago, required upon entrance to a famous women's institution. Consider today's stiff calculations and facts that entrance examinations of many colleges call forth. "No young lady shall become a member of Mount Holyoke college who cannot kindle a fire, mash potatoes, repeat the multiplication table and at least two-thirds of the shorter catechism. No young lady is expected to have a gentleman acquaintance unless they are returned missionaires, or agents of benevolent societies." So passeth the days of sweetness and light and into the age of jitter and jeepers, psychoanalyzing and allergies!

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for September 14

THE ETERNAL GOD, THE SOURCE OF HELP

LESSON TEXT—Revelation 7:9-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.—Revelation 4:8.

A look into the future is something that would interest most of us, and we have it in this lesson. We agree with Dr. Wilbur Smith that "this is an excellent opportunity to bring to the hearts of our pupils some of these divinely revealed truths which the world, in its mad rush today, so easily and tragically puts aside."

The portion of Revelation, chapter seven, which is before us comes immediately after a section dealing with Israel. The Church is not mentioned. The ones spoken of have come out of "the great tribulation" (as the Revised Version rightly translates it) and are evidently Gentiles who have come to believe in Christ during that time of unparalleled tribulation described in later chapters of this book.

Our lesson therefore deals with a specific time and a certain people in connection with an event yet to take place. But we find in this passage the description of the experiences of those who, like Christians of our day, triumphed through their saving faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. We may therefore here learn something of the future blessedness of the redeemed.

I. Saved Forever and Ever (vv. 9-12).

Salvation is a reality, and we are never going to be more certain of it than when we, like this multitude, stand in God's presence to praise Him for what He has done in our lives. It is real. Praise God!

Notice that there was an unnumbered multitude from all nations. The good tidings at the time of Christ's birth were for all people (Luke 2:10), and some from all nations respond. Note too that the hosts of the Lord are greater than we might at first suppose.

These redeemed ones had immediate access to God's throne, offering their praise direct. They were clad in the white robes of God's own purity and bore in their hands the palms of victory. They, with the angels, the elders (possibly representing the Church already caught up into heaven), and the living creatures (not "beasts" as in A.V. They are divine beings of highest character), ascribed a seven-fold praise to God "forever and ever. Amen." It is a glorious picture of completed redemption.

II. Serving Day and Night (vv. 13-15a).

It should be observed that even those who came through the great tribulation did not look to their own deeds or faithfulness to save them. Their white robes of righteousness were washed in "the blood of the Lamb" (v. 14).

Now that they had reached eternity through peril, toil and pain, they would (according to many folks' idea of heaven) sit down for an eternal rest and retirement. Not at all—they found their joy in serving their blessed Lord "night and day"; that is, without any weakness or exhaustion, without any failures or defeat.

III. Satisfied Throughout Eternity (vv. 15b-17).

To be covered by the "tabernacle" of God (whatever it may mean) surely betokens the perfect and constant protection of His own presence. Everything destructive and disturbing will be gone. There will be no lack of any good thing needed to satisfy every desire. There will be no thirst unquenched and no hunger unsatisfied (see similar descriptive passage in Rev. 21:3, 4).

The redeemed are said to be under the tender care of the Good Shepherd Himself; the Lamb (our Redeemer) who is in the midst of God's throne shall lead them, not beside "the still waters" of the Twenty-third Psalm, but "unto living fountains of water." Thus in the beauty of figurative speech, we are assured that God's provision for His children, the redeemed in Christ Jesus, will perfectly satisfy every need of soul and spirit. There is no such satisfaction this side of eternity, but we shall find it there.

Then too, there is to be no sorrow. God Himself is the guarantee that there shall be nothing in that blessed land to cause anyone to shed a tear. Think what that means! Think of the weeping of boys and girls, men and women, who in this world of hatred, sin and suffering, shed bitter tears of pain or sorrow. Well, it were almost enough to know that heaven is a place where there shall be no tears.

Remember that the promises of joyous completed redemption for these, the Gentile believers of the great tribulation, will be for all God's children, for us who believe in Christ. Reader, will you not join us today if you are still an unbeliever? Take Christ now as your Saviour.

Many a man has reluctantly put down his spade either from gardening or bait digging.

Maybe the reason more folks are marrying for love these days, is because there is probably a surplus of it and a shortage of money.

HOW TO PREPARE SCHOOL LUNCHES

Suggestions on preparing school lunches, taken from a circular entitled "Lunches for School Children," issued by the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics:

Plan the lunches in advance and for several days at a time, keeping in mind the requirements for an adequate and appetizing lunch and the foods needed to supplement the child's morning and evening meals.

Set aside a section in the cupboard for wax paper, paper napkins, small covered jars, paper cups and cartons and lunch containers, thermos bottle, rubber bands for holding sandwich wrappings in place, paper spoons, and forks.

Can vegetables, fruits and meats in small containers to use in preparing lunches.

Store perishable foods in a refrigerator or other cool place so they will be fresh and appetizing.

In preparing the family meals, keep in mind the school lunch for the next day by preparing enough dessert to have some left over, by wrapping in oil paper sandwich fillings.

It is well to check menus and supplies the day before. See that materials for sandwich fillings are chopped, ground, or sliced, and ready to use. Check the supply of salad dressing, bread and butter.

Keep the lunch box and themos bottle sweet and clean by washing them at night and leaving them open all night.

To make sandwiches that are tasty and appetizing, use thin slices of bread cut in different shapes from day to day; spread the entire slice with softened butter to keep the filling from soaking into the bread and making it soggy; mix the salad dressing with sandwich filling just before spreading; spread the filling to edges of bread and thick enough to be tasty; and wrap the sandwiches neatly in waxed paper.

Put soft foods which cannot be wrapped—puddings, fruit sauces, and custards—in small, covered containers.

Use a thermos bottle if possible for cold or hot milk, cocoa or soup.

In America you hear of the eight-day diet, the nine-day diet, the 21-day diet, and in Europe it seems to be the 365-day diet.

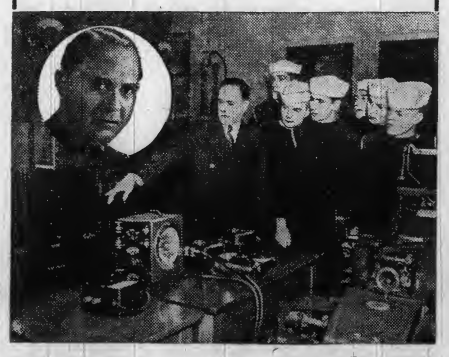
Your radio and newspapers are constantly stressing the importance of National Defense and the necessity for a better National Health.



Increased employment, and in the rush to re-arm the Democracy, overtime work is the rule rather than the exception.

You, who are going back to work after being idle for some time, will find that the tissue and muscles of the feet and limbs have possibly grown flabby from lack of exercise. The strain of long hours on your feet, and probably on hard surface will have a telling effect on your whole body. Footwear that may have been adequate in part time work or complete idleness, fail completely to support the bones of the feet in their normal posture and balance under the abnormal and more difficult working conditions. Unusual tiredness, pains in the limbs and back, tired, burning feet are nature's warning to you that your feet need attention.

Delay in protecting your feet against ultimate collapse and more serious foot difficulties, is courting long "layoffs" and loss of income. Your problem is protection.

Don't take any chances, keep your feet normal, health and strong.—Adv.

"NAVY TRADE TRAINING GAVE ME MY START" SAYS PRESIDENT, SPERRY CORPORATION

THOMAS A. MORGAN (pictured in insert), president of the Sperry Corporation, world's largest manufacturers of aeronautical and marine instruments, received his early technical training in the U. S. Navy, in which he enlisted as a young man. "This has proved of great value to me in later years," said ex-sailor Morgan. Pictured above are new Navy recruits receiving electrical training at one of the modernly equipped Navy Trade Schools. The Navy offers training to young men in nearly 50 different trades and vocations.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve—and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

WITH THE

Cincinnati Reds

Cincinnati—There will be some interesting developments as the Reds battle down the stretch in their duel with the Pittsburgh Pirates for third place in the National League. In their battle for third, the Reds will have an advantage of eighteen straight contests on their home field, a stay that started Tuesday against the Boston Braves. Secondly, after their pennant blow delivered at the Cardinals in St. Louis Saturday and Sunday, the Reds will be in position to hand out some damage to the leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who play the Reds at Crosley Field Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Between the games against the Dodgers and those against the Braves Tuesday and Wednesday, which opened the home stand, the Reds were scheduled to meet the New York Giants in single encounters Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Added interest in the Reds' eighteen home games is certain to come from the trial Bill McKechnie will give some of the young men who have graduated from the Reds' farm clubs. These young men are only those who have indicated immediate possibilities of making the grade, such as Hank Sauer, the long distance stumper from Birmingham. Scouts all say this fellow has the power. They say he can hit the ball into the next county when he gets his pitch. A fellow with those potentialities is certainly worth a thorough trial, which is just what McKechnie intends to give him.

At Birmingham, Sauer played first base, but McKechnie plans to convert him into an outfielder, as this is the greatest need of the Reds. In addition to his power, he can run and throw. Bill thinks any player who can do these things should be able to learn his way around a new position.

Sauer will be one of four outstanding minor leaguers with the Reds during this home stay. Benny Zientara, who is regarded as a great second base prospect, will be with the Reds, and so will Ray Lamanno, a catcher, who performed heroics for Birmingham. Ray Starr, from Indianapolis, has been with the Reds a week.

A fellow with great sock naturally draws most of the attention, which is probably the reason why most eyes are focused on Sauer.

OUR AIR PROGRESS

September marks the month when we publicize the progress of America in the air. Through defense schedules we keep busy designing and engineering planes that carry us along in the front ranks of progress. Commercial and transport planes take a back seat as we concentrate on military aviation. But even so we have not stood still in this field. Coast-to-Coast liners of the most modern design follow the latest of air aids to serve the nation by carrying passengers, mail and express in less than 16 hours. Our South American air schedule has been boosed to bring us in closer relationship with our neighbor. We fly to Alaska and cover this country with speed. Today, more than ever in our history, must America look for progress in the air. We watch carefully the methods and examples set in aviation by other countries. We profit by their experiences in the military field. With the prospect appearing of transporting tanks and such military equipment by air, we realize that what we have accomplished in aviation only spurs us on to bigger advances for the future.

How To Tell Enlisted Men

Non-commissioned officers in the U. S. Army, as distinct from commissioned officers, wear the insignia of their rank on the uniform sleeve. Officers wear it on the shoulder. Below each of the insignia above is the base pay for soldiers of that grade. (Chart, courtesy "H. V. Kaltenborn's Defense Series.")

"NAVY INTELLIGENCE"

Is it necessary to be a high school graduate in order to enlist in the Navy?

No. Navy enlistees need not be high school graduates. All applicants will be given an examination containing approximately 100 questions. A grade of 50 per cent or better on this examination is sufficiently high to pass the Navy educational standards. However, a high school education will be valuable to the seaman during his Navy enlistment.

• • •

If I enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve, will I be sent to a Navy Trade School?

All new recruits are sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and after a training period they may take examinations for entrance into Navy Trade Schools. Those recruits who pass their examinations with sufficiently high grades are sent to Navy Trade Schools before assignment to the fleet. While attending these schools, they will receive regular Navy pay and free schooling valued at $1500.

• • •

What is the greatest possible pay I can expect to earn during my first term of enlistment?

It is possible to earn as much as $126 a month by the end of your first term of enlistment, and remember that your clothing, lodging, medical and dental care are all supplied free.

• • •

After I have served my term of enlistment, what benefits do I get for re-enlistment?

Depending on your rate and length of service, you can get a cash bonus up to $300 plus 30 days leave with pay.

• • •

What does the term "ash can" mean in the Navy?

An "ash can" is a slang term applied to the depth charge used to combat submarines. The average "ash can" is a container filled with approximately 300 pounds of T.N.T. and can be dropped overboard from a ship and so controlled as to explode at depths ranging from 36 to 300 feet. These are generally carried by the fast ships in the fleet, as a boat dropping a charge regulated to explode at 70 feet depth must move away from the explosion area at a speed of 25 knots or more. These "ash cans" are either rolled off the stern or shot from "y-guns" which hurl one right and one left simultaneously.

FARMERS IN AAA MAY INCREASE FORAGE CROPS TO OFFSET DROUTH EFFECTS

To offset the effects of spring drouth on feed crops throughout Kentucky, the State AAA office has announced removal of agricultural conservation program restrictions on forage crops, Mark Cook, chairman of the Boone County Agricultural Conservation Association, said today.

AAA cooperators will be permitted to make immediate increases in plantings of such crops as Sudan grass, soybeans and sorghums without incurring payment deductions for exceeding their total soil-depleting allotments.

Serious damage to feed crops in general and particularly to hay and pasture in virtually all counties of the State as a result of below normal rainfall this spring is reported by the State AAA office. This threat to the Department of Agriculture's food-for-defense program prompted removal of the forage-crop restrictions, he added.

The action was taken upon recommendation of the State AAA Committee and is in line with the 1942 program changes outlined June 6, by the Secretary of Agriculture.

These 1942 agricultural conservation program changes, announced by the Secretary, permit farmers in designated counties to plant emergency forage crops in excess of total soil-depleting allotments without incurring deductions.

"All counties in Kentucky have been so designated by the AAA," O. M. Farrington, State Executive Officer of the AAA, has announced. "In effect," Farrington stated, "this removes general acreage allotments and total soil-depleting allotments during the current 1941 program year which ends June 30.

"It does not in any way affect special crop allotments for tobacco, cotton and wheat," Farrington said.

In announcing the 1942 program changes the Secretary of Agriculture pointed out that rainfall deficiencies responsible for the drouth in the eastern half of the United States have been cumulative since December. Therefore, he said, effects of the drouth cannot be entirely offset by recent rains in some areas and he emphasized that "unless emergency measures are taken in the east the food-for-defense program could be seriously handicapped.

"Although our situation has been affected by unfavorable weather conditions at a time when we need increased amounts of dairy and poultry products and meats and certain vegetables, we can use the machinery of the farm program to help compensate for the drouth damage that has occurred," the Secretary concluded.

SAYS INCOME TAX SHOULD BE REPEALED

Louisville, Ky.—The Kentucky income tax is driving industry and capital out of our state and tending to keep out many new industries badly needed here to increase wages and payrolls of our wage earners, expend the markets of our farmers, and increase land values generally, it was declared today by George T. Holmes, executive secretary of the Kentucky tax Research Association.

Holmes called attention to a comparative study of taxes and industrial development in Kentucky and her neighboring states recently completed by the research staff of the Association.

"The facts show," he said, "that our state has all the natural resources and advantages needed to make a great industrial state. Yet we stand at the bottom of the list of all the states touching our borders, with respect to industrial development.

"These facts have been obtained from official records of the Bureau of the Census at Washington, and we hope to present them fully to the people of our state before the next General Assembly meets, in an effort to create public sentiment that will result in the repeal of the state income tax. This tax, we feel, is a primary cause of our backward industrial development, in comparison with other states in competition with us for the location of industrial plants."

Other facts revealed in the Association study show that three of Kentucky's neighboring states, Ohio, Illinois, and Tennessee impose no tax at all on individual earned incomes, and that West Virginia, Ohio, and Illinois impose no income tax at all on corporations. In the other neighboring states, Indiana, Virginia, and Missouri, the income tax is considerably less than it is in Kentucky.

THE DOCTOR IS A SOLDIER

Early in June, more than 7,500 American doctors went to Cleveland, Ohio. They went there to attend the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, which is the largest meeting of 1st kind in the world. And this year the gathering was of more than ordinary interest, for its dominant note was the role of medicine in the national preparedness program.

It is apparent that the public health is a very vital factor in defense. And that concerns more than the health of our new and fast-expanding army, important as that is. It concerns the health of the millions of men who work in our factories, and who operate the machines which produce the implements of war. It concerns the health of farmers, who raise our food. It concerns the health of the civilian population, which must play its part in one way or another to speed the defense drive to a successful consummation.

The doctors of America are the custodians of the public health. Upon them rests the gigantic responsibility of curbing and fighting those diseases which take men's lives, which reduce men's productive capacities, which waste and destroy great human resources. And any layman, attending the Medical Association's meetings, would have been mightily impressed by how the doctors are meeting that responsibility. More than 250 papers describing advances in medicine were read, and elaborate scientific and technical exhibits were shown.

The doctor is a soldier—a soldier fighting an ever-lasting war against disease and plague and death. Today medicine is mobiled to make that fight even more effective.

FALL HATCHED CHICKS HAVE MANY ADVANTAGES

The farmer who takes advantage of good egg-price prospects by raising fall-hatched pullets of improved breeding to add to his laying flock next spring, will be helping his country as well as himself, says a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Uncle Sam wants eggs for national defense food, and this demand is expected to maintain egg prices at profitable levels for at least two years.

Fall-hatched chicks will increase the size of a farm flock at a time (in spring) when culling and winter losses may have reduced the number of layers by as much as 25 percent. Fall raising also provides more pullets without additional brooding equipment, and makes more efficient use of buildings, equipment, and labor.

Experiments have shown that well-managed fall-hatched pullets give satisfactory egg production. Egg weight does not come up to normal as early as it does with spring-hatched pullets, but these smaller eggs are produced at a time when the price differential between pullet eggs and large eggs is relatively small.

Farmers are advised to purchase chicks for fall brooding from hatcheries having a sound breeding program, such as those cooperating in the National Poultry Improvement Plan, a cooperative effort to improve flocks under the supervision of official State agencies and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Maybe the golf club should sell the land back to the farmer. Folks are more interested in raising corn and tomatoes than lifting sod and replacing turf.

GOLDEN RULE MEETING TO BE IN LOUISVILLE

Mrs. Dena Shelby Deihl of Danville, Kentucky, American Mother for 1941, this week issued a call for a state-wide Golden Rule convention to be held in Louisville at the Brown Hotel September 5th and 6th.

With delegates from all the counties in Kentucky expected, Mrs. Diehl plans to discuss at the convention five points (1) assistance for the underprivileged of Kentucky and for the needy overseas; (2) Organization of Golden Rule Committees in every town and county in Kentucky (3) Formation of a State Committee; (4) Selection of Kentucky Mother for Mother's Day 1942; and (5) observance of International Golden Rule Week in December, 1941.

Endorsing Mrs. Diehl's plans, Governor Keen Johnson has just sent a letter to all Kentucky newspaper editors asking that they cooperate in the selection of delegates to the state convention. He is requesting the editors to form committees in their communities which will secure competent, public-spirited citizens as delegates to the convention.

With 47 other states to be visited as quickly as possible, Mrs. Diehl looks to the convention in Louisville to set the pattern for other state conventions so that she can introduce in each state the points outlined above.

Mrs. Geo. Kottmyer, Constance, President of Boone County Homemakers Association, has been asked to represent Boone County at the Convention in Louisville, September 5-6.

NAVY DOES NOT DEMAND HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION

Since Secretary Knox announced the enlistment drive for Uncle Sam's new Two-Ocean Navy several weeks ago, many young men have asked if they were eligible to enlist without a high school education.

Allen Darby, Florence, answers this important question for the young men of Boone County.

"Navy enlistees do not have to be high school graduates," said Commander Darby. "Any ambitious and patriotic young fellow who wants to serve his country has that opportunity now by joining the United States Navy or Naval Reserve. Of course, he must be of average intelligence, good character and be able to pass certain physical and mental examinations. Now, more than ever before, the Navy needs men of that type.

"All applicants, whether or not they have high school diplomas, are given an elementary examination containing about 100 questions," explained Commander Darby. "Those receiving a grade of 50 percent or more satisfy Navy educational standards.

"Naturally, a high school education is helpful in the Navy, just as it is in civilian life," points out Edwin Walton, principal of Burlington High School.

"There are certain advantages for the high school graduate in the Navy," said Mr. Walton. "He has a wider background to call upon in earning advancement in position and pay. For example, men who are proficient in English may be sent to one of the Navy's communications or clerical schools. Recruits with a knowledge or aptitude for handling tools might be marked for a trade or engineering course. Men with college educations may qualify for midshipman's training courses in the Naval Reserve and after their schooling period they will report for active duty as officers with the rating of ensigns.

"The Navy has four excellent trade schools to which new recruits in either the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve may be sent after a training period, providing they pass entrance examinations with sufficiently high grades. At these schools they will be trained in any one of nearly fifty skilled trades or vocations to which their aptitude suits them and will receive free schooling valued at hundreds of dollars in addition to their regular Navy pay. Such an education is valuable for advancement in the Navy and in later life," he concluded.

STOPPING TO THINK

. . by . . C. B. Riddle

Billy, that wonderful pet name for William, lost his sight in a football game—and only thirteen years of age.

The misfortune cut deep and hard into the child's heart, but it cut deeper into the heart of the father. The sight could not be restored, but Billy could have a little world of his own in which to live and be happy, although blind.

So, the father with love in his heart for his unfortunate boy, and with tools and timbers and nails, built a rustic cabin in the backyard where Billy could play, listen to the birds and the radio, and there, too, entertain the other children of the neighborhood. With all this Billy became one of the most cheerful and happy children of the community.

There are millions of such misfortunate children in the world. Some have lost their sight. Some cannot walk. Some cannot hear. The hand of fate has been laid heavily upon them.

But all their happiness need not be snatched from them. And it won't be if thoughful parents or others will plan something to bring sunshine into their lives—something to help ease the heavy hand of time that moves so slowly and often so heavily when affliction's weight must be borne.

From a cynic's standpoint it is a selfish world, and often there is much to confirm that belief. But there is a cure for selfishness just as there is a happier existence for unfortunate children. And one of the greatest cures for selfishness is to do something to make some unfortunate child happy.

HARVESTING TOBACCO EXPLAINED IN LETTER BY FORK, N. C., MAN

The following is a letter received from W. H. Davis, of Fork, N. C.; Dear Mr. Editor:

Tobacco should be harvested when fullest of oil in order for it to cure easily and be rich and superior in quality. Oil does not evaporate in the process of curing like the sap does and remains to give wealth to the weed. Oil and sap (water) do not mix, but come and go, at intervals, during the life of the plant. When the sap rises it runs the oil out (oil being lighter) through the pores of the leaf to the surface where it forms a "gum" well known to all tobacco growers. Tobacco harvested when full of sap will cure badly and be light and inferior in quality.

My father, who lived to a ripe old age, grew tobacco for about 70 years. He found that there are better times than others for harvesting tobacco in order for it to cure up nicely and be good in quality. I shall be pleased to answer any letters from tobacco growing friends, provided postage is sent for reply.

Yours truly,
W. H. DAVIS.

If I attend a Navy Trade School, how many hours a week of school will I have? Navy men in Trade Schools are given thirty-two hours of school work a week and about three hours of night watches.

Must my parents consent to my enlistment if I am under 21? Yes. All applicants must be at least 17 years of age and if under 21 years of age they need the consent of their parents or guardian.

How did the term "cut of his jib" originate? In the days of sailing vessels, nationalities of boats could be distinguished by their jibs (type of sail). Their speeds vary from 25 to 50 knots and they travel from 6,000 to 30,000 yards.

This Week In Defense

The President established in the OPM a Division of Contract Distribution with Floyd Odlum of New York as Director to "face the responsibility of alleviating the hardships which have resulted from the defense program and . . . to marshal our productive capacities to the objective that no plant or tool which can be used for defense shall be allowed to remain idle." The order was issued, the President said, "in furtherance of a determined move . . . to help the smaller business units of the country obtain a fair share of the defense orders and to prevent, as far as possible, dislocation of industry and unemployment of workers in plants where production has been curtailed by priorities and material shortages."

The Division will set up branch offices throughout the nation where there will be available: procurement representatives of Federal contracting agencies to negotiate contracts and subcontracts, technical engineering advice on conversion of plants to defense work, representatives of the PM Labor Division to plan reemployment or training of workers in plants involved, and financial facilities of the RFC and other Federal agencies which may be necessary to finance plant conversion.

To spread defense work "among as great a number of firms and in as many localities as possible," the Division will revise Federal procurement practice in favor of the smaller production units—"as yet largely unused"—and promote organization of pools of small manufacturers to undertake defense work jointly. The Division will also establish exhibits showing parts of defense articles needed, their number, the tools necessary to make them and all other information so that machine shop owners and manufacturers can determine "then and there" what they can do and arrange to do it.

Production

OPM announced military aircraft manufacturers delivered 1,854 planes during August, a record and 394 planes more than in July. OPM reported 2,420 defense plants have been built or expanded since the beginning of the defense program.

The President told his press conference armament production will be accelerated by greater expenditures. The new Supply Priorities and Allocation Board, stating it will stimulate and reorganize defense production "to the limit of the nation's resources," said its general policy demands curtailment of less-essential industries which use materials and facilities necessary to a "realistic defense program."

Navy Ships

The Navy reported that during the first eight months of 1941 a total of 213 Naval vessels were completed—including one battleship, one cruiser, eight submarines and eight destroyers—and keels were laid for 436 ships, including two battleships, 13 cruisers, 18 submarines, two aircraft carriers and 57 destroyers.

Merchant Ships

Maritime Commission Chairman Land announced the Commission's building program will place in operation 1,153 new ships of approximately 12,410,000 deadweight tons between July 1, 1941, and the end of 1943. He said production is running 25 percent ahead of estimates made in May, and that from 130 to 134 new vessels will be completed this year instead of the 105 estimated in May. Admiral Land said an additional 90 vessels will be delivered in the first three months of 1942, 146 in the second quarter, 154 in the third quarter, and 184 in the fourth quarter. By the beginning of 1943, the program will yield in three months more than the 1,380,000 deadweight tons of ships constructed in the entire war year of 1918.

Army

The Second and Third Armies and 1,000 planes of the Second and Third task force, including Navy and Marine air units, began moving into the Louisiana maneuver area for combat practice September 15 to 30. The War Department said it expects to work out under actual conditions of a major battle the role of combat aviation in support of mechanized and armored ground forces.

To improve the efficiency and stamina of the Army, the Department set age limits for field officers ranging from 30 years for Second Lieutenants to 62 years for Major Generals. Officers over age will be given desk duty.

Air Raid Defense

The Army announced that it will conduct exercises during October to test the alertness and effectiveness of Eastern seaboard defenses against hostile aircraft throughout areas 125 to 150 miles inland. Approximately 45,000 civilians will act as spotters.

Aid to Russia

A Russian mission to study procurement of planes for the Russian armies arrived in the United States. President Roosevelt named W. Averell Harriman to head the U. S. mission to confer in Moscow with the Soviet Government and a British mission regarding supplies to Russia.

The Maritime Commission announced the first American tanker carrying aviation gasoline to Russia had arrived safely at Vladivostok. State Secretary Hull issued four export licenses to permit movement of British and Latin American shipments to the Soviets through the U. S.

Aid to Poland

The President authorized Lend-Lease aid to the refugee Polish Government in the form of weapons and other supplies for the Polish Legion training in Canada for overseas action.

Prices

Labor Secretary Perkins reported widespread increases in retail prices of 18 staple foods in 18 large cities in the last two weeks of August. The Department of Agriculture reported prices are now 131 percent of the 1909-14 partity average, highest level in 11 years. OCD Director LaGuardia, acting as President of the U. S. Conference of Mayors, recommended revocation of municipal licenses of retailers in cases of persistent violation of Federal price ceilings fixed by Price Administrator Henderson.

Oil, Gas

Acting Oil Coordinator Davies announced all commercial, agriculture and emergency gasoline needs will be met in full during September but there will be a 10 percent cut in deliveries on the Atlantic coast States under July. Mr. Davies also announced he had asked for and received committments from 11 principal East coast oil companies to utilize all available railroad tank cars in transportation of petroleum products to alleviate the Eastern States shortage.

President Roosevelt authorized the Southern Pipe Line Co. to use the power of eminent domain to obtain right of way for an oil pipeline from Port St. Joe, Fla., to Chattanooga, Tenn., for "national defense purposes." J. Howard Marshall, Counsel for the Petroleum Coordinator's Office, said the OPM has authority to enforce the civilian allocation program of OPACS and also to enforce a consumer rationing program on the Atlantic coast should it become necessary.

Reemployment of Soldiers

Selective Service Headquarters announced local boards will assist regulars of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps as well as selectees and Guardsmen to find employment when they leave service. The War Department sent a letter to each soldier advising of the program for reemployment.

The Army announced it will observe the following order in release of 200,000 Guardsmen, selectees and regulars during the rest of 1941: dependency and hardship cases; men who complete enlistments of either one or three years; selectees and Guardsmen who reached 28 before last July 1; married selectees who have completed one year; selectees who have completed their normal term of service.

In determining the number of men to be released from each unit, the Army will consider the state of training of the unit, its location, its mission. The Army said it will also release reserve officers, except those in the air forces, after one year of service in order to provide training opportunities for others not on duty. The air force is expanding at such a rate all air officers are needed.

RUBBING HIS EYES . . .

BUT BETTER LIGHT WILL!

WATCH your child when he works or reads. If he rubs his eyes constantly it may be a sign of eyestrain and eyestrain leads to a lot of trouble—headaches, fatigue, even nervous indigestion.

One way to prevent it is to make sure the lighting in your home is safe for seeing. Surveys show that scarcely one in ten homes is properly lighted. Yet good light and plenty of it costs only a few cents a night.

Stop in at our office today and look at the attractive new lamps and fixtures. I.E.S. lamps, designed by scientists, will give you enough light and the right kind of light for safe seeing. Athletics In The Navy Stress Good Sportsmanship

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DIRECTOR SAYS NEARLY EVERY SPORT IS PLAYED.

You wouldn't think that Uncle Sam's men who go down to the sea in ships would have much time for sports—but they do. The Navy considers athletics to be an integral part of a well-balanced Naval life. Edwin Walton, director of physical education of the Burlington school, explains how the Navy teaches teamwork, individual resourcefulness, and good sportsmanship.

"Nearly every popular American sport is played in the Navy," says Mr. Walton. "There are football, baseball and basketball teams. Boxing, wrestling, track and field and swimming meets are enjoyed. Every ship and station has an officer in charge of athletics. He, in turn, has several assistants. All work together in producing winning teams, building competitive spirit between ships and fleets."

To play on Navy teams, a man must be physically fit for every contest. Boxers and wrestlers are examined carefully before every match to make certain they are "in the pink."

Each ship has its own baseball and football teams and when a ship comes into a Naval base a series of games are arranged with the teams of other naval units. Spirit runs high and rivalry is keen. During baseball season, when the ships are at anchor at sea, the sailors rig up large nets on deck and stage batting practice just as easily as if they were on a baseball field. Some bluejackets even take their golf clubs along and practice driving into the nets.

"Healthy athletic competition puts a never-say-die spirit into the men," says Coach Walton. "It tends to develop efficient units, just as it welds unity in high schools and colleges. It develops an esprit de corps that is remarkable."

Mr. Walton recently ran across an excerpt from the Battle Fleet Athletic Rules reprinted in the U. S. Navy Bluejacket's Manual. "It could well serve as a guide for our own school and town," he said. It reads as follows: "The commander in chief desires to urge upon all that athletic competition unless it is characterized by clean sportsmanship, free from any taint or suspicion of sharp practices, and free from any unfriendliness, is not the spirit of true Americanism, which is to play fair and give a square deal. Winning or losing, the main thing is to show yourselves good and clean sportsmen—modest winners if the breaks are with you and good losers if the breaks are against you."

ABOUT PEACHES

From the Georgia-Carolinas Peach Marketing Board comes this bit about preparing peaches for canning. It is helpful especially if you do a lot of it. First make the sirup. Select fully ripe, firm peaches. Halve them and put halves in shallow wire basket or pan or on a towel. Plunge about twenty halves at a time into a boiling lye solution for one minute in order to slip off the skins easily. The lye solution should be four to six tablespoons lye to 1 gallon of water. Do not use aluminum kettles.

VOLUME 66 — BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1941 — NUMBER 16

WILLIAM TERRILL SUCCUMBS AT 87

AT HIS HOME, ELSMERE—WAS NATIVE OF FLORENCE—CLAIMED TO HAVE FORMULA FOR SQUARING CIRCLE.

William Terrill, 87, Elsmere civil engineer died suddenly Wednesday of last week following a heart attack. Mr. Terrill was a native of Boone County, having been born and reared near Florence.

He had made claim to having a solution for squaring the circle meaning to transpose the "exact" area enclose in a circle into a square, which is one of the few unsolved mathematical problems, but said he would not reveal the formula until it was copyrighted.

Mr. Terrill was the fourth of 10 children born to George W. and Amanda M. Terrill, the daughter of Simeon Walton. His father at one time represented Boone county in the Kentucky General Assembly.

Mr. Terrill studied in Boone county until 1870, when he entered college at Eminence, Ky. He began teaching in Morgan Academy, Burlington, five years later. He taught also at Petersburg, and Ghent College, Carroll county, where his instruction was in mathematics and philosophy.

He was a successful candidate for county surveyor of Boone county in 1877 and followed the surveying and civil engineering profession the remainder of his life. He set out much of what is now Erlanger and had worked in Covington, Newport and other northern Kentucky localities.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the Philip Taliaferro funeral home. Burial was in Petersburg cemetery.

Leslie Voshell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Voshell, Woolper, star baseball player and a graduate of the Burlington school, has been employed to fill the position made vacant here by Clore. "Les" has been playing baseball in the Florida State League, Leesburg, Fla., for sometime, and has made a very good record for himself in baseball. He is also a graduate of Eastern State Teachers College, Richmond.

FBI MEETING SEPTEMBER 22

FOR ALL STATE AND COUNTY LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS —JUDGE YAGER SLATED FOR WILLIAMSTOWN SPEAKER.

The FBI will hold a conference for law enforcement officers at Williamstown, Ky., in the picture show building commencing at 1 p. m. on September 22, 1941. This conference will be sponsored by the Louisville Field Division of the FBI. Law enforcement officers from Williamstown and adjacent territory will be invited to attend this meeting.

The purpose of this meeting will be to thoroughly acquaint all law enforcement agencies with their responsibilities in connection with national defense investigations which are being currently conducted by the FBI whose activities have been coordinated with law enforcement agencies in the handling of national defense violations.

On September 9, 1939, the FBI was designated "to take charge of investigative work in matters relating to espionage, sabotage and violations of the neutrality regulations "by a Directive issued by the President of the United States. In this same Directive the President directed "to this end all police officers in the United States to promptly turn over to the nearest representative of the FBI any information obtained by them relating to espionage, counter-espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and violations of the neutrality laws.

Arrangements have been made for Circuit Judge Ward Yager, Warsaw, Kentucky, to address the meeting on the subject of National Defense. Lt. G. W. Carr of the Kentucky State Highway Patrol, Frankfort, Ky., will give a talk on the activities of the Kentucky State Highway Patrol in National Defense investigations.

On this program, there will be exhibited to the officers in attendance, the sound movie film entitled "Men of the FBI," which film has recently been released for exhibition. This film depicts the activities of the Special Agents of the FBI in the handling of national defense investigations. A representative of the FBI will give a technical discussion by the FBI representative in the use of photography in national defense particularly methods which might be employed by a representative of a foreign government to obtain photographs of objects valuable to the foreign government which he represents.

Particular emphasis is being placed by the FBI on this FBI Law Enforcement Officers Mobilization Plan for National Defense. A comparatively large volume of complaints in national defense matters are currently being received by the FBI, which require the assistance of duly constituted law enforcement agencies in making preliminary investigations. Sheriff F. M. Walton, of Boone County has been invited to represent Boone County at the Williamstown meeting.

84TH BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED

FOURTEEN FRIENDS HONOR C. A. FOWLER WITH BIRTHDAY DINNER, SATURDAY—SERVED AS JAILER 12 YEARS.

Fourteen friends of Charles A. Fowler, Hebron gathered at the home of Mrs. L. C. Weaver Saturday noon for the purpose of honoring Mr. Fowler on his 84th birthday.

Charles A. Fowler was born at Burlington on September 13, 1857, the son of Edward and Susan Scott Fowler, the youngest of eleven children.

He attended the public schools at Burlington, whereupon he learned the painters' trade which in those days necessitated a thorough understanding in the mixing of paints. He followed that profession in Burlington until leaving for Ohio during the winter of 1885. At Athens Ohio, and various other places in that locality, he followed the painters' trade during the summer and taught dancing during the winter.

He married a girl of that town by the name of Ellen Logan, daughter of J. W. and Mary Doodruff Logan. This event took place on February 16, 1888. Mr. Fowler has two children, Eugenia Scott born at Burlington March 2, 1901, the wife of C. H. Bridgewater, of Akron, Ohio, and son James Fowler Bridgewater; Jerry Logan Fowler, born at Athens, Ohio May 25, 1883 who married Hazel Grow of Greenville, Mich. They live at Hebron and have one child, Mary Margaret.

In 1917 Mr. Fowler was appointed jailer, later being elected to the office which he held for twelve years. He refused to make the race for this office in 1929, not feeling equal to the occasion. He said a job worth doing at all is worth doing well, and he was afraid his ill health would not permit him to do justice to the position.

A. D. Yelton, a very close friend of Mr. Fowler, was in charge of dinner arrangements and made a few brief remarks after the meal. Mr. Fowler was deeply touched by the occasion and expressed his appreciation for same, and ended by relating some of his "good jokes" for which he is noted.

Those present for the occasion were: A. D. Yelton, Chas. W. Riley, Courtney Kelly, A. E. Stephens, J. T. Williams, Harold Conner, Mrs. Alberta Green, Miss Dorotha Nell Furnish, Elmer Kirkpatrick, C. Liston Hempfling, J. C. Bedinger, F. M. Walton and John Crigler.

Mr. Fowler stated that he was still enjoying good health and jokingly said "that I see no need for me to die as long as everyone else is living." The group disbanded wishing Mr. Fowler many more happy birthdays.

T. V. Rouse, of Crittenden, was a pleasant caller at this office Friday. While here Mr. Rouse had his subscription moved up another year, and placed an advertisement in the classified column.

PRODUCERS WILL STRIKE

UNLESS MILK PRICE IS BOOSTED TO $3.50 PER HUNDREDWEIGHT — MEETING HELD MONDAY NIGHT.

Cincinnati milk dealers have until Friday, to decide whether to meet the demands of a large group of dairy farmers or face the prospect of a milk strike.

Attorney Robert N. Gorman, counsel for a large majority of Cincinnati milk dealers, said no statement would be issued until the demands of the producers were presented. He indicated, however, that the dealers might meet in advance of receiving the formal demands to form a general statement of their position.

At a dramatic meeting in Greenhills Community Building Monday night, the farmers voted to "dump their milk' 'rather than ship it into Cincinnati milk shed unless they were granted a substantial increase in price during the next three days.

At the meeting Monday, it was stated that the farmers were more than willing to cooperate with the government in the National Defense program, but could not continue to produce milk at the present price being paid by the dealer. The retail price of milk is not in keeping with the price now being paid the producer, and it is this dealer's profit or the "middle man" that was objected to by the producers.

The vote was called after considerable discussion, and it was a unanimous vote to withold milk unless demands were met, including a representative body of the truckmen. It was explained that over 1200 persons voted, and that they represented over 2,000 producers from this Cincinnati shed.

Frank Leever, Mt. Healthy, chairman of the meeting, said that 1,500 dairy farmers attended and that they represented a clear majority of the producers in this area.

Briefly, here are the demands the farmers voted to seek:

1. A price of $3.50 per hundredweight for 3.5 per cent butterfat milk, with a four-cent differential.
2. A fair butterfat test.
3. A fair method of determining the weight of milk.
4. An increase of 10 cents per hundredweight on the existing price of hauling milk.

Unless dealers agree to grant the demands, the farmers said that beginning Friday they would throw their milk away or feed it to their pigs. In addition, they volunteered to patrol all roads leading into Cincinnati to make certain that no milk reached this area.

J. B. McCroskey, Federal Milk Market Administrator, said the Department of Agriculture could not possibly hand down a decision concerning a recent milk hearing soon enough to avert the strike. At the hearing, producer organizations asked for the $3.50 flat price. Regulations of the department would prevent putting an increase into effect—if they decided to do so—for at least 10 to 15 days.

Several dealers said that it would be economically impossible for them to meet the farmers' demands. They indicated that they would favor the appointment of a fair and unprejudiced abritrator—agreeable to both sides—who would set a producer price for milk. Should the strike be called, they estimated about $15,000 worth of milk would be destroyed each day during the "holiday."

ALL-STARS MEET MARTZ NINE SUN.

AT LOCAL PARK IN SERIES OPENER—ELIMINATED THIRD TEAM SUNDAY—PETERSBURG WINNER SATURDAY.

The Boone County All-Stars moved into the championship series of the Campbell County Semipro League Sunday as they downed Pleezing Foods 6-2 at the Burlington park. The win puts the local in a five-game series with Martz Cardinals, the high-flying defending champions, to determine the league championship. The opening game will be played at the Burlington park as these two top teams meet for the first time.

In removing the Pleezing team from the contests the All-Stars pounded two hurlers for five extra-base blasts in collecting 11 blows, while Steffen held the Pleezing batsmen to six bingles and stopped 13 at the plate. After the home boys took a two-run lead in the fourth they were never threatened.

Mahan opened the fourth with a base knock and scored when Steffen hit safely; a two-bagger hit by Hebe Deck sent Steffen in for the All-Stars' second run before they were retired. After Pleezing picked up a tally in the fifth, the locals came back to add another as Ryle hit a double and Kirkpatrick singled. In the seventh the All-Stars increased their lead by three more tallies when Henry Deck, Mahan, and Kirkpatrick collected timely hits and Shinkle a walk. A miscue gave the losers their second run in the closing frame. Hitzfield collected the longest hit of the game, a triple which barely missed being a home run.

Petersburg evened the three-game series of the Boone County League at one-all Saturday when they turned back the Big Bone team 9-5 at the winner's park. The deciding game will be played at the Burlington park Saturday.

The game started out to be a see-saw contest as Big Bone took a one-run lead in the opening frame, Petersburg a 2-1 lead in the second, and Big Bone coming back to tie it up at 2-2 in their time at bat in the third. But the ultimate winner added four runs in the bottom of the third to take a winning lead. Carroll and Williamson were on the hill for Big Bone and gave up 10 base knocks. D. Deck held the losing batsmen to seven hits as two of his teammates pounded out three hits each, Mahan and Edwards collected a double, a triple and a single each.

With appointment of Mr. Riley as Advisor, northern Kentucky has for the first time under the new wildlife conservation regime official representation at Frankfort. His term will extend to July 1, 1944.

HIS FOOT IN IT

You try to play the role of good fairy and wind up a sucker for the cause! The tale begins where the warden of a state prison decided to install a beauty shop in the prison for the enjoyment of the women inmates. He had it figured that when a woman can have her hair washed and waved she is more agreeable and it raises her morale, especially if she is spending time in prison. So the beauty parlor gets under way and things are peaceful enough until the ladies ask for more service and prompt attention. The high-point comes when a woman was refused a manicure. A real fight is staged and five women were punished and not denied privileges but were whipped. This latter affair was without orders from headquarters it seems and it created more of a row than the manicure episode. The result is that the warden who hoped to bring harmony with beauty treatments, brought another man to take his position in the prison. So ends his good deed for the day!

STAGING A COME-BACK

It hasn't been so long ago that folks wondered what was happening to the horses and mules that used to be found on almost every farm in our country. The demand for mechanized help on our rural land lead to the transfer of the horse and mule to the tractor and motor driven combine. But we hear that the horse and mule again come into their town because of a threatened rationing of gasoline and the added difficulty in purchasing farm machinery due to busy defense manufacture. When a Chicago trucking concern substituted two teams to replace motors, for short hauling, it may be a forerunner of things to come for the mule and horse kingdom. The sun has not set on the usefulness of those old standbys of the pre-gasoline era.

THE LAND OF ICE

We are reading more lately concerning Iceland and its inhabitants, their industry, manner of life, background and son on. We probably learned in our geography days, and since forgot, that Iceland isn't an endless stretch of ice and snow. Recent pictures show us red-roofed houses and church spires and sheep grazing on green land and a countryside dotted with white farm houses such as one sees in Boone County. It isn't all icebergs and snow flurries, evidently. We are informed that the Icelander is a very intelligent individual and admires honesty and courtesy above American money. He is looking forward to the time when their military visitors will leave them to their tranquil way of life, for they have wisely figured that there is going to be a change in their way of living after this boom dies down and the influx of men and trade ceases. It makes interesting reading to learn more of our fellow men and especially those who are considered our close neighbors.

SMALL TOWN STUFF

Somebody is always taking the joying out of life. Not long ago a western city of over a million population proved itself to be a small town in spite of its size. The city fathers passed an ordinance that made it unlawful to wait and watch the trains come into town. The fact that folks even in this size city still get a kick out of going down to watch the trains come in puts them in our class, doesn't it? People around Boone County still follow the old custom that was popular long before new streamlined trains whizzed along the tracks. Yes sir, many a reader can remember when the arrival of a train meant reason enough to saunter past the depot to see who was coming to town or leaving it. Maybe we were fascinated by the puff and roar, the sight of the big locomotive and the wave of the engineer who sat with his arm hanging over the side of the cab seeming a very important individual in this mechanical picture. But today we have become a bit too sophisticated to go out of our way for a train unless we might happen to be on the track. What ever the reason for this big western city making such a law, whether the station was too crowded for traffic, too many peddlers heckling the tourists, too many people seeking autographs of "big names" it all goes to prove that there is still some of the small town left in lots of us even if our mailing address is in the metropolis.

A CLOSED SEASON

We recently read an article dealing with a subject dear to our hearts. It was concerning the matter of trees and the conserving of them through a closed season. As we all know, almost every state has a closed season on fish and game. We protect our waters and our wildlife. What happens to man's friends the forests of the nation with unchecked waste practiced throughout? Three-fourths of this country's forests lie in the hands of private ownership and although many men in the timber industry take steps to protect forest resources, there is still a wholesale slaughter of our good friends, the majestic woods. By abusing the forests we bring on erosion and floods, cutting down our future for those raw materials necessary in the life of a country. There are owners of large forest tracts who give no thought to the regulation of reforestration and so by exploiting their land for their own personal financial gain, they give no thought to future generations to come. So why not a closed season on trees?

FOOD SELECTION SHIFTS

People eat about the same total quantity of food now as they did 30 years ago, but the composition of the dietary has changed, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Consumption of wheat and other cereals, potatoes and apples, beef, veal and tea declined, but consumption of vegetables, citrus fruits, sugar, poultry, eggs, milk, ice cream, fats and oils, cocoa, chocolate and coffee increased. Consumption of lamb and muton, pork and lard, butter and sweetpotatoes has varied during the past 30 years, but the general level of consumption of these foods has not changed.

Children's Feet

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
Where Foot Comfort Begins

Ninety-nine out of a hundred babies are born with good feet, even if they do appear to be flat at the start. We say babies are born with flat feet because the bony masses in a new-born baby's feet are held in place by fat pads. As the baby starts to stand and walk, these fatty pads are absorbed and muscles take their place. By about the third year the arch of the foot should be pretty well defined if the child is going to have any arch. We say if, because every one isn't intended to have a high arched contour to the foot, any more than every one is meant to have the same color of hair or eyes. Perhaps when the child starts to stand he is overweight, or undernourished or has gone thru a serious illness. In that event the muscles may not develop enough to produce an arch in his foot. He then grows with a natural flat foot. The condition is rarely painful. However, many cases of flat feet can be averated if the child is provided with shoes that hold the weak foot in alignment. Such shoes are usually wedged slightly under the inner border of the heel bone. This prevents tipping in of the ankles and by over correction has a tendency to cause the muscles on the inner border of the leg to shorten. These muscles are the ones which keep the foot arched.—Adv.

OVERCOMING THE ADVERSARY

LESSON TEXT—Revelation 12:7-12; 15:2-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death.—Revelation 12:11.

War! What a familiar word! Men are saying we should put an end to war. We wish it were possible, but as long as sin rules in the hearts of men, there will be wars; in fact, our lesson tells us of a greater war which is to take place in the heavens. The devil is busy not only on earth, but in the heavenly places, and wherever he is there is war. Only when Christ, the Prince of Peace, comes to reign will peace come to all the earth.

Our lesson presents three scenes: Conflict in heaven, rejoicing over victory there, and a victory on earth which brought joy in heaven.

I. War in Heaven (12:7-9).

A clear, succinct, and helpful word on these verses is quoted from Dr. John R. Bradbury:

"The dispensational interpretation of this passage is that during the period of tribulation, which follows the rapture of the saints, as described in I Thessalonians 4:15-18; I Corinthians 15:51, 52, and other passages, there will be a war in heaven between Michael and his angels and the devil and his. Satan is not in hell now. It is wrong to teach that he is there. He is the prince of the power of the air. He rules the darkness of this world. He inspires wickedness in his domain and on earth. Against these conditions the Christian is solemnly warned to prepare (Eph. 6:10-18). When we say that Satan is in heaven, we do not mean the heaven of the immediate presence of God. The Bible speaks of different heavens and there is even a 'heaven of heavens' (I Kings 8:27).

"From whence come all the cross-currents of wickedness now sweeping over the world—many of them contrary to the wishes of the vast majority of the people? That there is a malevolent genius directing sinister operations to hinder and baffle God and to destroy mankind is easy to understand. Many people ask, 'Why does not God destroy him?' The answer to that is in this lesson. His hour is coming. He will be expelled from his domain by Michael and his angels. Then, because the people of this world have co-operated with Satan so willingly, he will be allowed to take refuge in the earth. He will come down (v. 12) in great wrath, 'because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.' "

II. Rejoicing in Heaven (12:10-12).

If we accept what seems to be the correct view; namely, that the woman of Revelation 12:1-5 is Israel, the nation in which the child (v. 5), who is Christ, was born, then it would appear that those who here rejoice in the victory over the dragon (Satan) would be the Jewish believers who will have come through great tribulation. At the same time it is quite appropriate to apply the truth of the passage to us who now find ourselves in conflict with Satanic powers.

The accuser does not hesitate to appear even in the presence of God to bring charges against us (see Job 1:6-12). But we need not fear him, for he is already judged (I John 16:11) and will (as we see in our lesson) one day be cast down to earth, and (as other Scripture reveals) will ultimately be cast into the lake of fire (Rev. 20:10).

But he is here now, a supernatural (but not divine) being, plaguing us, tempting us, accusing us. What shall we do about it? As to his accusation, we know we have a just and loving God and also have an Advocate to plead our causes before Him (I John 2:2). For his present attacks, our lesson gives the secret of spiritual victory in verse 11.

III. Victory on Earth (Rev. 15: 2-4).

The scene of victorious rejoicing which we see here is evidently in heaven, but it is because of victory on earth. Here are those that have come through the horrible conditions described in Revelation 13, and have been victorious over the beast, in spite of his great powers.

They sing; that is the token of real victory, of a heart victory. Whatever loss they may have suffered, and whatever trials they may have gone through, they have "gotten the victory" (v. 2). They sing the song of Moses and the Lamb (cf. Exod. 15:1-21 and Rev. 5:9-14).

It is right that the redeemed of the Lord should sing, glorifying the name of God (v. 4) and magnifying His great and marvelous works (v. 3). Let us remind ourselves again that if we are Christians, we are on the victorious side. The glimpse into the heavens which we find in our lesson should give us the right perspective with which to view the troublesome experiences of life. God has a plan, and He will bring it to complete and victorious fruition in His own time and His own way.

There may be a difference in the meaning of thief and robber in the dictionary, but no difference if practiced on Boone Countians.

WHEN YOU CHECK UP

On the difference in cost in plainting with cheap paint and with good paint, you'll find the first cost about the same. But the real cost must be figured in terms of service, not in gallons of paint. How long will it be before you have to paint again?—that's the thing to consider. The answer can only be in favor of good paint.

Men 17 To 50 Wanted For U. S. Naval Reserve

According to an announcement made this week in Washington by order of Secretary of the Navy Knox, "All men now enlisted in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years but, if a man enlists today and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be returned to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over, and will not be required to complete his four year term in active service.

Four classes of service in the United States Naval Reserve need men urgently today. They are Class V-R, which includes radio and communications; V-5, aviation; V-6, for trade specialists or men desiring trade or vocational training; V-7, fleet officers. A more detailed outline of each class follows below.

Men with specialized training in radio, searchlight and semaphore signaling or Morse telegraphy may be enrolled in Class V-3, the communications class of the Naval Reserve. These men will be enlisted as petty officers with ratings according to their degrees of proficiency. Pay for men enrolling in this group ranges from $60 a month for a petty officer third class to $99 a month for a chief petty officer. An additional allowance of $1.15 per day is made for men with dependents who have the rating of petty officer second class or higher.

A man with at least two years of college education who desires to enter naval aviation will be enlisted as a season second class in Class V-5 of the Naval Reserve. After a month's preliminary training the V-5 recruit will become a naval aviation cadet and will be sent for advanced training to one of the three principal naval flight training centers: Pensacola, Fla.; Jacksonville, Fla.; or Corpus Christi, Texas. On completion of this advanced course which requires approximately seven months, the V-5 cadet will be designated as a naval aviator and will be commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

During the first month of training, V-5 recruits are paid $36. On completion of the first month's training the V-5 recruit is designated as a naval aviation cadet and will be paid $75 a month, plus $1 per day living expenses. Upon commission as an ensign his pay will be increased to approximately $245 a month and in addition he will receive regular pay bonuses of $500 for each year he serves in active duty after the training period.

Class V-6 in the U. S. Naval Reserve offers opportunities for men with specialized training to continue their trades and at the same time serve their country. This group includes specialists of any kind such as electricians, carpenters, machinists, stenographers, accountants, plumbers, cooks, bakers and many other trades and vocations. These men will upon enlistment be given ratings in accordance with the amount of previous specialized training they have had.

Men with no previous specialized training will be enlisted in Class V-6 as apprentice seamen with pay of $21 a month. Directly following enlistment the new recruit will be sent to one of the four Naval Training Stations for a short period. At the Training Station the apprentice seaman will be given an aptitude test and if he passes this test successfully he will be sent to a Navy Trade School. Approximately 5500 men are admitted to Navy Trade Schools each month. This schooling, valued at hundreds of dollars, is free and the seamen receive their regular Navy pay while receiving instructions.

Those applicants who do not pass their tests for admission to a Navy Trade school will be sent to duty aboard ship where an opportunity will be given them to train in a trade. Four months after enlistment all non-specialized applicants in Class V-6 will be advanced automatically to seaman second class with a pay increase to $36 a month.

Men with previous specialized training of any kind will be enlisted in the Naval Reserve Class V-6 with petty officer rating and will be sent immediately to the ship or shore station where they are needed.

College graduates who desire engineering or deck duty as officers in the U. S. Naval Reserve will be enlisted as Midshipmen, Class V-7. Upon completion a four months' training course these men will be commissioned ensigns in the Naval Reserve. During the training period Midshipmen are paid $65 a month. As ensigns with commissions the pay will be approximately $143 a month with an additional allowance of $40 a month if they are married.

All applicants for the U. S. Naval Reserve must be native-born citizens of the United States with the exception of candidates for Class V-5 who must have been United States citizens for a period of at least ten years.

Detailed information with regard to enlistment in any class of the U. S. Naval Reserve may be secured by writing to or calling at your nearest regional Navy Recruiting Station.

MOVIE STAR JOINS U.S. NAVY

Ensign Wayne Morris Seeks Wings

Wayne Morris, recent star of "I Wanted Wings," became a member of Uncle Sam's Navy in May, 1941, when he was appointed to the rank of Ensign.

When asked what he thought of the United States Navy, Morris said, "I think every man who is considering joining a military service should look into the 'chance of a lifetime' which the Navy and Naval Reserve offer to get into the big-pay field of the future—aviation. In the Navy you can attend the finest flight training schools in the world, and receive instruction from Navy pilots who introduced dive bombing, aircraft carriers and catapult take-offs to the rest of the world. Also, there are opportunities in Naval Aviation for men who don't want to fly. They can be trained as aviation machinists, metalsmiths, photographers, observers, or they can receive instruction in many other trades. It's a great life in the Navy."

WORD RECEIVED OF DEATH OF DAVID A. PIATT

The following article was taken from the Lawrenceburg Register:

Will Taylor received word recently of the death of an old friend and former resident of this community, David A. Piatt, of 12016 Texas Ave., W. Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Piatt, a newspaperman in Los Angeles, was struck by a taxicab on the evening of August 20 and died the following day without regaining consciousness, according to the letter received by Mr. Taylor from Ethel Piatt, wife of Mr. Piatt.

David Piatt was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Piatt, who lived in Boone County, Ky., on the hill opposite Lawrenceburg. The Piatts were prominent people who were closely identified with the Lawrenceburg community. Mr. Piatt's mother, who was educated at Oldenburg academy, taught her son at home. He attended no formal school, but was a brilliant and well educated man.

While still in this community, Mr. Piatt wrote for a number of newspapers and magazines. Going to California to make his home, he worked on many newspapers in that state and was considered one of the most brilliant reporters in the state.

RED CROSS LADIES MEET

The ladies of the American Red Cross met last Thursday afternoon in the grand jury room of the court room for the purpose of selecting a workroom and also to organize the work therein.

After discussing the matter it was decided that the work would take place in the upstairs room of the courthouse.

Due to the fact that some of the ladies were unable to meet at the same time, two different work periods were planned. The work room will be open on each Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 4 and each Thursday evening from 7 to 10.

Sewing machines are to be donated and brought by different members.

Mrs. Lee Huey and Mrs. Carrie Botts were elected as daytime supervisors for the work room and Mrs. Elza Poston and Mrs. H. R. Forkner as evening supervisors. These supervisors were given the privilege of selecting their own assistants.

Mrs. G. C. Jarrell was elected general chairman of the work room.

Everyone is urged to be present during these working hours, and it will be greatly appreciated if any one can donate a sewing machine to this great cause.

A County Court in England recently declared that a boiler riveter is more important today than a jazz magician.

SATURDAY

"An AllAmerican voice" is what Ruth Terry, brunette beauty of Republic's "Rookies On Parade" a tune-filled comedy, claims for herself. And with good reason too! Her full-throated huskiness comes from her native Illinois, but that drawl which she uses to such good effect in blues and Latin music, she got from listening to colored people in Florida and Louisiana. And finally, she picked up that quality of "piquancy" from observing and listening to the most successful of Manhattan's famous night club singers.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

The St. Brendan's Choir, nationally famous musical organization which sings at St. Brendan's Cathedral, Los Angeles, makes its screen appearance in Columbia's "Blondie in Society" with Penny Singleton Arthur Lake, Larry Simms, Daisy, the pooch, Edgar Kennedy and William Frawley.

There are twenty-five singers in the choir, all of whom appear in the picture.

WED., THURS., AND FRIDAY

Rosalind Russell's first act after being chosen the "Best Dressed Motion Picture Star" was to introduce a new hat style—the Arabic Drape. Designed by Adrian, the wide-brimmed white Bangkok straw is held onto the head by a white silk jersey drape which starts under the crown of the hat. It covers the ears and side cheeks, crosses under the chin, and continues around the neck and back to the front, where it blends into the costume exactly as the head drapes worn by the Arabs. A three inch hem in black gives the drape a striking contrast. Miss Russell wears it for the first time in "They Met in Bombay" as a complement of her white two-piece wool suit.

REFERENDUM SET OCTOBER 2 TO 4

FOR 27 BURLEY TOBACCO MARKETS — BALLOTS WILL BE MAILED TO GROWERS—TWO-THIRDS VOTE REQUIRED.

A referendum will be held October 2 through October 4 for 27 Burley tobacco markets in Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Indiana, and Missouri, to determine whether these markets shall be designated for free and mandatory inspection of all tobacco passing over the auction sales floor, the Department of Agriculture's Marketing Service announced.

The referendum will cover the following markets: Bloomfield, Camp Taylor, Carrollton, Covington, Glasgow, Greensburg, Harrodsburg, Hopkinsville, Lexington, Louisville, Owensboro, and Richmond in Kentucky; Carthage, Fayetteville, Franklin, Gallatin, Greeneville, Hartsville, Johnson City, Morristown, New Tazewell, and Rogersville in Tennessee; Asheville and Boone in North Carolina; Madison and New Albany in Indiana; and Weston in Missouri.

Sixteen Burley markets are already designated in Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia. Tobacco marketing officials point out that if two-thirds of the growers voting in this referendum approve tobacco inspection, tobacco sold on all Burley markets in the United States will be graded at no cost to the grower. Official Government grades were used as a basis for making Government loans on the 1940 crop of Burley, and will be used as a basis for making loans on the 1941 crop.

Under the Tobacco Inspection Act, all growers who sold at auction on these markets last year, and who have not previously voted in a Burley tobacco referendum, are eligible to vote. Ballots will be mailed to growers who patronized these markets last season in so far as their names and addresses are known. Growers who do not receive ballots by mail may get them from their county agent or from the office of the county agricultural Conservation Association.

Growers who patronize markets on which the inspection service is conducted have access to a daily market report showing average prices by grade. With grades plainly indicated on each lot and price reports for the privious day's sale on each grade, growers have a reliable guide for use in accepting or rejecting bids offered. This inspection and market news service is free to growers.

ADVICE GIVEN BY SPECIALIST

ON POND BUILDING IN MEETING HELD TODAY—IS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO ALL FARMERS.

Earl G. Welch, Extension Agricultural Engineer of the College, will address Boone County farmers in a meeting today, Thursday, September 25th, on methods of pond construction and principles in making leaking ponds hold water. The meeting on farm water supply will be in the form of a tour in which a number of recently constructed ponds will be inspected.

This meeting will be of special interest to practically all farmers, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Droughts of recent years and the drying up of many of the best springs has created a major livestock production problem. Large farm ponds and lakes are proving the practical solution of this problem with many farmers.

Mr. Welch has had considerable experience in successful pond building. He will be present when the tour starts from the County Agent's office in Burlington at 9:00 a. m. Thursday and will lead the discussion at the visits to the farms of Ernest Allen, L. W. Gulley, George Griffith, Chester L. Tanner, Joe Northcutt where new ponds and lakes have recently been constructed. Those attending the meeting will meet back at the County Agent's office at 1:00 p. m. and go to farm where the construction of a new pond is just starting. A general meeting will be held at this stop.

All farmers and everyone interested in the farm water supply is urged to attend.

Mrs. Frank Jockey, of Walton, spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jockey.

Voshell Takes Over Duties At Burlington School This Week

Leslie Voshell, assumed the duties of coach and teacher in the Burlington school Monday of this week, filling the vacancy in the teaching staff made by the resignation of Harold Kelly Clore.

He will assume the duties of coach of the Burlington basketball team, which position was assigned him by Edwin Walton, principal.

Mr. Voshell is well qualified to fill both the teaching and coaching job, having been among the highest ranking students in his class, taking the teachers' examination at Eastern.

During the past three years Voshell has played left field for the Leesburg, Fla., baseball team of the Florida State Baseball League, and during the past year has served as captain of his team.

LOCAL ALL-STARS WIN FIRST GAME

OF SERIES, DEFEATING MARTZ CARDINALS—WILL PLAY AT MARTZ PARK SUNDAY—COUNTY SERIES CONTINUES.

The Boone County All-Stars moved another notch nearer the championship of the Campbell County Semipro Baseball League Sunday when they wallopped Martz Cardinals 7-1 at the local park in the opening contest of the five-game championship series, as the teams clashed for the first time this season. The next contest will be played at the Martz park at Ross, Sunday.

The local semipros specialized in extra-base blasts, from the offerings of "Doc" Morris, Martz's first line hurler, as six of their eight hits were good for extra bases—three triples, two doubles, and a home run. Meanwhile, Steffen, on the hill for the home team, allowed but six bingles, one a two-bagger, as he struck out twelve and gave two walks, while ten of his teammates suffered strike outs and one drew a walk.

The locals lost no time in taking the lead. Shinkle lead-off man, opened the All-Star's first time at bat with a smashing triple and scored on an infield out, to put his team out in front. After a two-bagger and a single gave Martz their lone tally in the third, the locals came back to add two more runs, as Ryle drew a base on balls, Shinkle hit another three-bagger, Sebree a double. Ryle opened the fifth with a double, which Mahan followed with a line-drive and Sebree with another two-bagger, for two more runs. The All-Stars added their final runs in the eighth when Kirkpatrick was safe on base on the only error of the game and Hebe Deck blasted out a home run. Action was seen in the Martz bull-pen as early as the fifth inning, though Morris remained on the mound throughout the game for the Martz nine.

Petersburg took the lead in the five-game championship series of the county league by ekeing out a 6-2, twelve-inning win, over the Big Bone team. The ultimate winner had to come from behind in the eighth frame to knot the score and then go into extra innings to win.

Big Bone took a two run lead in the third as Rogers doubled and Dale Williamson blasted out a home run. Petersburg tallied in the fifth on a hit batsman and a bingle by D. Deck and evened the score at two-all in the eight on a two-bagger by D. Deck and a base knock by Mahan. Then it was the twelfth inning before another run was scored, when McWethy singled, Henry Deck walked, and D. Deck and Hitzfield collected two baggers. D. Deck the winning pitcher held his opponents to five hits, while striking out 13; Howard Ryle gave up 12 bingles, 3 in the fateful 12th inning, and fanned ten.

The next game will be played at the Burlington park Saturday, which will be the fourth in the series. Big Bone having taken one, Petersburg two. Through an error it was incorrectly stated in this column last week that the game Saturday was the deciding one, when it was the third in the series, with the last three scheduled for the Burlington park.

Crutcher Named Campaign Chairman

Transylvania College alumni and members of Disciples of Christ Churches in Burlington, Hebron, Grant and Petersburg vicinity will rally to the support of the college's current campaign to add $350,000 to existing endowment, it was announced yesterday by E. J. Crutcher of Burlington, who has accepted chairmanship of a local campaign committee already in process of organization.

The endowment campaign, it was explained by Mr. Crutcher, is the second of three phases in the present Development Program of Transylvania College. The first phase, which involves the raising of funds for construction of a new gymnasium-auditorium on the college campus at Lexington, is confined to that city and has already resulted in subscription amounting to more than $86,000, including one gift of $25,000 from Warren Wright, owner of Whirlaway, the bluegrass bred three-year-old winner of the Kentucky Derby and other notable stakes.

The third phase of the program will be devoted to the raising of funds for construction, equipment, and maintenace of a new library building to house the valuable book collections belonging to the college. It is hoped to secure support for this project from educational foundations and a relatively small number of philanthropically inclined individuals.

Announcement of the local committee personnel together with plans for the campaign here will be made at an early date, Mr. Crutcher stated.

One or two other local chairmen have been appointed for the Walton and Florence areas, but Mr. Crutcher was unable to furnish names of these local workers.

PURE FOOD EXPOSITION TO BE HELD OCT. 12-19

The third annual Pure Food Exposition sponsored by the Northern Kentucky Independent Food Dealers Association will be held again this year at the Covington Tobacco Warehouse, 2nd and Scott Streets, from Oct. 12th to 19th, inclusive.

From all indications this year's show will be the biggest ever staged up to the present time. Approximately twenty-five new exhibitors have contracted for booths in the food show besides the eighty-five exhibitors who were in the show in previous years.

A new feature of this year's show will be the awarding of $1500.00 of major prizes to those attending the exposition. As in previous shows there will be a cooking school early in the afternoon conducted by Marsha Wheeler home economic expert from WLW. Later in the afternoon a free social will be given with additional awards to all who participate.

Throughout the day many famous radio celebrities will originate their programs direct from the broadcasting booth in the show. These stars can be seen in person at these times.

Mr. Ben Kees, chairman of the entertainment Committee, has been making elaborate plans to bring an outstanding vaudeville show to the tobacco warehouse each night, featuring well known radio and screen stars and topnotch vaudeville acts from all over the country.

Mr. Larry Hiltz, President of the Northern Pure Food Exposition, says that the show each year is given primarily to create a friendly feeling between the independent grocer and their customers. All manufacturers and wholesalers will give away or sell coupons at the show which will be redeemable at any independent grocery store. Mr. Hiltz, says that all grocers should cooperate with the manufacturers and wholesalers who are in the show by tying in with the food show advertising and publicity, and also display merchandise that is featured at the show.

Mr. Ollie Bracke, chairman of the prize committee, announced that increased prizes would be given away daily at each and every program featured throughout the day. Mr. Bracke says, that the 10:30 drawing each evening should prove most popular as many valuable prizes have been added to this drawing.

Larry Baumbach, General Chairman, says that many new improvements have been added to the warehouse for the convenience of the visitors to the show. New lighting has been installed in the warehouse and with these improvements it will be the most brilliantly lighted building in all Northern Kentucky. New decorations with flags from all southern countries will be on display. The color scheme of the drapes and decorations will be different in color than any used in previous shows.

Due to the new defense taxes which have been levied by Congress the admission price will be raised from ten cents to fifteen cents. Four cents of this increased sum will have to be paid to the federal and state governments.

Mr. Barney Malloy, Chairman of the booth rental for the show said that the booths for the show have nearly all been taken and he is most pleased at the large representation of local businesses from Kenton and Campbell counties that have reserved space in the show.

Arrangements are being made to distribute 300,000 food show tickets which may be secured through the local independent grocers in both counties.

DEDICATION OF LIBRARY

IS SET FOR OCTOBER 5 AT KENTUCKY FEMALE ORPHAN SCHOOL, MIDWAY—NATIVE OF BOONE TO GIVE ADDRESS.

Edgar C. Riley, Superintendent and Business Director of the Kentucky Female Orphan School, invites his friends from his native county to attend the dedication of the Marrs Library building on the campus of the Kentucky Female Orphan School at Midway, Ky. This building is to be dedicated on Sunday afternoon, October 5, at 2:30 p. m. The address of dedication will be given by a native Boone County boy, Mr. E. Y. Chapin of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

The library building and its inside finish is one of the most beautiful as well as one of the most substantial, educational buildings in the state. It is builded of brick, concrete, structural steel, tile, aluminum window sashes, and the only thing to burn would be the wood finish.

This institution was begun and is now supported by the Christian Church. The complete library project calls for a building to cost $125,000.00 and an endowment of a quarter of a million dollars to support it. Boone County had an unusual part in this. Aside from Mr. Riley being a Boone County boy, the first pledge made to the project was made by John P. Duncan, formerly well known at Burlington, while Mrs. Fannie H. Graves a former resident of Florence, Ky., gave $50,000.00 to the building and its endowment.

Charles Watson of Walton was the foreman of construction on the library building. Miss Cook, the Librarian is a sister of Mrs. Robert H. Carter of Florence, Ky. Norma Aylor, of Florence and Nancy Huey from Petersburg, are students from Boone County in that school.

The school was organized in 1847 and its roster of former students contains many Boone County names. Some girls from Boone County who attended here bore the name of Riddell, Gaines, Davis, Mitchell, Stansifer, Cleek, Stephens, Tanner, Riggs, Huey, Baker, Hance, Conner, and Ryle.

Other friends have established permanent scholarships which are not available yet; the Kenneth Balsly by Mrs. Ida Balsly and 3 by the Rucker family.

COMES AUTUMN

And so comes the rains of fall to carry with them the mists and fog to cloak the hills and dales in a soft screen of autumn's yearly offering to beauty. The roadside shows much greenery turning to rust, yellow and brown with a wide dash of scarlet here and there to brighten the view. Drops drip from lift to watch the banks of fleecy clouds, whose billowing shapes the eaves and drooping wet leaves seem to be stencilled against the sky. Comes the glorious sunset of gold and red that makes man marvel over nature's artistry at her ability to paint the picture faultlessly true to each season. Such scenes, if duplicated on canvas, would almost seem to be exaggerated by a too enthusiastic painter. We have seen this vision of autumn and know that as long as we can step out under such glory that whatever life offers us that is difficult to take, if we but keep our eyes on that beauty which is autumn, our spirit will be strengthened and our individual burdens lightened.

HERE'S TO HIM!

It doesn't make any difference about his ancestors when it comes to faithfulness. It matters not whether his sire was a blue ribbon winner for the offspring to offer you love. Stock and forbears count for little between you and your dog. Man's best friend is not to be overlooked in the year's calendar of special duties. He is paid tribute for his staunch friendship, unswerving loyalty and constant faith. Give him Sept. 21-27 just for his very own.

There aren't many in Boone County who don't like dogs, and if you don't it might be blamed on some dog's master. To understand a dog and to train him is the owner's responsibility. It is up to him to see that his canine pal is not a nuisance to the other fellow. Every dog can be trained to sit and to lie, to walk at heel, to come and to stop, at a command from his master. All dogs can be broken of habits such as jumping on company, climbing all over the furniture and leaving hairs on the visitors clothes. To keep the dog out of the neighbor's flower bed is more of a problem. We need patience to deal with a dog, to teach him good behavior and make him our obedient companion. He will certainly repay you in ever-lasting friendship for your time and you are obtaining for your own enjoyment a well-mannered dog who may be lacking in pedigree but who outshines many a pooch in dogdom's "who's who," with his training.

WOMEN AT WORK

With many American women stepping into positions formerly filled by men there isn't the amount of disapproval over the married woman working. During lean years when jobs weren't so plentiful, when men were waiting their chance for work and students were graduating into a world with the "no vacancy" sign staring them in the face, then the subject of married women employed was more of an issue. Many people regard it in a less critical light as women turn their hands to take up jobs left by men. Criticism of married women working was deserved where two positions in the family afforded luxuries and extras that one would not. But there were more cases where the married woman had a load of dependents, a far too small family income or for many other reasons that were justified for employment. You say let a woman whose husband is employed give her place in the field to another woman's husband who is not employed. You believe that men should be given the preference, and in many cases you are right. There are many women who can point out cases where their sex should be given the choice. There are states presenting bills restricting the right of married women to work but they will not force the issue during this period of emergency. A woman will tell you that there shouldn't be a law that limits her right to work if working is her choice in her pursuit of happiness and her right in your land of liberty.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Lesson for September 28

THE FULFILLMENT OF HISTORY: THE NEW JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Revelation 21:1-7, 10-12, 22-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.—Revelation 21:7.

A happy ending may not suit the fancy of modern writers of fiction, but it does suit God. He "who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will" (Eph. 1:11) will see to it that redeemed man shall "be to the praise of his glory" (Eph. 1:12). The eternal, omnipotent God will bring the history of His dealings with mankind to a glorious ending. The last book of the Bible comes to its last pages where, after dealing with the final struggle of man with his enemy Satan (which has gone on since the entrance of sin into the world in the Garden of Eden), we find the glorious, God-given revelation of the "divine, final restoration of the universe, a picture of the home where we who love the Lord Jesus will forever dwell."

I. "The Tabernacle of God Is with Men" (vv. 1-7).

Our God is always with His people, but there is a promise of the time when He shall "pitch His tent" (for thus we might translate the word "tabernacle") in their very midst and "be with them" in full and unhindered fellowship. This He once did for a time when "the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us" (John 1:14), or literally "tabernacled among us." In the day of which our lesson speaks He will come to live permanently with His people.

The blessings of His divine presence are beautifully described in verses 4 to 6. There will be no more tears, because every occasion for them is gone. There will be no death, pain or sorrow, for the one who sits upon the throne will have made everything new.

Christianity does not evade the question of sorrow and suffering, but it does point to a glorious day when they will be done forever. What a precious promise!

II. "The Holy City . . . Having the Glory of God" (vv. 10-12).

The description of the holy city is differently interpreted, but perhaps the best one is that it will be in the form of a pyramid on a square base 1,500 miles in width and length (12,000 furlongs—v. 16), rising in terraces, and 1,500 miles high at the top.

The description of the city is glorious beyond words (read 21:1 through 22:7), but the crowning fact of all is that it has "the glory of God." His presence means more than all the glories of precious stones and of "pure gold, like unto clear glass." He is more than His gifts, and His presence is more glorious than all His mighty works.

III. God the Almighty and the Lamb Are the Temple (vv. 22).

As long as we live under the present conditions of life, we cannot do without a place to meet to worship God and to receive spiritual help and strength—a temple. But when the redeemed are gathered in the Holy City they will have no need for a temple. The place of meeting with God "which now has to be delimited from the world, and set apart for God—yes, and held with determination and force of will against invading hosts—has there expanded to cover the whole area of human experience and activity. God's presence has no longer to be sought; it is known; it is felt, universal and all-pervading as the light of day" (C. Anderson Scott).

IV. No Need of the Sun—the Glory of God Did Light It (vv. 23, 24).

The great need of man in this world is light. He rejoices in the sun as it sheds its lifegiving rays upon the earth. He does his work and finds his healthful recreation in the day. When darkness comes, he must have illumination, that he may read, study, work, or fellowship with others. From the flickering pine knot man went on to the candle, to the lamp; and now in most places he floods his city and its homes with the light of electricity. But even so there is too much darkness in the world, and the men who love darkness rather than light (see John 3:19) are able to practice their evil deeds.

In the New Jerusalem all will be light, for the One who is light (I John 1:5) and the source of all light, permits His glory to shine forth and "lighten it." Jesus, the Lamb, who is the light of the world (John 8:12), is the never failing lamp of the city.

In such light not only the nations of the earth, but their kings as well, will want to walk, doing honor with all their glory to the One who is all-glorious. The verses which follow our lesson tell us that the gates of the city shall never be closed, but only that which is good and honorable shall enter in. Nothing sinful, vile, or false shall come within its blessed portals.

We want to know why they test a man on a lie detector when his wife could have them all of that trouble?

Our June brides know by this time that via a can opener isn't the way to reach a man's heart.

EMPTYING CANS

A subscriber suggests that when you empty glass jars for storing away until future use, always take the pastboard disc out of the screw top and pour hot paraffin into the lid. The coating only needs to be thin but it will remove any odor left from the contents of the jar and it will also keep the lid from rusting.

Weak Feet Affect Body

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
Where Foot Comfort Begins
9th and Madison Covington

When feet are permitted to pronate inwardly, the bony structure of the foot goes down, shutting off the nerve and blood supply in the bottom of the foot. When you cramp or choke the blood stream and slow up circulation, there is a lack of bone repair; chemical deposits, or waste matter form at the joints. Next inflammation sets in at these joints causing pain. That inflammation is often mistaken for rheumatism, arthritis and many other ailments. Altho when you cramp the blood supply you shut off the food supply to the nerves.

When nerves are impoverished muscle tone is impaired because sensory nerves indirectly control motor nerves which in turn control the muscles. When muscles in the feet have lost their tonicity due to impoverishment of the nerves, feet are no longer subconsciously held in normal position.

Surgical shoes give support to the vital arches in the feet releasing cramped nerves and blood vessels to promote better circulation. Gradually as circulation improves, muscles grow strong and regain their tonicity.

With foot health improved the person feels better all over. Research has shown that no less than eighty-seven diseases are indirectly caused by bad feet.

Don't take chances with your health, happiness and peace of mind. With foot comfort you'll live longer and feel better.—Adv.

THANKS

My sincere thanks to the people of Boone County who supported me and worked for me in my race for Senator in the recent Primary.

Although defeated in the race for Senator; as a citizen I am still interested in good government; better business and better agricultural prices and will do what I can to help out these issues for any improvements for this section; for the state and for the government.

P. S.—This notice is a little late but as I owed the editor and did not have access to the one percent. assessment funds or the diversion funds from the State Treasury I had to make this money myself and pay the editor before I could ask for any more extension of credit.

Rural Letter Carriers Enjoy Annual Basket Picnic Saturday

The Rural Letters Carriers of the Fifth Congressional District held their annual basket picnic at the home of Elijah Stephens and wife on the Florence pike last Saturday night. A large number were present and the occasion was enjoyed by all.

This district is composed of the following counties: Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Pendleton, Grant, Trimble and Oldham.

ALL-STAR BASEBALL TEAM OF BOONE COUNTY

This Week In Defense

The President asked Congress for nearly six billion dollars more for lend-lease materials. Lend-Lease Administrator Stettinius was given power to approve aid requests; this with other changes is expected to cut from 30 to 15 days the period between receipt of a request and actual authorization for assistance.

Mr. Roosevelt told Congress that of the original seven billion appropriated six months ago, all but $720,000,000 is "now moving through the successive stages of allocation, obligation, production and delivery." He said $246,400,000 in materials and $78,170,000 in services has been given the anti-Axis nations.

The Defense Supplies Corporation, an RFC subsidiary, contracted with Amtorg Trading Corporation, a U. S. corporation owned by Russia, for the purchase of $100,000,000 of manganese, chromite, asbestos and platinum. The supplies agency arranged to pay Amtorg half of the amount in advance so Russia could use the money to buy war materials here. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau similarly advanced the Soviet Union $10,000,000 on future gold deliveries to the United States.

Navy Protecting Ships

Navy Secretary Knox told the American Legion convention the Navy is using all methods, including convoys, to protect vessels of all flags carrying aid to Britain. He said the Navy has orders to capture or destroy, by every means at their disposal, Axis-controlled submarines or surface raiders in the waters between the U. S. and Iceland.

Neutrality Act Interpretation

The State Department announced that as a result of an interpretation by the Attorney General that the "United Kingdom" is only England, Wales, Scotland and North Ireland, American ships may henceforth carry war supplies and passengers to parts of the British Empire not designated by the President to be in combat areas. Under this interpretation American ships are still barred from going to France, Poland, India, the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa.

Navy Expansion Progress

The Navy reported it has contracted for 2,831 ships, including 332 fighting vessels—every ship authorized under the seven billion dollar program to create "the greatest array of fighting ships under one flag the world has every seen": 32 battleships, 18 aircraft carriers, 91 cruisers, 364 destroyers and 186 submarines, a total fighting fleet of 691 ships.

Ships

The Navy announced development of a 1,900-ton cargo vessel, the Sea Ottor, so "light in weight, simple in construction, relatively cheap in both original cost and upkeep . . .(it) will challenge the submarine and provide a new bridge to the free nations of the world." The vessel is so small it can be built in inland yards in two months. It will carry an anti-aircraft battery, be manned by only a few men, make 12 knots, and be capable of a 5,000 mile voyage.

The Maritime Commission took over ships of the Alcoa line after stricking sailors refused to arbitrate their dispute. The ships will be operated by the Commission on their regular runs. The Commission announced that on September 1, 104 ships had been completed of a total 788 being built for all purpose under the Commission's auspices. The announcement said 14 ships will be launched September 27 in joint ceremonies on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

Production

OPM Director Knudsen, speaking on the radio, said "I would like to see every American decide to give an extra hour or an extra half hour or even an extra fifteen minutes to his job from now on . . . If we get the work we"ll get the guns . . ." The War Department reported all 10 machine-gun plants required for present estimated needs are now in operation and machine-gun production has increased 460 percent since August, 1940.

Army Morale

Army Chief of Staff Marchall told the American Legion national convention at Milwaukee there is a difference between "free discussion" and "destructive measures to promote discontent and destroy confidence in the Army." He said "I submit . . . the impossibility of developing an efficient army if decisions which are purely military in nature are continuously subjected to investigation, cross-examination, debate, ridicule and public discussion by pressure groups or by individuals with only a superficial knowledge of military matters, or of the actual facts in the particular case . . . Don't tear down what you are striving so hard to build up . . . this country must have the best Army in the world."

30-Day Mine Truce

Defense Mediation Board Chairman Davis announced an agreement with the United Mine Workers of America to reopen strike-bound "captive" mines for a period of 30 days beginning September 22. The agreement requires a three-day written notice by either side before operations can be halted. Negotiations on the union shop demand which led to the strike will be resumed September 24. The U. S. Conciliation Service announced settlement of 37 labor disputes.

Priority Unemployment

OPM Associate Director Hillman announced employers in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., have agreed to hire 1,335 power-machine operators and 200 assistants from among the 3,500 workers forced out of employment in those two areas by the silk shortage. Mr. Hillman also announced a broad "model" program of State and local cooperation with OPM to alleviate unemployment in the silk, automobile and rubber industries in New Jersey.

Prices

A. C. Hoffman of the OPA Food Section, speaking in Philadelphia, said farm prices have risen more than 49 percent since the outbreak of the war and stand now at 97 percent of parity in terms of things farmers buy. Labor Secretary Perkins said living costs at August 15 this year were 7.5 percent more than two years ago.

Nurses

Sergeant General Magee announced more than 10,000 nurses are needed for the Army Nurse Corps, including 4,000 Reserve nurses to care for men still to be inducted this year and an equal number to replace the estimated 40 percent who will request discharge at the end of their one-year enlistments. Information can be obtained from the War Department or the Red Cross, Washington, D. C.

WITH THE

Cincinnati Reds

Cincinnati—Ray Blades, whose St. Louis Cardinals battled the Reds right down to the pennant wire in 1939, and who managed the New Orleans team of the Southern Association last season after having been supplanted as the St. Louis pilot by Billy Southworth in mid 1940, has been named as a 1942 coach of the Reds.

Blades will succeed Jewel Ens, who goes to Syracuse of the International League as manager. Syracuse is the Reds' new AA farm club. Ens became a Redleg coach last winter, succeeding Jimmy Wilson when the latter went to the Chicago Cubs as manager.

Blades has long been regarded as one of the best tactians in the game, and one of the best judges of ball players' ability. He always has been a hard working, conscientious man, and the type Bill McKechnie likes to have associated with him as a coach. When the Ens developments turned up, McKechnie asked for Blades, and arrangements then were completed.

Although they were rivals in the National League in 1939 and 1940, McKechnie and Blades have worked together before. Blades played under McKechnie at St. Louis in 1928, and again at Rochester in 1929. Also, Blades was a cardinal player when McKechnie was coach of that club in 1927.

Blades' teaching ability, a prime requisite of a coach, is best shown by what he did when serving as manager of the Columbus team of the American Association in 1933, 1934 and 1935, and as manager of the Rochester club of the International League in 1936, 1937, and 1938.

At Columbus, he helped develop players like Bill Delancey, Bill Lee, Paul Dean, Stew Martin, Bob Klinger, Don Padgett, Morton Cooper, Buddy Hassett, Lew Riggs, Terry Moore, Jack Rothrock, etc. At Rochester, he helped in the development of Jimmy Brown, Johnny Mize, Martin Marion, Johnny Hopp, Howard Krist, etc.

One of his most successful moves was the making of a switch hitter of Jimmy Brown in 1936. Brown, at that time, was a weak hitting right-hand batter with Rochester. Blades encouraged Jimmy to become a switch hitter, and the change was attempted. The results made an outstanding major leaguer out of Brown, who is now playing third base for the Cardinals.

Friday, Saturday, and Sunday the Reds will be at Pittsburgh to close the season.

A BROILER MEAL

Do you take full advantage of your broiler? Have a meal of small sausages, pineapple rings and candied sweet potatoes for easy fixing. After scrubbing sweet potatoes cook them until tender. Peel them and then slice about ½ inch thick. Put in boiler pan and season with salt and pepper. Add brown sugar and dot top with butter. Place broiler rack over the bottom pan and place a sausage on rack. Broil eight minutes. Turn and place pineapple on rack. Broil another eight minutes.

Just because a man's color is white doesn't mean he always acts that way in front of his acquaintances.

NEWS and FACTS . . . of Statewide Interest

Why Blame Beer?

Occasionally, beer is blamed for unwholesome conditions, anti-social practices or other abuses in a handful of law-breaking taverns.

Such blame is entirely unwarranted. Prominent authorities—physicians, psychiatrists, dieticians and others—have definitely said that beer is a wholesome and healthful beverage, a true beverage of moderation.

Kentucky's legalized beer industry is determined to protect beer's good name—determined, therefore, that beer should be sold in Kentucky only under clean, wholesome conditions in law-abiding places.

You can help us, if you will, by patronizing only reputable beer retailers; and by reporting any disorderly outlets to this committee.

Does your child SQUINT?
When you find your child squinting and groaning over his homework, maybe the best thing you can give him is better light. You may not realize that the lighting in your home is unsafe for young eyes. Yet science has discovered that one out of every five school children suffers from defective vision. A child can "see to read"—and yet be risking a serious case of eyestrain.

TWO WAYS TO PROTECT YOUNG EYES
Put an I.E.S. study lamp on the table where the children do their homework. Or use a pin-to-wall lamp if the study table is against a wall. Both are scientifically designed to give enough light and the right kind of light for safe seeing.

The dates of December 2nd and 3rd were set for the annual bazaar at the first fall meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Wm. Booth Memorial Hospital, conducted Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Rodney Bryson, re-elected president.

Featured at the bazaar will be a huge sale of aprons for which the auxiliary desires a contribution of 50 large and small aprons. Mrs. J. H. Bays was named in charge of the sale. Mrs. Bryson will call a board meeting later to work out other plans for the sale.

Among the important announcements made was the fact that thru the efforts of the auxiliary six children's cubicles in the Children's Ward have been completed and financed, and one for infectious diseases. This was indeed a fine piece of work by the Auxiliary and visitors are invited to see the new Children's Ward, so needed, as charity is given over one-half of the patients.

A new department—that of social service—has been added to the auxiliary this year, with Mrs. E. C. Beal as the chairman. The principle work will be aid to unprepared mothers.

Beal, social service, Mrs. Murray Rich, special days.

The program was opened with a prayer and pledge to the flag, after which reports were given by Mrs. A. J. Bebstein, secretary, and Mrs. E. B. Dunkie, treasurer.

It is expected that the new building in which the auxiliary will meet will be ready for dedication at the next meeting, October 15th.

The Auxiliary will hold monthly bakery sales at the meetings to raise funds to pay for the new piano. The committee in charge for the October bakery sale will include Mrs. F. M. Clary, Mrs. B. J. Dudgeon and Mrs. Anna Niemeyer.

A tea followed, with Miss Frances Smith and Mrs. Charles Hankla presiding at the attractively appointed table.

PLANS MADE TO PURCHASE PERMANENT FAIR GROUNDS

Thirty-five Hundred Dollars Will Be Raised To Purchase Grounds Near Burlington, Is Report

Boone County in the future will have a permanent county fair and picnic grounds owned by the people so that it can be handed down from generation to generation, if plans of public spirited and interested citizens are completed. Thirty-five hundred dollars will be, raised by public donation to pay for and partly equip the grounds. Each community in the county will be called upon to contribute.

The need for a permanent fair and picnic grounds has been felt for several years. People take pride in the improvement and development of their county. Deep feeling of loss was felt when the Old Northern Kentucky Fair Grounds at Florence and Beautiful Harvest Home Fair Grounds became too valuable as real estate investments and went into private ownership.

This deep feeling of loss inspired public spirited citizens to take the lead toward securing a permanent grounds, publicly owned, that could not be sold in the future as a real estate development but would go on in development and improvement on down through time.

Interested citizens cooperating with the County 4-H and Utopia Club Council have assisted for several months in making a thorough survey of the county. Many places were looked over. Suitable location for grounds was found most difficult. Smith's woods of near Burlington was found by far the most desirable location. An option was secured on the grounds. A meeting was called and every possible method of financing was discussed.

Public donations to pay for and partly equip the grounds was decided as the most desirable plan. A large lake will be built to further enhance the beauty and value of the grounds.

Funds to pay for the grounds are to be raised by November 1st.

The county committee in charge of raising the funds are Chas. W. Riley, Chairman; A. B. Renaker, John Conner, A. E. Stephens, and H. R. Forkner.

Community Committeemen are: Constance, Geo. Kottmyer; Taylorsport, C. Liston Hempfling; Hebron, James Huey, Hubert Conner and Jameson Aylor; Bullittsville, Lucy Lee Grant; Petersburg, John Klopp and Al Stephens; Grant, W. B. Rogers and Lillard Scott; Burlington, Mrs. Lois McBee, Courtney Kelly and Luther Smith; Florence, Mrs. Al Hue, Frances Berkshire and Ira Tanner; Union, Alma Riley, and Joe Huey; Rabbit Hash, Hugh Stephens; Hamilton, John Jones, Jr.; Beaver, Geo. Baker, and Jake Cleek; Verona, G. C. Ransom and Walter King; Walton, Clinton Cleek and Powers Conrad; Idlewild, Bill Hill and Bernard Gaines; Limaburg, Chester Tanner, and J. P. Brothers; Pt. Pleasant, John W. Dolwick and presidents of each community Homemakers' Club.

A meeting of all committeemen will be held at Burlington courthouse on Tuesday evening, October 7th. All committeemen and others who are interested in a permanent fair, county picnic and annual get-together grounds for all Boone County people and their friends are urged to be present.

CONSERVATION DIST. REQUESTED

BY MEMBERS OF BOONE COUNTY EXTENSION ASSOCIATION —VOTE UNANIMOUSLY T O FILE PETITION FOR DISTRICT.

Members of the Boone County Extension Association Committee and leading farmers met with Soil Conservation Service officials in a meeting at Walton on last Wednesday and voted unanimously to file a petition for a Soil Conservation District, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The services of the C. C. C. Camp and the Soil Conservation Service will not be available to Boone County farmers unless a district is formed, according to Mr. Ward Darnell, Superintendent of the Camp. Mr. Darnell pointed out further that the Government would supply certain heavy equipment to the district for soil and water conservation work if a district is formed.

A temporary organization committee composed of C. Liston Hempfling, Chairman; Jesse Wilson, vice chairman; Vest Gaines, secretary; Harold Crigler, H. E. White and J. C. Bedinger was formed. This committee will be in charge of securing 25 or more farmers names necessary to petition a hearing as to whether or not a referendum should be offered farmers. A hearing date will be set, and if sufficient interest among farmers is shown, a referendum will be offered. A majority of more than fifty percent of landowners voting is required before a district will be formed. The district after being formed will operate for a period of five years, after which time farmers may petition its dissolution if they are not satisfied with the work.

NEW TAXES ARE LISTED

FOR 1942 TAX YEAR—NEW INCOME TAX LAW EXPLAINED BY FREDERICK W. STAMM, ECONOMIST.

The greatest tax bill in history, estimated to raise over 15 billion dollars, was signed last week by the President. Very few American citizens or American families will escape paying higher taxes.

Of major importance is the lowering of the income tax exemption for the single person to $750 and the married person to $1500. This means that every single person making more than $14.40 a week and every married couple making more than $28.90 will have to file an income tax return next March 15. It is estimated that over 4,900,000 people will file income tax returns for the first time.

This law includes a new 10% tax on electric and gas appliances, sporting goods, photographic apparatus, and luggage and a 5% tax on electric light bulbs and radio tubes.

If you have a telephone, you will notice a 6% tax on your local telephone bill. If you should use long distance service, you must pay a 10% tax. You may not buy a new automobile next year, but even so, you must pay a $5.00 federal usage tax on your old car. If you should buy a new one, the tax will no longer be 3½ but 7 per cent. Every time you light your pipe, cigar, or cigarette with a wooden or paper match, you will be helping Uncle Sam to pay the war cost, for the new tax on matches is 2c per thousand. Do you go to the movies? If so, you will pay larger taxes on your admission tickets. If you enjoy Paul Whiteman's swing music or the New York Philharmonic Symphony's recordings, you will find the price of records up due to taxes.

He will be a poor man indeed who will not pay taxes. He cannot smoke, drink, own a car, use a telephone, go to a movie, buy a deck of cards, buy a box of matches, send a telegram, buy a ticket on a bus or railroad (costing more than 35c), buy furs, jewelery or cosmetics, go to a cabaret.

There is an old saying that only two things are certain—"death and taxes"—and many Americans will realize this year for the first time that this old saying has a modern version.

Local Bank Building Completely Redecorated

For the past several weeks workmen have been busy reconditioning the Peoples Deposit Bank Building. Rock wool insulation has been blown in the attic between the roof and second story ceiling, making for a coller second story, as well as being warmer in winter, and incidentally causes a saving in fuel. Partitions have been placed in the second story for the convenience and comfort of the employees of the County Agent's office, and the offices nicely painted.

The banking quarters on the first floor have been redecorated. A marbleized mahogany pattern of inlaid linoleum has been cemented to the floors in all the first floor rooms and offices, except the lobby, which is Terrazzo. New window shades have been installed thruout the building. The sewer system has been overhauled and enlarged. The metal and wood work on exterior of building has been painted. The vault door and architrave have been cleaned and a few new pieces of furniture added to offices. All of this places this building in first class condition.

J. J. Kirkpatrick and Thomas Cason did the carpenter work; C. E. Gerkepot of Dillsboro, Ind., the insulating; Easton and Maurer the painting and decorating; Douglas Daley laid the linoleum; Poston Brothers the sewer work and the Mosler Safe and Lock Company cleaned the vault door.

The officials of the bank are pleased with the work done by these workmen and invite the public to come in and inspect their work.

Louis and Albert Dolwick, of near Pt. Pleasant, were business callers in Burlington, Wednesday. They spent a short time visiting the Recorder office force.

12 N. Y. A. JOBS FOR BOONE CO.

TO BE DISTRIBUTED AMONG FIVE SCHOOLS — FINANCIAL AID OFFER ELIGIBLE YOUTHS —OFFICIALS NAMED.

National Youth Administration jobs will enable approximately 12 youths in Boone County to continue their education during the 1941-42 school year, Robert K. Salyers, State Youth Administrator, anounced.

An allotment of $54 per month to be distributed among 5 schools has been granted this county. A school appointed by Mr. Salyers as a noncompensated official of the Federal Government, will administer the NYA program in each of the schools. This official will choose the youth to be given jobs and outline the work to be done. To earn their money, youth might cook or help in the lunch room, repair books, chairs, desks, help with construction or landscaping on the school grounds, do clerical work in a school office, serve as recreational leaders, or they might do a number of other kinds of work beneficial to the school they are attending. Youth between the ages of 16 and 24 who could not continue in school without financial assistance are eligible for NYA work.

In this county, the schools granted NYA funds and the officials in charge of the program are:

Burlington High School, Edwin Walton.

Florence High School, F. D. Caton

Hebron High School, Chester Goodridge.

New Haven High School, John Masters.

Walton-Verona High School, H. P. Baker.

The total NYA allotment for schools in the state is $234,716. This will provide work for about 5,200 youth.

LOCAL SEMIPROS SUFFER DEFEAT

IN SECOND GAME OF CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES—DECIDING COUNTY GAME TO BE PLAYED AT BURLINGTON SATURDAY.

The County All-Stars dropped a hard-fought game in the Campbell County League Sunday when they were nosed out 4-2 by Martz Cardinals at Ross, Ky., in the second round of a five-game championship series. A walk, a hit batsman, and an error helped to break a scoreless tie in the sixth inning and give the Martz team a four-run lead which the local semipros were unable to overcome with a ninth-inning rally, when they collected their two runs and threatened to take the game.

The contest was a pitcher's battle from the beginning. For five and a half innings neither team was able to score a run, as Steffen limited the Martz team to two singles, without a base runner reaching third, and Morris held the Boone Countians to three hits and scoreless. The locals made the first serious threat to score, in the fourth, when Kirkpatrick opened the inning with a long drive to possess third base with not a man out, but three successive efforts failed to score him. The locals then trailed 4-0 until the ninth, when they gave the Martz team the fright of their life. With one out, the All-Stars filled the bases, scored two runs, loaded the sacks again, and were retired on a hard play. Successive hits by Steffen and Hebe Deck, followed by an error which put Hitzfield on first, filled the bases; a line drive by Bob Williamson, sent in as a pinch-hitter, put two runs across the tally mark; a base on balls to Shinkle again loaded the circuit markers, and it took a great infield stop of a ground ball to keep the local from taking the game.

The All-Stars out-hit their rivals 8-5 as Steffen allowed but five singles, while his teammates collected seven singles and a triple. The two teams meet again Sunday at the Burlington park in the third series game.

Big Bone evened the County Championship series at two victories each by handing the Petersburg team a 6-3 setback Saturday at the Burlington park, neutral grounds, where the deciding game will be played Saturday.

The winner lost little time in clinching the game. After both teams had collected a tally each in the opening frame, Big Bone went on a scoring spree in the second, scoring three runs and shelling their opponent's pitcher, D. Deck, from the hill. The winner added another tally in the sixth and one in the eighth, with Carroll, Martin, Williamson blasting out doubles, Hansel Williamson and Charles Black each collected triples.

Petersburg added runs in the fifth and ninth grames as Hitzfield collected a triple, Hebe Deck a two-bagger, Mahan three base knorks. Carroll Williamson, on the mound for Big Bone, struck out eight while allowing ten hits, Henry Deck finished the hurling for Petersburg as the winner collected 9 base knocks.

HIGH WINDS CAUSE $10,000 LOSS TO CROPS, ORCHARDS

Throughout Boone County—Shortage of Water Also Seen As Drouth Continues In All Sections

Exceptionally high winds thruout this entire section last week caused an estimated damage to crops and fruits at $10,000, it was announced this week by County Agent, H. R. Forkner.

Boone County had one of the best prospective fruit crops in many years, there being an extra large crop of all the smaller fruits. The greatest damage was done to the orchards, especially winter apples which were almost ready to be picked.

In one orchard alone, 2,000 bushels of winter apples were blown from the trees and damaged considerably. Loss in price of the apples was estimated from 50c to 75 cents per bushel, depending upon size and condition. Many of the apples could not be saved as they could not be handled and marketed as fast as was required.

The loss to home and family orchards was great, and many shade trees and roofs were damaged considerably.

Drouth Continues

Contrary to all weather reports and signs, we still have not received that promised rain, and the shortage of water in most parts of the county becomes more acute each day. Stock water and shortage of fall pasture are seen as the major problems confronting farmers at the present. Drinking water is also becoming a serious problem in all communities that do not have city water.

WEED GROWERS URGED TO VOTE

IN REFERENDUM ON GOVERNMENT GRADING — WILL BE FIRST TIME FOR LOCAL GROWERS TO VOTE ON ISSUE.

Every tobacco grower selling tobacco last year on a not regular graded market should, and is urged to vote, before Saturday in the referendum on Government Grading for Covington, Carrollton and Lexington markets, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Government grading on the warehouse floor is free to the grower and places his crop in a position to secure a Government loan in case his crop does not bring a fair market price.

Tobacco growers pooling all or part of their crops on markets using emergency graders last season were not in every instance satisfied with the emergency grading. The emergency graders supplied on the ungraded markets last season could not be expected to have the local experience and the facilities to give maximum service.

Tobacco growers over Boone and adjoining counties have requested government grading on local markets. This is the first opportunity they have had to vote on this issue. Every tobacco growers and every warehouse is wanting the service this year. Sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the growers must vote requesting this service or it will not be available.

The government grading and marketing news service is not a part of the AAA Marketing Quotas program but is a distinct service in itself.

Tobacco growers selling last year on Covington, Carrollton or Lexington, Kentucky and Madison, Indiana markets were mailed ballots from the county office the first part of the week. Growers not receiving ballots may secure them at the County Agent's office in Burlington. All ballots to be counted must be mailed before this Saturday, October 4th.

PROMINENT MAN IS SUMMONED

GEORGE HILL DIED AT HIS HOME THURSDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS—WAS WELL KNOWN GROCER.

George Hill, prominent Covington businessman and a partner in the George W. Hill Grocery Co., Pike Street, died Thursday at his home, Seven Hills, Dixie Highway, after a long illness. He was 63.

Mr. Hill had been in ill health for some time, requiring hospitalization on several occasions. Last Monday he remarked that "there is one thing I want to do before I die. I have never been to Petersburg, Ky. Many of my old customers live down there and I would like to see the place."

He was placed in his car and driven to Petersburg and through Boone County. Mr. Hill died Thursday, but even during his last days his thoughts were for the people he served.

He was one of Northern Kentucky's most prominent businessmen. Besides his partnership in the grocery company, he was president of the Ernst Realty Co., managing director of the Liberty, L. B. Wilson and Broadway Theaters, treasurer and a director of the John R. Coppin Co., and owner and developer of the Edgewood Subdivision, Kenton county. He was an extensive owner of downtown Covington real estate.

An early founder of the Boy Scout movement in Kenton county, he donated Camp George Hill, Morning View, to scouts a number of years ago. He was an active member of the Presbyterian church, Covington.

Services were held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the residence with burial in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati.

U. S. FARMERS MAY WIN THE PEACE

The important role that the farmers of the United States will play in the organization of the world which will emerge after the defeat of Hitler is emphasized by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard, who says that the influence of the United States at the peace table "will be greatly strengthened if we are able to provide food in plenty."

The chances are, when the nations quit fighting, food will be as important as munitions are today. The United States, and a few other countries, will possess enormous reserves of food and feed. Naturally, the prompt dispatch of our surplus to the starving peoples of other nations will exercise powerful influence upon the deliberations of the nations.

No one should lose sight of the fact that the Agricultural Adjustment machinery, which operated in the United States to restrict production for many years, is now operating to increase production of important crops. Of course, it is not working to increase the yield of wheat and cotton because the nation has a tremendous surplus of both. It is functioning, however, to insure larger supplies of dairy products, poultry products and meat products.

The agricultural program has been misunderstood, especially by residents of metropolitan areas. These city people have been inclined to regard the AAA as a means of limiting production, solely with the idea of permitting farmers to receive exorbitant prices. The truth is that the farmers have not yet received prices commensurate with their contribution to the nation's economy. Moreover, production control is designed to adjust the probable supply of agricultural products to the probable demand, to the end that farmers will not suffer enormous financial loss through the unwise accumulation of unwieldly surpluses.

It should be academic to economists that a prosperous agricultural population is a necessity if the United States is to enjoy anything like sound prosperity. The interchange of manufactured goods and farm products is the revolving circle upon which all the business of this country rides. Whenever a dislocation of supplies slows down the circular motion, the wheels of business stop in the United States.

It might be a good idea for the people who are interested in the welfare of business, finance and industry, to understand that the greatest available market for increased output is to be secured by gradually raising the standard of living for the agricultural population of the United States. Obviously, there is some injustice when one-fourth of the people of this country receive only about one-eleventh of the national income. It is to the interest of all of us that this condition be corrected as speedily as possible.

RUSSIA'S BITTER BATTLE

News from the vast battle-line in Russia has been discouraging to those of us who have hoped that the Russians would be able to effectively check the German advance at the Dnieper river.

It now seems probable that the Nazi march will be resumed toward the Donet industrial area, the Caucasus and other vital sectors. The army of the Ukraine seems to be outnumbered, or outclassed, by its foes and compelled to yield territory to escape destruction.

Even now, according to the experts, the British maintain their inactivity in Africa, waiting for events to develop in the Ukraine and with the apparent intention of rushing reinforcements to the Russians if the vital oil regions are imperilled. A German thrust thru Iran would present grave threats to vital British areas.

It is too early to conclude that German forces will be able to sweep eastward to the Caucasus or that the Red army will not be able to stem the enemy's advance. In the three months of the present struggle Berlin has, upon several occasions, heralded vast victories that did not develop and such may be the ultimate outcome of present boastings.

U. S. KEEPS OUT OF WAR—SO FAR!

The European war is two years old and while the United States has long since dropped all pretense to neutrality, in regards to the combat, the President has managed, thus far, to keep out of the shooting stage.

It is a question whether this will be possible if the war lasts another two years but there can be little doubt of the success of the President's strategy so far. Mr. Roosevelt, it seems, still intends to keep out of the war, if he can, but he admits that the decision may not be left entirely to us.

In brief, it seems, that the President entertains the idea that this country, recognizing its fundamental concern with the outcome of the struggle and the grave effects of a German triumph, should do whatever is necessary to prevent that catastrophe. This is predicated upon our best interests, as he sees them.

By giving prompt assistance in the form of material to the belligerent nations it is hoped that the defeat of Germany will be accomplished by nations now involved in the actual warfare. The fact that we are not in the war, now, because of this policy is understandable when we comprehend the Hitlerian policy of taking on his enemies "one by one." Just now, Germany does not wish to have us among her active enemies and it is possible that this condition may last throughout the struggle.

MURDER BY LOT

The civilized world will be shocked, if any Nazi atrocity can do the job, by the shooting of hostages in Paris.

Because German soldiers were killed by unknown persons in France, the Nazi military regime lined up prisoners, selected a number by lot and executed them in cold blood. The men shot were guilty of no crime, were neither accused, tried nor convicted.

It is important for people in this country to realize that this brutual and barbaric policy represents the calculated and methodical application of German might. All over Europe, German firing squads are shooting down hostages, regardless of age, in an effort to suppress the steadily growing opposition to their occupation.

In the United States and in other civilized countries, there is a natural repulsion to indiscriminate killing of innocent people, regardless of provocation. We have an idea that a man, or woman, is entitled to a trial and subject to punishment only for his, or her, crime. To execute helpless prisoners in cold blood is abhorrent to us.

The murder of the hostages by German military authorities should make plain to some Americans that there is a vast gulf between the way of civilization that we have adopted and the practices of Hitler's so-called "New Order." The wonder is that there are freedom-loving American who are unable to see this contrast clearly.

GOD OUR HEAVENLY FATHER

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:26-28; Matthew 6:24-33.

GOLDEN TEXT—Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.—Matthew 6:9.

Without God man has no hope in this world. This is the teaching of Scripture, which is confirmed by experience and admitted by the philosophies of men. "Having no hope and without God in the world," says Paul (Eph. 2:12), and every godless philosophy paints the same dark picture. Says one, "It cannot be doubted that the theistic belief is a comfort to those that hold it and that the loss of it is a very painful loss. We have seen the spring sun shine out of an empty heaven to light up a soulless earth; we have felt with utter loneliness that the Great Companion is dead" (Clifford).

That desolate and despairing conclusion need not be the lot of any man, for we have in God's own Word a clear revelation of Himself as our Creator and our loving Father. Why not accept it?

I. God Our Creator (Gen. 1:26-28).

Both of our Scripture passages tell us much about man, but in doing so they reveal God.

1. How He Made Man (vv. 26, 27). "God created man in his own image" (v. 27). This does not refer to any physical likeness, although it is abundantly evident that man's body is far above the animal level and perfectly adapted to be the dwelling place of the soul and the instrument of its activity in a physical world. Even the Son of God took upon Himself the body of a man and, in its glorified state, still bears that body in heaven. This means that man's body is worthy of honor and considerate care and use.

The real image of God in man is a moral and spiritual likeness. Man is a moral being, knowing the difference between right and wrong. He has all the characteristics of personality, self-consciousness, intelligence, feeling and will. That image has been marred and defaced by sin, but it is still there. Even in the lowest man or woman it is capable of being reached and transformed by the grace of God.

2. How He Blessed Man (v. 28). He gave man "a help meet for him" (Gen. 2:18); that is, a completely suitable companion and helper. He gave him dominion over the entire earth, and his restless, pioneering spirit still presses toward the complete realization of that promise. He provided for every need of man, not only physical and social, but also spiritual, for we read that He walked with him "in the cool of the day" (Gen. 3:8), until man by his own sin broke that fellowship. God's love toward His creation is shown by His provision for man's complete joy and full usefulness.

II. God Our Heavenly Father (Matt. 6:24-33).

Two things harass the mind and heart of man—anxiety for today and fear for tomorrow. He must have what he and his family needs for today, and it is a constant struggle for most men to meet that need. Then, as though that were not enough, there is always the morrow's new and possibly greater needs. Even those who have all they need today live in dread (and well they may if they do not trust God) that tomorrow or next week or next year they too may be in need. Our text meets both problems, for it tells us

1. Why We Need Not Be Anxious Today (vv. 24-31). The answer is simple—look at the birds. They cannot work, they are not even able to pray, yet God feeds them. Consider the glory of the flowers. Even a king cannot dress in such beauty—God provided it for them. "Are ye not much better than they?" (v. 26).

No bird ever worried because it did not have a meal laid by for tomorrow, and no flower has fretted itself lest its blossom failed to come forth in its accustomed beauty. Why should we be anxious?

Intelligent forethought is good and proper, but anxiety about our daily needs is always dishonoring to God. He is ready and able to meet our daily need.

2. Why We Need Not Fear Tomorrow (vv. 32, 33). "Your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need" (v. 32). Does not that settle the whole future? It is in God's hands, and even if it were in our hands, what could we do about it? Tomorrow with its joys and sorrows is not yet here, and when it does come God will be here as a loving Father to graciously provide for every moment of it.

What then shall we do? Verse 33 tells us, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness." Give God first place in your life and He will see that all "these things" are added. Simple, isn't it? and blessedly true. Let's trust Him.

Men may slow down with gasoline budget-wise, but gossip will spread as quickly as ever.

Insanity, they say, is grounds for divorce, but try and get a divorce by just confessing you are crazy over someone else!

HOME AGENTS PUSH BETTER FOOD WORK

How a county home demonstration agent works in a varied program designed to increase food supplies and improve the diet of the people, is revealed in a monthly report of Miss Sunshine Colley of Bell county. She cooperated in 12 canning demonstrations attended by 522 women, men, boys and girls. She spoke on gardens and nutrition at 29 meetings attended by 1,033 persons. At 27 meetings, late gardens were stressed. Then she attended conferences on school lunches and with supervisors of the Works Progress Administration and Farm Security Administration, in the interest of more food and better nutrition.

Surgical Shoes

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
Where Foot Comfort Begins
9th and Madison Covington

HISTORY—Mrs. G. E. M. suffered headaches and neckaches. Her neck ached so intensely at the base of the skull she could hardly see. Days at a time she could not get out of bed because of the severity of the pains. She read one of our ads., telling of the good work we were doing, and decided to see what we could do for her. After a very short time wearing surgical shoes, pain in the head and neck lessened till finally it disappeared entirely and she is well and happy. It is now possible for her to do her own work even when it is necessary for her to climb stepladders. Surgical shoes seemingly worked miracles for her.

COMMENT — Strain on ligaments and tendons naturally has a weakening effect upon muscles. Continued neglect of these conditions may be the cause of your aches and pains in the neck and back and you have been unable to get relief, come in and let us see what we can do for you.

If your ankles are weak and you are constantly rolling them, surgical shoes are definitely the answer to your problem.—Adv.

BETTER GARDENS FOR NEXT YEAR URGED BY STATE DEFENSE BOARD

Gardening on an enlarged scale in town and country alike next year, is suggested by the Kentucky Agricultural Defense Board, in a statement issued by the chairman, M. D. Royse, of Winchester. Backyards and vacant lots in towns and cities are to be used, and farmers are urged to have bigger and better gardens.

The garden program is launched months in advance of the 1942 planting season so that family heads will have time to plan and to prepare garden plots, to secure the use of vacant lots and to turn, fertilize and sow cover crops.

Once again food may be the deciding factor in war ,the state defense board chairman pointed out. In any event, he feels that a good supply of garden products—even an oversupply—may be better than risking a shortage of food. Families with gardens can produce at least a part of their needs and thereby release canned products for shipment abroad, he pointed out.

Large quantities of food now are going to England and will continue to go as long as the war lasts and even after that time, it is pointed out in the statement of the defense board. With the exception of vegtables, most of this comes from farms. So far as town people are concerned, they can be of assistance in increasing the food supply only by growing gardens for their own use. This they are urged to do next year and every year thereafter that the emergency exists, Mr. Royse said.

SELLING BIG APPLE CROP IS DISCUSSED

The disposal of the big apple crop was the subject of a conference at the Western Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Substation at Princeton. Growers met with representatives of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, the Surplus Commodities Administration, the Kentucky Horticultural Society and other interested agencies to discuss the distribution of the crop.

A committee selected to help with marketing problems included Herman Yopp, Paducah, chairman Dr. D. W. Doran, Mayfield; Frank Street, Henderson; A. D. Byers, Alvaton, and G. P. Summers, Lexington. J. S. Larson represented the Surplus Commodities Administration.

FARM MACHINERY TO BE GIVEN PRIORITY

A statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics calls the attention of farmers to the recent priority rating which the Office of Production Management established for farm machinery. Two orders were issued, one of which assigned a defense rating permitting the delivery of materials for making repair parts for farm machinery. The other order gave the highest civilian rating to the delivery of materials needed for the manufacture of farm equipment.

The Washington announcement of the ruling said that "the action of the Office of Production Management . . . gives recognition to the unspectacular but basic contributions farmers are making to the defense program. This is the best assurance that the nation's farmers will be able to carry on their vital food-for-defense program."

It is expected that farmers will experience no difficulty in obtaining parts of repairing and maintaining equipment or deliveries of new machinery needed in the production of crops and livestock.

The rulings do not include hand tools.

MORE VITAMINS NEEDED IN DIET

Draftees to the U. S. army have been found to have a high percentage of dental difficulties. Many factors may be involved, but from a nutritional angle the need is for a diet containing plenty of vitamins A, C, D, and also calcium, phosphorus and copper. The use of large amounts of sugar (as candies, jellies and jams, are detrimental to teeth for two reasons: they are substituted for foods that would have the natural nutrients and needs, and they are more likely to cause acid fermentation in the mouth which may help cause caries. The best answer is to have a national diet more adequate in vitamins and minerals from natural sources, eliminating undue use of sugars, it was stated in a 2½ week's "refresher" course in nutrition offered for defense workers and others by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

UNCLE SAM'S SAILORS ON HORSEBACK SEE PANAMA FROM THE SADDLE

No, the U. S. Navy doesn't have a cavalry unit, but many a sailor straddled leather before giving up his bucking broncho or plow horse for the bounding main.

The sailors in whites above are seamen in the U. S. Naval Reserve on shore leave in Panama. No distinction is made between sailors in the Naval Reserve and those in the regular Navy. Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years, but all men enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be released to inactive duty as soon after the national emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment. If the emergency ends within a period of several months, those enrolled in the Naval Reserve will not be required to complete their 4 year term in active service.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve, and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS

Back in 1928 there was organized in this country a group of women who were called the American Gold Star Mothers. This club has grown since its early formation and though its name had not been so prominent during the peace time following the first World war, it will be felt more forcibly this September 28th as the group celebrates its anniversary.

The meaning of the emblem is reason enough to give us food for thought. A gold star appeared in the window of a home that had lost a boy during the war of 1914-18. Many homes carried more than one star. It was an emblem of sorrow in spite of the fact that to die for one's country denotes heroism. That gold star stood for tears and heartache as it stands today for sacrifice and patriotism. The battlefield and the training camp both took their toll and gave to those American homes the right to hang the gold star. Times has eased the gloom when back in war years many a heart was so full, but time will never erase the hopelessness and despair that comes with the passing of a loved boy who fights for any cause, however right and just it may be. Easy to speak the words, "you must bear it" to the other who carries the cross.

So as the Gold Star Mothers celebrate their birthday, we respectfully bow with them in memory of their boys who paid the price for victory, a victory in life that was fleeting but a victory in death that we hope is eternal.

PILOT TRAINING OPEN TO SOLDIERS

A drive to obtain enlisted pilot trainees from soldier personnel on duty in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana was ordered today by the Fifth Corps Area Commanding General.

Corps Area Headquarters at Fort Hayes, Columbus, O., disclosed that more than 50 volunteers would be sought monthly from among regular enlisted men and selectees serving at camps, posts and stations within the four states.

Commanders were instructed to facilitate the discharge and reenlistment for flight training of all qualified soldiers desiring such training. Candidates must be high school graduates with one and one-half units of mathematics, at least 18 years old and not yet 23, physically normal, single and without dependents.

Training of enlisted pilots is designed to augment the Aviation Cadet program with its higher educational standards. The 35-week Flight course is similar for both programs. Upon graduation, enlisted trainees are rated as flight sergeants with minimum pay of $108 monthly, plus living expenses.

Since enlisted pilots at present are accepted only from the ranks of soldier personnel, civilians who desire this training were advised to enlist in the Army Air Force and then make application through their commanding officers.

MAKE CELLARS FOR HOME FOOD SUPPLY

The construction of storage cellars has been added to the Adair county, Kentucky, campaign for the production of more food on the farm for the farm family. Two farmers already have completed concrete storage cellars.

"If the farm is to be made to feed the family, it is not sufficient only to grow food," points out County Agent R. B. Rankin, "but provision must be made for canning and storing food."

Community meetings have been held throughout the county to discuss the production of more food and feed on the farm, for the farm family. Garden leaders have been named, and gardens, fruit, cows, poultry, pigs and other sources of food discussed.

A DOG'S PRAYER

O Lord of humans, make my master faithful to his fellow men as I am to him. May he be open-faced and undeceptive as I am, may he be true to trust reposed in him as I am to his; give him a face cheerful like unto my wagging tail; give him spirit of gratitude like unto my licking tongue. Fill him with patience like unto mine that awaits his footsteps uncomplainingly for hours; fill him with my watchfulness, my courage and my readiness to sacrifice comfort or life. Keep him always young in heart and crowded with the spirit of play even as I—make him as good a man as I am a dog—make him worthy of me—his dog.

ROSE GARDENS

Fall is when many a rose gardener does his planting. He knows that roses grow best in clay soil, well drained, a bit acid and rather rich. He prepares the poor soil ahead of time so the roses grow better. If drainage is poor he puts a layer of cinders down about two feet under ground. If the soil is not awfully rich he adds some grass on top of the cinders which rots and fertilizes. He usually mixes the soil on the surface, around the rose bush, with about one-third stable manure. He knows his roses.

Senator Chandler Named Nationwide And State Chairman Of Fund Drive

Senator A. B. (Happy) Chandler, former governor of Kentucky and Transylvania College graduate of 1921, this week was named chairman of the Transylvania state and nationwide alumni appeal for endowment funds by President Raymond F. McLain. Alumni and former students are joining with members of the Disciples Church throughout Kentucky this month in a statewide appeal for $250,000.

Ernest J. Crutcher is c hairman of the Burlington campaign. He will work with Senator Chandler in carrying the appeal to Transylvania living locally as well as to members of the church. Other members of his committee have not yet been determined.

Transylvania, the oldest institution of higher learning west of the Allegheny Mountains, draws 71 percent of its student body from Kentucky. Many students each year come from this county. It is fully accredited by the Southern Association of College and Secondary Schools, but its standing is threatened by the lack of adequate endowment funds. With funds being sought in this campaign Transylvania, according to President McLain, will be able to add to its faculty, increase its usefulness in the field of the liberal arts, and will be in a position to offer to the young men and women of Kentucky the best education available anywhere.

More than 3,000 alumni and former students of Transylvania now live in Kentucky. Another 2,000 are living in 44 other states and in all parts of the world. Senator Chandler and Ross A. Collins, representative in Congress from Mississippi and a graduate in 1900, are two Transylvanians who are keeping alive the college tradition that in every year since its founding Transylvania has had two or more representatives in Congress. Transylvania was founded in 1780.

Extensive Plans Made For Covington Food Show

"There will be something doing every minute." That was the word Friday from Larry Baumbach, General Chairman of the Northern Kentucky Independent Food Dealers' Pure Food Show to be staged at the Covington Tobacco Warehouse, 2nd and Scott Streets, Oct. 12 to 19th, inclusive, as final plans for the affair were completed.

He said the food show architect has made arrangements whereby all booths will be prominently located to allow complete display of their contents. The floor plan is designed in the shape of a huge horseshoe, with an additional line of booths through the center of the horseshoe making the design resemble a large "E."

Manufacturers, wholesalers and local merchants will sponsor booths at the show. Many of the manufacturers are contributing quantities of food and prizes to a general depot and Ollie Bracke, price committee chairman said it is expected that more than 1000 half bushel baskets will be filled to award to the patrons of the Food Show.

The warehouse will be decorated in keeping with the theme of the show and plans are being completed to add additional lighting so as to make the warehouse the most brilliantly lighted exposition in this part of the country. A small admission price will be made with tickets obtainable from independent neighborhood grocery stores at less than half the listed price.

Ben Kees, Chairman of the entertainment committee announced that the vodvil show will be changed nightly and a variety of entertainment of professional performers has been obtained.

Mr. Paul Ogden has been named chairman of the parade committee again this year and he says that people generally like a parade and he will make arrangements for a parade that promises to be on a par with the best of its kind in the country.

Bob Goderwis, Chairman of the Contest Committee says that many interesting contests have been arranged and on the first Sunday of the show opening, an amateur contest will be held. Should this contest prove successful it will be repeated again the last Sunday of the show.

Excellent Ponds Seen On Recent Tours

Excellent ponds and farm lakes were seen on a county tour held last Thursday, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. These were all new lakes and showed marked improvement in sources of farm water supply.

Fifty or more new lakes have been constructed the past two and one-half months by J. G. Robertson and sons; Wheatcroft Construction Company and Exterkamp Construction Company.

Lakes constructed by J. G. Robertson and Sons were visited on the tour. Good and bad points of the lakes visited were pointed out at each visit by Earl Welch, Agricultural Engineer, College of Agriculture.

Mr. Welch pointed out that farmers can get lakes constructed cheaper with power equipment today than ever before. Important things for a farmer to do before having a lake built is to read recommendations on Construction given in Extension Circular No. 317 Be sure that in the construction of the dam a core trench is dug to impervious or clay soil and refilled with tight soil to cut off sepage through the earth dam fill and to be sure that a spillway or overflow of proper size based on the drainage area is constructed.

Investment in a good lake for farms ordinarily short of water seems to be one of the most profitable undertakings a farmer can make. Farmers who plan to have lakes constructed are urged to do so while the contractors owning power equipment are now working in the county.

DEFENSE BODY SEEKS MORE PASTURE CROPS

In keeping with the request of Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, the Kentucky Agriculture Defense Board is urging farmers to expand winter pasture crops and to increase production of certain winter pasture crop seeds.

M. D. Royse of Winchester, chairman of the board, said this action is being taken to provide a larger cash income for farmers, to produce more meat and dairy products for the national defense program, to make better use of the land and to save the soil.

Suggested crops to be seeded this fall for winter pasture include rye, barley, winter oats, rye grass, vetch and crimson clover. For seed production, vetch, rye grass and crimson clover are recommended. The seed production program offers advantages to farmers of providing a cash crop, reducing seeding costs and providing a more adequate supply of home grown seed for future use.

Additional recommendations designed to aid in securing a good stand of winter pasture crops included early seeding on a well prepared seed bed and the use of lime and phosphate.

"The use of winter pasture crops has been greatly increased in recent years, but extensive further increases are now more urgent," Chairman Royse said. "The defense emergency and increased demand for farm products makes it more important than ever that soil productivity be maintained and improved and that ample feed and food be available."

STOPPING TO THINK
. . by . . C. B. Riddle

They were found by a policeman in a park—just a boy and a dog, alone but not lonesome.

You don't get lonesome with a good companion by your side. And this applies with equal meaning to a boy and a dog.

Both were hungry, but the boy did not cry and the dog did not whine. Each sympathized with the other—and that goes a long way in any distress.

The cop who found the urchin and his dog wanted to help the boy, but not the dog. He would take one but not the other.

But the boy refused to go without the dog. The dog refused to remain without the boy. The test of their companionship was real.

Our sympathies go out to a hungry child, but admiration must be doubly added when the lad is unwilling to break a companionship for his stomach's sake.

Many older chaps cannot hang up such a record. They weaken on companionship when the battle gets thick between stomach and faithfulness.

But a dog affectionately follows his master through thick and thin, whether that master be prince or pauper.

The boy the policeman found could not feed his dog, but he still loved him. This the dog knew.

The boy won, so did the dog. The crowd dispersed, having witnessed a heart-gripping love scene which all the talent in Hollywood could not surpass.

BEING BETTER PARENTS

There are so many ways of being better parents that the subject is way over our heads. In most communities like ours there are worthwhile organizations that call upon us to give some of our time to public spirited work which brings with it cultural advantages to the town and its residents. We are no doubt busy with our homes, our offices, our farms, and to give up much time to civic groups is a problem. But it is our duty as parents to take part in some organization that concerns itself especially with furthering the relationship between the home and the school in Boone County. Many subjects are brought up that are of interest and affect our lives at home. It is best to choose an educational group if you have children in school since you wish to protect your young one's interest and to come to a better understanding of the problems that face all parents.

AN INSTITUTION

The Okies of fiction had us delving into the lives of sharecroppers who, in some sections of our land were living at such low ebb that a clean-up campaign took place in many localities and packed these types of farm helpers off or made their lot a far better one. But this is not the vanished hired man that concerns the ruralite today. It is the vanishing hired man who was replaced on many a farm by machinery. We mean the hired man who left the farm to make more money in the city in defense industry—that is if he wasn't drafted! They tell us that the horse and mule are returning to the rural picture but what would any rural picture be without its traditional hired man, the stand-by and old faithful who served for so long and so well the farm folks from many years back? Come home, the plow and harrow, the stock and the land but mostly the farm family, needs you.

The government of Spain has offered to construct churches and schools for new communities.

"Menu Planning" Subject At Major Project Training School

"Menu Planning" was the subject studied at the first major project training school held for local leaders of Boone County Homemakers' clubs on Thursday, September 25th at Burlington School. Mrs. Pearl J. Haak, foods specialist, from the University of Kentucky conducted the class which was called at 10:00 a. m. and closed at 3:00 p. m.

Representatives from clubs at Burlington, Bullittsville, Constance Florence, Grant, Hebron, New Haven, Petersburg, Taylorsport, Walton and Verona attended. These leaders will arrange for the presentation of the lesson before their groups in October.

The objective of the Major Project in "Meal Planning" is to help Boone County women plan meals which will improve the health of their people during the coming year. Fifty percent of Boone County boys called under the Selective Service Act have been rejected.

These rejections were due to physical weaknesses, most of them traceable to food deficiencies. Boone County women accept the challenge to be informed about food needs and to strive to improve health through a practice of this knowledge.

Every Boone County woman is invited, urged to affiliate herself with the local Homemakers group, and avail herself of this opportunity for valuable helps. Call Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Home Demonstration Agent, for further information.

in peace or war . . .
the RAILROADS SERVE KENTUCKY and the NATION

Railroads Spent $71,322,897 in Kentucky in 1940

For fuel, materials and supplies the railroads last year paid $18,646,339 in 377 Kentucky cities and towns. In wages they paid $47,376,558 to 28,694 Kentucky citizens. And in taxes they paid more than $5,300,000 to the State, counties, cities and school districts. Thus, their total contribution to Kentucky's economic welfare in 1940 amounted to $71,322,897. Similar payments were made in all other states.

Efficient Mass Transportation Is Essential

Still more important, the railroads at all times support the nation's economic welfare by providing highly efficient mass transportation. Preparation for national defense largely depends on mass transportation by railroad. The emergency and magnitude of the defense program impose a stupendous burden on the railroads. The railroads are doing the job. They will continue to do it because they have the plant, the manpower, the skill, the tradition of service that such a task requires.

★

The Twofold Contribution to National Welfare

The railroads carry over their own roadways the bulk of the national transportation load in peace and in war. Most of the $4,297,000,000 which the public paid for railroad services last year was turned back to the public in wages of employees, purchases of materials and supplies, and direct tax support of the schools and of city, county, State and Federal governments. Less than 1% on the investment in railroad property was paid to the stockholders who own the railroads and furnish the service.

Two Series Saturday Night "Spider Returns" and "Jungle Girl"

A brand, spanking-new Republic serial is scheduled to show Saturday night of this week with the last chapter of "Spider Returns." The title of new serial is "Jungle Girl" and according to advance publicity, this cliff-hanger" outdoes anything that Republic has done to date in the serial line, and that is saying a great deal of the lot that produced "The Long Ranger," "Dick Tracy," "Red Ryder" and "King of the Royal Mounted."

Frances Gifford stars in the production, and the supporting cast includes Tom Neal, Eddie Acuff, Tommy Cook, Trevor Bardette, Jerry Mohr, Frank Lackteen, Bob Barron, Al Taylor, Kikume and Ken Terrell.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

What is probably the record for feminine frays is provided for laughing purposes in "Barnacle Bill," starring Wallace Beery at the Gayety. Beery has a romance with Marjorie Main, and Miss Main becomes jealous of Connie Gilchrist, a rival charmer. There follows a hair-pulling, clawing battle that was the talk of Hollywood for days. Richard Thorpe directed the picture.

VERSATILITY OF MARINE BAND MAKES FOR REAL ENTERTAINMENT

Trained by the ingenious hand of Captain William F. Santelmann, the United States Marine Band is one of the most versatile organizations in the world. It can play stirring marches, present brilliant overtures, interpret the symphonic classics, introduce from its own ranks astonishingly fine soloists.

But the Band has never been used by its leader as a show-off organization. Using all the talent at his command Captain Santelmann, excellent program builder that he is, shapes his concerts for the enjoyment of his listeners. He never wearies them with an over-done act or tricks and stunts.

He makes real entertainment out of his concerts by blending all the varieties known in first class music. There will be some serious music. There will be light music. There will be standard concert numbers. There will be surprises and novelties. There will be music beloved for its melodic strain. There will be ryhthmic music. And of course no concert by the "President's Own" Band would be complete without its full share of stirring marches.

The program has not only a wide appeal, but have a zest which a more limited concert could not have. Captain Santelmann's programs are limited only to the almost unbounded field of top notch music.

A program of such interest will be presented by the Band when it appears on October 18th in Aurora, Ind. The famous organization is appearing under the auspices of Vorture 612, 40 and 8.

SKULL FRACTURE PROVES FATAL

TO WORKMAN AT VERONA—VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH RENDERED BY CORONER.

Funeral services for Melvin Marshall Wahley, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wahley, Bracht Station, Kenton County, were conducted Friday afternoon at 2:00 at Goshen Christian Church, Piner.

Wahley was killed instantly Wednesday afternoon as he attempted to remove the belt from a rock crusher while the belt was running. According to other workmen who were standing nearby, Wahley attempted to remove the belt near the crusher pulley which caught his hand between the belt and pulley, jerking him toward the crusher with great force. His head struck an idler pulley above with such force as to break a portion from the metal pulley. His right arm and hand were mangled and partially severed.

He was removed to Hamilton's funeral home in Verona, where a verdict of accidental death was rendered by Coroner Everett Jones.

Wahley was employed by Ernest and Joe Dance and was crushing limestone on the farm of Florence Chapman near Verona.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wahley, four brothers, Charles, Floyd, George, Jr., and Wm.; one sister, Jessie; his grandfather, Luther Wahley and one niece.

REPORTS ARE FAVORABLE

FOR PURCHASE OF COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS—$1,300.00 ALREADY RAISED, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

Community committeemen attending the first county-wide meeting reported Boone County should have a permanent Fair and County Picnic grounds. The $3,500 necessary for the purchase of the grounds should and could be raised by donations from public spirited citizens during the next two weeks.

Charles Riley, chairman of the county committee stated that after a thorough study of some plan whereby the people of Boone County could have a permanent fair and county picnic grounds the plan found most desirable was decided upon. The plan is for public spirited citizens to buy the grounds, deed it to the county so that it can not be sold and will give the 4-H and Utopia Club Council a perpetual lease to develope a county fair and picnic grounds. The grounds in turn would become a permanent county park in which the people could be justly proud. Mr. Riley stated that despite the fact that only a few contacts had been made, more than $1,300.00 had already been raised.

H. R. Forkner, County Agent, stated that the county is without a fair and picnic grounds at the present time. Our people are fair-minded and need a permanent grounds they can call their own. The annual get-together of our people at a fair or picnic grounds builds a stronger county spirit of unity and of agricultural, home economics and public improvement. The proposed plan was developed

SEMIPROS TAKE LEAD IN SERIES

NEED BUT ONE MORE VICTORY TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP—DECIDING GAME IN COUNTY SERIES SET SATURDAY.

The Boone County All-Stars, by handing the Martz cardinals a 6-5 setback at the Burlington park Sunday, gained the lead in the title series of the Campbell County Semipro League and now need to win but one more game to capture the league championship. The locals have won two of the three games played in the scheduled five games series and will journey to the Martz park Sunday to play the fourth game.

The local semipros took the lead in their initial time at bat and then led throughout the contest, as "Doc" Morris retired from the game as pitcher for Martz nine, after four innings, with his team trailing by the score of 6-1.

In the opening frame Mahan received a base on balls and scored as the result of a stolen base and an infield out. Steffen opened the second with a base hit, to score when Henry Deck slammed out a two bagger. Ryle then drew a walk, and with two mates aboard, Shinkle collected a timely base knock to drive in two more runs. The local boys added their final tallies in the fourth, with Kirkpatrick collecting a two bagger and Sebree sending a teammate across the tally mark with a line single.

Mahan, the local's center fielder, made the play of the season at the Burlington park, when, after a hard run, he leaped high in the air to make a sensational catch of a powerful smash that would have been good for plenty of extra bases. Steffen, mound artist for the All-Stars, kept the Martz' eight bingles well scattered, until the ninth when the losers collected three and threw a scare into the local nine. Going into the closing period on the short end of 6-3 score, the losers scored twice before being retired as they collected a walk, a pair of singles and a two bagger. The locals collected ten base hits off the offerings of Morris and Myers.

The deciding contest of the championship series in the Boone County League, which was postponed because of rain, will be played at the Burlington park Saturday as the Big Bone and Petersburg teams meet in the fifth game of the series.

SHEEPMEN FAIL TO INSURE FLOCKS

IN BOONE COUNTY SHEEP PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION—OVERSIGHT ON PART OF FARMER, SAYS COUNTY AGENT.

A number of sheepmen in the Boone County Sheep Protective Association last year have failed to pay their dues by October 1st, the last day of grace, and as a result have lost their insurance, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Failure to renew in practically every case is strictly an oversight on the part of the farmer.

The new Association year started September 1st with thirty days of grace allowed for paying the next year's dues. Sheepmen who did not renew by October 1st are not protected under the Constitution and By-Laws and if they should suffer losses would not be eligible to renew until sixty days after the last losses occurred. They should pay their dues to their local committeeman at once.

More than one-third of all sheep in the county were insured last year. Mr. H. E. White, president, and J. W. Conley, secretary and treasurer, of this organization report there has been a large increase since September 1st in new members. Losses from dogs have always been a serious worry to the sheepman. The Association, a co-operative, non-profit organization of sheepmen, offers mutual assistance for losses incurred by members.

CELEBRATING COLUMBUS DAY

About five hundred years ago in the busy harbor of Genoa, Italy, a small boy of great vision watched the ships come and go. At school he was studying Latin, mathematics, and astronomy and was becoming a skillful maker of maps and charts used by navigators.

Stirring tales of seaman persuaded him at an early age to enter on a seafaring career. In his first years as an experienced seaman, we find him living at Lisbon, Portgual, which had become the center of geographical knowledge as a result of the explorations of Prince Henry, the Navigator, who was continually pushing further and further down the coast of Africa.

Realizing that the earth was round, Columbus became convinced that the shortest route to India would be to sail west, rather than go around the continent of Africa.

Unknown and without money, this middleaged man began looking for a financial backer in order to make his dream a reality. In 1483 he presented his plans to John II, the progressive young ruler of Portugal; John was interested, but not interested enough.

The next nine years of his life he spent wandering from one court to another. In these different courts he was ridiculed, treated as a beggar, deluded by false promises, and betrayed.

But, finally, with the aid of a simple monk, this heartbroken man persuaded Ferdinand and Isbella of Spain to help him in fitting out and expedition. His crew was made up of criminals who agreed to make this dangerous voyage as an alternative to the Spanish dungeons.

Only a strong and courageous man could have kept this crew of cutthroats sailing toward what they believed to be certain death. But this man was strong, he was courageous, and the success of this voyage meant more to him than anything else.

Finally, with mutiny in the air, this great leader promise his crew to sail home if land was not sighted within three days.

Before the three days were up, however, land was sighted—it was San Salvador, in the Bahamas. That day, October 12, 1492, became a historical landmark. Columbus has discovered America.

When Columbus died he considered himself a failure, for after four trips to the New World he had not succeeded in finding a western route to India. He did not realize that he had discovered a new world and that this was an infinitely greater discovery than a new route to India.

He had made the most memorable voyage in history; yet, he died broken in spirit and in health and without recognition.

Today, Columbus Day takes a new meaning. The English, Russian and Chinese people, and the people in coquered territories, can celebrate October the 12th as the day that Columbus discovered "the arsenal" that is now dedicated to end totalitarian aggression.

THE NAVY ASKS FOR MEN

The United States Navy is making an interesting experiment in an effort to secure recruits to man the two-ocean navy that is now under construction. An extensive advertising campaign is being undertaken in the hope of attracting the attention of men who wish to enlist in the Navy.

There are many advantages available to a young man who enlists in the Navy today. Not only will the sailor be paid for his time, but, very often, he will be instructed in a skill that will open new avenues of employment after the naval enlistment period has been completed. To earn and to learn at the same time is a combination not often found.

GERMAN LOSSES IN RUSSIA

An interesting dispatch, published in the Chicago Daily News and other newspapers from "Somewhere in Europe," reports that in seven days recently a Hamburg newspaper printed 82 death notices.

The population of Hamburg is more than a million, or about one-eightieth of the modern Reich. If the same percentage holds true elsewhere the notices imply a death rate of about 6,500 a week, or 85,000 for the 13 weeks fighting against Russia.

This is close to the announced German losses but the correspondent points out that closer examination reveals greater losses. Death notives are usually published by families able to buy advertising space but, more significantly, 67 of the Hamburg notices related to commissioned or non-commissioned officers. Only 13 were soldiers.

Military experts guess that losses of officers aggregate around 15 percent of the total casualties. Applying this ratio to the Hamburg notives, reveals that the Reich lost 86.000 a week for 13 weeks, or 1,100,000 during the three months of the eastern campaign.

"Bitterness was scarcely concealed in some notices," says the writer, calling attention to the phrase, in several, which told of the death of a son killed "as his father in 1916."

WHEN WILL THE BRITISH ATTACK?

There is some impatience in Great Britain, and in this country, over the failure of the British to take the offensive in the west while German soldiers are engaged in their stupendous struggle with the Red army.

Certain strategists declare that a golden opportunity is being lost to create the "tow-front war. They should add, however, that a "two front" war requires two armies able to hold against an enemy offensive.

The question that confronts the British is not whether they can obtain a foothold on the continent but whether they can maintain it, after they land. To attack, with insufficient forces, would be to present Germany with an opportunity to smite another British army.

Recent speculation has been increased by an article in a London newspaper by War Minister David Margesson, seemingly discounting the likelihood of any immediate attack upon Germany upon the Western front, but holding out the promise that "the quicker we get the hammers, the harder we shall hit."

The Germans, it is believed, have at least 500,000 men in the occupied areas of western Europe. To successfully attack this force would require numerical equality and heavy mechanical preponderance, on land and in the air. To make a half-hearted attack would be folly.

U. S. MAY REVISE ARMY PLAN

There are some indications that the United States will soon have to modify its defense plans if this country is to supply the necessary arms and equipment to the nations now engaged in the war against Nazi Germany.

Our original plans contemplated the creation of an Army of around two million men. Naturally, this will require a tremendous amount of equipment, supplies and material to properly equip such a force. This means that a vast amount of war material must be withheld from the nations which are engaged in actual warfare.

Facing the new situation, brought about by the attack upon Russia, the United States must now consider the possibility of curtailing its contemplated Army in order to speed delivery of tanks, planes, guns and equipment to Great Britain and Russia. Obviously, the fact that Russia is now fighting Hitler reduces the likelihood that this country will need, in the immediate future, an Army of two million men.

Inasmuch as the United States has little idea, at this time, of sending any huge army against Germany, it is wise to consider the possibility that the increased flow of munitions may serve the defense of this country better than the creation of a large army. By sending to Great Britain and Russia the equipment an army of one million men would use, it might be possible to obviate the necessity of using American soldiers at all. This would be to our advantage, of course.

OLD TIME PHOTOS

Many of today's luxuries thru common usage have assumed the proportion of necessities. Photography is one of them. We go back in memory to when it was in the form of sterographs. Those pictures entertained friends in the evenings when the complete sets were taken from their ornate boxes on top of the marble stand in the parlor. There were the steroptican views on paper and the more expensive ones on glass, all painted in delicate shades to draw ohs and ahs for the glory of America and the history of Europe. Of course the family album had its place on the entertainment program but the views of Niagara and Palestine seems to outshine in popularity views of Aunt Hepzibah and Uncle Grover. Little did the folks who placed the sterescopes to their eyes adjusting the slide and pressing the velvet edge close to the cheeks, think that the future would find about everyone running about snapping this and that, with movies and photogenic matter a topic of common interest.

—o—

THOSE OLD TIMERS

They tell us that the used car dealers are doing extra business because of the shortage of new cars. Wonder if the used car dealer will be able to sell to the owner of that run-down, antiquated model we passed on the road yesterday. Maybe the good used car may take some of these badly worn cars off of the highway. A big perventage of auto accidents are traced to worn brake bands, poor tires and lights and so on. Often these models are owned by people who have no insurance to cover an accident. There are many people who can't afford another car. But man has a certain responsibility to others and if he must drive such a car it is his duty to keep it in the safest condition possible, being sure to afford to protect his fellowmen by carrying insurance.

CHRIST OUR SAVIOUR

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 20:25-28; Luke 19:1-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—John 3:16.

"I believe in God, the Father Almighty, . . . and in Jesus Christ His only Son, our Lord . . . I believe in the Holy Ghost." How often we have solemnly repeated these words in the Apostles' Creed, and how appropriate it is that our present three month series of lessons on great Christian teachings should begin last Sunday with a study of God, the Creator and heavenly Father, and continue today with Christ the Saviour, and present next Sunday the Holy Spirit, the Comforter.

These are profound Christian truths, but at the same time they are so simple as to be grasped by the youngest child. Today we have the great privilege of presenting in our classes our Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ. He was

I. The Self-Denying Servant (Matt. 20:25-28).

Scripture clearly teaches that God's standards are not the same as the world's standards, and that His methods of operation are just the opposite of those of the world. All too often Christians and churches imitate the world both in principle and practice, with disastrous results. Consider

1. The False Greatness of the World (v. 25). "Rulers"—"greatness"—"exercise authority"—how altogether up-to-date these words sound. They are the big and swelling words of the small hearts and minds which rule after the manner of this world. They epitomize the ambitions of the great majority of mankind, but they are definitely non-Christian. We see that as we go on to consider

2. The Humility of True Greatness (vv. 26, 27). Service in the spirit of humility and self-sacrifice—this is the standard of Christ. Yes, and it is His command to His followers. To be great for Christ one must become the servant of others. This teaching appears all through Scripture (for example, see Luke 4:11; John 13:13-17; I Pet. 5:5, 6).

How often service in the church is rendered in a spirit of pride, self-glory, and for the commendation and reward of men. When that reward is not forthcoming or some real humbling sacrifice is required, the work is not desired or the worker becomes offended. Here is one of the roots of trouble in the church. Let us put it away as we look upon

3. Christ Our Example (v. 28). He paid the price of our redemption, going to the death of Calvary for us. From the highest glory which He had with the Father (John 17:5), He graciously stooped to deepest ignominy as He became sin for us (II Cor. 5:21). Throughout both His life and His death He perfectly represented that self-denying, self-humbling service which He expects of His followers.

II. The Seeking Saviour (Luke 19:1-10).

There is much that is precious and beautiful to be said about our Lord, but perhaps nothing which brings Him so close to needy humanity as the fact that He had "come to seek and to save that which was lost" (v. 10). He was

1. Ever Interested in Sinners (vv. 1-4). Jesus was on this occasion coming up to Jerusalem for the last time. The cross was ahead. He was much taken up with His coming death and greatly straitened in spirit (see Mark 10:32 and Luke 12:50). He was passing through the great and wicked city of Jericho, yet in the midst of His deep sorrow and out of the vast multitude of that city He reached out to touch one sinner.

Zacchaeus was a man despised for his calling of tax collector, and hated for his dishonesty. He was an outcast from his own people and a stranger to God's grace, but Jesus was interested in him. Are we ready thus to go to seek and save the lost? Are we better (or busier) than our Lord?

2. Always Able to Save Sinners (vv. 8-10). Zacchaeus was a rich man, but he was a sinner. It is not easy for a rich man to be saved, but it can be done (see Matt. 19: 23-26). Read the preceding verses of that chapter (vv. 16-22) and you learn of another rich man who was not saved, the rich young ruler. He was a far better man than Zacchaeus—honest, upright, honored in his community. How was it that the wicked and despised rich man was saved and the good and respected rich man was lost?

The answer is that the former admitted that he was a sinner and thus made it possible for Christ to save him, while the latter loved himself and his gold more than Christ and shut the door against His redeeming love.

REFRIGERATOR STORING

Most of our housewives know that the top shelf of the refrigerator should be reserved for: Eggs, lard, cheese, oranges, syrups, lettuce, dried meats and canned fruits. Foods with an odor should be kept nearest the top of the box. The middle shelf contains salads, cold desserts, cooked meats, evaporate milk, peaches, and pears. The left-overs should be covered with waxed paper or oil silk caps. On the bottom shelf keep cream, milk, water bottles, butter, celery, berries, fresh meat, cabbage.

"Twenty-five pounds of beauty clay of Walter Pidgeon."

This was one of the items in the budget of "Man Hunt," the 20th Century-Fox production starring Walter Pidgeon and Joan Bennett.

Don't be alarmed! He-man Pidgeon hasn't gone soft. On the contrary the beauty clay, aside from its label, has an entirely different purpose. It was daubed on Walter to make him appear dirty throughout the earlier sequences of "Man Hunt," as he effected his thrilling escape.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

Since then they have become leaders in cinema domestic bliss, Miss Holden as the mother of the Hardy Family and Hinds as Dr. Kildare's father.

NAVY COURTMEN PRACTICE BASKETBALL ON SHIPBOARD

Perfect physical fitness is required of sailors in the U. S. Navy and Naval Reserve. Excellent athletic facilities are provided both afloat and ashore.

Pictured above are bluejackets on the aircraft tender U.S.S. Wright holding basketball practice on shipboard. Almost every ship in the U. S. Navy has its own basketball team. Rivalry among the crews of the various crafts runs high. In addition to basketball—football, baseball, boxing, bowling, wrestling and tennis all rank high as sports with Uncle Sam's sailors. Organized intra-fleet competitions are held for most sports. Trophies and individual awards usually are presented to the championship winning teams and players.

Penalty For Abuse Of New Tax Law Is Explained

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering announced today that caution must be exercised in following or applying unofficial interpretations of the new tax law.

As an illustration, Commissioner Helvering referred to a published statement to the effect that manufacturers are prohibited from quoting the tax separately, although they may add the tax as an element of cost and thereby raise their prices. This statement is not correct.

The law does not prohibit a manufacturer from quoting the tax as a separate charge. When the tax is passed on, the manufacturer, at his option, may bill the amount of the tax as a separate item or include such amount in the sale price of the article.

The law provides a penalty for false statements to purchasers regarding the tax. Thus, a person making a statement, whether written or oral, that any part of the sale price of an article consists of a tax imposed by the Federal Government, and knowing that such statement is false or that the tax is not as great as the portion of the sale price ascribed to the tax, may be subjected upon conviction to a fine of not more than $1,000, or to imprisonment for not more than one year, or to both.

County Nutrition News

A nutrition meeting in the interest of school lunches was held at New Haven, September 23, 1941.

Miss Florence Imlay of the University of Kentucky was speaker of the evening.

School lunch menus were the topic of the evening. Miss presented some very instructive and interesting material about school lunches.

A short business meeting followed an informal discussion. The following people were appointed to adopt a score card for the county school lunch rooms: Chairman, Edwin Walton, Burlington; Mrs. Lula Huey, Walton; J. F. Moore, Grant; Chester Goodridge, Hebron; Mrs. Houston, Florence; Mr. Steve Gabbard, Hamilton; R. V. Lents, and Mrs. Fugate, Constance.

Superintendent D. H. Norris, Mrs. Geo. Morith, Mrs. N. W. Laibly, Mrs. Kirtley Cropper and Mr. Everett Jones were appointed as a committee to investigate cooperative buying.

Mr. Norris will serve as chairman of the committee.

Plans were made for a meeting to be held in October at the Burlington School.

The county nutrition committee met October 1, 1941, at Burlington.

Rev. H. M. Hauter, first vice chairman, conducted the meeting. Definite plans were made to further the nutrition program in our county.

The National Nutrition Committee in cooperation with National Defense is urging everyone to utilize all possible commodities produced at home.

As a committee, we are urging everyone to attend your community nutrition meetings.

4-H DEFENSE COMMITTEE

TO BE ORGANIZED — WILL ASSIST MEMBERS IN COMPLETING PROJECT WORK THIS YEAR.

This month, in every Boone County 4-H Club, meetings will be held to organize defense committees, and to assist members in completing their project work this year.

These defense committees will be charged with the responsibility of carrying out various phases of any program relating to National Defense in which 4-H Clubs are asked to cooperate. Within the past three months 4-H boys and girls assisted with the county aluminum drive and in distributing to rural areas information concerning defense bonds and savings stamps. The defense committee elected by members of their respective clubs should be in position to to administer quickly and efficiently any part of the National Defense Program in which club members can cooperate in the future.

In addition to organizing defense committees, every club will urge that 4-H projects be completed and record books submitted to county Extension Agents immediately for approval. Boys and girls who complete their projects before November will be awarded Achievement Certificates by the State 4-H Club Department in Lexington.

Meeting dates for clubs in the county are as follows:

Petersburg—October 8, 1:45 p. m.
Grant—October 9, 9:15 p. m.
New Haven—October 9, 2:30 p. m.
Constance—October 13.
Hebron—October 14, 11:35 a. m.
Burlington—Oct. 15, 10:00 a. m.

MANY NEW STYLES IN COTTON HOSE

The many new styles in cotton hose include both sheer and serviceweight stockings. Even the heavier types are said to be successful in meeting one prevalent former objection to cotton stockings—their shapelessness and poor fit.

These new stockings are full fashioned. That means stockings shaped to the curves of a woman's leg on one knitting machine, and connected by a delicate hand operation with another machine that shapes the foot correctly. A true seam up the back is one indication of a full-fashioned stocking.

The new hose nave numerous other construction features to appeal to practical women: foot reinforcements for soles, heels and toes, and two-way stretch tops.

They have been made in biege and tan, black, white, tweed-like blends, and many popular new colors; in plain knit, ribbed, and mesh weaves; and in full length and knee length campus socks. All these everyday hose have their place in the wardrobe of a farm woman. They are just right to wear with house dresses, slacks, or the latest farm work clothes. Also available are designs in sheer and lacy weaves of cotton, to put on with lighter-weight shoes.

The first work on cotton-stocking styling was started as a means of helping the cotton surplus, but for some time it was impossible to buy the new types of hose in many places. The Federal Bureau of Home Economics now has 150 new designs ready for release. More and more hosiery mills are turning to cotton since the ban on silk imports, and nearly 90 percent of their knitting machines will take the Government designs for the new fullfashioned cotton hose.

GALLATIN COUNTY PLANNERS SUGGEST FARM IMPROVEMENT

A report of the land-use planning committee in Gallatin county, Kentucky, says that most of the land in the county should be in hay and pasture crops. General farm improvement would come from producing better pasture and hay and from increasing livestock production, the committee believes.

Farmers are urged to give more attention to the control of erosion and to building and mantaining fertility. This would include more cover crops, the use of limestone and phosphate, hillside and diversion ditches, contour furrows and contour planting and cultivation. says the report.

Suggestions also are made in regard to reclaiming bush land, the fencing of farms into fields for rotating pastures, and avoiding overgrazing.

When more hay and pasture are available, the farmers can build up herds and flocks, it is pointed out. More sheep and dairy cattle are suggested.

Since lack of capital prevents some farmers from carrying out improved practices, the committee recommends the use of the long-time and low-cost credit facilities of agricultural credit agencies.

Attention Milk Producing Farmers

U. S. Secretary of Agriculture, Claude Wickar, is encouraging increased production of milk and dairy products throughout the United States to meet the urgent demand of local consumers as well as helping the Allies who are badly in need of these products.

We can supply your needs with heavy-producing types of any breed required. Give a helping hand and increase your production and daily income with the least risk. Transferring Work Completed At Elkhorn

Frankfort, Ky.—The work of transferring fish from rearing ponds to Elkhorn creek, Franklin county, was carried out recently by the members of the Franklin County sportsman club and the seining crew of the Division of Game and Fish.

A total of 12,000 fry small-mouth black bass were placed in the rearing pond last July and these fish were cared for by sportsmen of the local club.

Minor E. Clark, Superintendent of Hatcheries for the Division, stated that upon transferring the fish it was found that 2,160 fingerlings were counted which was a survival of 17.1 percent. This percentage was considered fair by Clark, who stated that he was pleased with the way the sportsmen cared for the fish during the summer months.

The fish were released in Elkhorn creek, which is one of the best small-mouth streams in the state.

SAVE and SACK the BEANS
WHILE chopping and storing the hay, the new Letz mill with grain separator sacks the beans. Saving high priced beans soon pays for a Letz—the surest money maker for any livestock farm.
Says Letz user, Lee Chatham, Danville, Indiana, "We chopped and blew into the mow 72 acres of soybean hay. We sacked 1,000 bushels of Manchu beans, keeping some for seed, recleaning and selling the rest for $1.25 per bushel. These beans brought us in over $1000.00."
Come in and investigate this wonderful machine. For most farmers feeding beef or dairy cattle, lambs or hogs, the Letz mill saves its cost and more the first season used. Let us demonstrate one for you.

by people deeply interested in the training of our young folks. The plan which developed rather suddenly and unexpectedly comes as a great encouragement to our 4-H and Utopia Clubs, Future Farmers and other young peoples' organizations.

The program also offers Boone County an opportunity to build one of the greatest county fairs in the State. All people of the county are urged to support the program to the fullest extent. The 1942 and 1943 fairs will be dedicated to the unselfish public spirited citizens who are so nobly making it possible for a fair, not only next year, but an annual get-together of our people for years to come.

Ward T. Darnell, Superintendent of the Walton CCC Camp, reported the Camp would be able to assist in in carrying out extensive improvement on the proposed project.

Prof. D. H. Norris, County Superintendent of Schools, said the 28 acres of woodland included in the proposed project offered ideal opportunities to build for the future, and a basis for a permanent institution in which every citizen and family could have a part.

The committee will report on next Tuesday and expect to have all funds raised by Tuesday week. It is your problem and mine. Let's everybody get behind the solicitors, thy hav a tough job in which none like to do except as a donation to a worthwhile cause. Let's go over the top! ANNUAL MEETING HELD SATURDAY

BY BOONE COUNTY HOMEMAKERS—MISS OLIVE KACKLEY WAS GUEST SPEAKER—OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The sixth annual Boone County Homemakers meeting was held in the Burlington high school, in Burlington, October 4th, with one hundred present. Miss Olive Kackley was the guest speaker.

The morning session was conducted by the county president, Mrs. George Kottmyer. The meeting was opened by the singing of "America," after which the president brought greetings to those present, also greetings from Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, who was unable to be present. After the business session, Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Home Demonstration Agent Miss Elaine Gardner, representing 4-H work and the county chairmen told the story behind the theme of the day's program, "Homemaking: A Magic Carpet."

The roll call was answered by 11 clubs. Guests receiving special recognition were, Miss Lulie Logan, assistant state leader of home demonstration agents, Mrs. H. V. Leuker, publicity chairman and Mrs. Sam Sleet, director of the Bluegrass District. Miss Lucille Tucker, home demonstration agent and Mrs. H. Maurer, county president, both of Campbell County, and Mr. Franklin Frazier Assistant County Agent.

Mrs. Leo Flynn, director of the program, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Olive Kackley. Miss Kackley, a very dramatic, versatile and intensely interesting speaker is the Good Will Ambassador from WCKY studios. She captured the hearts and interest of every one present during her talk on "Dramatics in the Everyday Life." She compared our lives to a book which we write or live, chapter by chapter. She urged us to make each chapter more interesting than the last and to make our book have a happy ending.

Officers installed by the retiring president for the new year were, Mrs. Alan Gaines, Walton, president; Miss Johanna Mae Terrill, Petersburg vice president; and Mrs. Will McCormick, Verona, secretary-treasurer.

Artistically arranged in the rear of the room and across the front of the stage were displays arranged by Mrs. Rod Hughes, county rug chairman and Mrs. Lillard Scott, live at home chairman. The rug display was composed of hooked, braided, crocheted and knitted rugs and mats which were in the process of being made or had been finished by the Boone County women during the last year. Mrs. Scott had arranged the jars of vegetables and fruit and the baskets of food which should be canned and stored, to carry one person through the time when those foods are not in season. It seemed almost impossible that one person could eat all of the lovely looking canned goods and vegetables that were on display within one year.

Mrs. Mary Scott Moore composed the four lines which adorned the front of our programs along with the lovely house on a magic carpet. The lines follow:

So the Homemakers tones down the harsh world's ruffling;
As the carpet protects the fine polished floor,
So the Homemakers protects the Nation's true foundation."

A way to serve airplane traffic the same as automobile, is to put every other billboard flat on the ground.

From the way some drivers lean on their automobile horns you would think every day was the Fourth of July.

We are with our country like we are our family. We'll criticize them but get pretty sore when someone on the outside does the same thing.

There are a few folks in Boone County, busier shooing the wolf from the garage than they are the house.

Many Things Have Hurt Hitler In Last Year

By, Hugo S. Sims

For more than two years the writer of this weekly column on the War in Europe has been trying to appraise the situation that confronts the warring powers. It has not been possible to secure accurate information about many phases and, consequently, observations have been based upon apparent facts.

It might be a good idea to review the war generally in order to secure a clearer understanding of the conflict. The smashing of Poland did not convince the world that the Nazi military machine was an instrument well equipped for the stupendous ambition of Hitler's Germany. The illusion of security disappeared when the French army went down like a house of cards in a March wind and, for the first time, the world realized that Hitler was on the verge of mastering the globe.

British Faced Disaster in 1940

In the dark days of June, 1940, when France sought an armistice in violation of her agreement with the British and lacked the courage to follow the heoric examples of the smaller governments in exile, the prospect of British survival depended solely upon the naval and rising air power of the stubborn British nation.

The idea that Great Britain could withstand Goering's Luftwaffe was more hope than confidence but there was some consolation in the belief that no German invasion could be launched as long as the British fleet remained afloat. The epic battle of the sky, over England in 1940, resulted in the first outstanding victory against Germany and definitely postponed the Nazi effort to cross the channel.

Situation Is Much Improved

There was, in that day, an idea that the British blockade could strangle Germany and Italy economically but there was also the possibility that German planes and U-boats might reverse the blockade and strangle the British themselves. The British stood alone against a powerful Axis combination, beset at home, threatened in the Near East and facing new peril in the Far East from Japan.

The picture has changed considerably in the last fifteen months. Germany has spread her forces through the entire Balkan area and has made enormous territorial gains against Russia but, otherwise, the balance is to be found on the side of the British, who now have as an ally, the powerful Soviet republic. Here are other factors that have improved the situation for the British and made more difficult the victory that Hitler seeks.

Eight Factors Mean Hitler's Defeat

(1) Russian forces, engaged in desperate battle, are inflicting terrific losses upon Germany. When France fell there was little hope that Russia would enter the conflict against Germany and everything that the Red army accomplishes, regardless of its losses, represents a net gain to the British.

(2) The United States has moved definitely and certainly against Hitler. While not engaged in actual warfare, the vast industrial and financial resources of this republic are at the disposal of the enemies of Hitler. This was by no means considered possible when France collapsed.

(3) Italy has failed to exert expected pressure upon the British, or to wrest control of the Mediterranean and North Africa from them. Instead, the British have all but annihilated the Italian fleet and all but conquered the entire colonial empire of the Italians in Africa.

(4) British production, plus American supplies, has enabled the British to confidently await any invasion attempt and the R. A. F. has demonstrated its power to defeat the best that Germany can offer in the air. Gradually British forces, in other parts of the world, are being strengthened, with planes tanks, guns and the other paraphernalia of war.

(5) The British fleet retains its control of vital ocean-ways and exerts tremendous pressure upon German production by preventing the import of sea-borne supplies. This powerful weapon has been immeasureably strengthened by recent "shoot-on-sight" orders, throwing the U. S. fleet into action to protect a vast area in the Atlantic ocean.

(6) The German effort to reverse the blockade has passed its peak and British shipping losses are being reduced. Moreover, the United States has underway a massive shipbuilding program that will replace all losses and eventually guarantee delivery of necessary supplies and food to the British Isles.

(7) Germany is beginning to experience serious trouble in occupied countries where the people, responding to the brighter outlook, are slowly moving to actual rebellion against their erstwhile conquerors.

(8) Throughout the world, including South America, there is growing evidence of hositility to the Nazi regime and an increasing Willingness to cooperate to encompass the complete defeat of Hitler. This is the result of the stout British defense, the resolute decision of the United States and the amazing accomplishments of the Russian army, which together have all but removed the fear of Nazi retaliation.

Why Suffer With Your Feet?

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

Where Foot Comfort Begins

9th and Madison Covington

Our years of reasearch have proven that foot comfort depends on foot balance.

For years men have been guessing about foot balance, putting steel supports under feet and elastic bands around feet, all sizes and shapes, corn pads, plasters, callous plasters, etc. Yet people continue to suffer with their feet, legs, back and with various other aches and pains, resulting from feet in numerous cases, because they have never had their body weight properly balanced on their feet with shoes.

Your feet may look regular to you, but, naturally you cannot detect weakness or have any way of testing for unbalance. But remember: "Fat on the ribs" is by no means an adequate criterion of physical well being.

Don't take chances, if you are suffering with leg pains, knee pains, stiffness, back aches or severe headaches, or sleep poorly and are always tired, your feet may be the cause.—Adv.

SEWING HINTS

If you do not have a large table on which to cut out your pattern, have a piece of oilcloth large enough to cover top of the bed. This makes an ideal cutting table and the scissors won't stick to the oilcloth surface. After using the pattern it is nice to tie a piece of the material in with the pattern and in case you need it for patching it is handy. A subscriber suggests using those worn-out record albums with the pockets in which to store your favorite patterns. You can paste the picture of the design on the front of the pocket.

A WARNING!

Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.

Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eystrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.

MARINE BAND MUSICIANS PRODUCE SYMPHONIC EFFECTS

Captain William F. Stantelmann has introduced a symphonic character to the United States Marine Band, not only by including in its repertoire numbers usually played by the large symphony orchestras, but also by training his men to produce real orchestral effects.

When the Band plays Tschaikowsky's symphonic Poem, "Romeo and Juliet" or the finale to Cesar Franck's great symphony it shows supreme artistry, displaying all the grace and delicacy as well as the tone balance and sonority of a string ensemble. The remarkable versatility of these musicians is shown when they turn from this great music and cause listener's ears to pound with excitement when they play the stirring "Stars and Stripes Forever." This fact is one of the reasons for the Marine Band's astounding popularity.

The facility with which the band's members, all of them individual artists, bridge the gaps between the many types of music is a stimulation to musicians and many music lovers alike.

This inspiring organization will provide a real musical treat for the citizens of Aurora, Ind., when it plays Oct. 10th at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m. in the Community Building, under the auspices of Vorture 612, 40 and 8.

CAYWOOD NAMED DISTRICT CHM'N.

FOR NORTHERN KENTUCKY IN GEORGE ROGERS CLARK MEMORIAL MOVEMENT—$100,000 IS GOAL IN DRIVE.

J. A. Caywood, Superintendent Kenton County School, Independence, Ky., has accepted an invitation to become district chairman for the George Rogers Clark Memorial Movement in the Northern Kentucky District. The counties under his supervision are Carroll, Gallatin, Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Owen, Grant, Pendleton and Bracken.

His duties will be largely supervisory and advisory. However, the district chairmen are helping in the selection of local chairmen in the counties of the district, to the end that the local organizations be completed as quickly as possible. They will also aid in the matter of publicizing the movement, both by contact with the newspapermen and by helping to schedule speaking engagements with the schools and the clubs.

The Clark Memorial Movement seeks to raise $100,000 for the purpose of building a memorial to General George Rogers Clark in Kentucky, a memorial expressing the gratitude of Kentuckians for the heoric services and noble sacrifices which he made that Kentucky might survive.

The plan for raising funds is a very simple one, one in which it is hoped every Kentuckian will have a part. The school children by means of small gifts are expected to contribute a large amount of the fund. These, between the middle of September and November 19th, are asked to contribute five pennies; each teacher is requested to contribute twenty-five; each member of a club, such as the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lion's, Woman's, D. A. R., is asked to donate $1.00. Every school is expected to present some sort of entertainment, such as play, pageant, bazaar, social, carnival, dance or athletic contest, to which the public is invited; the funds derived therefrom are to be a part of the Memorial Movement. It is believed that thru the gift of pennies $35,000 may be raised, and through the entertainments $60,000 may be raised. In addition several thousand dollars should come from the members of clubs, and heavier donations will be received from persons particularly in and about Louisville, who are especially interested. All in all, it is believed that $100,000 will be raised.

Mr. Hambleton Tapp, of Louisville, originator of the plan, in ending an article written on the subject in the Kentucky School Journal stated: "How fitting it would be for the schools of the state to make this noble contribution! What an honor for the schools to succeed where other organizations had failed! What a privilege for an exemplification of high patriotism, keeping intact our traditions of nobility! What a glorious day for the public schools of Kentucky if the school children should erect a magnificent monument to George Rogers Clark, as the children of Virginia did in honor of Lee, and dedicate it as an emblem of Kentucky's undying love for the hero who saved Kentucky from the scalping knife and who conquered an empire for the nation!"

U. K. AND ITS NEEDS

The University of Kentucky, in the present school year, is receiving a smaller appropriation for the education of 6,264 students than it received 10 years ago for the education of 4,845. The figures, not including capital outlays which also show a decrease, are $894,238 for 1940-41 and $1,190,462 for 1930-1931.

And that isn't all. Consistently in all the years since 1930-1931, the state appropriation has been less than at that time, not insignificantly less but a great deal less. In 1933-1934, indeed, the figure dropped to $624,376, and University authorities had not the funds to pay full salaries.

It is no wonder, then, that President H. L. Donovan, after a careful consideration of the circumstances, reported to University trustees: "A survey of the problems of the University convinces me that the most acute problem which we face is one of finances."

"In all of my experience as a school administrator, in both city schools and as a college executive," he went on at another point, "I have never administered an institution where the budget was so limited for the services expected of the institution."

The inadequacy of state support has resulted chiefly from two factors in the decade since 1930-1931: First, the financial condition of the state, and, second, general ignorance of or indifference to the condition of the University.

Now that the state debt virtually has been liquidated and state income more than suffices for current demands, one of these factors has been removed. The task remains, however, of presenting the facts to the public with emphasis enough not only to eliminate objections to increased appropriations but actually to win support for them. Once that objective has been achieved, adequate support will be granted, for it certainly never has been the wish of any administration, the present one included, to put or keep the institution on a financial diet of slow starvation. We venture the assertion that Alumnus Keen Johnson is not unaware of the insufficiency of funds at the University, or unwilling to see the appropriation increased. Like his predecessors, he has been restrained by a depleted treasury and by an adverse, or at least indifferent, public attitude.

In subsequent editors, this newspaper proposes to present the facts of the situation at the University, believing that a full knowledge of them will lead Kentucky citizens to the realization that their school of highest learning never can be what we all want it to be unless we are more generous in its support.

VOLUME 66 — BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1941 — NUMBER 20

RAYMOND SHEARS ARRESTED THURS.

AT HOME OF HIS FATHER IN FLORENCE—CHICKEN STEALING IS CHARGE—TRIAL SET FOR DECEMBER.

After being hunted for almost two years by Boone County authorities, Raymond "Red" Shears, Florence, was arrested last Thursday morning at the home of his father, Lee Shears, Florence, on a two-year-old charge of chicken stealing, and brought to Burlington jail.

It was stated by Sheriff F. M. Walton that Shears has been wanted by authorities here since December 1939, when he stole five chickens from Stanley Utz, Florence and left a bottle of medicine at the door of the chicken house with his name on the label.

Word was received here last week that Shears had been seriously injured in Louisville on October 4th, and that he probably would be returned to his father's home in Florence and then placed in a hospital for treatment.

On October 9th he was arrested in Florence and taken to Dr. Harry Daugherty for examination. After a thorough examination by Dr. Daugherty he was treated and released to Sheriff F. M. Walton to be placed in jail. His injuries, the cause of which were not revealed, were said to be only slight and that it was not necessary for him to be taken to the hospital.

This is the second offense in the last several years for Shears and it was stated that he will be tried for this charge in the December term of Boone Circuit Court.

This annual wildlife week program was inaugurated in 1938 and has proven very popular, both with the sportsmen and the teachers and their pupils.

County's Oldest Church Damaged By Storm

Bullittsburg Baptist Church

The above photo, taken by Miss Mattie Kreylich, Burlington R. 1, shows the damage caused to the county's oldest church building by the wind storm on September 25, 1941. Part of the tree resting on the building measured over 12 inches in diameter at the trunk. The exact damage has not been estimated.

This historical church was organized in 1794 and the building erected in 1797, making the structure over 144 years old.

SERVICE BOARD DOING FINE JOB

IN SELECTING TRAINEES FOR UNITED STATES ARMY—BRIG. GEN. LEWIS B. HERSHEY PRAISES BOARD.

The Boone County Selective Service Board No. 9 is doing a fine, but sometimes thankless job. They give to their country much time and effort in trying to choose, without bias or prejudice, trainees for the Army.

Local Board No. 9 composed of Geo. W. Baker, chairman, R. C. Eastman and Albert Stevens, with Courtney Kelly as clerk, and Chas. Riley as appeal agent, meets every Tuesday evening, and as often as necessary between meetings, to impartially classify the county's 1942 registrants. Considerable time and study is necessary to choose those most able and free.

Dr. S. B. Nunnelley, with Courtney Kelly, as clerical assistant, devotes much time to the physical examination of registrants.

The registrants' advisory board is composed of Judge N. E. Riddell, Walter D. Vest, and Judge Sidney Gain s, who give free legal advice to registrants, concerning their rights under the Civil Service laws, and also assist in filling out questionnaires whenever necessary.

All the men on the above committee are serving without compensation or favor. They are giving their time, ability and efforts as part of the defense program.

All appointments were made by the governor of the State. The men were selected for their integrity, patriotism, and outstanding leadership in the community. For almost a year these men have given their services gratuitously and few people realize the many personal sacrifices they have made and are making to serve their county.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, in praising the draft boards says, "I do not recall any other occasion in American history when so large a group of individuals over so long a period of time gave such unselfish, patriotic service as has been rendered by members of the local board, medical examiners and government appeal agents.

"I shall be so bold as to say that to a large extent the accomplishments of the selective service system have been brought about by the fact that the type of service given by these men is immeasurably higher than we should be able to purchase if we were buying the labor at the cost usually paid for services of this nature."

Bullittsville church invites its friends to attend these services.

Mr. and Mrs. William Greenup and daughter spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Claud Greenup.

Thirty Farmers Construct Ponds

Thirty farmers have had ponds and lakes constructed by J. G. Robertson and sons during the past two and one-half months, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Approximately this many more ponds have been constructed during the past six months by Wheatcroft Construction Company, Exterkamp Construction Company and other contractors.

Farmers who are planning to have farm reservoirs construc d in the near future should do so while power equipment is available. The price of machinery, repair equipment, fuel and labor have advanced to the point where several contractors are forced to raise their prices.

Improved farm water supply is being recognized by leading farmers as a great need in livestock production. Water supplies that fail in dry weather have c used thousands of dollars loss to farmers the past summer and for several summers past. Large farm reservoirs can be constructed cheaper today than ever before and if properly taken care of should last for years. Farmers planning to construct farm reservoirs should secure Extension Circular No. 317 at the County Agent's office and study before starting work.

Russell T. Ryle Promoted In Rank

Fort. Knox, Ky., Oct. 1—Private First Class Russell T. Ryle has been promoted to the grade of Sergeant by order of Lieutenant Colonel J. J. B. Williams, commanding officer of the 65th Field Artillery (Armored) Regiment, a part of the newly formed Fifth Armored Division now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. Sergeant Ryle's promotion is in recognition of the qualities of military efficiency and leadership he has exhibited.

The Fifth or (Victory) Armored Division to which Sergeant Ryle is assigned is the newest of the army's five armored divisions. It is being built around cadres or nuclei from the Third Armored Division at Camp Polk, Louisiana and the Forth at Pine Camp, New York. The V(ictory) Division is rapidly being raised in strength by the addition of new men, most of whom are selectees, and under the command of Brigadier General Jack W. Hoard has launched an intensive drive of integration and basic training.

Mr. Ryle is the son of Mrs. Nellie Ryle, Grant, Ky.

LOCAL REVIVAL HUGE SUCCESS

THIRTY-SIX ADDITIONS MADE DURING TWO-WEEK SERVICES LARGE CROWDS IN ATTENDANCE.

The local Baptist Church closed its series of revival meetings Sunday night with one of the largest crowds in the history of the church in attendance.

During the two weeks' service thirty-six persons were united with the church, twenty-one coming by baptism and fifteen by letter. Those for baptism were:

Frank Kelly, Mrs. Margaret Stephens, Bobby Brown, Edward King, Gilbert Crowder, Billy McBee, Harold Congleton, Bobby Patterson, Martha Lois Lizer, Jimmie Ryle, Joe Smith, Paul Yelton, Phillip Yelton, Marvin Rouse Porter, Lottie Richardson, Mary Chipley, Katherine Pettit, Joyce Vice, Lillian Cress, John Cropper, and Edna Smith. Those by letter were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elam, Mr. A. A. King, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee McNeely, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Beemon, Myrtle Beemon, Mrs. Genie Green, Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Pope, Chas. Stephens, Grace Stephens, Miss Amanda Holliday and Calvin Cress.

The revival was not only a big success from the standpoint of new membership, but there was a great revival among the membership of the entire church. This was shown by Sunday School attendance for the last two Sundays, there being 160 and 180 in Sunday School on these days. On Sunday, the last day of the revival, there were 199 church members out of a possible 250 in attendance sometimes during the day. There has been sixty-five additions to this church since April of this year.

It was the general opinion of everyone who attended that this was one of the greatest revivals in the history of the church, and much credit is due Rev. Johnson and his assistants for the manner in which the services were conducted.

SEMIPROS ARE NOSED OUT

IN FOURTH GAME OF SERIES—FINAL GAME WILL BE PLAYED AT CRESCENT SPRINGS SUNDAY.

The Boone County All-Stars were nosed out 4-3 by the Martz Cardinals in a nip-and-tuck contest at Ross, Ky., as the Martz team extended the championship series of the Campbell County Semipro League to the fifth game. The local semipros have defeated the Martz team twice at the Burlington park in the five-game series, while suffering two setbacks at the Martz park. The deciding game will be played at Crescent Springs park, neutral grounds, Sunday.

After their opponents had scored a run in the opening frame, on a wild pitch, the locals came from behind to take a 3-1 lead in the third. With one out, Hebe Deck slammed out a three-bagger and scored on a wild pitch, at which Henry Deck took a third strike when he saw that the catcher would be unable to catch the ball. After another out, Ryle collected a line single to send Deck around to third and take second himself on the throw to third. Shinkle then sent a sizzling ground to the left of Martz' third baseman, who did not have time to recover his balance before making the throw and threw past first, with Deck and Ryle scoring.

When a miscue and two base knocks had given the Martz nine a pair of tallies in the fourth, to knot the score, the All-Stars came back in the sixth with a threat to take the lead again, as Steffen collected a triple with one out, but the run was cut off at the plate when Steffen tried to score on an infield grounder. In their final time at bat the locals placed the potential winning runs on second and third, to give their rival a fright. With one out Hebe Deck singled and took third as Hitzfield followed with another base hit, but two successive efforts failed to produce a run.

Steffen held the Martz batsmen to seven hits, in going all the way on the mound for the Boone Countians, while Morris started and finished the game at pitcher for Martz, holding the locals to six hits.

Petersburg won the championship of the Boone County League Saturday, when they defeated Big Bone 9-3 at the Burlington park in the final game of the five-game championship series. A large crowd assembled at the local park to see these two strong teams vie for the league honors, as the curtain fell on a most enjoyable and succesfsul season.

The winners lost no time in taking the lead, which they never relinquished. After scoring two runs in the opening period, they held their opponent scoreless until the third, when Petersburg scored three more runs, Big Bone one. The winners added two more runs in the fourth and then both teams went scoreless until the last two frames, when each side picked up a run in each inning.

Hebe Deck led the 13-hit attack of his team, with three blows, followed by Edwards and Rector, with two each. Carroll Williamson was top batsman for Big Bone, collecting a triple and a single, to be followed by manager Russell Miller who collected two hits and Mooro a timely double.

D. Deck turned in a masterful performance on the mound for Petersburg, limiting his opponents to six hits. C. Williamson and Ryle were on the hill for Big Bone.

Registration Necessary in Town Elections

Contrary to the belief of many persons living in town of the sixth class, and who will participate in city elections in November, it is necessary for all persons to be registered the same as in State and County elections in order to vote for your choice in the coming town elections in November, according to C. D. Benson, County Clerk.

Many persons living in the towns of Florence and Walton have been inquiring recently about the matter of registration for city elections, and it was not until Monday that Mr. Benson reached an opinion.

The qualifications for voting in town elections are: (1) You must live in your precinct 60 days before election; (2) six months in the county; (3) one year in the state of Kentucky, and (4) your name must be on the state registration books at the courthouse.

Additional registration is not necessary for town elections, since all the necessary information for the election officers is available on the present registration books that will be at the polls on day of election.

Another question that has been brought to the attention of this writer is the proper manner of voting in town elections in order that your ballot will not be thrown out during the count.

After consulting the County Clerk on the subject, it was stated by him that as soon as the town ballots are completed, a sample ballot will appear in this paper with proper explanation so that everyone can have a clear picture of the situation before the election. The rules of voting in town elections is slightly different than in State or County elections, and therefore does need some explanation before the day of election. The election officers will also be instructed on the proper way of casting your vote and will be able to assist you at the polls if you are in doubt.

Watch this paper soon for the sample town ballots with instructions to voters on the proper manner to cast your vote without spoiling your entire ballot.

"For Over Fifty Years"

NOT TOLERANCE BUT THE TRUTH

Gerald W. Johnson performs a public service in pointing out that some of the so-called race prejudice amounts to plain falsehood.

Mr. Johnson, writing in The Baltimore Evening Sun, says that "If every Jew in America were exterminated tonight, nevertheless tomorrow we would still be on the verge of war.

He makes his argument on the ground that "every man, even though he might be of the purest German blood who has stood up for freedom and decency has received from Hitler the same treatment that Hitler has given the Jews, or worse."

Continuing, Mr. Johnson says, "Asserting that the Jews, as a group, are not pushing this country into war is not tolerance. It is truth. Asserting the contrary is not race prejudice; it is lying, although it may be based on prejudice . . . There are 4,707,000 Jews in this country, which is almost exactly one in thirty. If they are pushing us into war, then one Jew is pushing around twenty-nine Gentiles, which I, for one, don't believe is possible and would hate to admit if I did believe it."

THE ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES

Secretary of War H. I. Stimson points out that the Army of the United States exceeds by only a small margin the size of the combined armies of Holland and Belgium on the eve of their invasion by Germany.

This is interesting information, but the proper size army for the United States has no apparent relation to the size of armies maintained by other countries. Our army should be of sufficient size to carry out the duties it may reasonably be expected to perform.

Mr. Stimson points out, however, that "our army has an enormous task." Not only must it defend the continental United States but it must man a large number of outposts "ranging from Iceland in the Northeast down through the island bases to Panama and British Guiana, out to Hawaii and up to Alaska."

Because of the distance and the impossibility of rushing reinforcements to these far-flung outposts, the army must keep its units up to war strength in order to take care of any emergency that may develop.

Incidentally, the military force of the nation now consists of 1,582,000 persons, of whom 111,000 are officers.

—o—

NOT TO SCRAP WARSHIPS

Senator Tom Connally of Texas recently told the American Bar Association that he would never vote to scrap a single ship of our two-ocean navy at any post-war disarmament conference.

Some readers may think that the Texas senator is concerning himself too early. They are mistaken. Just as pacifists and misguided church people in this country some years ago clamored for disarmament, they will do so again.

In the light of subsequent events, the grandstand manoeuvre of the Harding Administration, in junking hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of American warships, represents the most costly mistake ever made by this nation in the realm of national defense.

It may be a regrettable fact but it is the truth, nevertheless, that our faith in treaties outlawing war and pledging nations not to use war as an instrument of national policy has been sadly misplaced.

It is time for us to understand that law and order must be upheld by force and if we want law and order in the world, the United States must contribute a reasonable proportion of the force.

—o—

AMERICANS LIKE TO BET

On dull days, when it is not polling the American public on questions relating to the war, the American Institute of Public Opinion asks them questions on other subjects.

Recently, it reported that the average American still has a itch to do a little betting, or gambling, now and then. Fifty-four per cent of the Americans questioned admitted that they had laid money on the line at least once in the last twelve months, or played for stakes in some game of chance. Most of them freely admit they lost more than they won.

It is interesting to report that the survey revealed that betting on the horses, playing the "numbers" game, taking a spin at roulette, or any of the more spectacular types of money-losing, do not represent the commonest form of chance-taking. This is reserved for buying tickets in church-conducted lotteries and raffles, playing cards for money at the neighbors' house, or slipping a coin into a pin-ball or slot-machine.

Based on the response of these Americans, it appears that church lotteries, playing cards or dice for money and slot-machines represent the most common form of taking a chance. Each scored twenty-four per cent. Punchboards followed with twenty-three per cent, and betting on elections or athletic events stood at twenty-one percent. Horse-race bets attracted only nine per cent, and playing the "numbers" game only nine per cent.

AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION

The production of military aircraft in September reached a total of 1,914 airplanes, according to a report of the Office of Production Management.

While the month's output is sixty above that of August and brings our production to 12,651 planes for the first nine months of 1941, the nation is still far from the President's goal of 50,000 planes a year.

Inasmuch as the figures give no indication of the percentage of combat planes and bombers in the September total, it is rather difficult to appraise the progress made in the production of the bombers that the British need in Europe. Certainly, the aircraft industry has gone steadily forward, with September production around 285 per cent of that of September, 1940.

Religious freedom has different meanings in different countries.

THE HOLY SPIRIT OUR HELPER

LESSON TEXT—John 3:5-8; Acts 1:8; Romans 8:26-28; Galatians 5:22-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.—Romans 8:14.

Nothing could be more practical or blessed for and in the life and service of the believer than an understanding of the person and work of the Holy Spirit; yet it is a subject concerning which most Christians are woefully ignorant.

Before taking up the work of the Spirit as it appears in our lesson, we should understand that the Holy Spirit is a person, not an influence which may exert itself upon a service, or a power which a man may obtain and use. He—the Spirit—is one of the Trinity, with the attributes of a person, doing the work of a person and always referred to as a person in Scripture. (When "it" is used of the Holy Spirit in the A.V. it will be found to be corrected to "him" in the R.V.)

What then does this divine person do? The work of creation was His as one of the Godhead. He regenerates, He teaches, He comforts, He leads, He calls and qualifies Christian workers, He is the divine author of the Bible. These and many other things He does, this One who indwells the believer as the ever-present Guide and Counselor. The Christian is

I. Born of the Spirit (John 3:5-8).

The new birth is indispensable to entrance into the kingdom of God. We either enter that way or we do not enter at all. Let's be clear about that. "Ye must be born again" is not the edict of a church or the plea of a preacher; it is the plain statement of our Lord Himself (v. 5).

The Holy Spirit is indispensable to regeneration. We must be born of the Spirit. How it takes place we can no more explain than the coming or going of the wind, but just as the power of the wind is known to us by clear evidence, so the regenerating power of the Spirit, mysterious though it be in operation, is known to us by the evidences of redeeming grace in a man's life.

II. Empowered by the Spirit (Acts 1:8).

Spiritual birth calls for service for Christ. For that we must have the power of the Holy Spirit. A man may do many ordinary things in the strength of his own body and mind (although even these ought always to be under the Spirit's control), but when he comes to witnessing for Christ, teaching or preaching God's Word, he must have Holy Spirit power or he is utterly ineffective.

III. Directed by the Spirit (Rom. 8:26-28).

The guidance of the Holy Spirit, especially in the matter of prayer, is stressed in these verses, but they are a part of a longer passage dealing with the indwelling, enabling, and guiding power of the Holy Spirit (read vv. 9-14). Every detail of life in the home, at business, or in social relations should be in conscious submission to His leading.

It is in the realm of the spiritual, however, that we find ourselves peculiarly infirm (v. 26), and this shows itself especially in prayer—"we know not how to pray as we ought." Then the Spirit in the Christian makes intercession. How blessed! "The practical meaning of these profound words seems to be that the divine Spirit, by His immediate influence in the saint's soul, which becomes as it were the organ of his own address to the Father, secures the rightness of the essence of the saint's prayer. To our understandings such intercessions with groanings which cannot be uttered, take the form of desires of ours, inspired and secured by Him. In any special case of prayer, the saint may or may not use words; but anywise the root-desires that underlie the prayer, being the Holy Spirit's promptings, are unutterable to the full. In the heart the Father sees below the surface of our ignorance the sacred longings which are the expression of the Spirit's influence" (H. C. G. Moule).

IV. Walking in the Spirit (Gal. 5:22-26).

Being born again of the Spirit, living daily by the Spirit, it is right that (as v. 25 puts it) "if we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit." The works of the flesh, horrible in their wickedness and lust, are listed in the verses preceding (vv. 19-21), and then by striking contrast we have the fruit of the Spirit in the life of the Christian. Note the distinction: Work is something we produce; fruit is something that grows.

Walking in the Spirit the Christian finds in his life the inward graces of love, joy, and peace. These then express themselves outwardly in longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, and self-control. The Spirit-filled man is not only a good man; he lives a good life.

Our Own Little Observation: Few women think highly of other women.
